

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXII.—NO. 1.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1893.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR.

503 Washington Street,
BOSTON.
FINE DRESS SUITS A SPECIALTY.

MILLINERY OPENING!

OCTOBER 4, 5, 6. FALL and WINTER STYLES.
1893--1894.

The Ladies of the Newtons are cordially invited to inspect the Trimmed Hats, Bonnets and the Choicest Novelties of the season.

Mrs. E. A. SMITH, 202 Moody St., Waltham.
Opposite WALNUT STREET. HARRINGTON'S BLOCK.

GARDEN CITY MARKET.

Fresh Fruits, Fish, Meats, Vegetables.

400 Centre Street.

ASHLEY & DOANE,

SUCCESSORS TO—
HOWARD & DOANE.

Bicycle Repairing of Every Description.

Brazing, Enameling, Nickel-Plating, Etc.

WHEELS CHANGED FROM SOLID TO CUSHION OR PNEUMATIC.

Best cycle oil 25 cents per pint. Lawn Mowers cleaned and sharpened for $1.00. Called for and delivered for 25 cents extra.

HADDOW & BATCHELOR,

49 Galen Street, Watertown, Mass.
Connected by Telephone.

CREAM.

THE FAMOUS

Turner Centre Cream,

FOR SALE BY

C. P. ATKINS

Ten Cents for One-Half Pint.

Shirts Made to Order

By E. B. BLACKWELL,

43 THORNTON STREET, NEWTON.

A Perfect Fit Guaranteed.

Best Material. First-Class Work.

Superior Shirts, $1.50. Best Dress Shirts, $2 each.

Will call on customers at such time and place as will suit their convenience.

Repairing in Done Neatly and Promptly.

New Shirts, 50c.; Neckbands, 15c.; Wristbands, 15c.; Collars, 25c.; Cuffs, 25c.; Centre

Plaits 25c.

Badly fitting shirts made to fit well

Schools.

WEST NEWTON

English and Classical School.

Family and Day School, both sexes, 41st year.

College, Scientific and Business Preparation.

Send for Catalogue. At Home Tuition.

ALLEN BROS., West Newton.

THE SEVENTH YEAR OF

MR. CUTLER'S PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Will begin September 11, 1893. Pupils of either sex desiring the advantages offered by the school for thorough preparation for college are requested to make early application for admission. The entering class this year includes girls. Terms, $150 a year. Further information can be obtained by communicating either personally or in writing, with Mr. EDWARD H. CUTLER, 294 Washington Street, Newton.

41

FRED A. HUBBARD,

PHARMACIST

P. O. Block, NEWTON.

SUNDAY CLOSING HOURS:

from 10 A. M. to 12 M.; 2 P. M. to 4 P. M.

DRESSES

Made from Six to Ten Dollars.

Basques cut for Seventy-Five

Cents. Work Warranted. Apply

at once. DRESSMAKER, 308

Centre Street.

NEWTON.

THE NEXT QUARTER DAY

—IS—

October 10, '93,

—AT THE—

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

Money should be deposited on or before that day.

It may then begin to earn dividends.

A. J. BLANCHARD, Treas.

NEWTON.

—Planos, Farley, 433 Washington St.

—Rev. Charles Stearns and family are at the Hotel for the winter.

—Messrs. Fred A. Hubbard and Frank W. Hubbard will be in the city this week from their trip to the World's fair.

—Mrs. H. E. Hubbard and Miss Hubbard have been visiting friends in Baltimore this week.

—The King's Daughters met at the residence of Miss Hubbard, last Friday, for their annual business meeting. Miss Haskell was elected president, Miss May Page, secretary, and Miss Gaffield, treasurer.

—The Misses Parker of the Newton Bazar are in New York this week, selecting Christmas novelties for the holiday trade.

—Mrs. G. W. Simpson spoke before the Mass. W. C. T. U. State annual convention at Springfield, Wednesday, on the subject of "Social Purity."

—Mrs. J. S. Sumner and her son Mr. C. S. Sumner, have returned from Chicago and the World's Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stanley, Franklin street, and their daughters, Blanche and Emily, left Monday for the World's fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. George H. Meacham are guests at the Thorndike, Boston, for the fall and winter.

—The engagement has been announced of Miss Emma C. Tudor of Brookline, and Mr. Frederic C. Converse.

—Mr. H. C. Grant of Park street has returned from Chicago and a visit to the World's fair.

—Mr. Flannigan is repainting his house, stable, and gardener's cottage on Walnut Park, and making other improvements before taking possession.

—Mr. Horton S. Allen has been appointed manager of the Newton Highlands Telephone Exchange.

—Mr. A. L. Bigelow of Jamaica Plain is taking Manager Bowman's place, at the Newton Telephone Exchange, during the latter's vacation.

—Mr. J. Wallace Goodrich will hereafter be at Eliot church on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday mornings between ten and eleven o'clock to arrange for instruction.

—Mrs. North and her brothers, Messrs. Arthur and Frank Lane, with her nephews, George and Fred Lane, start tomorrow for the World's Fair, and will be absent about ten days.

—Mr. W. H. Capen has bought through Chas. F. Rogers and J. F. C. Hyde, 25,500 feet of the Hyde land on Hyde avenue, which will be sold in lots of 100 feet from Park street. The land contains a beautiful grove of trees and will be improved.

—Mr. Francis Murdoch, Mrs. Chas. E. Billings, Charles Billings and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Camp of Wellesley Hills, left on Tuesday for the World's Fair.

—Mr. J. McCandlish has removed from Waverley avenue to the Burgess house on Fairview street, and Mrs. C. M. Cleveland has taken possession of the house on Waverley avenue.

—There was a fair attendance at the Channing church Vestry service, Sunday afternoon, owing to the stormy weather, but the service was a very interesting one, and the hour chosen will accommodate a great many people, who could not attend an evening service.

—The funeral of Mr. Alfred G. Coffin, who died in Boston, was held at his father's residence, 127 Boylston street, this city, on Wednesday morning. The deceased was 44 years of age.

—Miss Robbins will have her millinery opening at the Juvenile, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, where an unusually fine assortment of the latest styles in millinery will be shown. The ladies of Newton and vicinity are invited to attend.

—The friends of Miss Alice F. Pierce will be gratified to learn that while she still receives pupils at her Boston address, she has secured a music room in Eliot block, Newton, where she will be, three days in each week for the accommodation of pupils in the Newtons. See advertisement in another column.

—Mrs. Baker is soon to open her studio, opposite the Public Library, and will hold an exhibition of portraits and water color landscape. She is now forming her class, and expects to have a number of pupils. The fee for instruction will be limited to five pupils to whom she may accept proper attention. Another class for younger students is under consideration at the request of two or three mothers.

—The Eliot choir will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Hamlin, soprano, on Sunday evening. The music will be: Organ Prelude, "O for the wings of a dove," Merkel

Organ, "O for the wings of a dove," Merkel

"While the earth remaineth," Tours

Hymn, "O Mother, dear Jerusalem," Ward

"To the female voice," "He is Jesus that soweth," Hillier

Soprano solo, "Hear ye, Israel," Mendelssohn

Organ Postlude, (from "Elijah," Gullmunt

—The junior department of the Newton Y. M. C. A. enjoyed an entertainment Tuesday evening, comprising a comedy, presented by members of the department, assisted by the Newton Y. M. C. A. choir. The entertainment was given at the conclusion of the entertainment Rev. W. M. Dick, president of the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A., spoke briefly to the boys. A business meeting followed, at which a constitution and bylaws were adopted and these officers elected for the ensuing term: Carl Lincoln Elison, president; W. C. Whitney, first vice-president; A. S. Partridge, second vice-president; W. H. Zoler, recording secretary; Porter E. Lamb, corresponding secretary; R. M. Mandell, membership secretary; A. S. Bullens, assistant treasurer.

—Mr. S. W. Tucker's house on Church street was broken into last Friday evening, during the absence of the family. As Mrs. Tucker and her mother were coming home they noticed a light in one of the upper rooms, and hastening to the door they found it double locked. The noise made alarmed the burglar evidently, and he hastily departed, taking with him a case containing a gold watch and some $200 worth of jewelry, belonging to Mrs. and Mrs. Tucker, a pocket book, a child's bank, and some other articles. The bureau drawers were found in great confusion, but he had not time to visit the dining room. He gained an entrance by cutting a hole over the fastening of the back parlor window. The police were immediately notified, but so far no trace of the thief has been discovered.

—The local committee have been able to make arrangements by which Mrs. Chant, the widely known English lady, will open the services of the convention in behalf of the New England Associated Charities and kindred philanthropic associations. Mrs. Chant will speak in Eliot church on Sunday evening, Oct. 22, her well known enthusiastic devotion to the great work of rescuing, saving and uplifting the fallen is well known in both continents. The convention will assemble in Channing church on Tuesday, Oct. 24, at 2 o'clock p. m., and be continued until Thursday noon.

—The health authorities are making every possible effort to prevent the spread of the disease, and all infected houses are thoroughly fumigated under the direction of Mr. Johnson, acting agent of the board of health.

A number of rumors have been circulating of alleged carelessness in the observance of the laws regarding burials of diphtheria cases, but they have been, apparently, unfounded.

Drafts on Ireland

can be secured of Mr. E. P. Hatch, cashier of the First National Bank, West Newton.

It is hoped that the well known Newton hospitality may be extended to the visitor.

—Mrs. Joshua Baker and family of Sargent street have returned from Hyannis.

—Mrs. B. E. Carroll of Washington street is in Albany for a short stay.

—A party of local business men will enjoy the excursion trip to North Adams and return, Hoosac tunnel route, Sunday.

—Ward One was represented by only two delegates in the Republican representative convention in the City Hall last evening. One of the Ward seven men was also absent.

—Master Carl Ellison of Vernon street has gone to the World's Fair.

—A meeting under the auspices of the Junior department, Y. M. C. A., will be held in the large hall, Bacon's block, Sunday at 3 p. m. The literary club connected with the department meets Monday evening.

—Dr. Ed Utley has returned from New York where he enjoyed a short stay.

—Mr. Edward Brewer has made extensive improvements in his house on Williams street.

—Mr. John L. Atwood has leased a house on Pearl street, adjoining the Leavitt place.

—Miss Lena H. Nichols of Sargent street has been elected secretary of the Smith College Settlement Association.

—Albert Nott, M. D., of this city has been elected dean of Tufts College.

Leverett Bentley was one of the players at an entertainment given by the "Retreat" Club of Brighton Monday evening.

—Mrs. J. Heaps and family of Crescent street have removed to Westport, Ct.

—Mr. A. L. Edmunds left here this week with a Raymond party for the World's Fair.

—S. A. White sells kindling wood at reduced prices.

—A party was given at the residence of Mr. E. Stevens, Morse street, Wednesday evening in honor of his wife's birthday. A large company of friends were present, and the occasion was much enjoyed. Music, interesting games and a collation were features.

—Mr. H. E. Munroe will reopen his select dancing school in Armory Hall for children, youths and misses as follows: Beginners at 7 o'clock, Monday and Wednesday, advanced pupils, Friday afternoon, Oct. 13, at 4.30. For further information inquire of Mrs. W. G. Monk, Hunnewell Terrace.

—Aban, Trowbridge & Co. have sold the cottage at the Elms estate, 100 West Newton avenue, to Patrick Drohan who has moved it to his lot on West street. They have rented the Bixby house, corner of Tremont and Pembroke streets, to Mr. A. J. Pierce of Boston.

—Mrs. A. Knapp takes the lower half of the front house in Trowbridge Court. Also the pretty house, corner of Norwood avenue and Clarendon street, Newtonville, Dr. Edmund Buck of Boston. Mr. W. O. Kyle of Boston takes the Hollings house, corner of Walnut street and Washington Park, Newtonville.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Miss Louise Imogen Guiney is visiting the World's fair with a party of friends.

—Mr. Oliver Briggs, accompanied by Mrs. Ada Langley Briggs, spent a part of last week at his farm in New Hampshire.

—Mr. and Mrs. William H. Riding have returned from their summer in rural England and are for the present at the Woodland Park Hotel. They will spend the winter in New York.

—Thomas F. Frohisher of Newton has sold his estate on Melrose street, consisting of a house and about 18,000 feet of land, to Mrs. Bryant, on private terms.

—Mr. Benjamin W. Hackett and family, Woodbury avenue, expect to leave tomorrow for a visit to the World's fair.

—Mrs. Charles C. Bragdon, Woodland avenue, is at the World's fair.

—Officers Harlow and Dolan arrested Ira Ballou, Tuesday, and on Wednesday he was sentenced to the Bridgewater workhouse, for nine months.

—Riverside Lodge, N. E. O. P. are arranging an entertainment to take place on the twenty-third of this month.

—Just look at those tooth brushes; Thorn's

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Miner, Mrs. Falkenburg and Mr. W. F. Black were in attendance at the Brookton Agricultural Fair yesterday.

—The Riverside school began its twelfth annual session yesterday with the usual quota of pupils.

—The new boiler to be utilized in providing Lassell Seminary and its fair inmates with electric lights, was set up yesterday and work is being pushed forward to get things in operation as soon as possible.

—Mrs. Charles W. Knapp and daughter of Central street, are visiting the World's fair.

—The Latimer Society of Christian Endeavor of the Methodist church, held their first social of the season, last evening at the residence of their pastor, Rev. T. W. Bishop.

—Prof. J. Walter Davis resumed the charge of the music at the Methodist church last Sunday, and rendered very effectively some fine music. The new tenor sang with much expression, and gave complete satisfaction. The music at this church this year is to be finer than ever.

—Vincent A. Pluta, Jr., was seriously injured the first of the week by an ugly fall from his bicycle. He was riding down Auburn street from the bridge at a rapid pace, when his front wheel turned accidentally, and threw him violently to the ground, cutting a long deep gash on the back, and leg laying it open to the bone. He was taken home where the wound was dressed by a physician.

Diphtheria in Newton.

Diphtheria is quite prevalent in Nonantum district, and several fatal cases have been reported. The 6-year-old son of Daniel Lawlor, residing on Adams street, died Wednesday night. The authorities were notified and the body was taken to the undertaking rooms in a hermetically sealed casket. The interment was made yesterday.

The health authorities are making every possible effort to prevent the spread of the disease, and all infected houses are thoroughly fumigated under the direction of Mr. Johnson, acting agent of the board of health.

A number of rumors have been circulating of alleged carelessness in the observance of the laws regarding burials of diphtheria cases, but they have been, apparently, unfounded.

Drafts on Ireland

can be secured of Mr. E. P. Hatch, cashier of the First National Bank, West Newton.

FOR REPRESENTATIVES.

REPUBLICANS SELECT MESSRS. CHESTER AND HOWARD.

The Republican representative convention convened in the City Hall last evening. Mr. Henry E. Cobb was chosen chairman and Mr. G. S. Smith, secretary. A committee on credentials was appointed and reported thirty-one delegates present. Ward One was three short and Ward Seven, one.

Mr. J. T. Allen moved the nomination of Capt. S. E. Howard by acclamation and Mr. S. E. Jones moved the nomination of Mr. Dwight Chester in the same manner.

Opposition to this move came from the Ward One delegates and Mr. S. A. D. Sheppard moved to amend by proceeding to an informal ballot. The result of the vote was:

E. J. H. Estabrook, 15
Dwight Chester, 24
Capt. S. E. Howard, 22

Mr. H. F. Ross moved to make the informal ballot formal. Mr. Sheppard again intervened with an amendment which was carried providing for a formal ballot. Mr. Sheppard in a short speech put in a word for Mr. Estabrook, alluding to his services this year in the house. He said he had performed good work. He was chairman, he added, of the committee on sewers and put in the intense, conscientious labor that tells. It seems too bad to throw him aside except for a good reason. I hope Mr. Estabrook will be returned another year. Mr. Chester has served three years and it seems to me that it would be a good idea to send Messrs. Howard and Estabrook. It would be a good combination.

On the formal ballot Capt. Howard had 28 votes; Mr. Chester, 23; Mr. Estabrook, 10. Messrs. Howard and Chester were officially declared the nominees and the convention then dissolved.

The following letter was read by Mr. Wilson, at the request of Mr. Howard, who came as a delegate, but was forced by earnest persuasion of the other delegates to leave before the proceedings began:

DEAR MR. WILSON:—

I have come to the convention if my name is used, that I positively refuse unless I receive two-thirds of all the votes cast, and also state, whether I am nominated or not, that I have had no part or lot in this matter, but that it has been done entirely without my knowledge or consent. I am very unwilling to consent at all, but a two-thirds vote will be a call that I ought to heed.

Hoping most sincerely that you will fail to get the required number of votes. I am, Yours truly,

S. E. HOWARD.

Roland W. Macurdy's Opening.

Last week saw many of our Newton ladies in attendance upon the millinery opening at Roland W. Macurdy's in our neighboring city of Waltham. The opening was very much in advance as to tone and style of what most of the ladies anticipated and they could hardly realize that so choice an assortment of millinery could be displayed in any other city in our immediate vicinity outside of Boston.

The store, in itself, is very prettily adapted for such a display, and added a great deal to the showing of the new goods. The imported hats and bonnets were of the greatest attraction, while those of the design of Mr. Macurdy's milliners were very highly complimented as works of style. There is no question but that our lady readers will find Mr. Macurdy's goods to be of as good quality and style as the leading designers of millinery in our metropolis; cities, and the prices are much more reasonable. In addition to the millinery is a very handsome display of kid gloves including all the new colorings and styles for Fall, which are fitted to the hand and warranted. The Jovian and Cie glove is a speciality. You will have no trouble in finding the store as it is on the direct line of the Newton and Waltham electric cars, in the Parmenter block directly opposite the Fitchburg R. R. Station. Experienced ladies are always in attendance, which insures that careful and correct attention so much desired in the selection of millinery and the proprietor himself is one of a class who has made a successful line of business by strict and careful attention to the selection of his goods having at all times the very newest things as they appear for the trade.

WABAN.

—Mrs. A. D. Locke is entertaining her niece, Miss Herrick of Gloucester.

—Mr. F. W. Webster and family have returned from Cataumet, and have moved into their new house on Windsor road.

—Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. York have returned from a week's visit to the World's fair.

—The new street, which is being opened from Windsor road to Chestnut street, will bring into the market many desirable building sites.

—Mrs. Stevens, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Cloutman, during the summer, has returned to Birmingham, Ala.

—Rev. Mr. Munro of St. Mary's Episcopal church, Newton Lower Falls, conducted the first of the Sunday services for the winter in the Village Hall. A goodly number of people were in attendance.

—Mr. and Mrs. Cloutman and friends comprised a party at the Hollis Street Theatre last Monday evening to witness the opening performance of "Americans Abroad." Supper was served later at the home of the former on Waban avenue.

Among those present were Mrs. Comer, Mr. and Mrs. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Stevens.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Littlefield have returned from a trip to New York where they have been visiting relatives.

—Sullivan's extract mills are now running with full number of help.

—Mr. Thomas Pendergast left for Ireland last Saturday where he will spend about 6 months.

—Fitzgerald Bro's large "Belle of Newton" conveyed a party from the Allen school, West Newton, to and from Medway last Saturday.

—Mrs. W. R. Dimond left here last Saturday morning for a visit at the World's Columbian Exhibition.

—Mr. H. J. Jaquith of Wellesley Farms took a flashlight photo of members of St. John's church band, Monday evening, in uniform.

—Mr. J. L. Sears has almost fully recovered from an injury to his leg, caused by falling from a ladder sometime ago, which has confined him to his home since the accident.

Rev. Mr. Patrick's Farewell Sermon.

Last Sunday was the 33rd anniversary of Rev. Mr. Patrick's pastorate over the Second Congregational church, West Newton, and he preached from the words in Job 32-7, "I said Days should speak, and multitude of years teach wisdom." Circumstances suggested the timely theme, what a minister learns by experience. He summarized these lessons under three heads of Faith, Hope, Love.

He believes more and more in the Scriptures as of Divine origin and a revelation of God. So much and so long continued study of the Bible conforms his faith in its truth, especially as tested so thoroughly and satisfactorily in the manifold experiences through which a minister passes with his people. This is the lesson of Faith.

He also learns to look on the bright side and to note the progress of the church in its broader outlook, and its more active human ties. The Kingdom is coming. This is Hope.

And though not abating the least his attachment to the vital truths which he holds, he became more tolerant toward those who differ from him, and would include them in the circle of his fellowship. The lesson of the year is to emphasize the heart and the life, more than the head and the creed. This is Love.

The Pastoral Report of the year was as follows:

Baptism of children, 9; marriages, 7; funerals, 16; membership one year ago, 339; dismissed to other churches, 16; placed on "dropped list," 15; deceased, 9; received by letter, 17; received on conversion, 20; present membership, 345. Of the nine members deceased, four had passed three score years and ten. Special reference was made to the loss in the deaths of Mr. Houghton and Mr. Coe.

The Benevolence of the church had not fallen off so much as might be expected, the box collections having been about $1,600, to which outside collections are to be added. Two legacies are to be accredited to the church made available during the past year, one to Foreign Missions from Miss Hadassah Stevens, $2,385, and one from her sister, Miss Mary Stevens, to Home Missions, $2,040.

The year has been one of more than average prosperity. A season of religious work was enjoyed during the week of Prayer, in connection with the labors of Evangelist Davidson.

The sermon concluded with a reference to the retirement of the Pastor, and his anticipated resignation. He expressed his love for the pulpit and the people, which had only strengthened with the life of a whole generation, but he would yield to the highest interest of the church. He then read the paper which on Tuesday of last week, was the literal anniversary of his installation.

There were many tearful eyes from those to whom these words came as a surprise.

The following is the letter of resignation to West Newton, Mass., Sept. 26, '93.

To the church and parish of which I am pastor.

Dear Beloved,—Thirty-three years ago today, I was installed as your Pastor. This period covers, within a week, one-half of my life. These years have passed quickly, unconsciously, because peacefully, happily. They are filled with pleasant, precious memories, which will abide.

But now I hear a call to retire, and I obey. It is the voice of Providence, in the afflictive calamity which has overtaken me in my failing sight.</

A Country Fair.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 20, '93.
The great event of the year in the city of Rochester, New Hampshire, and in fact throughout this part of the country is the fair which is held each fall.

It well deserves its reputation for excellence, both as regards its agricultural exhibits, its fine breeds of stock of different kinds, and its other attractions.

The "Rochester Fair" is known from Maine to California and a year ago there were several here from the west who had stayed in the east longer than they first intended so as to see this fair, which they pronounced one of the best they ever witnessed.

Its history is as follows:

Some few men in this town who had an idea of starting such a fair to be held annually met together and the result was the formation of the Rochester Agricultural and Mechanical Association in 1874. It started with a membership of seventy men and a membership fee of one dollar.

There are now sixty-four members and each share of stock is worth one hundred and seventy-five dollars, and none for sale at that price, pretty good increase on the original investment.

Captain Hayes, one of the wealthy and influential men of the place, was elected treasurer; a position he has held ever since, and to his untiring and persevering care can be accredited its present condition. The estimated value of Cold Spring Park, as the grounds are called, with the buildings, is about thirty thousand dollars.

The fair lasts four days from September twenty-sixth to twenty-ninth inclusive.

The two preceding days were rainy with every prospect of a "spell of weather" as the farmers call it, but Tuesday morning dawned clear and bright much to everybody's satisfaction. As this is the first day the fair is not in complete running order and the attendance is comparatively small.

I decide to go however and after lunch, walk over to the grounds, a half mile away.

On reaching there I pay my admission fee of thirty-five cents and enter through the handsome gothic gateway which is a new one having been erected the year previous.

The grounds cover an area of thirty-five acres including a large grove at the left near the entrance. In this beautiful wooded ravine is located a spring of cold, clear, translucent water from which the Park derives its name. This water, shown by analysis to be absolutely pure, is forced to different parts of the grounds giving all facilities necessary in this line for man or beast.

To the right as you enter is the main building where can be seen the different exhibits of the stores, on one side a handsome display of clothing, fancy goods, sewing machines and on the other millinery, boots and shoes, jewelry and many other kinds.

At the rear of this hall is the department of Japanese goods with two young men of that nationality in attendance. I have a little conversation with one of them and find that they are both studying in this country and are selling their native wares during the summer months to help pay the expense of living and tuition. They had been up the mountains and were now working their way back again.

One was studying engineering while the other was fitting for the ministry with the intention of becoming a missionary on his return home.

On the other side of the hall I found two ladies in the sober grey garb of the Quaker.

They had with them some of the work of the people of their order and were just finishing their prettily arranged table and getting ready for business.

Next came the Art building, devoted to woman's handiwork in which were seen many handsome pieces of fancy work, quilts of all kinds, afghans, table covers, etc.

These two buildings reminded me of our Mechanic's fair in Boston, only on a much smaller scale.

The next building was devoted to agriculture and agricultural implements.

In the upper part of the hall, at a long table in the centre was placed the fruit exhibit which was a very fine one, consisting of apples, pears, plums, and other kinds of all sizes and varieties.

Around the sides of the room were the vegetables: mammoth squashes, potatoes, nearly the size of one's head, onions, beets, turnips, tomatoes and cabbage. At the other end of the building were samples of ploughs, harrows, mowing machines and churns. Near these were a number of carriages on exhibition and I entered into conversation with a gentleman who proved to be a carriage manufacturer from Amesbury, in our state. He showed me several of his own teams, particularly a trap of the most modern style and discoursed on their various merits over other makes.

These various buildings are all connected making a continuous roof of three hundred and seventy-five feet. Back of these buildings are situated the cattle pens and stables extending the entire length of the grounds. Here I found the fancy breeds of cattle, sheep and swine. One bull, in particular, which his owner informed me had an ugly disposition, was of massive build and strength; shoulders of ample width and a head of large proportions surmounted by strong curved horns. He was blindfolded by a piece of leather and tied in three different places to assure his safety. Further down were more stables for the use of the race horses and near by several tent shows such as are seen at a circus. On the further side of the field is fairs row, the lunch tents and two picture galleries.

Beyond the exhibition buildings is the gaily decorated band stand, and from this point there is a gentle slope to the race course, a circular half mile one and considered the best in the state. Then comes the grand stand, three hundred feet in length with a seating capacity of five thousand people. This stand, two years ago, was found to be too small for the increased number of visitors and it was enlarged by an addition one third its former length. Underneath the grand stand is the room for the exhibition of poultry, which has grown under the able management of its superintendent, from a small exhibit, to one of several hundred coops and many fine varieties of fancy and common fowl.

At the other end of the grand stand is the pool room where betting will be popular during the races.

Wednesday and Thursday are the best days and with pleasant weather there is sure to be an attendance of twenty thousand people.

Wednesday dawned cloudy and continued so throughout the day, but this did not keep away the crowd which began to come on trains and in carriages during the early morning hours.

The first thing on the day's program was the parade which came off about eleven o'clock. This was formed on the common, at one end of the city and was late in starting, as most parades and processions generally are. Some friends and myself stationed ourselves near the square, and at last the parade came in sight. First the band, then the militia company, after that a number of decorated caissons. One of these was unusually handsome, a top buggy, the top rolled back. This was decorated in pale green and white, the wheels being entirely covered in these two colors. The harness of the span of handsome black horses was wound with green, and the two ladies wore white and green costumes.

This was followed by other teams similarly decorated, yellow and white, blue and white, orange and pink. One cute little turnout consisted of a decorated phaeton drawn by a pony and driven by two little girls. After these came the horses to be exhibited during the day on the grounds, and the parade ended with the town teams.

These consisted of large teams decorated with the fruit, grains and vegetables of the season, and drawn by some ten or a dozen pair of picked oxen. The whole procession was nearly a mile long, and we followed it and the crowds to the grounds. Here a lively scene was before us, in every direction a crowd, some on foot and others in carriages, probably eighteen or twenty thousand people in all, which meant the sum of eight or nine thousand dollars in the treasury.

Music was given by three bands, two in the stand on the upper end of the grounds, and the other at the grand stand near the track. The attractions beside the regular horse racing were Prof. Jackson and wife, two wonderful riders in Roman and racing, their exhibition concluding a race between the Prof. and his wife, each standing in chairs strapped on a pair of horses. Another feature was a herd of performing East Indian ponies in chariot and running races. We entered the park just as the sun was setting and the pedestal and balancing performance which proved they were animals of rare intelligence and their trainer, a girl of fifteen, one of much patience.

Later in the afternoon, at the poultry department, a rather funny incident happened, at least to those who heard, if not to the actors.

A young man evidently from a farm, "down country," stepped up to our party and inquired if we had seen a gentleman, giving us a description of his personal appearance and dress. We said we had not, and on inquiry found out that this much wanted individual had borrowed the countryman's watch for a minute to time a race and had no doubt forgot to return it.

We could not help smiling at the young man's greenness and informed him that he would probably never see the watch again, which he seemed to regret. The horse racing this year is one of the best and we were much disappointed in the non-appearance of Nelson who was unable to be on the track on account of lameness. Mr. Nelson, his owner, was present however, and drove one of his other horses.

Thursday was another fine autumn day and the parade of Wednesday was given again. The attendance was estimated at twenty-five thousand which is the largest number of people ever present at this fair, probably any other in New Hampshire. At one time in the early morning and before all the trains had arrived, the station agent told me that over eighty cars loaded with passengers had come in. Then for a time the platform, streets and sidewalks were literally packed with people on foot, bicycle, horse back and in carriages and barges. The exercises on the grounds were similar to the day before with the exception of one novelty, a sky-cycle or air vessel.

A man is seated under the hydrogen gas globe and is able to control the movement of his vessel by the aid of steering apparatus. Friday, the closing day, was pleasant in the morning, but in the afternoon a light rain began to fall. The races were finished during the afternoon in spite of rain, with the record of two, sixteen made by B. B. of Boston. As the afternoon shadows deepen the spectators began to leave the grounds to quietness and desertion until another year.

One countryman, who passed out beside me, I think expressed the sentiments of the crowd. He was talking to a friend and we overheard him say, "Well, by gosh, Jones, this beats all I ever see, I came down from the country to see this ere show, guess its most as big as the World's Fair."

Rochester Fair was over for '93, having kept up its reputation for weather, attractions and attendance.

FRANK DUNLAP FRISHIE.

OBJECT TO THE BOULEVARD.

MR. DUMARESCU NOW APPEALS TO THE SUPERIOR COURT.

The Superior Court has granted a writ of certiorari to Eben Jordan and Eben Jordan, Jr., and Deputy Sheriff Tucker of Middlesex County on Saturday served notice on the Newton mayor and board of aldermen and the common council, to appear before the court Tuesday at 11 to show cause why they should not be restrained from constructing a central boulevard from Centre street to the Boston line.

The petition sets forth that Eben Jordan and Eben Jordan, Jr., are the owners of a parcel of land at the junction of Ward and South streets, Chestnut Hill.

The city council and mayor of Newton, by various orders from March 20 to Sept. 14, provided for the construction of a boulevard or way across the property of the petitioners, to be constructed to a width of 120 feet. The orders for the location and construction of the said boulevard provided for two separate and distinct roadways, a bridge-path and a reserved space 30 feet for the use of electric cars.

The petitioners claim that all these proceedings are void for the following reasons: Because no law authorizes the construction of such a boulevard; because the common necessity does not require the laying out of a roadway 120 feet in width; because the order of location does not specify a reasonable time in which owners of land through which the boulevard or way passes may remove fences, trees or other property which may obstruct its construction.

It is further claimed that the boulevard is constructed over the land of the petitioners by two roadways of separate grades, separated by an interval of 30 feet, which laying out is not authorized by law.

A reserved space of 30 feet over and upon land taken from the petitioners is set aside for the exclusive use of the tracks of a street railway company, such reservation is not authorized by law.

The orders adopted by the city council further provide that the way shall be laid out under the provisions of the betterment act. The application of the betterment principle to boulevards is not authorized by law.

It is further claimed that the city has not been authorized to borrow money for the construction of a boulevard.

The petitioners further allege that they will be injured by the construction of the boulevard over their land.

The writs and the petition for an injunction are the outcome of the opposition of Herbert Dumarescu of Chestnut Hill to the lines of the boulevard as laid out by the city engineer and the boulevard commissioners.

Mr. Dumarescu is the son-in-law of Eben Jordan, and Mr. Jordan is the trustee of his daughter's estate. When the boulevard was laid out it was proposed to cross Mr. Dumarescu's property at Chestnut Hill, separating a strip of about 20,000 feet from the remainder of his property. Mr. Dumarescu vigorously opposed the location at hearings before the city council through his lawyer, Richard Saltonstall, but the plans were adopted. Mr. Dumarescu offered to give a sufficient piece of land, without compensation, if the boulevard was made to follow the line of South street, but it was found inadvisable to change the route.

The amount allowed the claimant for damages was not considered satisfactory by Mr. Dumarescu, and hence the petition to the court.

The representatives of the estate have Moorfield Storey and Richard Saltonstall for their counsel.

The City Solicitor made the proper return on Tuesday, and the court granted a hearing for Nov. 2nd.

Judge Lowell has been retained by Newton, and from what we gather from the lawyers, the city has no reason to worry over the affair, although all the legal technicalities are being argued rather alarmingly to those unfamiliar with law.

Newton Cottage Hospital.

The regular quarterly meeting of the trustees was held at the Newton Cottage Hospital on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 30th.

Hon. J. R. Leeson, the president, was in the chair and the following members were present: Messrs J. N. Bacon, M. L. Bacon, Blake, Haskell and Hovey, Messrs. Bullens, Calkins, Ellison, Emerson, Pettie, Pratt, Shinn, Travelli and Dr. F. E. Crockett.

After the reading of the minutes the report of the treasurer was submitted, showing receipts for the last quarter of $195.01, (of which nearly $1500 was received from the work of the corps of nurses) and the expenditures reached $4163.63, while for the nine months of the year the receipts were $12,293.07, and the expenditures $15,000.15, or at the rate of $2,000 for the whole year.

From the executive committee it was reported that a contract had been made with Messrs. Lynch and Woodward for a central heating plant to cost $3550, fully equipped and of sufficient capacity to supply all the present buildings, including the new training school for nurses, and an ample reserve for the increased surgical facilities which the trustees are so greatly in need of and hope soon to supply.

Also that under the advice and supervision of the trustees, the school of the Institute of Technology an improved system of ventilation was shortly to be introduced into the men's ward in answer to the urgent solicitations of the medical corps.

The training school for nurses reported at present twelve nurses in the second year, eight nurses in their first year and three probationers, the largest number that has ever been upon the rolls, although with the coming year, owing to the ample provision made by Messrs. Converse and Pratt in the new building, almost twice as many will be trained and ready to supply the increased demand throughout the city for such services.

The president read a communication from the secretary of the Newtonville Woman's Guild, stating that the society would not be able in the future to bear the full expense of furnishing the nurses' dining plant, it is clear that a larger amount of money must be collected for the use of the hospital during the coming year. The statistics show that the number of patients treated in the hospital for the nine months of the current year, 321, equals the number treated during the whole of 1892, which was the largest year's work of the hospital since its foundation up to that date. The contagious wards have been continuously in use during this year, at a great expense of maintenance, and certainly securing a saving to the city in the treatment of such cases, as well as supplying safety to every inhabitant of the city of Newton in the treatment of the cases themselves, together with the prevention of the spread of contagion. It will be seen from these statements, showing an expenditure during the last nine months at the rate of $21,000 per annum, that it is absolutely necessary for the citizens of Newton to respond liberally to the appeals which the trustees make for continued and increased support of this institution, which, during all its past history, has never been in as efficient a working condition as it is today, and at no time has it had the power of rendering such comfort and assistance to the inhabitants of Newton as now.

What an Old Lady Feels.
"I'm almost afraid sometimes," said a white haired woman at a club meeting not long ago, "when I see the attention given to athletics, the Delsarte system, physical culture or whatever name under which the enthusiasm exists that the coming woman is going to be a superb animal—nothing more."—New York Times.

The Beauty of Wrinkles.

And now an authority inveighs against steaming the face as a preventive against wrinkles, alleging that this is the swiftest and surest process by which to produce them. "The second layer of the skin becomes attenuated, and there is a decrease in bulk of the superficial layers," is the technical explanation which the laity will not understand and does not need to. The simple fact is sufficient. But why should wrinkles be such a red rag to every woman? They must inevitably come if one lives long enough, and barring the suppression of the habit of frowning and the avoidance of dangerous cosmetics it seems useless to fight them.

Time was when we were taught that they were the lines of character, and time is when character, as shining forth in the expression of the face, makes the wrinkles forgotten. Watch the soul behind the wrinkles. Take as much care of that as you strive to of the outer layer of cuticle, which is its external semblance, and the wrinkles will be lost or overlooked in the serene and steady eye and quiet but smiling mouth. "Think lofty things," says a preacher, "and the countenance will show the thought."—New York Times.

The Natives Had Scruples.

Once an amusing story was told me by a South sea trader, writes Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson. He had been in the habit of carrying all sorts of tinned meats, which the natives bought with avidity. Each tin was branded with a colored picture—a cow for beef, a sheep for mutton and a fish for sardines.

It happened that the firm who furnished the mutton thought it a good plan to change their labels, that their goods might be more easily distinguished from others. The mark chosen was a red dragon.

The natives came with their copra to trade as usual. The new tins were shown them, but they recoiled with horror and gave the trader to understand that they had had some religious instruction and were not to be deluded into eating tinned devil.

The trader was forced to eat his stock of mutton himself, for not a native could be persuaded to touch the accursed thing.

It is said to cost less to send the product of an acre of wheat from Dakota to England than it does to manure an acre of land in England so that it can grow good wheat.

Queen Victoria is superstitious about precious stones. She invariably wears a chrysoprasi in one form or another and thinks it brings her good luck.

A western geologist says that Kansas can raise wheat for another 1,000 years before exhausting the necessary properties of the soil.

Expressmen.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room, from 6.30 A. M., to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. F. Atkins, Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Procter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving, also Crochery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence: 152 Adams Street, Newton, Mass.

PEARSON'S NEWTON AND BOSTON EXPRESS.

Boston Offices: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St., 33 Court St. Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market.

Newton Office: At H. B. Codin's, Order Boxes at Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins'.

Leave Newton at 9.30 a. m. Leave Boston at 3 p. m.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER, NEWTON & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Leave Newton, 7.30 and 9.30 a. m.; leave Boston, 12 m. and 3 p. m.

NEWTON OFFICE: 324 Centre Street. Order Box: Newton City Market, BOSTON OFFICES: 15 Devonshire St., 174 Washington St., 34 Court Square, 25 Merchants Row, 67 Franklin St., 11 Harrison Ave. Extension, Post Office address Box 420, Newton.

Personal Attention Given all Orders. Telephone No. 279-2.

T. F. GLENNAN. Carriage Trimming & Harness MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c. Washington Street, Newton.

J. J. JOHNSON. FLORIST.

CONSERVATORIES, School Street, Newton. Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, etc., etc. Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

Ripans Tabules: best liver tonic.

L. H. CRANITCH, House, Sign, and Ornamental PAINTER.

GRAINING and PAPER HANGING a Specialty 2d door from Central Block, Newtonville.

J. H. LOOKER, French Cleansing and Dyeing Dry Cleansing and Repairing a Specialty.

Particular attention paid to Blankets, Lace Curtains, Fine Linens and Hand Laundry Work of all kinds. No. 21 Carlton Street, NEWTON, MASS.

Song of the Laundress

IVORINE never injures my clothes, It saves lots of rubbing and time, They are whiter than snow in a jiffy, And soon hanging out on the line.

IVORINE WASHING POWDER

Washes everything: pots, pans, tins, dishes, windows, paint, floors, silver, and hundreds of other things. No fear of cholera when IVORINE is used. Remember, 14 lb. packages cost no more than pounds of other kinds.

From April 1st, 1893, every package contains a splendid cake of pure Olive Oil Toilet Soap.

The J. B. Williams Co., Glastonbury, Ct. For 50 years the makers of Yankee Shaving Soap.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY THE

WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters 8 cents per square yard for Turkish Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet staining, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. Sole Manufacturer of the

SIMON A. WHITE.

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7.

Factory and Residence, Clinton Street

Water Bugs and Roaches CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR EXTERMINATOR

No dust. No trouble to use.

Price, 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If you druggist or grocer does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price.

BARNARD & CO.,

7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON. FOR SALE BY BARRER BROS., NEWTON.

Lumber.

C. A. HARRINGTON LUMBER,

Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c. Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.

Telephone, 248 5 Newton.

LUMBER.

GILKEY & STONE,

ARSENAL ST., WATERTOWN

Railroads.

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

WEEK DAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 5.50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 7.00 A. M. then every thirty minutes until 11.00 P. M.

SUNDAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 7.50 A. M. then every thirty minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 8.30 A. M. and every thirty minutes until 11.00 P. M.

First car for Boston leaves Watertown at 7.5 A. M.

U. S. SERGEANT, General Manager

5 ly

Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn R. R.

Fall and Winter Time-Table, Sept. 11, '93.

LEAVE BOSTON for LYNN at 6.50, 7.50, 8.30, 9.10, 11 A. M., 12 M., 1.2, 3, 3.30, 4 (Express), 4.30, 5 (Express), 5.30, 6 (Express), 6.30, 7.30, 8, 9.30, 10.30 and 11.25 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN for BOSTON at 6.10, 6.50, 7 (Express), 7.30 (Express), 8 (Exp.), 8.30 (Exp.), 9, 9.30 (Exp.), 10, 11 A. M., 12 M., 1, 2, 2.45, 3.15, 3.45, 4.15, 4.50, 5.15, 5.50, 6.45, 7.15, 8.20, 9.15 and 10.15 P. M.

LEAVE BOSTON for LYNN hourly from 9.30 A. M. to 9.30 P. M., inclusive, and at 10.15 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN for BOSTON at 8.45 A. M., then hourly from 9.30 A. M. to 9.30 P. M., inclusive.

All trains stop at West Lynn.

JOHN A. FENNO, C. A. HAMMOND, G. T. A. Supt.

Boston, Sept. 11, 1893

Slate, Copper, Tin and Gravel ROOFING.

Special attention given to repairing. John Farquhar's Sons,

Nos. 20 and 22 East St., Boston. Established 1836. Telephone No. 162. 40

B. KETZ,

The Only Hardware and Cutlery STORE NEAR THE DEPOTS.

99 Kneeland St., Boston.

Kitchen Furnishing Goods and Toys a Specialty. Open Evenings. Goods Delivered Free. 48 Cms

JAMES PAXTON, Manufacturing Confectioner.

Cakes in Variety, Ices and Creams, Fancy Ices, Frozen Pudding.

Pure Candies of our own Make.

CHOICE WEDDING CAKE.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

MIDDLESEX, ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Ulva A. Waters, late of Newton, in said County, deceased.

GREETING:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Samuel N. Waters and Henry A. Insam, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executor or the said named, and that they may be exempt from giving a bond or sureties on their bond pursuant to said will and statute; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at said bridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the second Tuesday of October, A. D. 1893, at nine o'clock before noon, to show cause, if any you have, against the same.

And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once a week, for three successive weeks, in the newspaper called the Newton Graphic, printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said Court.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable toEDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-2.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday
afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

MUNICIPAL LIGHTING.

The question of lighting the streets and highways in the best and most economical manner has been discussed at great length, and theoretically every one is agreed that the work can be done most satisfactorily and cheaply by the city. Many places have tried the experiment, and with varying success. Some cities have been able to save money and secure better results, while others have found municipal ownership even more expensive than the old method.

The laws have been so framed that it is not an easy matter for a city to enter upon the work, those directing affairs at the state house probably wishing to save municipalities from doing anything rash. It takes about two years for a city to pass the necessary orders, so that our committee on street lights will have abundant time to make all necessary investigations.

Of course a city does not need to make a profit on the work, for the sake of paying dividends, and in this way a saving can be made. On the other hand the consumption is more limited and therefore the expense will be greater. A large business can be managed more economically than a small one.

The resolution provides that the committee should investigate the establishment of a gas and electric plant, but it would seem to be wiser, if the city is going into this business, to adopt one system or the other, either use electricity alone, or gas alone, as the results would probably be much more satisfactory. Electric lighting seems to be the more popular system, with cities that have established their own plants, as it is less expensive to start with, and can be more easily managed. The question was very thoroughly gone into by a former city government, and perhaps some of the old members who spent so much time over it, would be willing to give the present committee the benefit of their researches.

However, even if Newton should do its own lighting, no one need expect that complaints would entirely cease. In Wellesley, which is held up as a model, the selectmen could tell a sad story of their attempts to achieve the impossible, which is to satisfy everybody. There are sure to be complaints under any system, and the committee will gain a great deal of useful knowledge in their efforts to learn just what success has been met with in towns which have instituted their own plant, and the results of their investigation will be looked for with interest.

A WATCHDOG NEEDED.

It is always an unpleasant task to object to expenditures, which is probably the reason why past members of our city government have let pass so many additions to city expenses. Money has been voted rather than have any unpleasant feeling. This year, either because some of the members have had more independence, or because the limit had been reached, there has been a more careful scrutiny into City Hall expenses, and some abuses have been rectified. For instance, when a special appropriation has been made for clerical work, it has not been allowed to be done in business hours by city officials.

There are other things at City Hall that will bear looking into, and it is a common thing to hear the remark that the expenses of the City Clerk's office are much greater than necessity requires. The City Clerk has a salary of $2,000, but he holds so many other offices, with salaries attached, that sometime ago it was found necessary to have an assistant City Clerk, and one additional assistant is also sometimes required.

The fees and perquisites of the City Clerk mount up to quite a handsome sum, and the minor offices he holds make his position, it is said, the best paying one in City Hall, and it would be worth while for a committee to find out how much the department expenses exceed those of other cities of the size of Newton.

The hours of labor are short, the work is light, and the position is an enviable one. If the work was let out by contract as is the case with other work of the city, it is believed that fully half of the expense of that department could be saved, and it might be a good thing for the city to receive bids.

Tax-payers do not object to pluralism

in city offices, but they do object to an official taking so many other paid offices that he cannot do the work he is supposed to perform, compelling the city to provide a high salaried assistant.

It looks very much as though economy in public affairs was to become popular again. We have just gone through a period of great extravagance in national affairs, which had had its demoralizing effect in local governments, and the recent hard times has caused a great demand for economy in all expenditures. Private citizens have had to cut down expenditures, whether they liked it or not, and they do not see why the city should not follow their example. A few thousands saved in each department would amount to a large sum in a year, and some even say that the unnecessary expenses at City Hall would pay the interest on that new city hall building of which so much has been said.

THE BOULEVARD SUIT.

The rather sensational account of the suit against the city brought by Mr. Dumaresq of Chestnut Hill, which appeared in the Boston Journal, only showed that the writer of it was needlessly alarmed. No one else takes the matter very seriously, and able lawyers say that it will be very difficult for Mr. Dumaresq to sustain his positions. Neither the city officials nor the Boulevard Syndicate are losing any sleep over the matter.

The city has retained Judge Lowell to assist City Solicitor Slocum, and Judge Lowell's name alone will inspire confidence. A hearing has been appointed for next month before the Superior court, and matters will go along just the same as before. The city council has already attended to some of the points made in the writ, and the only question of moment seems to be whether the city has the power to lay out a street of more than ordinary width. But if the town of Brookline could lay out the Beacon boulevard, and if Boston can lay out wide streets, there would seem to be a probability that Newton can do the same. The question is one that should be decided, and it will be worth the expense of defending the suit to have the matter settled.

It is unfortunate for Mr. Dumaresq and the other residents of Chestnut Hill, who sympathize with him, that the place lies directly between Boston and a thickly settled part of Newton. With the onward march of suburban population the old-English quiet and seclusion of the place must suffer more or less disturbance, as people must have a direct communication with Boston, with the accompanying annoyance of street cars, and a public highway, like a railroad, has to follow the most direct course, to secure the greatest good of the greatest number. Private considerations have to give way for public ones, and although the city council may be very sorry to disturb old associations and beautiful landscapes, they cannot yield to sentiment in laying out such an important thoroughfare as the Newton Boulevard will be. The rights of the general public must always be paramount to those of any private individual, which is the common sense point of view, and if this were not so, no public improvements would be possible.

FOR REPRESENTATIVES.

The Republican convention renominated Mr. Dwight Chester and nominated Mr. S. E. Howard, who served two years ago, but was defeated last year, it is said, because he antagonized the railroad corporations in his first term. His nomination is a tardy act of justice.

It has all along been feared that the corporations which Mr. Estabrook fought so manfully last year would succeed in defeating his nomination this fall, and it will be seen that these fears were only too well grounded. Mr. Estabrook has the satisfaction that he fought for the people with great success, and the corporations he antagonized can now go to work and get their legislation through, if they can.

Messrs. Chester and Howard will make excellent representatives, and their previous experience will give them great influence. Mr. Chester especially will have a right to be considered one of the veterans, as this will be his third term at the State House. Mr. Howard can resume his old fight against the railroads, and they will not find him any easier to manage because of the experience of the past two years. The nomination came to him entirely unthought.

If a small minority can obstruct all business in the National Senate, week after week, what is the use of that portion of our government machinery. The Democrats have a majority, and therefore they will be held responsible, even if the silver obstructionists are Republicans. If the principle is once established that no legislation can pass in the Senate to which the minority object, the only way to secure needed legislation will be to abolish the Senate. The Democratic leaders are receiving a great deal of harsh criticism, and it does not appear to be undeserved either. The Senate has always succeeded in finding a way to pass measures, which the majority favored, at other sessions, and if Senator Voorhees can not manage things better, he should resign in favor of some more capable man. The uncertainty is having a very bad effect upon the country, although from the way business is reviving, mills are starting up, and money is becoming plentiful, it does not appear that the recent scare had any real foundation. Nevertheless its effects were about as bad, for a panic in business is brought about by a feeling of distrust. If the feeling has no foundation, recovery may be more rapid, and from the daily reports of the starting up on full time of the larger mills in the country, it looks as though business would be as flourishing as usual this fall.

This is the time of the year when the agricultural fairs are held and the assembled farmers are addressed by political candidates and told that they are the backbone of the country, that success of every sort depends upon the men who till the soil, and that farmers are the most intelligent, honest, honorable, respected, etc., etc., men in the world. The speeches must be interesting to the farmers, they have heard the same old flattery so many times, and they must admire the guileless innocence of the speaker after their votes, who have such implicit confidence in the same old bait. As the speaker warms up to his subject, he generally dilates on the remarkable number of things he has learned from his brief visit to the fair, and tells of his unsatisfied ambition to become a farmer himself. His audience is always courteous enough to applaud, but the speaker, as he rushes off to take the train, would probably not be so well satisfied did he know that he is regarded as one of the attractions of the fair, a little above than the prize pumpkins and squashes, and a good ways below the premium cows and horses. He adds to the success of the fair, which would not be complete without him, and so he serves a useful purpose, if he does not gather in many votes.

The order for procuring expensive new heating apparatus for the present City Hall was defeated, as it ought to have been. The policy of the city should be to only make such repairs as are absolutely necessary on the present building, as it can be occupied only a few more years, at most. The business of the city long ago outgrew the accommodations, and the building itself was never a credit to the city. A new building will have to be provided one of these days, and as for the efficiency of the present heating apparatus, the building is as comfortable as the majority of business blocks. The hours of labor there are short, and none of the occupants, certainly, look as if they suffered much from the cold. The ventilating apparatus, which now disfigures the building, ought to serve as a warning against any more foolish expenditures.

The withdrawal of Mr. Pillsbury is not surprising, as there was no honor to be gained in appearing as the candidate of a hopeless minority, and Mr. Greenhalge's nomination seems to be assured on the first ballot, if it is not made by acclamation. About the rest of the State ticket there is more or less of uncertainty, from the number of candidates. The results of the ante-convention contest only demonstrates anew that it is the early and active hustler who wins the honors, in these modern days.

The Republican state convention will meet in Boston, to-morrow, and it now looks as though Mr. Greenhalge would be nominated on the first ballot. As the claims made by his supporters, that they have a majority of the delegates, seem to be well-founded. The Pillsbury and men have made pretty large statements, but it seems to be in the nature of wheating to keep their courage up, till the time of the convention. They will know better another time, and realize that it is the early and persistent hustlers that capture the nomination.

The Waltham News is in doubt whether all this movement for better roads is for "the facilitation of wheel tours," or to give the farmers a better opportunity to get their produce to market. Judging from the arguments of Col. Pope and other makers of bicycles, it is entirely for the benefit of the farmers, although the latter seem to succeed in reaching the market, under the present condition of the roads.

The Sunday Boston Journal has made its first appearance, and for those who like a Sunday paper that does not take time to read, it is just what they like. Most people, however, when buying a paper, as in other purchases, like to get the most possible for their money, and the Sunday Journal will have to improve a good deal before it can pretend to compete with the Sunday Herald.

The Waltham News thinks Newton ought to be proud of that euphonious name, "Cheesecake Brook Boulevard," but wants to know why not put it in French? Well, in the first place Newton thinks the English language good enough for common use, and in the second place French names for Yankee streets partake of snobbishness.

JUDGE MILTON of Waltham will represent this district again in the Senate, as the Republican nomination is equivalent to an election. He made a creditable record in his first term.

LARGE PROPERTY HOLDERS.

CITIZENS OF NEWTON WHO ARE HEAVY TAXPAYERS.

There are many heavy taxpayers in Newton. The largest real estate and personal tax is paid by Mr. E. W. Converse, $6576.97. Those who pay $500 and over will be found in the list appended:

Ward 1. D. R. Emerson, $976.55; Mary H. Potter, $870; Martha R. Hawley, $526.47; Nonantum Worsted Company, $420; Lathrop Adams, $369.11; J. B. Brackett, $72.25; Gilman Brackett, $1213.38; Henry E. Cobb, $1831.43; Henry E. Cobb (trustee and guardian), $447.79; Andrew Coleheirs, $623.32; E. M. Converse, $6376.97; Chester H. Graves, $510.50; Alice F. and Mary B. Jones, $333.80; C. H. Lancaster, $619.91; Newton National Bank, $7381.41; Newton & Waterson Gaslight Company, $2268.44; Henry F. Rogers, $327.66; Edward Sawyer, $243.90; John Southier, $1001.10; Martha F. Utley, $571.17; res. dents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $601.13; William Fuller, dev., $158.37; Eugene H. Fay, $671.92; John E. Hutton et al., $714.10; Ward 2. William Claffin, $2662.05; Timothy H. Carter, $249.91; Henry F. Ross, $952.50; Nonantum Hominy, $387.40; S. L. Pratt, $1000.00; Company, $1951; Elizabeth T. Eldridge, $2212.69; Austin R. Mitchell, $1081.94; George W. Morse and Austin R. Mitchell, $531.41; Newton Real Estate Association, $738.55; Newton Club Corporation, $714.99; Henrietta M. Parker, $755.21; Charles T. Peabody, $571.59; Mrs. Clara Peabody, $686.63; Fitzhugh Collins, $501.97; Arthur A. Sosen, $791.16; Lavanai & Shaw, $253.68; Ward 3. Precinct 1. Charles E. Billings, $667.51; Vernon E. Carpenter, $1068.58; George Cook, $637.69; Caleb F. Eddy, $508.88; Edwin Fleming, $533.52; Henry A. Gane, $1069.82; Mary R. Hill, $540.98; Samuel S. Kilburn, $694.40; James H. Nickerson, $717.38; Precinct 2. Laura B. Felton, $627.82; Annie A. Garrison, $512.34; Alvin Houghton, $386.79; Mrs. Clara Peabody, $686.63; Martha A. Kendall, $654.29; Mary J. Leatherbee, $622.42; Albert Metcalf, $828.12; Lucius G. Pratt, $223.27; Charles Robinson, $628.91; George W. P. Staples, $55.58; Emma R. Travell, $1496.58; E. W. Wood, $644.22; Precinct 3. Charles C. Burr, $2174.66; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 4. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 4. Precinct 1. Benjamin Dickerman, $572.54; Pettes machine works, $1040.10; Joseph S. Eddy, $651.84; Precinct 2. Mrs. Ann M. Cobb, $516.91; Hannah R. Edmonds, $88.52; Charles J. Page and Frederic Henshaw, $735.30; Edward H. Tarbell, $531.38; Levi C. Wade, $527.98; Mrs. Margaret Wade, $1187.72; Anna G. Whitmore, $501.59; Non-residents, William S. Appleton, $1196.91; Henry J. Bigelow, $616.52; Jeremiah M. Watson, $562.33; William F. Ryle & Co., $1043.80; Ward 5. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 6. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 7. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 8. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 9. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 10. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 11. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 12. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 13. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 14. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 15. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 16. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 17. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 18. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 19. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 20. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 21. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 22. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 23. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 24. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 25. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 26. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 27. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 28. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 29. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 30. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 31. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 32. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 33. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 34. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 35. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 36. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 37. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 38. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston & Albany Railroad Company, $1551.41; Ward 39. Precinct 1. Amos F. Adams, $531.84; Celia W. Haskell, $592.00; Edwin B. Haas, $2687.11; Frederick Johnson, $1049.31; Joseph Lee, $949.29; Pauline Foster, $880.69; William C. Strickland, $1049.31; Precinct 2. W. S. & F. C. Cordingley, $709.22; Charles F. Cleghorn, $906.13; Rebecca R. Rice, $1429.27; Non-residents, Boston &

NEWTONVILLE.

—Miller pianos, Farley, Newton.
—Mr. Will Dennison has returned from the Fair.

—Mrs. Henry Ross and Miss Lucy Ross left here Monday for Chicago.

—Miss Centre has returned to her home at Wilton, N. H. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Needham on their trip to the Columbian Exposition.

—Miss Alice Thompson of Grove Hill has gone to New York for a short stay.

—Mr. Greenlaw has leased the Warehouse house on Highland avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Needham have returned from the World's Fair.

—Mr. J. H. Lothrop has leased a house for the winter at Lake Saranac among the Adirondacks.

—Mrs. Leavitt and the Misses Leavitt are in Chicago visiting the Fair.

—The Misses McAdams have returned from a visit to Chicago and the Fair.

—Mrs. G. H. C. Hooper of Walnut street is in New York for a short stay.

—Mr. W. C. Richardson of Highland avenue has returned from the World's Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones of Newtonville avenue are expected home next week from Chicago.

—Miss Emily Whitson has returned from New York where she has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Call.

—Louis Ross leaves Saturday for Chicago on a visit to the Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. George are the guests of Mrs. I. P. Lewis, Walnut street.

—Miss Blanche Pierce is the guest of Miss Atherton of Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. Q. Cole of Otis street will pass the winter at the Bellevue, Beacon street, Boston.

—Mrs. Geo. H. Talbot left Monday for the World's Fair.

—Mr. V. W. Henderson of Brooklyn, N. Y., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunt, Grove Hill avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Keene are the guests of Mrs. Swan of Melrose.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Curtis of Otis street leave Saturday for the World's Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Simpson have returned from Baltimore.

—Mr. E. B. Jones has closed his house and has taken rooms for the winter at Dr. Bidgett's.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Sisson have returned from their wedding tour.

—Mrs. R. E. Merrill and family have returned from North Conway, N. H.

—Mr. C. A. Harrington has leased one of Mr. Rollin's houses on Otis street.

—Mr. C. M. Slocum, a former resident, has again domiciled here. He has leased the house recently vacated by Mr. S. W. French, Newtonville avenue.

—Capt. and Mrs. Gilbreth have returned from their summer place at Cataumet.

—Mr. and Mrs. Austin R. Mitchell return today from the World's Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ashcroft of Kimball terrace have moved to Lynn for the winter.

—Mr. and Mrs. Delos Shaw are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kimball.

—Mr. J. G. Thompson and family are sojourning at Princeton.

—Miss Josie Davis, '88, who has been taking advanced courses in Latin Philology at Cambridge, has been placed at the head of the Latin department in the High school.

—Mr. W. B. Bosson has been elected secretary of Lake Superior Iron Company, succeeding Mr. Tenny who held the position for twenty years.

—Messrs. Alfred Q. Cole and E. H. Saxton returned Monday from a week's sojourn at the World's Fair.

—Mr. Brown of Newtonville avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Allen of Cabot street, have returned from the World's Fair. Mrs. Brown is taking an extended trip through the West, visiting friends in Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Ia.

—Mr. Charles Dennison and family have returned from Cataumet.

—Mr. Henry F. Ross is making additions to his stable and besides enlarging is making some extensive improvements. It will be one of the finest equipped in this vicinity when the work is completed. With steam heat and electric lights. A pool and billiard room is located on the second floor.

—The friends of Miss Alice F. Pierce will be gratified to learn, that while she still receives pupils at her Boston address, she has secured a music room in Eliot block, Newton, where she will be, three days in each week, for the accommodation of pupils in the Newtons. See advertisement in another column.

—Mr. F. S. Amidon has returned from Cottage city, in much better health than usual. He reports that the hotel business this summer was fairly good, considering the attractions of the Fair, and also the hard times. Many of the regular Western patrons of his hotel did not appear at all this year, and the loss of such patronage has been felt by all the summer hotels in New England.

—Mr. Geo. H. Pigott, one of Newton's most promising young men died Wednesday morning after several weeks illness. He leaves a wife and father, and several sisters who are deeply afflicted by his death. Although he had lived here but a few years, he had made a great many sincere friends, who share the sorrow of the afflicted, knowing him as they did for his sterling character.

—"Ah, yes! we live our life again; Of warmly touched or coldly dim, The picture of the past remains, Man's works shall follow him."

—Pianos rented and tuned, Farley, Newton.

—Miss Annie Allen has returned to Smith College.

—Barton Damon has returned from a visit to the World's Fair.

—F. W. Eddy was with a fox hunting party at Lincoln Monday.

—Mrs. J. L. Damon of Putnam street has gone with a Raymond party to the World's Fair.

—Miss Jennie C. Allen has returned from the Fair and a visit to Elgin, Ill., and Lake Geneva, Wis.

—Miss Alice Boyden of North Sandwich is the guest of Miss Damon of Putnam street.

—Mr. C. H. Hayes and family of Highland avenue have returned from Chicago.

—John McCabe, employed by H. H. Hunt, fell from a barn on Temple street Monday, sustaining fortunately only slight injuries.

—Messrs. F. C. Needham and Bernard Peters are at North Sandwich for a short stay.

JAROS

HYGIENIC UNDERWEAR

For Men, Women and Children.
Endorsed by physicians as a safeguard against Colds or Rheumatism.

NON-SHRINKABLE. NON-IRRITATING.

RAY, Men's Furnisher.

509 Wash'n St., Cor. West.
641 Wash'n St., Cor. Boylston.

RAY, RUSSIAN KASSAN.

BEST $1.50 GLOVE MADE.

LONG & SHINGLES. SENT BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF PRICE.

MEN'S FURNISHER.

509 WASH'N ST., COR. WEST.

641 WASH'N ST., COR. BOYLSTON.

Boston.

and manhood. He will be missed not only in Newton, but by his many friends in Boston and in the business circle, where he so faithfully performed his duties.

—Mr. Fitzpatrick and Miss Fitzpatrick of Bristol, N. H., were the guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richardson.

—Mr. L. L. Garrison of Newtonville avenue left Tuesday for a visit to the World's Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Andrews have returned from a three weeks' sojourn through Maine and the Provinces.

—Mr. Frank A. Ross and family have removed to Allston.

—At the meeting of the Co-operative bank Tuesday evening, $7000 was sold at 10 and 15 cents premium. Eight hundred shares were also sold in the eleventh series.

—The cards are out for the wedding of Miss Maude Davis and Mr. Charles F. Daniel. The ceremony occurs in the Universalist church Wednesday evening, Oct. 18th.

—The dressmaking rooms of the Misses D. & E. Cunningham will re-open on Monday, Oct. 23. See card.

—Mr. J. Cheever Fuller and family have returned from a visit to the World's Fair.

—Music to be given at the Universalist church, Sunday morning: Hark, Hark my Soul, soprano solo and quartet, A. J. Holden; I'm a Pilgrim, I'm a Stranger, alto solo and quartet, G. W. Marston; In heavenly love abiding, quartet, Franz Abt.

—Mrs. Geo. W. Morse has received the first prize for figure painting at the Elmhurst Fair of New York, against all New York competitors. Her daughter, Miss Gertrude E. Morse, has favorable mention for her exhibit, and particularly for her picture of an old Monk lunching.

—Mr. A. A. Savage and party, comprising Messrs. G. H. Savage, M. D. Cressey and L. H. Hartwell of Charlestown have returned from a successful hunting tour in the vicinity of "Echo" lake, Me. They were joined there by Mr. J. L. Richards and party. The entire company of gentlemen were in camp about two weeks and brought home six deer and a large quantity of game.

—Messrs. G. W. Morse and John W. Weeks have offered to take at par fifty thousand dollars of the 4 per cent bonds of the city of Newton, the estimated amount to build the boulevard from Centre street to Valentine street and for the improvement of Murray street, which forms a junction with the boulevard at Valentine and Homer street. As the only reason for delaying this section was the question of placing the bonds, this offer seems to settle the matter, and that parties at the other sections will follow suit so that this work which is so important for the future of Newton, can be begun this fall and winter when it can be done cheaper and so many laborers need the work.

—"But when Herod heard thereof, he said, 'Is John, whom I beheaded, he is risen from the dead?'" St. Mark, 6 chapter, 16 verse. Rev. Mr. Priest of the Universalist church, had this for his topic last Sunday morning. Herod's deed came up to him at once on hearing of the work Jesus was doing. His conscience accused him of wrong doing. Every one has the self accusing temper. Money is no discriminator of good or bad thoughts. We would forget, but the thought we would like to keep dormant will not down, but rises up often in the midst of joyous emotions. Memory of crime and wrong doing is with us. These thoughts affect our imagination and cause one to picture all manner of things from the most innocent of causes. Actions that have no possible relation to the person affected, are seized upon as containing possible danger, forcing the guilty one into remotest solitude only to be again driven into the haunts of men for safety from a cause that is within one's self. For more than a hundred years the Universalist church has been accused of filling Heaven with sinful people. During all that time they have preached that Heaven was a condition. That no one could abide there until every sin had been atoned for to the very utmost. The heart must be first purged and washed as snow to be able to enjoy the Heavenly bliss. For the past months two verdicts of not guilty have been given by a jury of twelve men. It makes no difference whether these are correct or not. They know themselves whether the verdict be correct or not. If guilty, the very walls of prison may be a safer place than anywhere else they may feel. God knows best. We are to find no fault. The punishment will be in His hands. Let us so live that we may be at peace with all.

"Ah, yes! we live our life again; Of warmly touched or coldly dim, The picture of the past remains, Man's works shall follow him."

WEST NEWTON

—Pianos rented and tuned, Farley, Newton.

—Miss Annie Allen has returned to Smith College.

—Barton Damon has returned from a visit to the World's Fair.

—F. W. Eddy was with a fox hunting party at Lincoln Monday.

—Mrs. J. L. Damon of Putnam street has gone with a Raymond party to the World's Fair.

—Miss Jennie C. Allen has returned from the Fair and a visit to Elgin, Ill., and Lake Geneva, Wis.

—Miss Alice Boyden of North Sandwich is the guest of Miss Damon of Putnam street.

—Mr. C. H. Hayes and family of Highland avenue have returned from Chicago.

—John McCabe, employed by H. H. Hunt, fell from a barn on Temple street Monday, sustaining fortunately only slight injuries.

—Messrs. F. C. Needham and Bernard Peters are at North Sandwich for a short stay.

—Mrs. A. Cazmay has returned from Concord, N. H.

—Mr. George H. Ingraham and family have returned from their summer place at Rindge, N. H.

—Mr. Lowe of Temple street will erect a new house on Webster street this fall.

—Officer E. C. Holmes is spending a two weeks' vacation at Johnston, Vt.

—Miss Mattie B. Felton is among the visitors at the World's Fair.

—Fred L. Cook has purchased the grocery business of the late B. F. Houghton. He is refitting and restocking the store.

—Chief Henry L. Bixby and family returned last Saturday from Chatham.

—Miss Carrie Wing of Chatham is visiting relatives here.

—Mrs. Winslow Fiske and son have returned from a short stay at Milford.

—Engineer Cummings of Chemical A. has returned from a two weeks' vacation.

—W. U. Fogwill won several prizes at the bicycle races at Gardner, Me., Tuesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Moses Quimby, Mrs. W. H. Pettigrew and Miss Flora Pettigrew have returned from North Sandwich.

—Col. S. H. Leonard went to Pittsfield Monday with the Ancient & Honorable Artillery Company.

—Mr. George Eddy has returned from a visit to the World's Fair.

—Alderman Hunt and family leave here soon for the World's Fair.

—Mr. John Alley of Prince street has returned from Chicago.

—Mr. J. H. Nickerson and family of Elm street have returned from Provincetown.

—Mr. C. P. Hall and family, who have been occupying a temporary residence on Otis street, have returned to their own residence on Otis street.

—Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wyman are in Maine for a short stay.

—Mr. William Neff, who has been visiting friends here, has returned to his home in Medford.

—Mr. Cornelius Walker, who is well known to all who follow the clever work of The Players, of Newton, is to be married early in November to Miss Alice W. Brynion of Brookline.

—Assistant City Clerk Brimblecom is in Chicago doing the World's Fair.

—Rev. J. C. Jaynes is to preach in the South Congregational church, Boston, Rev. E. E. Hale's, next Sunday morning.

—Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Bolles have returned to their Boston house, 409 Beacon street for the winter season.

—Master Fred Potter starts for Chicago this (Friday) evening. He, and his Newton friends who accompanied him, will visit the Fair grounds. They will be away from home about two weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kilburn are enjoying their wedding tour in New York State. They intended returning today (Friday). They will reside on Waltham street.

—The Allen school begins the year with very full ranks. The school is full, the three families have all the boarders they can accommodate, and a number of pupils had to be denied admission. The school has such a high reputation that hard times do not seem to affect it.

—Mr. E. H. Saxton of Mt. Vernon street has just returned from Chicago where he has been visiting the Fair, and Mrs. E. H. Saxton returned Saturday with her mother where they have been enjoying a two weeks' trip to the White Mountains at the Crawford.

—Gospel Temperance meeting in Good Templars Hall Sunday at 4 o'clock. Meeting of the W. C. T. U. in same hall Tuesday, Oct. 10, at 3 o'clock.

—C. F. Eddy and wife, C. M. Whittlesey and wife and Mr. Walter Whittlesey will go to the World's Fair in the Houghton party of Oct. 10th. Alderman H. H. Hunt will go Oct. 17.

—The next of the people's services in the series on the Pilgrims' Progress will be held next Sunday evening in the Congregational church at 7.30, topic, "From Vanity Fair to the River of God."

—The friends of Miss Alice F. Pierce will be gratified to learn, that while she still receives pupils at her Boston address, she has secured a music room in Eliot block, Newton, where she will be, three days in each week, for the accommodation of pupils in the Newtons. See advertisement in another column.

—Dr. Albert Nott is the professor of Physiology and Hygiene and Dean of the Tufts College Medical school. Both sexes are admitted to the school, which has the regular three years course and the sessions are held for the present at 188 Boylston street, Boston. The regular sessions began on Wednesday.

—The pulpit in the Unitarian church will be filled next Sunday morning by Protap Chunder Mozoomdar of India. Mr. Mozoomdar is a very impressive speaker as all who heard him during his previous visit to this country some ten years since will remember. He represented the Brahmo Samaj at the Parliament of Religions in Chicago and was considered one of the most eloquent speakers at those remarkable meetings and drew crowded houses whenever announced to speak. He is also to be the principal speaker at the next meeting of the Boston Unitarian Club. A general invitation is extended to the public. Services begin 10.45 o'clock.

—A pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Tilton, Greenwood avenue, Tuesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Hannah Marguerite, was married to Mr. Ira S. McNeill of the Boston Journal staff. The ceremony occurred at 8 o'clock, Rev. Julian C. Jaynes officiating. The couple stood in the parlor, under a floral arch composed of asparagus, vine, goldenrod and autumn leaves. The same decorations were used in the general garland of the apartments, together with palms and potted plants. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in white silk, trimmed with duchess lace, and carried Bride roses. Miss Carrie A. Tilton, a sister of the bride, and Miss H. Louise Fleming were the bridesmaids; they were attired in dotted muslin trimmed with old point lace and wearing violets. The ushers were Messrs. Frank Babcock and Harry Tilton. After the ceremony a largely attended reception was held, and later Mr. and Mrs. McNeill departed on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. and the South. On their return they will reside here on Greenwood avenue.

"More Haste, Worse Speed."

Of all the "tournaments" I ever saw, one among the "dairy maids" at an agricultural show was perhaps the last to associate itself with that heroic procedure which such a word suggests. There were about 40 of them armed with "churns" and started at the same moment to make butter against time. Each came provided with a watch, and the temptation was almost irresistible to turn the handle of the machine as quickly as possible. But no, butter must be "humored," not driven. The silent lists were filled with the provokingly deliberate "flip, flop" of 40 churns. One of the slowest combatants won the race. I never realized more plainly that "most haste is worst speed."—Cornhill Magazine.

NEW Fall Millinery!

Grand Display of the Latest Designs in French Millinery, and Very Much Lower Than Boston Prices. We Invite the Ladies of the Newtons to Inspect Our Assortment.

J. W. MACURDY,

Waltham,

133 MOODY ST., South Side.

To find Our Store please leave the Electric Cars at Hall's Corner.

THE D. & E. CUNNINGHAM

Dressmaking

Rooms

Will Be Reopened OCTOBER 23.

DRAFTS ON IRELAND

FOR SALE BY—

E. P. HATCH,

Fist National Bank, W. Newton.

Ladies' Misses' WINTER CARMENTS

In Latest Designs At

FRANK MAYNARD'S

696 Main Street,

Waltham, Mass.

Electric Cars Pass The Door.

A WOMAN

Who wishes to be considered well dressed must look to her GLOVES. The French say "a well-gloved woman is half dressed." You can be well gloved, and reasonably, too, by wearing our gloves. No gloves imported equal them for exquisite fit or durability.

Reed, Gowell & Co.,

52 Temple Place, Boston.

REMOVAL

DR. CHARLES H. CORKEN,

SURGEON DENTIST.

Formerly of 41 Tremont St., has removed to 188 BOYLSTON ST., BOSTON.

City of Newton.

In The Board of Mayor and Aldermen, October 2, '93.

ORDERED.

That the Polling Places for the State and Municipal Elections, November 7th, and December 5th, 1893, be and are hereby established as follows:—

Precinct 1, Ward 1, Voting Booth, Waban Park.

Precinct 2, Ward 1, Armory Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 2, Rooms 6 and 8 Central Block, Washington Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 2, Tremont Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 3, City Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 3, City Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 4, Auburn Hall, Ash Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 4, Freeman Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 5, Old Prospect School House, Pettie Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 5, Steven's Hall, Lincoln Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 6, Associates Hall, Centre Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 6, Associates Hall, Centre Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 7, Eliot Lower Hall, Centre Street.

A true copy, ATTEST.

I. F. KINGSBURY,

City Clerk.

MINER ROBINSON, ELECTRICAL ENGINEER.

12 Pearl St., Room 27, Boston. Residence, Chestnut St., W. Newton.

The fitting of private residences for the Electric Light a specialty.

Boston, 3311. TELEPHONES—W. Newton, 234.

Concrete Walks and Driveways.

The season for this work is now open, and we should be glad to receive orders or make estimates for parties wishing work in private grounds.

Having laid the Newton public sidewalks for the past sixteen years, the quality of our work is well known. Communication by mail will receive prompt attention.

SIMPSON BROTHERS, Newton.

Boston Office, 166 Devonshire St., Room 58

C. LEWIS MARBLE,

Steam & Hot Water Heating.

GAS PIPING

Jobbing and Chandelier Work PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

HIGGINS & NICKERSON'S BLDG, NEWTONVILLE.

WHAT-TIS? HUDSON'S HEAD

OLD CURE OLD

IN THE HEAD.

PREPARED BY—

ARTHUR HUDSON,

Pharmacist,

380 Centre St., Newton, Mass.

VIOLETS.

Near the shady solitude
Of a flower remembered wood,
Where in springtime nature weaves
Canopies of vines and leaves,
And alone the whippoorwill
Both the night and silence fill
With his sad, insistent call,
Love can give, save vain regrets,
Underneath the violets.

Sleep for aye, but that was lost
By an all too bitter frost;
Sleep for aye in that lone spot,
By our fond hearts unforget,
Or a near the thrushes sing,
And the brown bee still her wing
Many a time, that she may sip
From the honey-suckle's lip
Sweet, as we from our regret Tears, O lost Violet.

—Almont Barnes in Kate Field's Washington.

A WARWHOP.

In one of the quiet, pleasant, picturesque valleys of eastern Connecticut nestles the pretty, old fashioned village of Windham. A century ago this was one of the most important towns in the state east of the Connecticut river. Here were located the county jail, the county courthouse and other public institutions, which, with its prominent public men, raised the town to a position of influence and wide reputation.

During the last half century, or a little over, these institutions one by one have been removed to more thriving centers, bright and ambitious young men have sought other and more promising fields of activity, and the town, once so important, has been shorn of its old fame and power, until it has become simply a relic of the "good old times"—a typical New England village, the everyday existence of which has become dreary and monotonous, and which lives chiefly in its traditionary history.

A century and a half ago Squire Elderkin and Colonel Dyer were the two most prominent men of Windham and were well known throughout the state. Both were lawyers, both were prominent in public affairs, both were wealthy for the times in which they lived, both had large social followings, and both were intensely jealous of each other.

Squire Elderkin was a tall, lean, bilious looking man, with heavy, raven black hair and piercing dark eyes. He was of aristocratic lineage, and in manner cold, selfish and ambitious. He was a learned lawyer, an able advocate and a merciless wit. Few could give a more rapid-fire thrust than he—a thrust that never failed to reach its mark and always left a rankling wound and an ugly scar.

Colonel Dyer was a different kind of a man in every respect. In person he was short and stout. He had a merry blue eye, a beaming countenance and a good word for every one. Few could tell a better story or more surely make one laugh without knowing the reason why. Genial, happy, sociable, always bubbling over with fun and good humor, he never was happier than when surrounded with company, and his wide circle of friends always found him a royal entertainer. As a result he became one of the most popular men in the state. His magnetic, winning qualities were more than a match for the squire's learning and brilliancy.

Colonel Dyer was prominent, too, in military as well as political matters. Windham in those days was a frontier town, and the red men caused a great deal of anxiety at times. Whenever the situation became threatening Colonel Dyer was called to lead, and he always proved a willing soldier and a skillful commander.

Squire Elderkin was very envious of the colonel's popularity and made him the butt of many a keen, piercing shaft of wit. The colonel in time became very sensitive to these wounds, and although hatred was foreign to his nature he conceived a thorough dislike for the squire and frequently in defense made a sharp, stinging retort. The situation went on from bad to worse until finally there was a sharp encounter between the friends of the contending parties. The little town, which had hitherto been blessed with happiness and contentment, became a factious, quarrelsome community.

Where these divisions would have ended, if an event destined to make "old Windham" famous had not intervened, no one can tell.

The spring and early summer of 1758 was a season of intense anxiety for the settlers of New England. The memorable French and Indian war, with its unparalleled atrocities, was at its height. Massacres, in which whole villages were destroyed, were of frequent occurrence.

Windham had been especially stirred up by the bloodcurdling reports that were frequently borne from the north. Several times rumors of threatened invasion by the warlike savages and their more savage allies aroused the town to a wild pitch of excitement. On these occasions the villagers put implicit faith in the colonel's military sagacity and leadership. He was always placed in command, and his word was law—in short, he was the Miles Standish of this interior Connecticut town.

In early summer of this year the Connecticut settlers were called upon to render additional assistance in the struggle against the French. The French forts of the north were now the objective point, and Colonel Dyer immediately began raising a regiment to help in the reduction of Crown Point. The men were sent forward as fast as they enlisted, while Colonel Dyer remained to continue raising recruits.

One dark, sultry night of this memorable year the long looked for and dreaded crisis seemed at hand. Late in the evening an excited alarm was given by the village parson's slave. The negro was badly scared and rushed from house to house, wildly shouting: "The French are coming. The French are coming."

The excited villagers ran to their windows and doors and were met with a din and roar that filled them with amazement and terror. Such shrieks! Such yells! The very heavens seemed filled with unearthly sounds. The earth seemed to quake beneath the tread of the coming enemy.

"We will have Ker-nel Dyer. And El-der-kin too. We will have Ker-nel Dyer. And El-der-kin too. Ker-nel Dyer. Elderskin, too," shrieked the hideous voices in unison. Colonel Dyer and Squire Elderkin had been particularly active against the French. The whole village jumped to the conclusion that the French and Indians were anxious to capture these two leaders. As the outlandish shrieks seemed to increase in volume, and to grow nearer and nearer, the last doubt that the savages were upon them passed from every mind.

Colonel Dyer hurried to the village green when the alarm was given, and the clanging church bell soon called the villagers together. Squire Elderkin, badly frightened, promptly responded, well armed with a trusty flintlock. Very soon the able-bodied men of the town were in line, and Colonel Dyer was unanimously chosen commander.

The old feud that a few hours before divided neighbor from neighbor was forgotten. All united like brothers to defend their common homes.

Orders were immediately given to advance, and the Windham villagers marched up the hill to the east to check the enemy. The shout for "Colonel Dyer and El-der-kin, too," steadily grew stronger and stronger, and the gallant colonel was reported to have shown unusual caution on this occasion, while Squire Elderkin, who had never had military experience, implored the colonel to halt his command on the hill and wait until daylight before he proceeded, as everything seemed to indicate overwhelming odds in favor of the enemy.

The last half of the night was one of terror. The villagers who had been left behind waited to hear the roar of battle, but as the hours dragged their tedious length along without the discharge of a single piece all gave way to the fear that some great horror was impending. The night, however, finally wore away; the east began to grow gray, and the light was slowly creeping over the hills when the clamor for "Colonel Dyer and Elderkin, too," began to subside. Daylight quelled the hideous sounds.

The morning brought a strange story to the little army and the panic stricken villagers.

A mile and a half to the west of the village was a large millpond, which furnished water for power to grind the grain for the surrounding country. The miller reported that he had been awakened by the outlandish noises in early evening and on going to the pond found the frogs in a great state of commotion, but owing to the intense darkness nothing could be seen. In the morning many dead frogs were found upon the shore.

No wounds were visible; no marks of violence could be seen; no cause for the strange commotion could be found. Some argued that there had been a battle, but there was never any evidence to support this theory. Others advanced the idea that some mysterious, malarial contagion, some deadly epidemic, had broken out and caused the cries of distress which had driven terror to the hearts of the Windham villagers. This theory, too, has been laughed at, and the truth is that the cause of the great disturbance has always been a dark, impenetrable mystery.

The state of mind of the townspeople the next morning can better be imagined than described. All seemed sick with humiliation at the ludicrous ending of their frantic fright of the evening before. Squire Elderkin was particularly mortified and is reported to have suffered a two weeks' sickness and confinement to his chamber, during which he was said to have frequently stated that he had much rather have lost his scalp than to have been the victim of such a huge joke. It was wonderful how the story of the Windham frogs sought out and found every little nook and corner of the country. There were no railroads, no telegraphs or newspapers in those days. The stagecoach was the only means of intercommunication. Yet the story, greatly exaggerated and elaborately dressed up by the imagination, was told in almost every tavern in the land.

The Windham wits had been famous for years. Those who had suffered at their hands now eagerly seized the opportunity to pay back old scores with unscrupulous interest. Ballads were written, songs were composed and sung, and every chance for a practical joke was utilized. Colonel Dyer was a delegate to the first congress held in New York. During his journey to that city some wag tied an immense frog to the rear of his carriage. His arrival is said to have been greeted with shouts and laughter, and the joke became the talk of the city.

On one occasion Squire Elderkin was said to have been making a very learned and eloquent plea, when some buffoon raised the shout of "Colonel Dyer and Elderkin, too," in the long drawn tones which the frogs had made famous. The judge lost his gravity, the jury laughed, and the audience shouted in the most boisterous manner. The squire, famous for his self possession, lost his temper, which greatly added to the amusement of the onlookers.

The humiliation of the Windhamites, however, soon passed away, and they regained their native shrewdness. Colonel Dyer was the first to turn the tide. He adopted the bullfrog as a coat of arms. He had a metal frog made for a door knocker and in various other ways showed his disposition to accept the situation good naturedly. The squire soon saw this was the better way and felt very kindly toward the colonel for his tact in stemming the current of popular persecution. He ever after accepted any mention of the frog story with a smile and apparent good nature, although it was generally believed that the smile was forced and the good nature was entirely assumed.

The memorable fright had one good effect. Colonel Dyer and Squire Elderkin became fast friends. Peace and good will reigned throughout the community, and the little village has since become noted for the spirit of neighborly kindness and brotherly love which seems to hover over it and pervade the very air.—Fred M. Hopkins in Romance.

AS GOES THE WORLD.

But the thirst of soul soon learn to know
The moistureless froth of the social show;
The vulgar sham of the pompous feast
Where the heaviest purse is the highest prize;
The organized charity, scribbled and led,
In the name of caution, statistical Christ;
The smile restrained, the respectable cant,
When a friend in need is a friend in want;
Where the only aim is to keep aloof,
And a brother may drown with a cry in his throat.

—John Boyle O'Reilly.

THE WRECKERS.

The following story told to me in my official capacity as chaplain in one of her majesty's largest convict prisons touched me very much at the time. The narrator having been dead some years, I see no harm in presenting his history to the public in as nearly as possible his own words. By way of preface I may remark that the prisoner was a quiet, well behaved and apparently inoffensive individual, entered in the prison books as H. B.

He had evidently received a fair education. At the time of telling me his story he had the greater part of a 10 years' penal sentence to run, his crime being a barefaced, well planned burglary at a large jeweler's shop in the west end. His constitution was not one to withstand the severe discipline of the prison, and he lay in hospital on what turned out to be his deathbed as he made his astonishing revelations without any reservation as to secrecy. He said:

I expect I don't seem to you, sir, quite the usual cut of the long term burglar, and you would be quite right in so thinking. I never did fancy the profession, and that jeweler's shop business was all a sham and an excuse to get here out of the world and safe from a worse fate at the hands of deadly enemies. Aye, sir, you may stare. Few people, I imagine, are so fond of prison that they will stretch a point to get there. No, sir; my offense was a much more serious one than ever transpired at my trial, and as I feel that I am not likely to trouble the prison authorities very much longer I might as well give you the true reason for my being in this place.

I started in life as a respectable middle class tradesman and in due time married the truest and best of women. Shortly after the birth of a son my wife was stricken down with illness, to which she succumbed. My grief was such that I could not go about my ordinary duties. I sent the boy to some friends. I gave up business and became a wanderer on the face of the earth.

I drifted to Paris, and there, destitute and starving, I made the acquaintance of a man who was a prominent member of one of the most extreme socialistic societies in the capital. He took care of me, and partly out of gratitude and partly out of sheer restlessness and a growing distaste for life I agreed to join his society. I found that the principles of this secret association were even more dreadful than I had supposed. It essayed to strike a blow at all monarchies or constituted governments, and the thronged heads of Europe were especially marked out for its prey.

From time to time various attempts, though hitherto unsuccessful, had been made to assassinate some of the foreign rulers, and soon after I joined it happened that Great Britain fell under the ban of the society. At a largely attended meeting, secretly held in the outskirts of Paris, it was resolved that Queen Victoria and as many as possible of the high persons surrounding her throne must die. It was thought that a deadly and sweeping blow could be dealt if, while on one of its frequent journeys to or from the north, the royal train could be wrecked.

So it was decided. It remained but to draw lots for the men to do the deed. By a strange fatality Scraggs (the name of my friend) and myself were deputed to carry out the vengeance of the society.

I received the intelligence with a calmness begotten of long enduring misery and want. What cared I now what befell me? Just at this time, too, I learned of the whereabouts of my son. He had entered the service of a well known Scotch nobleman in the capacity of page and personal attendant and was doing well.

Even this news did not awaken me to a true sense of my position. The instructions of the society were clear and to the point.

The train with her majesty on board had to be destroyed in any way we chose. Success would mean a handsome reward and a high position in the society. Failure—and there were no extenuating circumstances—meant sudden and certain death at the hands of the society. A certain period was given us to bring about the desired result, and we lost no time in arranging our plans. Her majesty was at this time, the autumn, staying at her usual residence in the north of Scotland, and we found we had some time before us ere we could hope to deal our blow on her return journey.

Crossing to England, we made a careful survey of the railway route and decided upon a likely spot on the system of one of the best known English railways by which royalty usually travels. The place in question was an unusually long bridge spanning at the height of 80 feet a broad but shallow stream. Just before the approach to the bridge the line took a sharp curve, which lent itself to our full purpose. Our plan was to prepare two short, handy pieces of rail fixed at one end like points and the other end curving gradually outward. The thin ends of the rails would be pierced for bolts of the same size as those used to fasten (by means of a fishplate) the ordinary rails together. We should then, on the night preceding the passing of the train, loosen the bolts of the particular rails we pitched upon, trusting they would be overlooked by the patrolling surface-man.

On the following night we should conceal ourselves in the recess of the bridge, and as soon as the pilot engine (which always precedes the royal train by 15 minutes) had passed we should take out the bolts, release the fishplates on the outer side of one rail and on the inner side of the other, replacing them by our specially prepared rails.

The wheels of the engine of the coming train would take those short rails like points, and as the ends curved off toward the parapet of the bridge the whole train would leave the rails and be precipitated from the frightful height into the stream beneath. There would be no escape for a single soul in that train. And so, calmly and in cold blood, we arranged the wholesale destruction of the south bound train which would contain the head and many important members of the royal family.

We knew that every precaution was taken by the railway company and their servants to observe a clear and safe passage for their royal patron, and that extra patrolmen were out along the route, while to prevent the risk of accident all less important trains were shunted to one side. The contents of all goods trains on the down line were carefully inspected in order that no projections should endanger the safety of the special, and signalmen were more than usually put upon the alert.

The greatest obstacle we had to contend against was the pilot engine. We could do nothing till it passed (the loosened bolts would not affect its passage), and that left only 15 minutes to prepare the rails for the doomed train. Still, we practiced the screwing process on dummy metals and soon got very expert. The night arrived. The previous evening we had managed, unobserved, to loosen the bolts necessary for our purpose near the middle of the bridge, and we could only trust they would not be tampered with before our arrival next evening.

The fateful night was dark and stormy, which favored our purpose. Disguised as railway laborers at a village in the vicinity, and having previously concealed our tools near the bridge, we made for the scene of our enterprise. Ensconcing ourselves within the shadow of the parapet, we waited for the pilot engine to come along. At last her lights appear in the distance, and she thunders safely over the bridge.

Now to work. Hastily securing our respective rails, we make for the selected spot and commence to withdraw the bolts. While thus engaged my companion with a bloodcurdling chuckle remarks:

"We shall bag more of the high and mighty than we first expected. The Duke of K— and his suit are, I understand, on board the train."

"The Duke of K—?" I started and dropped my rail in my excitement. "My boy's master," I gasped, "and he never travels without him."

"So much the worse for your boy, then," said the heartless brute as he proceeded with his work.

In an instant my horrible position flashed upon me. Here was I calmly preparing to slaughter the heads of England (to whom before I had never given a thought), and with them my own flesh and blood. I nearly swooned as the awful revelation burst upon me, but in a moment I recovered, and then my decision was prompt. True, the failure of the scheme meant certain death to my companion and myself, but what of that? There was still time to save ourselves from becoming wholesale murderers. I shouted, while I replaced my bolt, to Scraggs to drop his rail and fly. He, however, had no such scruples and had too great a regard for his own skin and the promised reward. When he saw I was determined to spoil his plans, he dropped his rail and made for me with a knife, the glitter of which as he closed with me I saw just in time through the darkness.

As we struggled the roar of the approaching train was heard in the distance. Making a frantic effort, as the train was close upon us, I managed to throw Scraggs off. He fell across the rail, while a stifled shriek from Scraggs prepared me for his fate as I fell in a faint against the stonework of the bridge.

I revived in what must have been a few minutes after the passage of the train. The headless trunk of my late companion was the first object that met my eye. I shuddered to think how nearly the occupants of the train had escaped an equally certain death.

The train had not pulled up, the driver evidently not having felt the obstruction. I hastily replaced the bolts on the other rail, threw the tools into the stream, and with a last glance at the remains of Scraggs fled from the spot. Unsuspected, I made my way to London, but only to live in deadly fear of the swift and sure vengeance of the secret society.

The failure of the enterprise must be already known to them, and hide as I might I knew their hand would ultimately reach me. My money exhausted, I conceived the desperate idea of the daring burglary of which I was convicted. If I failed to enrich myself, my life would at least be safe in jail. I failed miserably enough, got caught red handed and received my sentence.

Before I threw away my liberty I saw from the papers that at the inquest on Scraggs' remains a verdict of "accidental death" was returned. The dastardly attempt therefore remained unsuspected by the general public, and since I came here I have heard that the secret society has been broken up and its members scattered. I feel now that I shall escape them after all, but I shall die happy, knowing that my boy's future is assured, and that he will never know (I was convicted under a false name) how near to annihilation his own father had brought him and his country's queen.—London Tit-Bits.

Two Once Happy Men.

W. H. Vanderbilt, some time prior to his death, spoke of himself as a goner and said: "All this money isn't worth a rap. I would give it all for your health," to which a friend half laughingly and half seriously replied: "Well, too much money is a nuisance. The happiest time in my life was when I was worth $300,000." "And the happiest time in my life," rejoined Vanderbilt, "was when I was working on my Staten Island farm."—San Francisco Argonaut.

A FRIEND

Speaks through the Boothbay (Me.) Register, of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are in need of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills. They will do good."

For all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels, take
AYER'S PILLS
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Every Dose Effective

Real Estate and Insurance.

BUY, SELL, RENT, MORTGAGE

—YOUR—
REAL ESTATE

THROUGH
Henry W. Savage

Office for ALL NEWTON,
1261 Washington St. WEST NEWTON.
TELEPHONE 73-2.

MY LIST COMPRISES
The finest building sites in West Newton, Newton Centre and Newton Centre where there is the most activity. Also tracts in all this territory, very desirable for development.

A large number of very attractive new houses. Fine old estates and comfortable houses at moderate prices. Both for sale and to let. Constant demand necessitates my leaving a complete list.

Mortgages and Insurance cared for promptly.
BOSTON OFFICE:
Opp. Old Court House, 37 Court Street
TELEPHONE 2030.

ABAN, TROWBRIDGE & CO.,
725 Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.
Eliot Block, Newton.

Have For Sale in all parts of Newton,

Elegant Estates in Choice Locations.
Houses at All Prices.

Building Lots and Large Tracts of Land for Development, Investment.

Call and see Plans and Prices.
Money to Loan on Mortgage. We insure houses, furniture, stables, stocks of goods, etc.

T. W. TROWBRIDGE, Notary Public. Justice of the Peace.

FOR SALE!

This well-front, new, colonial house, at Newton Centre, corner of Parker Street and Glenwood Avenue, 9 finished rooms, large hall and bath room, cemented and plastered cellar, Kohler furnace, Yale hardware, halls and mantels in oak, all modern improvements. Built by one of the best builders in Newton. Large sloping lawn, shaded by beautiful oak and chestnut trees, and facing 125 feet on one of the principal driving thoroughfares. Lot contains about 8000 feet. 8 minutes from depot and electric cars. Very desirable neighborhood; high land, sun, air, and perfect drainage. Price, $7500. Apply to

ALYRD BROS. & CO., Agts.,
113 Devonshire St., Boston.

CHARLES F. ROGERS,
Real Estate, Mortgage, and Insurance Agency.

For selling and leasing Real Estate, and Negotiating Mortgages, Care of Real Estate, and Collection of Rents. Fire Insurance placed in Best Companies at a lowest Rate.
New and Desirable Building Sites eight minutes' walk from the R. R. Station, at low prices and on favorable terms. Lists of estates for sale and for rent, and all facilities of the office for the prompt and satisfactory transaction of business in any of its branches are extended to all.

John Hancock Building, Room 220,
178 Devonshire Street, BOSTON.
Brackett's New Block. - NEWTON

FRANCIS MURDOCK.

INSURANCE AGENT,
Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT
placed in first-class Stock and Mutual Companies.
Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

REAL ESTATE
To Sell or Rent.

INSURANCE, MONEY TO LOAN.
Carriages ready to take customers to see property.

Newton Centre Office: Union Street, opposite Railroad Station.
Boston Office: 113 Devonshire St., Room 24.

SIDNEY P. CLARK, Newton Centre

Established 1857.

F. G. BARNES & SON,
Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance
BROKERS.

Auctioneers for Real and Personal Property.
FOR SALE AND FOR RENT

A large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.
Offices: 27 State St., Boston; Brackett's Bldg., NEWTON.

Undertakers.

GEO. W. BUSH,
Funeral and Furnishing
UNDERTAKER,
ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.
Coffins, Caskets, Robes,
And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand.
Orders by telephone promptly attended to.
JOHN PHILLIPS
would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton, that he can be found at the above address and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over ten years experience in the business, under the instruction and in co-operation with the late Mr.
Wm. H. Phillips, I trust I can attend to all calls that may come under my direction, to the satisfaction of all parties who may require the services of an undertaker.

S. F. CATE,
FURNISHING - UNDERTAKER,
WASHINGTON STREET,
WEST NEWTON, MASS. Telephone 8119

HOWARD ICE CO.,
SUCCESSORS TO
HOWARD BROS.
Orders can be left at
342 Centre Street, - Newton.
Office Hours: 7.45 to 11 AM; 3 to 5.45 PM.

ABRAHAM L. HOWARD, Proprietor
OFFICE, 46 GALEN ST., WATERTOWN.

NEWTON COAL CO.
—SUCCESSORS TO—HILLS, BULLENS & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
COAL & WOOD
Family Orders a Specialty.
OFFICE, ELIOT BLOCK.

BRANCH OFFICE:
JOHN F. PAYNE'S DRUG STORE,
NEWTONVILLE.

JOB

PRINTING

—OF—

All Kinds and Styles

Can be obtained at the

Graphic Office

GOOD WORK

AND

Reasonable Prices

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

- Addison, Joseph and others. Days with Sir Roger de Coverley; with Illustrations by H. Thompson. 53.445
- Aunt Louisa's Object A. B. C. 67.401
- Bryant, William Cullen. Sella, Thana-topsis and other Poems; with Notes and a Biographical Sketch. (Riverside Literature Series.) 52.540
- Douglas, Amanda Minnie. Lyndell Sherburne; a Sequel to Sherburne House. 64.1366
- George, Andrew J. Syllabus: English Literature and History. 54.848
- Published to further the spirit of literary and historical study which aims to appreciate the dominant impulses in the life of the past, and which, by encouraging the study of standard works, will end the divorce of literature and history.
- Grimshaw, Robert. The Locomotive Catechism. 102.659
- Containing nearly 1,300 questions and answers concerning designing and constructing, repairing and running various kinds of locomotive engines; intended as examination questions, and to post and remind the engine runner, fireman or learner.
- Harrison, Wilnot. Memorable Edinburgh Houses. 33.443
- "The purpose of the book is to indicate the abodes of eminent persons in the past; with such biographical incidents as may lead interest to particular houses, or bring the personality of their former occupants more vividly before the reader." Preface.
- Henty, George Alfred. Through the Silk Weave; a Story of the Conquest of the Punjab. 64.1362
- Hudson, Thomson Jay. The Law of Psychic Phenomena; a Working Hypothesis for the Scientific Study of Hypnotism, Spiritism, Mental Therapeutics. 103.606
- "Deals with the scientific aspects of psychic phenomena, with the avowed object of bringing psychology within the domain of the exact sciences."
- La Rochetie, Maxime de. The Life of Marie Antoinette; trans. by Cora H. Bell. 2 vols. 97.340
- A new life written since the discovery of a large mass of the correspondence of the Austrian Ambassador at the French Court, owing to which a flood of light has been thrown upon many points which have hitherto been matters of conjecture alone.
- Linton, W. J. Life of John Greenleaf Whittier. (Great Writers.) 95.491
- Norman, John Henry. A Ready Reckoner of the World's Foreign and Colonial Exchange; with the Aid of less than 2,000 Figures. 81.252
- Schmidt, Oscar. The Doctrine of Descent and Darwinism. (International Scientific Series, No. 13.) 103.605
- Shakespeare, William. Merchant of Venice; annotated for School Use by Samuel Thuermer. (Riverside Literature Series.) 52.539
- Stevenson, Robert Louis. David Balfour; being Memoirs of his Adventures at Home and Abroad. 64.1365
- The author's story entitled "Kidnapped" left David Balfour just entering manhood; this book takes up the story of his later life.
- Toynbee, Paret. ed. Specimens of Old French, IX-XV Centuries; with Introductory Notes and Glossary, by P. Toynbee.
- Watson, Augusta Campbell. Dorothy the Puritan; the Story of a Strange Delusion. 61.861
- The scene is laid in Salem in the time of the Witchcraft excitement.
- E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

BOSTON THEATRE—It must be gratifying to Mr. Eugene Tompkins to have substantial evidence that his judgement was not at fault when he selected "The Black Crook" for the standard attraction at his New York and Boston theatres. For an entire season it filled the Academy of Music, and the financial appreciation was of the most solid form. Night after night hundreds were turned away from the doors, unable to secure admission to the big house, and similar results were had in Chicago, where the spectacular romance had a season of four months. Mr. Tompkins has a company in Pittsburgh, and the capacity of the Alvin Theatre is tested at every performance of the famous play. Here in Boston it has completed the first month of its run, and the patronage has been enormous. The play is to be continued for a term, and new features will be introduced from time to time.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—The third week of "Glen-da-Lough" at the Columbia Theatre will begin on Monday, October 9, and will doubtless prove one of the most successful of the entire engagement if the present indications count for anything. The previous two weeks of "Glen-da-Lough" have been most profitable to the engagement in a pecuniary sense, and to the audiences that have filled the theatre at each performance, in a sense of gratification. The remarkably clever work of Mr. J. K. Murray and Miss Clara Lane and the delightful manner in which the two Irish theatre balls cannot fail to arouse even the most hardened theatre-goers, and especially those who have in their hearts a love for the Emerald Isle. Professor F. Nicholas Crouch, the venerable composer of "Kathleen Mavourneen," is receiving the most enthusiastic of welcomes every evening when he assumes the director's chair while J. K. Murray sings the famous ballad. The usual matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—On Monday evening a two week's run of Lester Wallack's "Rosedale" was begun at the Grand Opera House by the new stock company of that theatre. Large audiences at every performance have testified to the appreciation which "Rosedale" holds in the popular mind. The play contains such opportunities for good acting that it can be properly called an actor's play. The comedy situations are bright and wholesome and individually interesting. Mr. Joseph Haworth played the part of Eliot Grey with dignity and grace and in addition an extreme readiness at repartee and natural ease and carriage added much to the rest of the part. Miss Sadie Martin's assumption of the role of Rosa Leigh was most profitable to the production. The production of "Rosedale" is sumptuously staged especially the gypsy dell and ball room scenes. One hundred people appear in the production and in every way has it been presented most lavishly. Next week, the second of the present run, promises to draw to the Opera House as large audiences as have been present this week.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—The Lyceum Theatre company's new play "Americans Abroad" has been very successful at the Hollis Street Theatre during the past week, but as it had been previously decided to give, in answer to many requests, the former successes of the Lyceum Theatre company, and as the engagement was positively limited to two weeks only, the original program will be carried out. On Monday and Tuesday nights the well known play of Belasco and De Mille, "The Charity Ball," will be given, and on Wednesday evening the earlier work of the same author, "The Wife." "The Charity Ball" will also be given on the Saturday matinee, and "The Wife" for the Wednesday matinee. On Thursday night will be given the only performance of C. Haddon Chambers' play, "The Idler," which was presented first in Boston by the Lyceum Theatre company two years ago. This is the only play given during the week of English authorship. Friday night that charming comedy of Dion Boucicault's, "Old Heads and Young Hearts," will be given. Saturday night the production has not yet been fully decided upon, but it will probably be one more performance of Sardou's great play, "Americans Abroad," which the company are giving this week.

THE GLOBE—The fashionable and applauding audiences that have, during the week, greeted A. M. Palmer's fine stock company, in "Lady Windermere's Fan," at the Globe Theatre, show beyond doubt that the popularity of this remarkable society-comedy has greatly increased, in spite of the marked success of the piece upon its first presentation in Boston last season. The impersonation of Lady Windermere by clever Julia Arthur is marked by strong feeling, delicate interpretation and nice reading of lines. May Brooklyn, as the adventuress, Mrs. Erlynne, is strong, versatile and brilliant. Edward Bell makes an effective Lord Windermere, and the entire company, in fact, is fully equal to the task of presenting the noted play to the very best advantage. It will be repeated during the coming week, although there is a possibility of Thomas Bailey Aldrich's new play, "Mercedes," being substituted for three or four performances.

BOWDOIN SQUARE—Manager Atkinson's announcement for next week at the Bowdoin Square Theatre will interest all lovers of the very best vaudeville and variety entertainments. The week will be given to an engagement with the famous Howard Atherton Star Specialty Company, an organization that has become known from Maine to California as the best aggregation of specialty people ever assembled in America. At its head is the remarkably brilliant Lottie Collins who has made a name and fame both sides the Atlantic by her songs and dances. She holds an acknowledged superiority in the peculiar field she has created and her imitators have never yet approached her in the estimation of the public. She is surrounded by a company of unrivaled excellence, including the highest salaried artists of the specialty stage. The engagement is for a single week and will be followed by Charles T. Dazey's new and "wonderfully good play," as estimated by the New York Herald, "In Old Kentucky."

COLLISION AT RIVERSIDE.

PASSENGER AND GRAVEL TRAINS COME TOGETHER.

An accident which fortunately did no injury beyond the damage to rolling stock, occurred on the Boston & Albany railroad at Riverside Wednesday morning. The outward bound circuit passenger train, which leaves Boston at 8.50 o'clock, and is due at Riverside at 9.23, ran into a gravel train just below the Riverside station on the main line.

The passenger train was coming toward the station at a slow rate of speed on track 3, and the gravel was crossing in an easterly direction from track 1 to track 4.

The latter had the right of way, it is understood, and was getting out of the way of the Modoc express, which was due shortly.

Extensive improvements are being made at Riverside, including the elevation of the tracks and the construction of a new bridge across the Charles river, and gravel trains have been running over the main line quite frequently since the beginning of the work on the repairs and alterations. It has been necessary quite often to make quick arrangements for clearing the tracks on the main line to accommodate the regular train service, and extra precautions have been taken in the way of preventing a collision.

It is claimed that the conductor of the gravel train, which was run down, sent out a flagman to head off the passenger train. Conductor Sargent of the passenger train states that he saw no flag, but was reticent as to the cause of the accident. In fact the railroad officials expressed entire ignorance of the real cause of the smash-up. Division Superintendent Cheney said that there had been no opportunity for investigation, as the time had been taken up in the work of clearing the tracks.

The result of the collision was not very serious. Three gravel cars were derailed and several damaged, one being practically wrecked. The engine of the passenger train was only slightly damaged. Trains were delayed for about an hour. The wrecking car arrived upon the scene shortly before 10 o'clock, and at 10.30 the main line tracks had been cleared of every vestige of wreckage.

The passengers on the accommodation train were quite badly frightened, but no one was injured.

The news of the collision brought a large crowd of spectators to the scene. Passengers awaiting inward and outward bound trains suffered some annoyance by the delay and uncertainty as to the time they would be able to reach points of destination. An investigation as to the cause of the accident will be held.

The Newton police department held several men in reserve in the event of the requirement of their services, some of whom were due at a trial in East Cambridge.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

An Awful Foo.

[From Puck.]

Alarmed Husband—What's the matter? What are you screaming about?
Frantic Wife—Oh, George! Quick! Quick! A mouse chased me up stairs, and I can't lock the door. (Faints.)

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

SCRIBNER'S.

Scribner's Magazine for October has a notable list of contributors, including W. D. Howells, Robert Louis Stevenson, Joel Chandler Harris, H. C. Bunner, Harold Frederic, and Will H. Low. The contribution of Mr. Howells is a remarkable one. Under the title, "The Man of Letters as a Man of Business," he discusses with perfect frankness the whole relation of literature to business, especially the relations of the writer with the editor and the publisher. It is a striking presentation of those things about which the public is so often misinformed. Another article of unusual interest, both intrinsically and by reason of its literary associations, is Robert Stevenson's journal of the voyage made by Sir Walter Scott in 1814 around Scotland in the light-house yacht.

In the October Arena the Editor has a timely discussion on "The Coming Religion," in which he examines the various causes which have operated during recent years in so wonderfully broadening the religious thought of civilization. In the same issue Rev. W. E. Manley, D. D., contributes a scholarly paper entitled "Aionian Punishment Not Eternal."

David A. Wells, the eminent economic expert, punctures the silver bubble in a remarkable article in the October Forum on "The Downfall of Certain Financial Fallacies." Silver, he proves, is quickly outgrown as a chief money-metal by a highly-civilized nation, while gold gains in importance as a measure and verifier of values. "Cheap money," he denounces as an absurdity, protesting that the wage-worker has a right to and profits by the dearest dollar the market can afford.

THE ATLANTIC.

The Atlantic Monthly for October contains the beginning of a three-part story, entitled "The Man from Aionide," by Mrs. Elizabeth Cavazza, of Portland, Maine. It is a story of Italy, and the character and local color are admirably managed. Miss Edith M. Thomas contributes one of her charming papers on the "Undertime of the Year." Captain Mahan contributes a paper of much value on "The Isthmus and Sea Power." William F. Apthorp, a well known authority in musical matters, writes an article of great interest to music lovers on Robert Franz. Charles Egbert Craddock continues, with undiminished vigor, her notable story "His Vanished Star," and Annie Eliot contributes a striking short story, "After the Deluge." Other interesting articles, with a review of new books on music, review and comment on other new books, and five bright short papers in the Contributors' Club, conclude an excellent notice of this standard magazine.—Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

CHEAP LIVING FOR ALL.

A BOSTON HERALD REPORTER TRIES THE EXPERIMENT OF $1 A WEEK BOARD.

Having passed seven days with a cheap cooking apparatus embodying the ideas of Mr. Edward Atkinson, and survived, a reporter of the Boston Sunday Herald is prepared to testify to the truth of the widely known statistician's statement that a man may give himself complete nourishment, in the form of solid food, at a cost of $1 a week or less.

How is this possible?

The answer is: By the use of a very cheap fuel, entirely consumed, applied without loss to food that loses nothing in its cooking.

In the Herald of Monday morning, Sept. 11, Mr. Atkinson, in the course of a three-column illustrated article, made his proposition as follows, the same being the result of his latest and most earnest study of the food problem:

Some time ago I stated and gave proof that an intelligent person could buy all food that is required for complete nutrition at the standard of a German soldier in active service, or at the true standard of a workman in Boston, at the retail shops in Boston, at a cost for the food material of $1 per week. I am now prepared to prove that complete nutrition, consisting of meat, grain and vegetables, can be purchased at retail prices in this city at the present time at a cost of not over 10 cents a day, or 70 cents a week.

I am now about to give instructions for providing cooking apparatus with which this supply of food material may be converted into nutritious and appetizing food in any room anywhere, or even out of doors, sheltered from the wind, with a common handlamp as the source of heat and with an expenditure of oil not exceeding one pint a day. I cannot give the exact cost of buying this apparatus, but any person of ordinary capacity can prepare the material and put together this kind of cooking apparatus, without the lamp, for less than $2.

I shall next describe an apparatus that would require the services of a tinman to make it more perfect, after I have given instructions for the simplest method.

The apparatus used by the Herald man consisted of the second variety mentioned, and was constructed by a tin-smith.

The bills of fare for the week included beef, lamb, baked beans, salt pork, white potatoes, sweet potatoes, onions, beets, turnips, Quaker oats, macaroni, cranberry sauce, apple sauce, bread, butter, coffee, sugar and grapes, with pepper, salt and mixed pickles.

The record of this week shows an expenditure for food of $7.90-100 cents, for seasoning and kerosene oil 12 cents; total, $8.00-100 cents. [From "Living on $1 a Week," Boston Herald, Oct. 8, 1893.]

SCROFULA.

Cured by Rodolf's New Medical Discovery.

RODOLF MEDICINE CO.,
BROOKS, ME.

GENTLEMEN—About two years ago my little child was taken sick with a Scrofula trouble with enlarged lymphatic glands in the neck. I was very much worried about the child, knowing that a Scrofula trouble was a hereditary disease in the family, and expected it would terminate in consumption, as is usually the case in such diseases. I called Dr. A. E. Kilgore of Brooks, who administered a medicine, and by its use the Scrofula swelling rapidly reduced and the child was entirely cured and is a well, rugged child today. The medicine given my child is now known as Rodolf's Medical Discovery. You are authorized to publish this testimonial.

MRS. CALVIN WORKS.

Rodolf's remedies are for sale by Geo. Ingraham, West Newton; John F. Payne, Newtonville, Mass.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years, with distressing pain over my eyes. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am apparently cured.—Z. C. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

Coughing Leads to Consumption, Kemp's Balm stops the cough at once.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

GREAT CAESAR!
Pain Killer

Sold and used everywhere. A whole medicine chest by itself. Kills every form of external or internal pain. Shows a teaspoonful in half glass of water or milk (warm if convenient).

Lawyers.

WILLIAM F. RACON,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law
113 Devonshire St., Room 42,
BOSTON.

SPRAGUE & WASHBURN,
Counsellors - at - Law
51 SUMMER STREET, Rooms 13 and 14,
OSTON

Chas. H. Sprague, Residence, Auburndale.
C. Everett Washburn, Residence, Wellesley Hill

JESSE C. IVY,
COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
113 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.
Residence, Newton. 38-1y

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law
Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.

WILLIAM F. SLOCUM, WINFIELD S. SLOCUM,
Residences, Newtonville.
Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

WALTER H. THORPE,
Counsellor at Law,
28 State Street, Room 55,
BOSTON, MASS.
Residence, Pelham St., Newton Centre

Carpenters and Builders.

G. W. RIGBY,
Carpenter and Builder.
ALL JOBBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Shop: WASHINGTON ST., opp. WABAN
NEWTON MASS.

S. K. MACLEOD
Carpenter and Builder.
Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly
executed.
Bathrooms and Fixtures for Plumber's Work
a Specialty.
Shop, Centre Place, op. Public Library
Residence, Boyd street, near court.
P. O. Box 650, NEWTON, MASS.

Veterinary Surgeon

MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S.
Veterinary Surgeon.
BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST.,
NEWTON, MASS.
Telephonic connection. 5

THEODORE L. MASON,
Agent for the celebrated
Rockford Watch
ELGIN, WALTHAM, and other American
Watches always in stock.
Repairing of Fine Watches, French, Grandfather
and American Clocks a specialty.
All work warranted to give satisfaction.
Elliot Block, Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

West Newton Savings Bank

Incorporated 1887.
West Newton, Mass.
AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President.
JAMES H. NICKERSON, Treasurer.
ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.
Trustees—Austin R. Mitchell, Benj. F. Houghton, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Prescott C. Bridgman, Charles A. Potter, Fred E.
Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Cate,
Adams K. Tolman, C. F. Eddy, F. E. Hunter.
Committee of Investment—Austin R. Mitchell,
Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Charles
A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett.
Open for business daily, 8.30 to 11 a.m.,
1.30 to 3 p.m.
Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July and October.

Fitchburg Railroad.

Reduced Rates of Fare
For Round Trip Tickets
On Account of Summer

VACATION
EXCURSIONS.

Tickets on Sale June 1 to Sept. 30.
And good until Oct. 31, 1893.

SUMMER EXCURSION BOOK FREE
On receipt of 2c. stamp for postage. Gives information in regard to routes, rates of fare and list of hotels and boarding houses. Can be obtained at 250 Washington Street, Boston, or on application to

J. R. WATSON, Gen. Pass. Agent,

Fish and Provisions.

Newton City Market
ALL KINDS OF
Fresh and Salt Meats,
POULTRY AND GAME.
Fish and Oysters

Butter Cheese Eggs
Canned Goods Fruit,
and Vegetables.
413 Centre St., Opposite Public Library.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

FISH OYSTERS,
Vegetables & Fruit of all Kinds

Bunting's Fish Market,
707 E. BLOCK.

Established 1877. Connected by Telephone.

Livery Stables.

Daniels' Nonantum Stables

HENRY C. DANIELS, PROPRIETOR.
Livery and Hacking.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landau and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING.

Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention.
Telephone 13-3.

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable

(Established 1861.)

Barge, "City of Newton."

Best Sleigh, "Snow Bird."

S. F. CATE, West Newton

GEO. W. BUSH.

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

Hacks at depot for conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages let for business or pleasure

ELMWOOD STREET.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION

ADVERTISE

IN THE

Watertown Enterprise.

City of Newton.

REGISTRARS OF VOTERS.

1893.

STATE ELECTION, NOV. 7th.

Notice is hereby given that the Registrars of Voters commenced on Monday, October 2, 1893, to and including Friday, October 27, 1893, will hold sessions for the registration of male voters and
to correct and revise the Ward Lists at the City Clerk's office, City Hall, daily during office hours, viz: 8.15 A. M. to 12.30 o'clock P. M.; 2 o'clock to 5 P. M., except Saturdays, when the hours are from 8.15 o'clock A. M. to 1 o'clock P. M.; also from 7.30 to 9 o'clock in the evening upon the following dates and at the places herein named:

Newton Lower Falls—Boyd Hall, Saturday,
October 7.

Nonantum—Athenaeum, Tuesday, October 10.

Newton Upper Falls—Old Prospect Schoolhouse, Wednesday, Oct. 11.

Newton—Armory Hall, Saturday, October 14.

At the City Hall on Monday, October 16.

Auburndale—Auburn Hall, Wednesday, October 18.

Newtonville—Room 8, Central Block, Saturday,
October 21.

Newton Highlands—Stevens Hall, Monday,
October 23.

Newton Centre—Associates' Hall, Pleasant street, Wednesday, October 25, from 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock.

Also at City Hall on Saturday, October 28, from 12 o'clock M. to 10 o'clock P. M., which is the last session preceding the Election, and thereafter the Registrars will not, before the Election, add any names to the Registers, except the names of voters examined as to their qualifications, since the preceding thirtieth day of April.

All persons whose names are not on the Voting
List must appear personally before the Registrars of Voters on either of the days above mentioned, presenting a tax bill of 1893 or other evidence satisfactory to the Registrars.

All naturalized citizens must present their final papers when they register.

If the father of an applicant was naturalized before he (the son) became 21 years of age, the son is naturalized thereby, and must present the father's naturalization papers.

The names of all registered voters of 1892 who are not assessed in 1893 are taken from the voting list, but such names can be restored by application of such voter to persons to the Registrars at any session held for registering voters, and presenting satisfactory evidence thereof.

Every male citizen of 21 years of age and upwards, who has resided in the State one year,
and in the City of Newton since May 1st, 1892,
and who shall be able to read and write, shall have the right to vote at a State election to be held November seventh, eighteen hundred and ninety-three.

GEORGE E. BRIDGES, Registrars
of Voters.

AMOS L. HALL, Registrars
of Voters.

ISAAC F. KINGBURY, Registrars
of Voters.

City Hall, Newton, September 11, 1893. 52 54

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre.

Agent of the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, handbills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.
—Cousen's block is being newly painted.
—Mr. George E. Barrows is occupying his house on Glenwood avenue.

—Dr. Amos E. Lawrence has the sympathy of many friends in his illness, and their hopes for his early recovery. Mr. Lawrence is nearly recovered from her injury received early in the summer.

—Mr. D. A. White is once again able to drive out, which will be pleasant news to his many friends.
—Prof. Brown preached at the Baptist church, Sunday morning, and the evening service was conducted by Prof. Rush Rhee.

—Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dowd, Station street. A daughter.
—Mr. George H. Clark has returned to Rochester, N. Y.

—Miss Farley, who has been the guest of Mrs. W. B. Merrill, Lake terrace, has returned to her home in Rochester, N. Y.

—Harry Bock has removed to Walpole.
—Mrs. Willard Monroe has returned from Montreal where she has been visiting friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clement of Warren street are at the World's Fair.
—Miss Alice S. Clements started for the World's Fair last Monday with a party of friends. She will be gone about three weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Smith (Miss Helen Risteen) who were married in the early summer, are now at home at their residence on Moreland avenue.

—Dean Huntington and Mrs. Huntington of Grafton street are enjoying the World's exhibits at Chicago.

—Miss Hassler has returned to her studies at Vassar College, Utica, N. Y.

—Mrs. Jennette B. Wood of Homer street has been entertaining friends.
—This evening an adjourned meeting of the Baptist church will be held.

—Mrs. Levi C. Wade and family have closed their Oak Hill estate and are at Hotel Chesterfield, Boston, for the winter season.

—Mr. Andrews and family of Wellesley are occupying a house at Chestnut Hill.
—The writ of certiorari served against the city by Eben D. Jordan and his son of Chestnut Hill to restrain the construction of the boulevard, will cause at least, some delay to the work, which the city has been making arrangements to have pushed forward as soon as possible.

—There are letters at the postoffice for William Burns, Duncan McKay, P. A. Hennessey, Christy B. McKinnon, David Pope, John Woodland.
—Mrs. A. R. Dyer has been entertaining out of town friends this week.

—Mr. A. K. Pratt of the Boston firm of J. L. Fairbanks & Co. leaves Saturday for a trip to Chicago and the World's Fair.
—Miss Minnie Mahoney has returned from her vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bailey of Chatham have moved into the house formerly occupied by James Kelley on the Wade estate, Oak Hill.
—Mr. C. M. Newton, who has been stopping at Mr. C. Howard Wilson's house, Elgin street, returned to Little Rock, Ark., yesterday.

—Dr. J. H. Bodge who has been very ill with typhoid fever was taken Wednesday to the Massachusetts General hospital, Boston, by his physician who wished him to have every attention and perfect sanitary conditions to aid in his recovery.
—Norman Reed, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. George, Grey Cliff road, died very suddenly Monday at the age of 15 months. Funeral services were held Thursday at 2:30 o'clock and the interment was at the Newton cemetery. The sympathy of many friends is extended to Mr. and Mrs. George in their bereavement.

—Mr. C. S. Boothby, who for a number of years has controlled the Brookline route for Geo. F. Richardson's provision store, has severed his connection with the firm. Mr. Geo. E. Huse will assume charge of the route.
—The Newton Boulevard Syndicate has just taken possession, through A. D. S. Bell, of the Johnson estate on Hammond and Beacon streets, Chestnut Hill. The syndicate bonded the property some time ago, but had not completed it until Saturday. The price for the 18 acres was just $80,000. This syndicate has sold to Zedee Long, a nephew of Ex-Gov. Long, a lot of 8000 square feet on Montauk street. It lies south of the boulevard, and adjoins the land of Judge Bishop and Mr. Claflin.

—The sudden death of Mrs. John H. Lesh, Sunday night at her home on Beacon street, came with saddening effect to a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She was a woman of many excellent qualities, which endeared her to many hearts. She was a member of the First Congregational church and took an active interest in all its affairs, her advice and assistance being never sought in vain. The funeral service occurred Wednesday evening from the house at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Theodore J. Holmes, late pastor of the First Congregational church officiated. The flowers were very beautiful, comprising a large set piece. The interment was at the Newton cemetery.

—The Rev. B. F. McDaniel recently of San Diego, Cal., was installed as pastor of the Newton Centre Unitarian church last Sunday afternoon. The service was at 3:30 o'clock and was very largely attended. Rev. F. B. Hornbroke of Newton made the opening prayer, Rev. James de Normandie delivered the sermon, and the other officiating clergymen were Rev. J. H. Metcalf, Rev. J. H. Allen, Rev. Howard N. Brown and Rev. D. M. Wilson. On Tuesday evening the new pastor and his family were given a reception in the church parlors, where they received cordial greetings. A brief entertainment followed with recitations by Miss Twombly, songs by Miss Alice Wood and Miss Bemis and others.

—The fair at the church of the Sacred Heart which is to continue two weeks for the benefit of the church debt society, opened Monday evening. Mr. Thomas B. Fitz of West Newton opened the evening with a brief speech congratulating the church upon its success. The hall was prettily decorated with flags and bunting and the different tables containing fancy articles were tastefully arranged. The tables are in charge of these ladies: Newton Centre square table, Mrs. Mann; Newton Highlands table, Mrs. Levi; Beacon street table, Miss Hart; Cork city table, Miss Mary Sullivan; Thompsonville table, Miss Minnie Feley; refreshment tables, Miss Hannah Foley; Clinton place table, Miss Kate Linnehan.

—A very pretty home wedding occurred at the residence of Mrs. Eliza F. Sylvester, Warren street, Wednesday evening, when her daughter was united in marriage to Mr. Moses Lang Stevens of Sumner street. The house was decorated for the occasion, with orchids, marguerites, and lilies, and ferns and potted plants being used in excellent taste, for the ornate of parlors and halls. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock. Rev. Theodore J. Holmes officiating. The march from Lohengrin was rendered as the bridal party entered the room, by the eminent harpist, Gerard Russo. The couple stood in a recess and the bride was taken away by her groom. She was attired in white duchesse satin, with duchesse lace, cut entraine, the veil of tulle and point lace, and carried English violets. The maid of honor was Miss Mary Pennell Sylvester, a sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Miss Alice H. Sylvester, sister, and Miss Alice M. Sylvester, a cousin of the bride. The maid of honor wore a Serpentine green satin, duchesse lace, and carried lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids were becomingly attired in gowns of rose duchesse satin with Irish point lace, and lavender brocade, respectively, and carried marguerites. A reception was held from 8 until 10 o'clock. Mrs. Sylvester, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Maria Stevens, assisting the newly wedded couple in receiving. The number of invitations issued was 200 and Newton society was well represented. The ushers were Messrs. Charles Cushing, Bath, Me., Marcus Morton, Brookline, Arthur Foster, Boston, and Willard E. Ryder of Newton Highlands. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens departed on their wedding tour later, and will reside on Warren street.

—The first Unitarian church was the scene of a notable society wedding last Wednesday evening when Miss Edith Carey, daughter of Maj. George S. Worcester, of Newton Highlands, and Mr. Frederick Farley Cutler, of this place, were united in marriage. The decorations were quite elaborate, palms, ferns and potted plants being banded about the altar. The bridal party entered the church at eight o'clock the organist rendering Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride leaning upon the arm of her father was preceded by her maid of honor, Miss Mabel Carey Worcester, a sister, and the bridesmaid, Miss Annie Louise Carey of New York. Miss Elizabeth Bacon, Miss Annie Briggs of Boston, and Miss Alice Tufts of Somerville. The head usher was Mr. Wm. May and his assistants, Messrs. Anselm Bacon, Roxbury, Harry Clifford, Henry Eaton, Boston, Edwin Badger and Frank LeCompte. The groom attended by his best man, Mr. George Warren of Newton Centre, was met at the altar where the ceremony was performed by Rev. B. F. McDaniel, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. James Huxtable of Boston, the bride being given away by her father. The bride was attired in a rich gown of white satin, cut entraine with corsage of lace and pearl passementerie. She wore the usual tulle veil and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a pink and white overdress and they carried pink roses. The march from "Lohengrin" was rendered as the party left the church. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents on Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, later, to which 700 invitations were issued. The newly wedded couple received in a front room standing before a bank of palms, potted plants and ferns and were assisted by Maj. and Mrs. Worcester and Mrs. Cutler, mother of the groom. The house was decorated with cut flowers and ferns. A large number were present including prominent society people from Cambridge, the Newtons, Boston, and Roxbury and New York. Mr. and Mrs. Cutler departed on a wedding tour and on their return will reside on Newbury street, Boston.

—The Park closed Saturday.

—Gus Cahill lost one of his valuable black pats. He was offered $450 for the team only a few days previous.

—W. R. Kerrivan was thrown from his team and considerably shook up and bruised the horse dragging him some distance.

—Ex-Constable Hoyt and family and Mrs. Chesley have returned from a carriage drive to New Hampshire.

—The Quinquepin association held its first meeting of the season Monday evening. Arrangements are being considered for a bowling tournament this season similar to those of the past two seasons.

—Mr. Daniel Shay is running his glue manufactory on full time and its full capacity is taxed to fill the orders.

—Holmes Bros. are building another house on Highland avenue, Needham side.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Singleton of East Boston have been visiting Mr. Geo. Cutler.

—Jacob Procter is visiting his sister in Dover.

—The Glover club met at the home of Miss Marion G. Noyes, at Eliot, Monday evening and passed an enjoyable evening. A "circulating library" was the entertainment provided each member representing in costume some book.

—The Rev. Mr. Mason, field agent of the Freedman's aid society will speak on the educational work among the Freedmen of the South, (illustrating his lecture with stereopticon) in the Methodist church of this village, Tuesday eve, Oct. 10, at 7:30.

—Miss Alice Nicholson attended the McNeil-Tilton hospital at West Newton Tuesday evening.

—Mrs. Nathaniel Fellows has returned from a very enjoyable trip to the World's Fair with a party of friends.

—Wm. L. Dawson of this village was married to Miss C. Turner of Highlandville last Sunday evening. The Rev. Wm. Gleason officiating. Miss Turner arrived from England on the S. S. Kentucky. The young couple will reside in Highlandville.

—Mr. B. Towle of Hale street, the well-known shoe-maker, has returned and has continued business at his house. He claims the item mentioning his sudden departure on Sept. 20, was an injury to his business, and this statement is made to correct any misunderstanding.

By using Hall's Hair Renewer, gray, faded or discolored hair assumes the natural color of youth, and grows luxuriant and strong, pleasing everybody.

Bismarck's Advice to Students.
Only now, and in a roundabout way, via Bonn, has the text of the speech which Prince Bismarck made at the reception of Bonn students become known. The prince confessed that at the university he neglected study, but added: "The only thing that I am sorry for on looking back to those times is that I could not later on make up for what I had neglected then. What one has learned afterward does not remain so firmly in one's memory. I do not dissuade you from working, but I am not horrified if my sons commit studentlike excesses, and above all things I believe that the student's life in corporations has this advantage—that it somewhat steels the character by subjecting each to the criticism of his comrades. This is a great thing. As long as one belongs to a corporation, to the opinion of which one attaches much importance, one does not easily go astray. The same thing plays an important part later on in life. What is it that is the backbone of German officials? The university and the sword-knot."—Berlin Cor. London News.

The Jaffa-Jerusalem Railway.
Rather a striking illustration of how trade and money getting make strange bed fellows is furnished by the Jaffa-Jerusalem railway. The concession for the railway was obtained by a native of Jerusalem, it was built by a French company, while the engines and carriages, manufactured in the United States, run over rails made in Belgium, and most of the remunerative part of the passenger traffic is drawn from British tourists.—London Tit-Bits.

The Business of Hotel Keeping.
Some idea of the enormous proportions of the business of hotel keeping has assumed in this country may be gained from the fact that there are in the United States upward of 50,000 hotels, exclusive of what may properly be termed inns and taverns and what are commonly known as apartment houses, although the latter are in many instances conducted as hotels in that they have a common kitchen and dining room.

Over Fifty Teachers of Cookery (and in their work they must have the best) are using

Cleveland's Baking Powder

"If you want the best, buy Cleveland's."

—Miss Clara White has gone to the World's Fair.

—Mr. J. C. McIntire and family have returned to the Highlands, having spent the summer at Mechanics Falls, Maine, the former home of Mrs. McIntire.

—Mr. A. S. C. Hilton and family have returned to their home on Hartford St., occupied for the past year by Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft, who have taken Dr. Bancroft's house at corner of Lake avenue and Walnut St.

—Mrs. Boyd having declined to serve as president of the Congregational sewing circle at the meeting of the circle held at the chapel on Wednesday, Mrs. S. C. Cobb was elected, and Mrs. G. V. Stone, vice-president.

—Mrs. C. Peter Clark and son Edward, have gone to New York, and after a short stay will go to the World's Fair. Mr. Clark and son Lancaster, will go to the Fair next week.

—The Amosden families of Hartford St. have been at Brookline for two or three weeks visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Manning. Mrs. Manning is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Amosden. Mrs. Amosden has been ill with malaria.

—The M. E. services last Sunday evening were interesting and novel, being devoted to the Cary sisters. Mrs. Brackett and Mrs. Stevens read sketches of the lives of Alice and Phebe Cary. Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. L. H. Reed from their poems, Miss Wetherbee and Miss Stevens sang their songs, and the congregation sang their hymns.

—At the meeting of the Monday club on Monday last, Mrs. Phipps having declined to act as president, Mrs. S. C. Cobb was elected to that position with Mrs. Nickerson for vice-president. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Lovering.

—The Pindar family after being absent for the summer intending to remain away, have decided to return, and now are at former house on Tappan St.

—Quite a number of our people interested in horses, attended the horse trot at Natick, on Wednesday.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

HOW CATS OFTEN SPREAD DISEASE.

Mothers Should Teach Children Not to Handle Strange Animals.

Since I have spoken in defense of the dog, let me say something more with relation to that other favorite household companion of man—the cat. I would call your attention to the fact that the cat is a beast far more useful to mankind than the dog. Without the latter we could get along, but if we had no cats we should have a continual plague of rats and mice, which would overrun the cities and devour the crops and small live stock of the farmers.

At the same time you may set it down as an indisputable truth that the domestic cat is a prolific source of a great variety of diseases. It breeds them and disseminates them—skin troubles particularly. It carries about with it the contagion of diphtheria, one of the most fatal of human complaints, and it is seriously suspected of helping to sow the germs of consumption. A trouble akin to ringworm which attacks the scalp and causes the hair to fall out is frequently conveyed by cats. Likewise it is with scarlet fever, which, when it is in a house, is always likely to be scattered abroad by the pet pussies of the establishment.

The way of it is this: When there is sickness in a house, old cloths are apt to be used for various purposes. These are commonly thrown afterward into some out of the way place, like the corner of a closet. Suppose that there is a tabby about that is on the point of bringing into the world a litter of kittens. Female cats are constantly having kittens, as you know, being among the most prolific of animals. She searches for a sequestered nook for her accouchement and is likely to make her bed of just such a lot of old rags as I have described.

As a natural consequence, not only is the mother cat infected as to her fur with the contagious disease, but all of her kittens are likewise. The latter are fondled by the children. Pathogenic germs seem to find a most favorable breeding ground in the hair of cats. As a result the complaint is spread. Unfortunately the infection is not limited to the house. It is spread abroad by the cats, which are notorious stragglers. Thus before many days have passed there is an epidemic of scarlet fever or what not in the neighborhood. Nobody can imagine how it got about. Little Johnny dies of diphtheria, and nobody dreams that he contracted it by picking up a strange cat.

Children have a way of picking up cats and holding them to their faces to caress them. That accounts for many cases of that very disagreeable disease called ringworm. It is the same way with other skin troubles that are contagious. Cats as well as dogs are liable to tuberculosis of the lungs, other wise known as consumption. That they communicate it to human beings is more than suspected.—Washington Star.

A Louisville Dog That Swears.
A Louisville railroad man has a dog that distinguishes the days of the week and different railroad trains. On days when Midget's owner makes his regular trips the dog accompanies him to the station, but never attempts to board the train—just stays on the platform, an interested spectator, and wags his tail cheerfully as the train moves out. On other days and other trains—suburban trains to Parkland or Pewee Valley—he hops aboard without hesitation, evidently aware that the ride in prospect is one that he may share. Midget swears, too; swears like a pirate.

The family understand him, but they report that his language is too terrible to be repeated. When things don't go to suit him, he retires under a bed or sofa and lies there rolling off oaths of fearful description for hours. A young man who was attentive to Midget's young mistress unintentionally offended him, but the dog got even. He actually broke off the match. He knew the regular nights on which the youth appeared, and at an early hour would ensconce himself under the parlor sofa, from which coign of vantage he would growl forth such volleys of personal and profane remarks that the prospective lover became intimidated and ceased his attentions. In recognition of these services Midget's master gave him a beautiful silver collar.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Deserter's Good Fortune.
A deserter is not always a deserter, even though branded with a great big "D," according to the laws of Queen Victoria's realm. Some time ago a well known English resident of Wilmington, Del., applied to the British consul here for a pension, claiming to have served his country in an Australian regiment. He admitted having had his breast branded with a red iron, with the letter "D," which marked him forever as a deserter, but claimed to have rejoined his regiment after his punishment and served out the term of enlistment. The British home office found that he was right, and the pension has come to him after a long wait.—Philadelphia Record.

The Jaffa-Jerusalem Railway.
Rather a striking illustration of how trade and money getting make strange bed fellows is furnished by the Jaffa-Jerusalem railway. The concession for the railway was obtained by a native of Jerusalem, it was built by a French company, while the engines and carriages, manufactured in the United States, run over rails made in Belgium, and most of the remunerative part of the passenger traffic is drawn from British tourists.—London Tit-Bits.

The Business of Hotel Keeping.
Some idea of the enormous proportions of the business of hotel keeping has assumed in this country may be gained from the fact that there are in the United States upward of 50,000 hotels, exclusive of what may properly be termed inns and taverns and what are commonly known as apartment houses, although the latter are in many instances conducted as hotels in that they have a common kitchen and dining room.

Over Fifty Teachers of Cookery (and in their work they must have the best) are using

Cleveland's Baking Powder

"If you want the best, buy Cleveland's."

—Miss Clara White has gone to the World's Fair.

—Mr. J. C. McIntire and family have returned to the Highlands, having spent the summer at Mechanics Falls, Maine, the former home of Mrs. McIntire.

—Mr. A. S. C. Hilton and family have returned to their home on Hartford St., occupied for the past year by Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft, who have taken Dr. Bancroft's house at corner of Lake avenue and Walnut St.

—Mrs. Boyd having declined to serve as president of the Congregational sewing circle at the meeting of the circle held at the chapel on Wednesday, Mrs. S. C. Cobb was elected, and Mrs. G. V. Stone, vice-president.

—Mrs. C. Peter Clark and son Edward, have gone to New York, and after a short stay will go to the World's Fair. Mr. Clark and son Lancaster, will go to the Fair next week.

—The Amosden families of Hartford St. have been at Brookline for two or three weeks visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Manning. Mrs. Manning is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Amosden. Mrs. Amosden has been ill with malaria.

—The M. E. services last Sunday evening were interesting and novel, being devoted to the Cary sisters. Mrs. Brackett and Mrs. Stevens read sketches of the lives of Alice and Phebe Cary. Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. L. H. Reed from their poems, Miss Wetherbee and Miss Stevens sang their songs, and the congregation sang their hymns.

—At the meeting of the Monday club on Monday last, Mrs. Phipps having declined to act as president, Mrs. S. C. Cobb was elected to that position with Mrs. Nickerson for vice-president. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Lovering.

—The Pindar family after being absent for the summer intending to remain away, have decided to return, and now are at former house on Tappan St.

—Quite a number of our people interested in horses, attended the horse trot at Natick, on Wednesday.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

—The first of the four lectures by Rev. Mr. Lewis was given on Thursday evening at Lincoln Hall, and was attended by a large and appreciative audience. This was the opening night of the hall, and it has been beautifully refitted and retouched.

WILLIAM E. DOYLE,

FLORIST.

No. 43 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Conservatories: 1509 Cambridge St., Cambridge.

WALTER C. BROOKS & CO.,

Importing Tailors

15 Milk Street - Boston

(Birthplace of Franklin

Opposite Old South Church)

W. C. BROOKS, Residence, NEWTON CENTRE.

C. B. SOMERS,

Tailor,

149 A Tremont St., Cor. West St., BOSTON, MASS.

Leave your order for Fall Overcoats now.

PRICES MODERATE.

OUR ALTY, Fine Evening Dress Suits.

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT,

Successors to

P. A. MURRAY,

Washington Street,

NEXT TO

Murray's Carriage Manufactory,

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

P. A. MURRAY,

Carriage Builder.

FOR PERFECT PLEASURE IN RIDING

Use Rubber Tires.

ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

Special attention given to REPAIRING AND PAINTING FINE CARRIAGES AND SLEIGHT

WASHINGTON, COR. PARK ST., NEWTON.

Pearmain

AND

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXII.—NO. 2.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1893.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR.

CHANDLER & CO.

CLOAK DEPARTMENT.

FALL AND WINTER ANNOUNCEMENT.

Our exhibit of new ideas and designs in JACKETS, CAPES and WRAPS is now ready for inspection.

The many innovations in styles of OUTER GARMENTS for the coming season makes an early selection imperative for those wishing the choice of these attractive NOVELTIES.

CHANDLER & CO., WINTER ST., BOSTON.

503 Washington Street,
BOSTON.

FINE DRESS SUITS A SPECIALTY.

GARDEN CITY MARKET.

Fresh Fruits, Fish, Meats, Vegetables.

400 Centre Street.

ASHLEY & DOANE,

SUCCESSORS TO—
HOWARD & DOANE.

Bicycle Repairing of Every Description.

Brazing, Enameling, Nickel-Plating, Etc.

WHEELS CHANGED FROM SOLID TO CUSHION OR PNEUMATIC.

Best cycle oil 25 cents per pint. Lawn Mowers cleaned and sharpened for $1.00. Called for and delivered for 25 cents extra.

HADDOW & BATCHELOR,
49 Galen Street, - - Watertown, Mass.

Connected by Telephone.

C. LEWIS MARBLE,
Steam & Hot Water Heating.
—GAS PIPING—
—A LEO—

Jobbing and Chandelier Work
PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
HIGGINS & NICKERSON'S BLD'G,
NEWTONVILLE. 30

CREAM.

THE FAMOUS
Turner Centre Cream,
FOR SALE BY
C. P. ATKINS
Ten Cents for One-Half Pint.

Shirts Made to Order

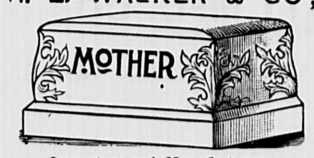

By E. B. BLACKWELL,
63 THORNTON STREET, - NEWTON.
A Perfect Fit Guaranteed.
Best Material. First-Class Work.
Superior Shirts, $1.50. Best Dress Shirts, $2 each.
Will call on customers at such time and place
as will suit their convenience.
Repairing is Done Neatly and Promptly.
New Shirts, 50c.; Neckbands, 15c.; Wristbands, 15c.; Collars, 30c.; Cuffs, 25c.; Centre Plats, 25c.
—Badly fitting shirts made to fit well

Tailors.

C. S. DECKER,
Custom Tailor
326 Centre Street,
NEWTON, - MASS.

J. F. MALLIN,
Merchant Tailor.
Foreign and Domestic Goods a Specialty. Gentlemen's garments cut to order, and warranted to
fit. Ladies' garments, cut, made and altered.
Cleaning, pressing and dyeing at shortest notice.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
294 Centre Street, Cor. Jefferson, Newton.

A. L. WALKER & CO.,

Importers and Manufacturers.
149 PORTLAND ST., BOSTON, MASS.
BEVERLY BROS.,
BAKERS.

Having recently put a cart on the road, are prepared to serve customers living in Newtonville, West Newton, New Centre and the Highlands.

354 Centre St., Newton.

E. C. NEWCOMB, Watchmaker & Jeweler.
360 Centre St., Newton.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, Neatly Repaired.
Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Physicians.

Clara D. Whitman-Reed, M. D.
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE
437 Centre St., opposite Vernon, Newton
Hours—Until 9 A. M., 1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

Dr. F. L. McINTOSH,
Corner of Washington and Jewett Sts.
(Office of the late Dr. Keith.) Office Hours: 4 to 7 P. M. Usually at home until 9 P. M.
Residence: Dr. W. P. Wesselhoft, and Dr.
James B. Bell.
Telephone, Newtonville, 464.

F. W. WEBBER, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
Cor. Centre and Vernon Sts. Office Hours: 9 A.
M., 1 and 7 P. M. Telephone No. 38-4.

PURE AQUARELLE
PORTRAITS
Of a High Grade of Artistic Excellence.
NEWTON STUDIO,
Opp. Public Library. A few pupils in Art received.
VISITORS WELCOME.

ESTIMATES

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Farley, 433 Washington St.

—S. A. White sells kindling wood at reduced prices.

—Mr. S. S. Whitney has leased Miss Cleveland's house on Church street.

—The first meeting for the season of the Elliot church ladies' sewing circle was held yesterday afternoon and supper was served in the evening.

—The Watertown orchestral club commenced rehearsal Monday evening under the leadership of Mr. L. E. Chase of this city.

—Mr. Edward L. Bacon and Mr. Frank W. Potter started Thursday with a Raymond excursion for the World's Fair.

—Dr. Edward R. Uley has been elected a member of the Mass. Homeopathic society.

—Mr. H. B. Day and Mr. Frank Phelps left Monday for the World's Fair.

—Mr. F. H. Nichols, who has spent the summer in Wayland, returned to Hotel Hunnewell this week.

—Mr. C. E. Currier of Hunnewell avenue, left this week for the World's Fair and will be absent the rest of the month.

—Arthur Porter will be one of the contendants in the 25 mile bicycle race, Saturday under the auspices of the B. A. A.

—Mr. N. C. Crosby of Park street has returned from Worcester.

—Mr. G. H. Safford of Boyd street has returned from Chicago.

—Mrs. J. W. Trowbridge and family of Kenrick park have returned from Magnolia.

—Mr. George Linder, Jr. has returned from Chicago where he has been visiting the fair.

—The Nonantum club will observe ladies' night next Wednesday evening.
Music for the occasion will be furnished by the club orchestra.

—A party of ten Newtonians took in the excursion to North Adams via the Hoosac Tunnel, Sunday.

—Miss E. A. Howland has returned to her studies at Wellesley College.

—Mr. Peck and family of Billings park who have been at the St. Botolph hotel for the past months are again occupying their house here.

—Mr. and Mrs. George L. Pearson of Bacon street are entertaining friends from Paradise, N. S.

—The windows are being placed in position in the Bishop Brook's memorial building now in process of erection on the Grace church grounds.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Rees are expected home from their wedding tour, tomorrow.

—The Elliot choir will be again assisted,
Sunday evening, by the choir of the Grace church, and their beautiful voices have won many admirers in Newton. The music will be as follows:

Organ Prelude, Schumann
Anthem, "O Come, let us sing," Mendelssohn
Saucus and Benedicite, Weber Trio, "Thou shalt love the Lord," Costa

Soprano solo, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," (From "The Messiah," Handel) Organ Postlude, Prout

—Mr. and Mrs. Ellison, Mr. and Mrs.
Frank A. Day and Miss Emily are expected home from Chicago to-morrow.

—The Misses Parker have returned from New York, where they purchased a large assortment of novelties for holiday trade.

—Miss E. R. Dennen of the Free Library leaves next week with her family for California, where they will make their permanent home. Miss Dennen's husband, Mr.
Newtonville will take her place in the library.

—At the W. C. T. U. State convention which convened at Springfield, Oct. 3, 4, and 5, Mrs. Simpson of Newton was appointed by the executive board, State Superintendent of Flower Mission work for Massachusetts.

—The Sunday School of the Immanuel Baptist church will celebrate its "Harvest Bible" next Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock.
The music will consist of selections by the choir and hymns by the school, and will include the following:

"O Lord, how manifold" Barnby
"O Word of the Lord" Cottman
"We plough the fields and scatter" Elvey
"Come, ye thankful people, come" Elvey

The feature of the evening will be an address by Miss Lucy Wieslock, who has achieved a national reputation as an instructor in Primary Sunday School work, and will be of great interest to all. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

—Rev. Dilon Bronson of the Methodist church returned from the World's Fair today and will occupy his pulpit Sunday next, morning and evening. Morning subject, The Parliament of Religions at Chicago.

—Among Newton real estate men appointed by Gov. Russell as delegates to the Realty Congress are Edward F. Barnes, James W. French, Wiley S. Edmunds, and
Henry W. Savage.

—A large audience listened to Protap Chunder Mozoomdar at the Unitarian church last Sunday. He is one of the leaders of the Brahmo Samaj in India, and the author of "The Oriental Christ," which received universal attention. His idea of God is more spiritual than that held by most Christians.

—Mr. Stephen Moore addressed the monthly meeting of Baptist Sunday school superintendents, Monday, on "Results of Our Denominational Work." Mr. Moore said that of the entire population of the United States 17 per cent. are in the Sunday school, while in the state of Massachusetts only 13.2-10 per cent. are in the Sunday school. The state of Delaware leads the lists of states with the highest percent, and New Mexico stands at the foot.
Massachusetts is 26th in this list. The state convention of Baptist Sunday school workers will be held in the First Baptist church, Old Cambridge, Oct. 26.

—The alarm from box 245, Sunday afternoon, was for a fire in a 2 1/2 story wooden dwelling house on Faxon street. It started in a closet in one of the chambers, where one of the inmates had left a lamp burning.
Clothing caught and the flames spread to the woodwork, but was extinguished without much damage, aside from the loss resulting from the burning of personal property, comprising suits of clothes and other articles of a gentleman's wardrobe.
Loss about $200. Thomas Halfrey was one of the inmates who had since been found extinguish the blaze. He was attended by Dr. Stearns and taken to his home.

—There is an immediate need of funds for carrying on the unselfish and benevolent work of the Associated Charities of our city. This association of ladies and gentlemen, representing all the wards, are endeavoring to do a great necessary work as a labor of love. They seek to give out systematically such help as the worthy poor may require, who need assistance, and to expose and check those who, but for their work, would be constantly preying on the community. Imposing on the benevolently disposed, they go from ward to ward. Some of the young people of Wards

One and Seven will call on our people soon for funds to assist in this good work.
Newton has been behind the other wards in furnishing material aid and assistance.

—A true tonic, Hahn's malt extract 25c.

—The Newton Cricket club will hold its annual meeting in Athenaeum hall, Thursday evening next. Its members enjoyed a spread in the Parker house last Saturday afternoon and a dance in the evening in the lower hall of the Athenaeum building.
Some sixty couples participated in the terpichorean festivities.

—Music for Grace church Sunday night:
Processional, "O mother dear Jerusalem," Magnificat, "O Come, ye servants of the Lord,"
Solo and Chorus, "O God, who hast prepared" Old English Anthem, "O come ye servants of the Lord," Retrospectional, "Sun of my Soul,"
Seats free to all.

—The Newton police raided Elizabeth
Booth's house on West street, Nonantum, Saturday, and seized two cases of lager beer and four quarts of whiskey.

—Miss Braham, who has been in delicate health for a long time, is fully recovered, and will enter society this season.

—Mrs. William Dewey of Franklin street, gave a charming little dinner of ten covers last Thursday evening. It was the occasion of her husband's birthday. The hostess wore a dainty blue crepe gown, which was most becoming.

—Dr. A. B. Jewell leaves for Chicago and the World's Fair on Saturday.

—Mr. D. A. Sullivan of Church street is visiting in New York City.

—Mr. R. D. Holt of Centre street has returned from St. Paul and the west.

—If you want a stylish and artistic haircut go to Burn's, Coles block.

—Mr. Frank D. Frisbie has returned from New Hampshire.

—About twenty friends and acquaintances of Miss Florence Dunham gave her a pleasant surprise at her home, a Nonantum place, on Monday evening. The usual actual features graced the occasion and refreshments were served during the evening.
Many tokens of esteem were left by the guests before their departure at a late hour.

—Mrs. Frank D. Husey who has been visiting her cousin Dr. J. F. Frisbie left on Tuesday for her home in Des Moines, Iowa. Her husband who is a prominent Grand Army man was one of the first Union soldiers to enter Richmond after the rebels evacuated. He hauled down the rebel flag floating over their capital which he still has in his possession with other valuable relics of the war.

—Mrs. Mary Coakley, who formerly resided on Winthrop avenue, and is subject to mental aberration, was found on Pearl street, Thursday, and taken in charge by the police, as her identity was not known.
She resides part of the time with her son Andrew, on Winthrop avenue, and the remainder with a daughter at Mt. Auburn, and had wandered away from her friends, when the police found her. She was taken to her home a few hours afterwards.

—Mrs. Baker will open the Newton studio to visitors with an exhibition of recent work, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, Oct. 20, 21, and 22. Besides water-colors from nature, there are several portraits, of which this artist makes a specialty. She has completed a fascinating study of a young girl just budding into womanhood and expects to finish a portrait she is making of a well known society belle of Newton. There is much to interest any lover of art in the studio, and the exhibition to attract wide attention.

—A course of four readings is in anticipation under the auspices of the Newton-ville Woman's Guild, to be given by Miss Fay Davis, who so charmingly entertained
many of our ladies at the reception given by Mrs. Samuel J. Brown last April. Subjects, "Angelo," "Scenes from Shakespeare," "Short Stories" by Ruth McEwen Stuart and Richard Harding Davis, "Extracts from Lucile." These readings will be held alternate Tuesdays, beginning Oct.
24th, at the Universalist vestry. People are cordially invited from all the Newtons.
Tickets can be obtained at the door.

—Mr. Albert Brackett, who has been frustrated in his attempt to control the down Centre street, and beyond the control of Mr. Win. Brackett, who was driving.
It ran across the railroad tracks, narrowly missing several teams, and in the process
Whitman's stable collided with the Tuttle Elizir wagon. Mrs. Brackett, who was on the back seat, was thrown out, but fortunately not seriously injured. The driver of the wagon was thrown out and his wound was badly cut. The Brackett horse was tangled up in the Tuttle wagon, one foot being through a wheel, and the Tuttle horse free and in a run, but was caught.
The Tuttle wagon was demolished, but the driver had sufficient faith in his medicine to bathe his wounds in elixir. The affair caused great excitement and called out a large crowd.

—There was a double wedding anniversary at Mr. Hugh Campbell's residence on Newtonville avenue, Tuesday evening.
which attracted a large number of friends from the Newtons and other places. It was the fifteenth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Campbell and the fifth of Mr. and Mrs. D. Fletcher Barber. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers, and many of the guests were bestowed upon the happy couples. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell receiving many articles of cut glass and Mr. and Mrs. Barber, specimens of wooden ware.
The guests were received by the two couples. In the front parlor, Mrs. Barber wearing a handsome gown of pink silk, and Mrs. Campbell a brown silk. During the evening the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell was christened by her grandfather, Rev. G. W. Mansfield of Charlestown. Supper was served by a Boston caterer, and numerous congratulations and good wishes were given by the many friends present.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cook of Oak st.
Brighton, are distracted with grief over the disappearance of their two children,
Mr. and Mrs. Cook have resided in Newton until within a few weeks ago, when they removed to Brighton. The children had been attending school here, as it was thought unwise to change their instructors so late in the year. The girls were sent over to the Hill to the Underwood school every morning. On Monday the little couple started from home as usual about 8 o'clock.
They went over Washington st. from Oak st. No one can be found who saw the children except a neighbor who met them on the summit of the hill when they were on their way to the schoolhouse and no trace whatever has since been found, so that the absence of the children is shrouded in mystery. The police are inclined to think that the children have been kidnapped. The children were returned to their home on Thursday, having been found in Boston. They say they were late at school and starting for home were given a ride by a passing team, and found themselves on the Beacon street boulevard, and in trying to find their way home they lost their way, and were found in Boston.

—The exhibition of fall and winter millinery at the Juvenile, this week, called out a multitude of ladies from Newton and vicinity, and the display was so satisfactory that a great number of hats were sold, which is the highest compliment that could be paid to Miss Robbins and her assistants.

The hats were all of them made at the Juvenile, and the great variety of styles and designs was the most striking feature. The shades are very novel, this year, the greatest variety being the plateau, a flat piece of circular felt, which is to be bent and twisted into a hat. Steel is very popular as a trimming, appearing in lace, gimps, and other trimmings, and when combined with black is especially effective. Brown is a popular color, in many new shades, and a combination of brown and green made a pretty hat. Some of the hats were copies of Paris importations, shown at the New York openings and would please those fond of striking effects, but the majority of hats to be worn this winter are rather subdued in color and design on account of the brilliant colors to be worn in dresses.
The taste and style displayed in bonnets coming from the Juvenile are as noticeable as ever this year, and it is gratifying to note that the patronage of the store is steadily growing.

AUBURDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Bristles stay in Thorn's tooth brushes.

—Mrs. Underwood has moved into Mrs.
S. M. B. Rogers house on Central street.

—Mr. William Fuller and family of Lynn are occupying a house on Maple street.

—Miss Lizzie White returned this week from Chicago, where she has been visiting the World's fair.

—Mr. Lowe and family are occupying one of M. C. Higgins' houses on Melrose street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Pemberton, Woodland avenue, have left town and are visiting the World's Exposition at Chicago.

—Herbert Miller is confined to the house with a severe attack of malaria.

—The engagement is announced of Miss Helen F. Johnson, daughter of Mr. Geo. E.
Johnson, Hawthorne avenue, to Mr. Chas.
E. Almy of Woodbine street.

—John W. Wilkinson of Lawrence has secured a position at Mr. Walter P.
Thom's pharmacy.

—There are letters at the postoffice for Edwin B. Neilson, Miss Kate A. Cummings, Mr. E. B. Hinckley, Mr. David Little, Miss Nora E. O'Neill, Miss Maggie
Quinn, Mr. Willie D. Simpson (2), Miss Nellie S. Auburdaile Watch Co.

—Dr. Frank E. Porter and Mrs. Porter of Auburn street, are spending a week at the World's fair, Chicago.

—Frank Cunningham was presented with a handsome banquet lamp, by a number of his friends, who surprised him at his home last evening.

—The Review club will meet with Mrs.
Chas. C. Newton, Grove St., Tuesday morning, Oct. 17.

—V. A. Pluta, Jr., who was injured last week by falling from his bicycle is able to get about some, with the aid of crutches.

—George S. Chapin has been selected as preceptor in Derby Academy, Hingham, in place of Mr. G. Herbert Chittendon, recently resigned.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fowle are passing the month of October at the Woodland Park Hotel, and will return to their apartments in The Berkeley, Boston, in November.

—Mr. Geo. A. Fewkes having had twelve years experience as clerk for B. F. Houghton, West Newton, has purchased the house formerly owned by T. F.
Melloy, Auburn St., Auburdaile.

—Mrs. Elizabeth S. Bush, widow of the late Frederick T. Bush, and an old resident of Weston, died Friday after an illness of short duration. The funeral service will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, the Rev. T. F. Fales of Waltham, conducting the service.

—The public property committee of the city council have adopted the plans of George F. Meacham & Co. for the new high-school building on Auburdaile avenue. The estimates call for a wooden building to cost $18,000, of sufficient size to accommodate about 60 horses.

—Mr. and Mrs. William H. Merriam and family, who have been at the Woodland Park Hotel during the past month (since their return from the Hotel Pemberton at Hull) are at the Copley Square Hotel for several weeks before returning to their charming residence on Winthrop road, Brookline.

—A social evening followed by a dance will open the social season for the new Lodge, N. E. O. P., on Monday evening
Oct. 23. The music will be furnished by Knowlton & Allen's orchestra of Natick, and the numbers and invited friends, who will attend, are anticipating a most enjoyable time.

—Work on the foundation for the new house to be built for Mr. V. A. Pluta on his Rowe street lot, is progressing quite rapidly under the supervision of Mr. Chas.
Bouton the contractor. The house is to be one of the finest in the village when completed, costing in the vicinity of $10,000.
The carpenter work will be done by Contractor Wm. Pettigrew.

—A Waltham lady was slightly injured
Sunday afternoon by being knocked down by Tinkham's hack. She was dismounting from her bicycle near the Auburn street bridge, and the hack in passing struck her. She was taken into Mr.
Stuart's store, where it was ascertained her injury was nothing more than a severe bruise. Her husband accompanied her, and she was later taken home in a carriage.

—The Methodist church was last evening the scene of a pleasant social gathering. A harvest supper was given under the auspices of the ladies of the church, and the attendance was very large. The church was very prettily decorated with autumn leaves and fruits of the season, and this opening of the winter season was entirely successful. Supper was served to a large number and the remainder of the evening was occupied by the usual social features.

—A course of four readings is in anticipation under the auspices of the Newton-
ville Woman's Guild, to be given by Miss Fay Davis, who so charmingly entertained
many of our ladies at the reception given
by Mrs. Samuel J. Brown last April. Subjects, "Angelo," "Scenes from Shakespeare," "Short Stories" by Ruth McEwen Stuart and Richard Harding Davis, "Extracts from Lucile." These readings will be held alternate Tuesdays, beginning Oct.
24th, at the Universalist vestry. People
are cordially invited from all the Newtons.
Tickets can be obtained at the door.

—The annual meeting of the Auburdaile Village Improvement Society was held on Thursday evening of last week at Auburn Hall, President G. M. Fiske in the chair.
Reports were made of the work accomplished during the year, the principal item being the securing of the land for the River Park, which has all been deeded to the city. The sum of $3500.00 has been raised by subscription in Auburdaile in carry out the scheme. One piece of land is still needed to complete the park, about 6 1/2 acres belonging to Senator Don Cameron et al, and this is to be taken under the Park Act. This Society having agreed to pay one-half the appraised value. Money will also be raised by subscription for the purpose of preparing a playground at the lower end of the park. Mr. C. A. Miner reported some progress in the matter of securing the river bank from Western Bridge to Riverside, and he was continued as committee of one to get further information.

It was voted that the officers of the company be authorized to arrange for one or two free lectures on the subject of Village Improvement. The following officers were elected for the year ensuing: Pres. Frederick Johnson; vice-pres. E. E. Hild-rath; directors, G. M. Fiske, Frederick Baniet, Albert Blumenthal.

—Mr. Geo. R. Coffin and family who have been at Hull for the summer are now at Mason terrace, Brookline, for a few weeks before returning to their residence on Central street.

—The opening of the Lassall annex on Woodland avenue, was made the occasion of a pleasant social event, Saturday afternoon. The affair took the form of an afternoon tea given by the matron, Mrs. Arthur F. Winslow, to the young ladies and faculty of the main seminary. The annex was thrown open from 3 until 5 o'clock, and the guests were received in the large parlor.
The receiving party consisted of Mrs. Arthur F. Winslow, Miss Sillars, Miss Hammond and Miss Fisher. The parlors and main dining room were tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers arranged in picturesque masses, and the apartments occupied by Mrs. Winslow were decorated with red carnations.

—Sunday, Oct. 15, at the Methodist church, is to be devoted to the work of the Epworth League House of the Boston University Settlement. In the morning the speakers will be Rev. E. J. Helms and Rev. R. A. Walker. Mr. Walker is a missionary among the Jews. Mr. Helms is connected with the general work of the Boston
City Mission and Church Extension Society of the Methodist church. In the evening the speakers will be Mrs. Helms and Miss Harriette J. Cooke. M. A. Mrs. Helms has lived among the poor and knows the need of the people. Miss Cooke has been connected with the Midway Mission, at the North of London, but now has charge of the Woman's work of the Settlement.
The people of Auburdaile have heard of the work among the fallen men and will be glad to know what is being done for the women and children. Morning service at 10.30. Evening service at 7 o'clock.

Undertaking.

Mr. Geo. H. Gregg, the well-known undertaker, wishes to inform his friends and the public of all the Newtons that he makes undertaking his special and only business, and that years of experience in the business in Newton has given him unexcelled facilities and enables him to afford better services and more reasonably than would otherwise be possible. He attends to calls promptly, whether day or night. His Newton office is at No. 4 Central block, Newtonville, and his telephone calls are 64, Newton; 238 and 295, Newton-ville;

A Maine Island.

(Written for the GRAPHIC.)

"Here the air is cool and exhilarating. So unworldly and beautiful does everything look, that it shares, seemingly, in the heightened vitality which every new-comer feels in the sublime and delicate atmosphere."

These words of George Parsons Lathrop, describing another locality, may aptly be applied to Deer Isle, the second of the Maine islands in size, and certainly not less than second in beauty. Pilgrims not a few have turned from the general current of summer travel—setting so strongly and steadily, the present year, towards the World's Fair—to follow this shoreward eddy, bask in its sunshine and revel in its quiet. So strong is the attraction that autumn itself does not find them all gone.

Here one is not deafened by thundering trains; electric cars do not start within six inches of one's feet; newboys do not clamor or hackmen assault; and, by a natural rebound, people who have most of these conveniences are most glad to leave them. What if they have but one mail a day, and long waiting for that? What if their newspapers, supposing them to have any, are twenty-four hours old? They can stand it—for a while.

For what compensations are theirs in the vast spaces of sky and sea reached by a ten minute walk! In the drives over lovely tree-bordered roads, whose inequalities of surface, causing them to curve, rise and fall with as much grace as the waves of the harbor near by, only add to the pleasure! In long rambles in moss-carpeted, balsam-scented woods, with a strong breeze sweeping in from the bay! In excursions along the shore, where the delicate pink of the sea rocket (Cakile americana) shoots up from the stones; the sea-side gerardia (Gerardia maritima) lifts its blue-tinted bells; the tiny scarlet pimpernel (Anagallis arvensis) sends a bright greeting from the wayside; and the gaudy cone-flower (Rudbeckia hirta) throws its golden ring against the dark green of the hemlocks! In the perfect restfulness of this quiet spot, where the sublime, the serene and the strong combine to produce one harmonious effect of repose!

If the hawks often seen flying above, ever give the Isle a critical survey, they discover an oblong wilderness of trees, set on a granite pedestal, with seven or eight small villages, like many little islands of rice-grains, clinging to different points on its sides.

From the steamboat, the view is more distinct. We can distinguish the rich gradations of color, through reddish-brown sea-weed and gray granite to the deep green of pine, hemlock and fir; noting, also, the exquisite grace with which the land curves away from the water. There are no sharp points, no jagged precipices. Everything is carefully rounded.

In all directions are islands innumerable, sometimes bearing, like their larger neighbor, the name of animals, as Sheep and Bear Islands, and sometimes those of well known residents. But, as a native remarked of another locality,

"The islands round here will answer to most any name you give 'em. They stay right here, all the time."

At Green's Landing, near the southernmost point of Deer Isle, the beautiful formation of granite looms into a prominence of grandeur and beauty elsewhere unknown. Hundreds of feet, like gigantic terraces, the granite walls and platforms rise upward and backward. They have been systematically quarried and buildings of all sorts are set down among them as though they grew from the clouds. There is here a fine harbor, alive with shipping and overlooked by numerous hotels. In fact, it appears the most busy and bustling point on the Isle.

From Green's Landing one can easily make the circuit of the island. A northward drive of seven miles leads to the pretty village of Sunset. Potentially suggestive, and by no means inspiring, is this designation. Night after night the sun, like a great ball of fire, sinks so swiftly behind the hills as though propelled by an invisible force; night after night the gold and rose color left behind melt into the deep blue of those same hills; night after night, ere this glory of color has vanished, the stars come out, and a white lighthouse just below, on Eagle Island, twinkles response to them.

Looking toward the southwest from one of the principal hills of Sunset, one has a foreground of thick growing trees and rolling fields, from which, all through July, the scent of new-mown hay comes up strong and fresh; beyond a wide expanse of blue water; while, filling the middle distance, rise the clustered dwellings of the village.

Westward, stately growths of fir and hemlock, tall and straight as so many church spires, border the water; peaceful islands dot its surface; hills of deep, aluminous blue bound the horizon and let the eye sink into recesses of color seemingly endless.

Of these two views, bright with sunshine, transparent with mist, flushed with sunset, or calm with moonlight no visitor ever grows tired.

The various harbors are named according to location, southeast, southwest and so on. A pretty drive of two miles from Sunset brings us to North West Harbor, the usual landing place of tourists from Boston, and also to the centre of the island, Deer Isle Village by pre-eminence, where the view opens out to the ocean and where the principal residents are located.

Still proceeding northward we pass a mile or two further on, a huge granite boulder standing close to the road, measuring eleven feet in height and some twenty in circumference, evidently dating from the Glacial Period. Many such are found in different points, but this is the largest.

Three or four miles more and the North Harbor is reached, from which a bar stretches across to Little Deer Isle, affording a safe passage at low tide. It is said that the deer who used to trot back and forth at these periods of low water gave name to both islands.

Deer Isle is very irregular in shape, owing to the numerous indentations made by the water which runs in and out in most bewildering fashion. At one point it is nearly severed into two square parts and left hanging by two narrow threads of land. At another Nature has forgotten to unite the straggling portions, but the space between is so narrow that with one stride you can step on Greenlaw's Neck which on paper resembles the skeleton of a mastodon. Follow the ribs of this skeleton to the jaws. Here the island attains its greatest width and at high water one looks across to Stinson's Neck half a mile distant. A bar from the island to the mainland affords a good roadway for six hours out of the twenty-four where teams cross and re-cross with comparative safety. This bar is a natural stone bridge covered with rocks of just the proper width from which the inference is drawn that its foundation may have been laid by a free historic people.

Cutting across and around and making a detour to see this famous spot, the traveler at last comes on a hill with a threefold prospect toward Deer Isle Village, toward Sunset and toward South Deer Isle. Taking the last named direction and climbing hill after hill he at length reaches Green's Landing again. If he has not lingered too long at fascinating points the entire circuit will not have consumed more than six or eight hours.

It is impossible to lose one's way on Deer Isle. A lady was told that if she started from a point some distance above her boarding place she would eventually reach the same point from an opposite direction. Resolving to test the truth of this statement she one morning slipped away from her companions and started off alone. A steep climb seemed only to lead in an opposite direction from the right one, but she persevered, and finally a sudden curve in the road brought her to a veritable wicket gate with two paths, one broad and one narrow, branching off beyond. Burying himself would have recognized the ideal truth of this picture. Sad to relate, however, she did like her pilgrim prototype, choose not the narrow way which would have made her trip shorter, but the alluring broad one. Beautiful to be lost in such a spot with moss three inches deep springing classically back from her tread; the sunshine shooting across it through interlacing boughs like gold threads on green velvet and the tiny bunch-berries dotting it with scarlet buttons!

ALICE J. JENNINGS.

(CONTINUED NEXT WEEK.)

Collecting Canceled Stamps.

What is apparently more useless than canceled postage stamps? And yet there is a store on Michigan avenue where they seem to be in demand. One of the windows is entirely heaped up with present day United States stamps, mostly of the 2 cent denomination. There must be thousands of them, and the observer can only wonder what in the world can be their value. They cannot possess any particular interest to the stamp collector, for they are neither rare nor valuable. To the ordinary person the canceled 2 cent postage stamp seems a worthless thing indeed. Prices paid for such stamps, however, are 1 cent per 1,000, $1 per 10,000, and $10 per 100,000. Many an industrious lad will probably be moved by this offer (as the appearance of the window indeed testifies), and yet the immense labor of collecting 100,000 stamps can be appreciated.

Yet during the Centennial stamp were bought in the same manner, and those who purchased them are today reaping a handsome profit, for the Centennial postage stamp has increased wonderfully in value in a canceled condition during the last few years. As time goes on stamps increase greatly in value, especially stamps issued for one year only on a special occasion like the Centennial or fair. To show how valuable a stamp may become, the writer of this may mention the fact that eight years ago he purchased a first issue English envelope stamp in London for $7.50, and it was at that time worth a great deal more in this country. Now it has probably increased still more.—Detroit Free Press.

Two Remarkable Cures.

An old Irish woman's cow was sick unto death, so she turned to the priest to save it. "I can't do anything to keep your cow from dying," he said impatiently.

"Fath an bgorra! it's you that can if any one can," the answered in simple faith.

Unwilling to have her reverence in him shaken, the old man went to her cabin. The sick cow was brought out into the yard and propped up, then the priest began a solemn march around it, chanting monotonously, "If you die, you die; if you live, you live." When at last the tired priest sat down, the cow was reviving, and it afterward lived to a green old age. Some years later the priest was at the point of death with the terrible quinsy, when the old Irish woman presented herself at the house and told the doctor she could cure him. She was laughed to scorn, but at last had her own way. She insisted upon having the dying man's bed brought out into the middle of the floor, and around it she slowly cantered, singing, "If you live, you live, and if you die you die." The humor of the situation tickled the suffering priest so that a hearty laugh broke the quinsy, and he also lived to a green old age.—Springfield Homestead.

Power of the Imagination.

"I never was more firmly convinced of the power of imagination," said a man, "than I was by something that happened to me on the occasion of a visit to a friend. It had been an extremely hot day, and when I went to bed at night the heat seemed almost insupportable. I seemed to me that if I should open the door from my room into the hall it would make a little circulation and make the air more comfortable, and I felt safe in doing this because I am an early riser, and I knew I could get the door shut before anybody was stirring in the morning. So I opened the door, with the pleasant result that I had anticipated, and when I went to close it in the morning I found that I had opened not the door into the hall, but the door into a closet."—New York Sun.

A Plea For Egoism.

Ask yourself hard questions about yourself; find out all you can about yourself. Ascertain from original sources if you are really the manner of man you say you are; if you are always honest; if you always tell the square, perfect truth in business deals; if your life is as good and upright at 11 o'clock at night as it is at noon; if you are as good a temperance man at a fishing excursion as you are at a Sunday picnic; if you are as good when you go out of the city as you are at home; if, in short, you are really the sort of man your father hopes you are and your sweetheart believes you to be.—Panola (Tex.) Watchman.

Police on the Wheel.

The proposal to mount a part of the park police on bicycles is timely thought already. Already the world's armies have organized their bicycle service, and it can hardly be contended that this mode of locomotion is more appropriate there than in the police service or likely to be so useful. In the event of the wheel's adoption by the police authority the public may assume that the men will be required to sit it properly. They will not offend the eye by contributing to the monkey on a gridiron exhibition. In fact, their martial appearance could be expected to contribute by its example to diminish that depressing practice. It is certain that the seat of the mounted police has stimulated perception of the ridiculous in equestrians bobbing from the saddle like cockney tailors out for a holiday.

The extension of the use of the wheel is among the interesting phenomena of the day. The French postal service has adopted it extensively in rural service. Even the stolid Briton has proposed the reform. In England, however, the magnitude of the mail offers some difficulties. Its growing extension in the colonies is marked. The export of bicycles now cuts a respectable figure in board of trade returns. During the past year the value has nearly doubled.—New York Evening Sun.

Exiled Socialists In Siberia.

A number of socialist exiles have been located at Chita, Siberia. Our correspondent tells us that, though not allowed to leave the city, they move about freely enough within it and in various kinds of skilled handicraft are earning their own livelihood. They are in this way quite an acquisition to the neighborhood. If you have a scientific instrument to be repaired or any work to be done in which delicate manipulation and special ingenuity are essential, you must send for one of the socialists.

They bear an excellent character, and the superintendent of police in Chita says, "If all the people in this province were socialists, there would be nothing for us to do." Alas for this province, a large proportion of its people are of a very different type! What Van Dieman's land and Botany bay were to England, half a century ago the Transbaikalia is to Russia now—a cesspool for its crime. Capital punishment is comparatively rare in Russia, and villains who would without doubt receive the death sentence in England or be lynched without judge or jury in some parts of the United States are in this country condemned to life banishment in Transbaikalia.—London News.

The Chicago Fair's Bad Management. Either the blood sucking parasites at the fair must be dispensed with, the dead-end leak stopped and expenses cut down, or there must be a default on the bonds which the corporation owes. The directors have outstanding five millions of bonds and floating debt, and they have not yet a dollar to apply on the bond payment. They have not yet paid the floating debt by perhaps a million, and from present appearances will not until late in August.

The fair is costing $600,000 a month for operating expenses. The army of dead-ends who enter its gates is steadily increasing. Friday more than one-third of those in attendance went in on passes. The deadheads ought to be cut down at least one-half. At least half of the police force at the fair ought to be mustered out and taken off the payroll. The expenses of operating the fair ought not to be over $300,000 per month at the very outside. The directors must face the music.—Chicago Tribune.

Offer to Float the Victoria.

Signor Balsanello, the inventor of the Balla Nautica, the submarine vessel with which several successful experiments were performed lately at Civita Vecchia in the presence of a commission appointed by the Italian government, declares that by the aid of his invention he can float his majesty's ship Victoria at a cost of less than $40,000. He says that with the Balla Nautica he can make arrangements for raising weights far exceeding that of the sunken ironclad. The preparations and placing of grapples and chains around the Victoria would take a month and would be performed by the crew of the submarine ship, which has already descended to and been maneuvered successfully at depths beyond that in which the Victoria lies. The bringing of the ship to the surface would take two days.—St. James Gazette.

Singular Case of Insanity.

Professor Alfonso Carpentieri, the famous gynecologist of the University of Naples, became suddenly insane a few days ago. He imagined that he was dying from starvation and thirst, and, entering a restaurant, drank four cups of coffee, a bottle of wine, a bottle of cognac, and ate 15 sandwiches and more than a dozen eggs. When the proprietor declined to serve anything else, the professor sprang on the table and cried, with the voice of Stentor: "Eggs, eggs! Give me eggs and keep me from starving!" When he began to break chairs and tables, he was overpowered and placed in a hospital. He is one of the most famous physicians in Italy.—Chicago Times.

A Thirty Pound Nugget of Gold.

The recent gold strike made at the Virtue mine, near Baker City, is the richest and most extensive revealed for years. One afternoon a chunk was taken out weighing 30 pounds, which is estimated to contain $3,000. On account of the extreme richness of the ore it is not run through the mill, but it is pounded up in a large mortar.—Cor. Portland Oregonian.

The Henry Bergh circle of King's Daughters, composed of eight members, reports that last year it chloroformed 4,089 cats, 71 dogs, 6 wounded sparrows, 1 rabbit and 1 opossum.

A snake is reported to have climbed a pole to a martin's box at Breedy Heights, W. Va., a short time ago, and swallowed two birds before being discovered.

Boyd's Pond Park.

The Boyd pond nuisance has been abated, and a pretty park is being created where formerly was a muddy and malaria-breeding pond. The work is being done by the city of Newton, which bears the entire expense, having secured a special legislative act to take lands in Watertown for the purpose of abating the nuisance. For years the place was a serious menace to the public health, and an attempt was made by the Newton board of health to interest the Watertown board in a scheme for its abatement. The Watertown board, however, claimed the nuisance was wholly in Newton, and for that reason refused to appropriate money to aid abating it.

Finally the authorities of Newton determined to act alone, and $10,000 was appropriated for the purchase of 284,000 feet of land bordering on the pond and for cleaning up the same.

Although the work is not yet complete, the place will soon be ready for the landscape gardener. The plans provide for filling in the pond and grading the banks and reducing the steep banks on the north side to a pretty grassed slope. Gravelled walks, bordered with flowering shrubs and beds of plants, will be laid out. The dam has been taken away and a channel cut through the proposed park to allow the free flow of water from Laundry brook to Cook's pond and Charles river.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and catarrh of the bowels follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years, with distressing pain over my eyes. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am apparently cured.—Z. C. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

City of Newton.

In The Board of Mayor and Aldermen, October 2, '93.

ORDERED.

That the Polling Places for the State and Municipal Elections, November 7th, and December 5th, 1893, be and are hereby established as follows:—

- Precinct 1, Ward 1, Voting Booth, Waban Park.
- Precinct 2, Ward 1, Armory Hall, Washington Street.
- Precinct 1, Ward 2, Rooms 6 and 8 Central Block, Washington Street.
- Precinct 2, Ward 2, Tremont Hall, Washington Street.
- Precinct 1, Ward 3, City Hall, Washington Street.
- Precinct 2, Ward 3, City Hall, Washington Street.
- Precinct 1, Ward 4, Auburn Hall, Ash Street.
- Precinct 2, Ward 4, Freeman Hall, Washington Street.
- Precinct 1, Ward 5, Old Prospect School House, Pettes Street.
- Precinct 2, Ward 5, Steven's Hall, Lincoln Street.
- Precinct 1, Ward 6, Associates Hall, Centre Street.
- Precinct 2, Ward 6, Associates Hall, Centre Street.
- Precinct 1, Ward 7, Eliot Lower Hall, Centre Street.

A true copy, ATTEST.

I. F. KINGSBURY,
City Clerk.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Edward L. Collins to Stephen Jennings, dated July 1st A. D. 1892, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Libro 22,662 Folio 222, for breach of the conditions therein contained and for the purpose of enforcing the same will be sold at public auction on Monday, the 30th day of October, 1893, at four o'clock in the afternoon on the premises hereinafter described, all and singular the first parcel of land, with the buildings thereon, in said mortgage deed described as follows: bounded Northwesterly by Washington Street, one hundred and four and 85/100 feet; Southerly and Southwesterly by lot 10 on the plan hereinafter referred to, the same will be sold at public auction by Wm. A. Fenno, one hundred and twenty-two and 52/100 feet; Northwesterly by the junction of Washington Street and Wabank Street five and 56/100 feet, containing 2865 square feet and shown on a plan duly recorded, Plan Book 75 Plan 38 and being the premises set off to said Collins on partition proceedings dated May 12th A. D. 1892, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Libro 2129 Page 337. The second parcel in said mortgage having been heretofore released.

Terms $100 at time and place of sale, balance within ten days.
STEPHEN JENNINGS, Mortgagee.

COMMISSIONERS NOTICE.

Estate of Emer on B. Pettit, late of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, deceased, represented Insolvent.

The subscribers, having been appointed by the Probate Court for said County Commissioners to receive and examine all claims of creditors against the estate of said Emer on B. Pettit, hereby give notice that six months from the twenty-fifth day of July, A. D. 1893, are allowed to creditors to present and prove their claims against said estate and to file the same with the said Commissioners at 25 Court Street, Boston, Room 303, on the second day of November, 1893, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon and on the fourth day of January, 1894, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

F. ALABO PELTON, FRANK N. NAV.

August 31, 1893.

"It Takes the Cake."

This cake in every package of

IVORINE
WASHING POWDER

Every package of Ivoryine has left our factory since April 1, 1893, has had in it this cake of delightful Olive Oil Toilet Soap. If you want to see what a splendid cake of soap it is, send us four 2-cent stamps, and get the soap FREE. The J. B. Williams Co., Glastonbury, Ct., Box M.

C. & H.
Extra Cream Lucca

OLIVE OIL
ABSOLUTELY PURE.

If your Grocer does not keep it, order of

CODMAN & HALL,
SOLE AGENTS,
34 Hamilton Street, Boston.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY THE
WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning. Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters 8 cents per square yard for Turkish Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Matings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. Sole Manufacturer of the

New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE.

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7. Factory and Residence, Clinton Street.

Water Bugs and Roaches

CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR EXTERMINATOR

No dust. No trouble to use.

Price, 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If you druggist or grocer does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price

BARNARD & CO.,

7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON.

FOR SALE BY BARNARD BROS., NEWTON.

Lumber.

C. A. HARRINGTON LUMBER,

Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c.
Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.
Telephone, 249-5 Newton.

LUMBER.

GILKEY & STONE,

ARSENAL ST., WATERTOWN.

Railroads.

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

WEEK DAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 5:50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9:50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 7:00 A. M. then every thirty minutes until 11:00 P. M.

SUNDAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 7:50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9:50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 8:30 A. M., and every thirty minutes until 11:00 P. M.

First car for Boston leaves Watertown at 7:5 A. M.

C. S. SERGEANT, General Manager.

5 ly

Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn R. R.

Fall and Winter Time-Table, Sept. 11, '93

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN at 6:50, 7:50, 8:50, 9:10, 11 A. M., 12 M., 1:25, 2:30, 4 (Express), 4:50, 5:50 (Express), 6:50, 7:50, 8:50, 10:20 and 11:25 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON at 6:10, 6:50, 7 (Express), 7:50 (Express), 8 (Express), 8:30 (Express), 9:30 (Express), 10, 11 A. M., 12 M., 1:25, 2:45, 3:15, 3:45, 4:15, 4:50, 5:15, 5:50, 6:45, 7:15, 8:20, 9:15 and 10:15 P. M.

SUNDAY TRAINS.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN hourly from 3:30 A. M. to 9:30 P. M., inclusive, and at 10:15 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON at 6:45 A. M., then hourly from 9:30 A. M. to 9:30 P. M., inclusive.

All trains stop at West Lynn.

JOHN A. FENNO, C. A. HAMMOND, G. T. A. Supt.

Boston, Sept. 11, 1893

J. H. LOOKER,

French Cleansing and Dyeing

Dry Cleansing and Repairing a Specialty.

Particular attention paid to

Blankets, Lace Curtains, Fine

Linens and Hand Laundry

Work of all kinds.

No. 21 Carlton Street,

NEWTON, MASS.

:- JOB PRINTING :-

AT THIS OFFICE.

B. KETZ,

The Only Hardware and Cutlery

STORE NEAR THE DEPOTS.

99 Kneeland St., Boston.

Kitchen Furnishing Goods and Toys a Specialty.

Open Evenings. Goods Delivered Free. 48

Open Evenings. Goods Delivered Free. 48

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

85 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should
be made payable toEDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-2.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE MAYOR'S VETO.

The citizens of Newton will endorse Mayor Fenno's position on the fire alarm signal box question. He says in his veto of the order for the purchase of the Municipal boxes:For nearly twenty years the Gamewell system in use in this city has worked almost perfectly, and when there is such a difference of opinion among experts in such matters as to the risks which might result from installing the boxes of the Municipal and Gamewell systems upon the same circuit, it is, in my opinion, unwise and against the interests of the city to take any chances of failure when nothing is to be gained thereby.This is the only practical and common sense view, and it is no secret that it is the view taken by many large property owners in Newton, who have been outspoken in their condemnation of the city council for voting to mix up two systems, when, as the mayor says, "nothing is to be gained thereby."If the change was to save the city a considerable sum of money it might be worth while to take the risk, but there is not a single dollar saved by the transaction. If the Gamewell company had not always treated the city fairly, not to say liberally, there might have been some reason for a change. If the Gamewell company were a grinding monopoly, paying law wages, and unpopular with the people, but the reverse of these things are true.Without saying anything of the merits of the two systems, it is no secret that the Municipal company was formed to fight the Gamewell company, and the men chiefly interested are to say the least not friendly to the older company.
It may or may not make as good apparatus, the question is, do the city council wish to encourage this kind of thing?Here is an old servant of the city, that has worked satisfactorily to all for twenty years. No word of complaint has been given. A new servant comes along, who will work just as cheaply, and although the committee know the worth of the old servant, and the new one has only a very brief experience, and the men in charge of the department where the work is done, oppose any change, yet the committee vote to make the experiment, and hope the new servant will be just as good as the old one.Such a position caused a good deal of surprise, coming from men who are supposed to be good business men, and the affair has caused a good deal of talk, so much so that the veto of the order by the mayor is accepted as a very satisfactory ending of the affair.The Common Council was rather hasty in voting to pass the order over the Mayor's veto, but there seems to be some doubt whether the vote will stand.
Only eight members voted, and it requires a two-thirds vote to pass an order under such circumstances. It was stated in the meeting by a city official that this meant two-thirds of those present, but this is contrary to the general impression that two-thirds of the members are required. If that is not the rule, it ought to be, as otherwise a minority can pass legislation over a veto. It is doubtful whether a two-thirds vote could have been secured in the council, but the aldermen, at least, will treat the mayor more courteously.The evening schools give an unusual opportunity to the young people, this year, of instruction in many important branches, and judging from the number who have entered, there is some appreciation of the advantages offered. Heretofore our evening schools have not been a great success, as the list of studies offered was very meagre, and the attendance was what might have been expected. But Supt. Aldrich and the school board have made a special effort to offer something worth while, and in the Clafin school building instruction is given in mechanical and industrial drawing, and architecture, which is worthy the attention of all young men who have time to spare in the evening. Even those who have what is called a good education would find interesting work here, and many older people, who have looked over the course and seen the value of the instruction offered cannot help a feeling of regret that their school days are over.
It is gratifying to learn that 42 students have been enrolled here. The school for general instruction in the English branches is held in the Jackson school building and here 80 pupils have entered.
The evening school system is of fully asmuch importance as the day schools, as the pupils who attend the former are generally of an age to appreciate the value of knowledge and are possessed of a determination to make the most of the advantages offered them. Some of our greatest men gained the most of their education in evening schools, after their-day's work was over.THERE are many evidences of the great dissatisfaction of the people of Newton over the way in which Mr. Estabrook was defeated for representative, and the criticism heard is very strong. But what can the voters do about it? The fight against him was very quietly and skillfully managed. In the general interest over the contest for governor, but little attention was paid to the delegates for the representative convention, and most voters thought of course he would be renominated, as it is an old custom to give every man a second term who has done even fairly well during his first term. The question of representatives is of so much more local importance than that of any state office, that it is a mistake to elect delegates to all the conventions on the same evening. The state convention delegates are carefully chosen and the other delegates are lumped in any way. It will make very little difference to Newton whether Mr. Greenleaf or Mr. Russell is governor, but it makes a great deal of difference whether Newton has reached such a state that a representative who does his duty faithfully to his constituents, can be defeated because he has antagonized the corporations. The voters are thinking over this question.NEWTON presents now some gorgeous pictures of autumn foliage, and the view from the hills is a very attractive one.
Waban hill gives the most extended view, from its greater elevation, and it is well worth the trouble of getting there. But fine views can be obtained from Mt. Ida, the West Newton hill and Institution hill in Newton Centre. The beautiful coloring of the leaves will only remain a short time, but no one should fail to ascend some of the numerous hills of Newton, the coming week, and see what a gorgeous spectacle we have right here at home. The railroads are running excursions to the Berkshire Hills, for the lovers of autumn foliage, but it is doubtful if the display there is any more beautiful than can be seen right here in Newton.THE Newton Centre Baptist church is very fortunate in securing such a pastor as Rev. Richard Montague, who has been regarded as one of the leading preachers in that denomination. His first church was in Lawrence, and after a very successful pastorate there he was called to the largest church in Providence where he remained until his health compelled him to remove to Colorado. But low his physicians say that his health is thoroughly reestablished and that he can stand the Eastern climate again without danger. He is a very earnest and interesting preacher, and is well fitted by his abilities and training for such an important position as that of pastor of the Newton Centre church, which includes so many scholars among its members.THE Republican convention was as harmonious and enthusiastic as the Democratic, owing to the contest over the chief place having been fought out in advance. The platform adopted was an excellent one, although it was more than twice too long, the framers taking a great number of words to express their meaning, but they evidently believe that a party platform should be a good deal like an old fashioned stump speech, instead of a brief statement of principles.
Mayor Bancroft of Cambridge made an excellent speech to the convention, and the other speakers kept up the party enthusiasm.THE Third Councilor Republican convention was held in Boston, yesterday, and Hon. J. R. Leeson was unanimously re-nominated, Hon. Frank H. Raymond of Somerville making a very complimentary speech, which was seconded by ex-Senator Gilman of this city, and Willard Howland of Chelsea. The honor has been fairly earned by Mr. Leeson, who has been as councillor all that his most sanguine friends had hoped, and who has done so much to restore the Governor's Council to the confidence of the public. Mr. E. T. Colburn of Newton Centre was elected one of the district committees.ALDERMAN BOTHFIELD was nominated for representative by the Democratic convention, much to his surprise, as nothing had been said to him beforehand, and he has refused to accept. Mr.
Bothfield has done so well in his present position that it would be a matter for general regret to see him inclined to accept any other honors, and the public will be gratified by the news of his declination. Mr. Bothfield is needed in the city government, and the voters intend to keep him there.CONGRESSMAN EVERETT seemed to be fully able to take care of himself in theHouse, and members from other states should be sure of their quotations before they apply them to him. Evidently a scholar is of use in Congress, if only to teach Captain Boutelle of Maine and others something definite about the history of their country.THE Democrats have nominated William A. Hyde of Woburn for councillor from this district, and William A. Read of Lowell for county commissioner.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Misses Fannie and Florence Ball arrived home last week after spending a long visit at the World's Columbian Exposition.—Mr. Sherman N. Sears is expected home from the World's fair, Monday, where he has been visiting the past two weeks.—The fair to be opened at St. John's church next Monday evening has been deferred until Nov. 15th.—Mr. Geo. Shattuck is slowly recovering from a relapse of a serious, and at times, dangerous sickness.—The B. A. A. annual 25 mile bicycle road race, which passes through here tomorrow, is looked forward to with much interest. Over 100 entries for the race have been made.—Mr. Frank B. Reed removes to his new residence just completed off Melrose street, Auburndale, this week.—Wm. Morse of this place, employed as freight brakeman, was run over in the freight yard of the N. Y. & H. R. railroad, Kneeland street, Boston, Monday morning, losing both feet at the ankles.
He was taken to the hospital where he is recovering.—Miss Annie Warren one of the teachers at the North school has almost fully recovered from a long and serious sick spell, continuing through the summer. She will probably resume her former position about Jan. 1st.—The marriage of Mr. John Moore to Miss Ellen M. McCourt was celebrated Thursday evening, Rev. P. H. Callahan of St. John's church, performing the ceremony. A reception was held later in their future home on Cedar street, and was very largely attended both being popular among the younger residents of the vicinity.
About 50 invitations were extended. The wedding presents were many among them being handsome and appropriate gifts and all useful. The newly married couple have the best wishes of a host of friends for a prosperous future.

WABAN.

—Mrs. Cloutman is entertaining her aunt for a short time.—Miss Fannie McGee spent Sunday at Charlestown.—Miss Mabel Collins and Mr. Maynard
Collins have removed to Cambridgeport,
Mass. Miss Lillie Collins is at Wilmington, Mass.—The services last Sunday were conducted by Rev. Mr. James of West Newton.—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Armstrong have gone to the World's Fair.—The Benevolent society met with Mrs.
Charles V. Campbell on Waban ave. last Wednesday.—An important meeting of the Village Improvement society was held last Thursday evening.—A near approach to an accident occurred at the station last Saturday evening. Two carriages belonging respectively to Mrs.
Shoemaker and Mr. Webster were at the station, both horses starting at the approach of a train. Mrs. Shepley's was the first to start and was turning around when Mr. Webster's horse came dashing up and the two came very near colliding.Last Saturday afternoon at five o'clock Miss Marie K. How gave tea for her little friends, it being the occasion of her seventh birthday. The decorations were all in pink that being the color of the little hostess, who carried her honors most gracefully. Among those present were Misses Edith Childs, Mary Dresser, Jessie Gould, Josephine Campbell, Margaret Davidson, Lillian Buffum, Esther Saville and Masters Eliot Robinson, Roy Harlow.

The Pomroy Home.

Miss Bertha Forbes of Newton Centre has been commissioned by the Treasurer, Arthur C. Walworth, Esq., and appointed by the Board of Directors as solicitor and collector for the Home. The appointment is made to relieve the young lady solicitors, who in each religious society, for so many years, have kindly, generously and successfully secured the Home's support. All the inmates are in good health, and developing satisfactorily under the kind and judicious management of the Superintendent, Miss Elizabeth Robbins and her efficient assistant, Mrs. Hines.NATHANIEL T. ALLEN, Pres. Board of Directors.

MARRIED.

FARRELL-MALONEY—At Newton, Oct. 5, by Rev. J. F. Gilchrist, Lewis Hubbard Farrell and Nora Helena Maloney.STEVENS-SYLVESTER—At Newton Centre, Oct. 4, by Rev. T. J. Holmes, Moses Lang
Stevens and Maria Sylvester.CUTLER-WORCESTER—At Newton Centre, Oct. 4, by Rev. B. E. McDaniel, Frederic Farley Cutler and Edith Worchester.DAWSON-TURNER—At Needham, Oct. 1, by Rev. John F. Gleason, Leonard Dawson and Clara Turner.

DIED.

BELL—At West Newton, Oct. 2, Robert Gibson
Bell, aged 55 years, 2 months, 23 days.DONAHUE—At Newton, Oct. 3, Mrs. Mary Jane Donahue, aged 62 years.MEANEY—At Waban, Oct. 4, Nancy Meaney, aged 55 years.PIGOTT—At Newtonville, Oct. 4, George Herbert Pigott, aged 31 years, 11 months, 11 days.LEONARD—At West Newton, Oct. 9, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Leonard, aged 64 years, 1 month, 20 days.KENDALL—At Newtonville, Oct. 7, William Kendall, aged 70 years, 6 months.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PUREReal Estate.
Mortgages.
InsuranceNewton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.
SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATE
in the above villages.
Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES
—OFFICES—
J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.TO LET! Furnished.
ONLY $480.ROYAL B. LEIGHTON & CAMP,
376 Centre St., Newton; 27 Kilby St., Boston
Insurance. REAL ESTATE. Mortgages.By JAMES F. C. HYDE & SON, Auctioneers, 31 Milk Street, Boston.
Members of the Real Estate Exchange and Auction Board.

AUCTION SALE!

—OF DESIRABLE—

HOUSE

—ON—

MT. IDA, NEWTON.

Will be sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, '93,

AT 3-1-2 O'CLOCK

In the afternoon, the estate owned by B. C.
Blodgett, No. 147 Newtonville Avenue, consisting of a well-built, hip roof house of nine rooms, in excellent repair, with good furnace, nearly new plumbing, sewer connection, hot and cold water, etc., etc. Considerable money has been spent on the interior of the house within the last year.
There is also a small, but commodious stable on the premises, suitable for one horse and a good carriage room. The lot contains 18,000 feet with considerable fruit, mostly apples, pears, and some shade and shrubbery, first rate chance for a garden. The situation being almost on the crest of Mt. Ida, is one of the most desirable, and the view is unexcelled. The estate will be sold on such easy terms, that it will come within the reach of almost anyone, a low rate of interest on the mortgage, which is now on the property, and can remain.Terms $200 at sale, further terms and particulars at the time of sale, or of Charles F.
Rogers, 47 Centre Street, Newton, or of Auc-tioneers, 31 Milk Street, Boston.

Teachers.

MISS ALICE F. PEIRCE,

Piano-Forte.

687 BOYLSTON ST., BOSTON.

Newton, Eliot Block, Room 6,

TUESDAYS, WEDNESDAYS, FRIDAYS, 2 TO 3.

Refers to Mr. Arthur Foote. 1-41

Miss Grace F. Williams,

Teacher of PIANO-FORTE.

Residence: Warren St., Newton Centre.

MR. WM. I. HOWELL

Pianoforte, Organ and Theory.

Also, SIGHT SINGING.

149 A TREMONT ST., BOSTON, MASS.

Residence, 91 Newtonville Avenue. 50-51

Private Lessons.

Efficient private instruction by an experienced teacher in English and Grammar School Studies
may be secured by addressing—

M., Care of E. H. CUTLER, Washington St., Newton.

L. EDWIN CHASE,

. . . VIOLIN . . .

Fall Term Begins October 2d.

—ADDRESS—

43 CARLETON ST., NEWTON.

Mr. J. WALLACE GOODRICH,

—TEACHER OF—

Organ and Piano-forte,

Harmony and Composition.

—ADDRESS—

ELIOT CHURCH, NEWTON, MASS.

L. H. PARRISH,

Teacher of

Guitar and Cornet.

25 Pearl St., Newton.

HARRY BROOKS DAY,

—TEACHER OF—

PIANO-FORTE

Organ, Harmony,

COUNTERPOINT and COMPOSITION

Eliot Block, or Hotel Hunnewell,

NEWTON.

WEST NEWTON

English and Classical School.

Family and Day School, both sexes, 41st year.
College, Scientific and Business Preparation.
Send for Catalogue. At Home Tuesdays.

ALLEN BROS., West Newton.

H. W. CALDER,

UPHOLSTERER

Cabinet Maker and House Furnisher.

* ARTISTIC PICTURE FRAMING. *

A complete stock always on hand.

NEWTONVILLE, MASS.

HEWITT & THOMAS,

Practical Plumbers.

And Sanitary Engineers.

247 WASHINGTON ST.,

Nonantum Block, Newton.

Two minutes from Newton station. Comfortable house, 9 rooms, all improvements.
About 10,000 feet of land, fruit and shade trees and piazza.We have just received a complete line of fine Transparent China, imported expressly for us, with a correct imprint of the Eliot Church on each article, and an opportunity is now afforded to obtain a useful and ornamental souvenir for yourself or friends of this most beautiful structure. The list comprises some twenty-five different articles, as

Jardinieres, Plaques,

Ash or Pin Trays,

Plates, Pitches,

Tiles, Etc., Etc.

Ranging in price from

25 Cents to $1.50.

There are two styles, namely Steel Engraved Prints and Enamelled Colors traced in Gold.An immediate inspection is invited as the supply is limited and first comers will have the benefit of selection.

BARBER BROS.,

415 Centre Street, Newton Mass.

WORLD'S FAIR!

ONLY . . . $46.

For first class round trip ticket, half berth in Pullman both ways, room rent eight days at Hotel Endeavor, transfer of passenger and baggage to and from hotel, and seven admissions to the Fair.Everything Necessary But Your Meals.The best value offered. Ask any of our patrons who returned last Saturday evening, list among West Newton items last week. Address:

322 Washington Street,

BOSTON.

Or call any day from 10 to 1.

Geo. S. Houghton.

REDUCED PRICES

To close out our stock of

Baby Carriages & Refrigerators.

STRAW MATTING 16 18, 25, 30c.

Remember we keep a full assortment of

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.

—BENT'S—

Furniture and Carpet Rooms,

69 MAIN ST., WATERTOWN.

MASSAGE . . .

MISS LENA HANSEN,

Graduate of BARON NIX'S POSSE.

Treatment for Muscular and Nervous Weakness, Sprains, Rheumatism, Etc. Address:

65 BELLEVUE STREET, NEWTON.

Reference: Dr. Ira B. Cushing, Brookline; Baron
Posse, Boston. 52-131

Miss MARY E. THOMPSON, graduate of

New York City Training

School for Nurses,

is prepared to do medical, surgical and obstetric nursing. Residence, Hartford Street, Newton Highlands. Telephone 24-4.

DRESSES . .

Made from Six to Ten Dollars.
Basques cut for Seventy-Five Cents. Work Warranted. Apply
at once. DRESSMAKER, 308
Centre Street.

. . . NEWTON.

THE

D. & E. CUNNINGHAM

Dressmaking

. . . Rooms

Will Be Reopened OCTOBER 23.

DRESSMAKING

Evening and Street Costumes in Latest Designs.

Moderate Prices.

S. A. MERITT, 33 PARSONS STREET,
NEWTONVILLE.

Waltham & Newton electric cars pass the street.

M. E. PAINE,

Successor to Thomas Sinclair.

Furniture Upholsterer.

Mattresses and Window Shades made to order.
Agent for White's Steam Carpet Cleaning. All Orders Promptly Attended to.

ELIOT BLOCK, NEWTON.

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 5 lines, and 25 cents each time thereafter, in advance.

Wants.

WANTED—Girl for general house-work, protestant preferred; 3 in family. Apply to Mrs. Edw. F. Keeler, Parker street, Newton Centre. 2-1WANTED—Board in Newton by an elderly lady, for the winter. Please address giving terms and location, Newton Post Office, Lock Box 38. 2-11DRESSMAKING—A competent dress maker wishes a few more engagements by the day, thorough satisfaction given, terms $2.00 per day.
Address, P. O. Box 193, Newton Upper Falls, Mass. 52-4STORAGE—A nice room for the storage of furniture, pianos, etc., can be found at the Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington Street. 52-31

ENGAGEMENT DES

NEWTONVILLE.

—Miller pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Dr. C. A. Gould of Adamsville, R. I., was in town this week visiting relatives.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wilkie are at Plymouth for a short stay.

—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pope are in Chicago visiting the Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Eppel leave here tomorrow (Saturday) for the World's Fair.

—Mr. A. T. Page of Philadelphia has rented the house on Cabot street, formerly occupied by Mr. A. G. Foster.

—Rev. Ira A. Priest left here Monday for a ten days visit to the World's Fair.

—Rev. Mr. Tomlinson of Arlington will occupy the pulpit in the Universalist church next Sunday morning.

—Mr. Frank Tainter is in Chicago visiting the Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. Austin R. Mitchell have returned from a visit to the World's Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hatch left Monday for Chicago to visit the Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Pope of Otis street have returned from a nine week's vacation at Cottage City and Martha's Vineyard.

—Miss Alice E. Macomber will receive pupils in china decoration and water-color painting. For terms, classes, etc., address Box 80, Newtonville.

—A lunch party of ten was given by Mrs. J. F. Curtis on Friday, complimentary to Mrs. F. D. Shaw, who is on a visit from her home in the West.

The Beverly Brothers will send their team to attend to all orders from Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands received at their bakery, 354 Centre street, Newton.

The first meeting of the Woman's Guild will be held Tues., Oct. 13, 3 p. m. Methodist vestry. Miss Emily Shaw, former, the well known Browning scholar, delivers her delightful lecture, "The Modern Short Story," and in conclusion will read from Miss Wilkins stories.

An excellent orchestral concert was given in the Newton Clubhouse Saturday evening, the program of instrumental selections was much enjoyed by a large company of club members. It is proposed to give a series of these concerts on Saturday evening during the winter.

The majestic head of an elk in Mr. A. A. Savage's window is attracting a great deal of attention. There is also the head of a black tailed deer from the Rocky Mountains and a beaver from the same region. Mr. Nick Warren, a former resident, is the owner of the collection.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cabot were pleasantly surprised Monday evening by a large company of friends who dropped in quite unexpectedly upon the occasion of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. Ex-Alderman N. H. Chadwick in behalf of numerous neighbors presented the genial host and hostess with several beautiful pieces of cut glass ware. Mr. Cabot responded in a happy vein. There were about eighty ladies and gentlemen present. The customary "Scenes from Shakespeare," "Short Stories" by Ruth McEnery Stuart and Richard Harding Davis, "Extracts from Luella." These readings will be held alternate Tuesday, beginning Oct. 24th, at the Universalist vestry. People are cordially invited from all the Newtons. Tickets can be obtained at the door.

—A course of four readings is in anticipation under the auspices of the Newtonville Woman's Guild, to be given by Miss Fay Davis, who so charmingly entertained many of our ladies at the reception given by Mrs. Samuel J. Brown last April. Subjects, "Angelo," "Scenes from Shakespeare," "Short Stories" by Ruth McEnery Stuart and Richard Harding Davis, "Extracts from Luella." These readings will be held alternate Tuesday, beginning Oct. 24th, at the Universalist vestry. People are cordially invited from all the Newtons. Tickets can be obtained at the door.

—The people of the different Newtons are promised a rare treat next Wednesday evening at 7.45 in the Congregational church, when Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant of England will speak under the auspices of the Newton Equal Suffrage League upon the "Political Status of Women in England and America," a subject upon which she spoke so effectively in the World's Congress in Chicago. She returns to England in short time and the opportunities now are few of hearing this gifted woman.

—A pretty home wedding here Wednesday evening was one of the interesting social events of the week. The contracting parties were Miss Carolyn M. Conoley, daughter of Mrs. N. M. Conoley, of this place and Mr. R. J. Wortendyke of Jersey City. The ceremony occurred at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, corner of Watertown and Nevada streets, Rev. Dr. Michael Burnham of Springfield officiating. The ushers were the brothers of the bride and groom, Messrs. R. Howard Conoley and Jacob Wortendyke. The couple stood in a floral recess under an arch of autumn leaves and wild flowers. The bride was gowned in white tulle and silk, en-traine, with garniture of rich point lace. She wore the customary long veil and diamond ornaments and carried a bouquet of brides roses. After the ceremony a reception was held to which some 300 invitations were issued. At the close, Mr. and Mrs. Wortendyke departed on their honeymoon tour. They will reside at Hackensack, N. J.

—One of the recent interesting events here was the nursery maid's drill given by ten little girls in the Universalist church parlors. Great credit is due the juveniles for their clever exhibition which was one of the best of the description even given in this city. Those participating in the drill were Ada Powers, Sadie Baker, Marion Fisher, Beatrice Cook, Maude Fenno, Bessie Hartshorn, Carrie Curtis, Vera Rumery, Ruth Hind, and Lillian Williams. The solo parts were assumed by Maude Fenno and Marion Fisher, "The Colored Nurse" and "The Nurse." A feature of the entertainment which proved an added attraction was a series of tableaux as follows: "Rock of Ages," Miss Mollie Snow; "Held by a Thread," Miss Mattie Fenno; Mr. Frothinger; "The Elipse of the Sun," Master James Powers.

• DELICIOUS •

Ice Cold Soda

Partridge's Pharmacy.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Toilet and Fancy Articles.

E. F. PARTRIDGE, Newtonville Square.

PRESCRIPTIONS Carefully Compounded.

JAROS

HYGIENIC UNDERWEAR

For Men, Women and Children.

Endorsed by physicians as a safeguard against Colds or Rheumatism.

NON-SHINKABLE. NON-IRRITATING.

RAY, Men's Furnisher,

509 Wash'n St., Cor. West.

641 Wash'n St., Cor. Boylston.

Boston.

RUSSIAN KASSAN.

BEST $1.50 GLOVE MADE.

LONG & SHORT FINGERS. SENT BY MAIL ON RECEIPT OF PRICE.

MEN'S FURNISHER,

509 WASH'N ST., COR. WEST.

641 WASH'N ST., COR. BOYLSTON.

Boston.

—Woman's Rights, Miss Mattie Fenno, Subject, "Dangers of the Age."

—The Flower (Flour) Girl, Miss Curtis, Ada Powers; "The Union Forever," Miss Williams, Miss Atwood. The committee in charge of the entertainment comprised Miss Linda Curtis and Miss Nellie Fenno.

—Muscle to be given at the Universalist church, Sunday morning.

"The radiant morn shall pass away," Woodward D. Buck

"He shall come down like rain," J. S. Knight.

—At the Central church, Mr. Dutton will give the second address to the young.

Subject, "Dangers of the Age." Losses in Life's Journey, 7.30 p. m. Sunday.

—The ladies of the Central church will hold a Dutch Kermess at Armory Hall, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 and 2, in the interest of the furnishing fund for their new meeting house.

—Emma, daughter of A. H. Adams, 4 years of age, fell from the bay loft on Cabot street, Tuesday afternoon, striking on a nail keg and injuring her side quite badly. Within five minutes following the accident, Mr. Edward Bally's little girl, about the same age, fell from a hammock on Mr. Bally's place, nearly opposite Mr. Adams' house, cutting her mouth and sustaining other slight bruises.

—The Newton evening schools re-opened for the fall and winter season Monday night. One, exclusively for the study of mechanical and industrial drawing and architecture, is located in the Clafin building, Walnut street. It is fitted up in fine shape, with everything necessary in the way of a first-class equipment. The number of students enrolled was 42. The school is under the direction of Mr. N. L. Berry, city director of drawing. A school for general instruction in English branches is located in the Jackson building, Watertown street. The number of students enrolled there was 80. The evening school work is under the supervision of Supt. George I. Aldrich.

—Pianos rented and tuned, Farley, Newton.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Shattuck are visitors at the World's Fair.

—Mr. Charles Gibson left here for Chicago this week.

—Mr. George Lowe and family are in Chicago visiting the fair.

—Mr. James P. Tolman and family have returned from the fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fleming are at Sherborn for a short stay.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Putnam are in Chicago this week visiting the fair.

—Mr. Charles Andrews and family of Chestnut street, have returned from a visit to the World's Fair.

—Mr. G. A. Field has sold his estate on Waltham street to Mr. N. B. Good and will remove with his family to the South.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ritchie have returned from Chicago.

—Mr. F. E. Hunter of Putnam street, who has been quite seriously ill is convalescing.

—Mrs. Mary C. Howes, the temperance lecturer, will speak in the City Hall, Sunday afternoon.

—Mr. J. R. Robertson and family, formerly of Waltham, have taken possession of the Davis house on Exeter street.

—Mr. W. E. Sheldon and family returned this week, and are again occupying their residence on Highland street.

—Mr. J. C. Melville and family moved into their new house on Highland street this week.

—Mr. Richard Anders called for Europe last Saturday from New York.

—Miss Alice Walton, Ph. D., has been placed in charge of the classical department of Dr. Sack's private school for young ladies in New York City.

—Mr. W. H. Mague has returned from Chicago, where he enjoyed a hasty glimpse of some of the interesting features of the Columbian Exposition.

—Newton lodge, I. O. O. F., is making arrangements for a series of winter entertainments, the first of which is announced for Monday evening, Nov. 6.

—The first electric launch ever floated on the Charles river will receive her maiden dip at Waltham next week. The launch is the property of Mr. A. F. Fiske.

—F. J. Titus, the well-known Chicago wheelman, is training on the 4 1/2 mile course, which turns at the corner of Auburn and Lexington streets.

—Mr. E. W. Wood was chosen delegate to the State board of agriculture at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society held Saturday.

—Mr. Robert A. Barbour and Miss Mary Barbour started Thursday for the World's Fair. Mr. Barbour will have charge of the Raymond excursion.

The Beverly Brothers will send their team to attend to all orders from Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands received at their bakery, 354 Centre street, Newton.

—Loyalty Lodge of Good Templars will hold their second public meeting next Sunday afternoon at 3.15 o'clock in City Hall West Newton. Mrs. Mary S. Howes of Somerville will deliver an address on temperance; good singing, both solo and congregational. All are cordially invited.

—The Tufts medical school, which has been established this year on Boylston St., and of which Dr. Albert Nett is dean, opened Wednesday with an attendance of 58 men. It is estimated that the entering class numbers 100 persons, 18 of whom are women.

—In the police court Tuesday, Mary Regan, complained of for maintaining a liquor nuisance, had her case continued until Nov. 4. Mary Lyons for maintaining a liquor nuisance was fined $100 and sentenced to three months in the house of correction at East Cambridge.

—The West Newton Woman's Educational club will give a reception at the residence of Mrs. E. N. L. Walton, Chestnut street, Friday evening, Oct. 27.

—The Veteran Firemen's house has been placed on its new site on Watertown street.

—Mr. F. F. Raymond and family have returned.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pond were guests at the Aborn-Berry wedding, Winchester, Wednesday evening.

—Miss N. M. Johnson, who has been spending a month in New York, has returned to her home with Mrs. Burgess.

—Mr. A. Friend has moved into his new house on Prince street.

—Mr. W. H. Mague has been awarded a big contract by H. O. Havemeyer, Greenwich, Conn.

—Mr. C. O. Thomas' new house on Prince street will soon be ready for occupancy.

—Mr. A. F. Wright has placed a hand-some new music box on his counter, where for a penny in the slot a sweet music is dispensed.

—There are letters at the postoffice for Mrs. Annie Cain, John Connor, Mrs. Herbert Pearson and Miss Etta M. Vahay.

—Mr. C. T. Pulsifer lost two valuable horses in the barn which was burned at Lexington Wednesday night.

—Mrs. G. C. Littlefield and Miss Helen Littlefield have returned from Chatham.

—Mrs. S. K. Billings has returned from Oxford Maine.

—Officer Purcell brought back a young girl, this child, who ran away from the Williston Home. She has been sent on recommendation of the state agent to the Lancaster Industrial school for an indefinite term.

—The Newton Woman's Suffrage League will observe Halloween by giving an appropriate entertainment in the Unitarian church parlors. Burn's halloween poem will be illustrated with tableaux.

—Mr. Geo. A. Fewkes having had twelve years experience as clerk for B. F. Houghton, West Newton, has purchased the grocery store formerly owned by T. F. Melody, Auburn St., Amherst.

—Alderman Hunt wife and daughter, Mr. Alderman Pike and wife and several other Newton people go to the World's Fair with the Houghton party, Tues., Oct. 17th. The last trip will be made Sat. Oct. 21st.

—Rev. W. E. Strong of Beverly will preach next Sunday morning at the Congregational church, at 6 p. m. there will be a Harvest Service of the Sunday school in the church at which Rev. Mr. Strong will speak. On Friday evening the annual fellowship meeting will be held in the parlors and the chapel. At 6 p. m. the social hour, at 6 p. m. the tea hour, at 7 p. m. chapel service with roll call.

—The next regular meeting of the Newton Congregational Club will be held in the parlors and chapel of the Second church on Monday evening, October 16. The address of the evening will be given by the Rev. George Thomas Dowling, D. D., on the topic, "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." The doors will be open at five o'clock; supper promptly at six.

—A course of four readings is in anticipation under the auspices of the Newtonville Woman's Guild, to be given by Miss Fay Davis, who so charmingly entertained many of our ladies at the reception given by Mrs. Samuel J. Brown last April. Subjects, "Angelo," "Scenes from Shakespeare," "Short Stories" by Ruth McEnery Stuart and Richard Harding Davis, "Extracts from Luella." These readings will be held alternate Tuesday, beginning Oct. 24, at the Universalist vestry. People are cordially invited from all the Newtons. Tickets can be obtained at the door.

—The street light committee is considering the advisability of establishing an entirely new plant for the city, and also the desirability of purchasing the present plant of the Newton and Watertown Gas Company, which is believed by many that the city cannot be compelled to purchase the existing plant, as it lies outside of the city limits in Watertown. Another plan, which is receiving the serious attention of the committee, is to locate wires and electric lights on all the principal streets, and open competition to determine what company shall supply the necessary power. This idea originated, it is said, with Ex-Alderman J. W. French.

—The Ladies Home Circle enters upon its sixth year, and has taken possession of the large membership and growing interest in good work made it necessary to secure for the regular meetings, held twice each month, the Unitarian church parlors. The annual meeting was held Oct. 4th. After the election of officers a five o'clock tea was enjoyed by all. The following officers were elected: Pres. Mrs. George M. Fiske; vice-pres. Mrs. Mrs. Chas. Kimball, West Newton; sec'y Mrs. E. G. Wilson, West Newton; treas. Mrs. J. M. H. Smith, Upper Falls. The various committees will be announced later.

A New Theory of Sleep.

Some discussion has been going on concerning Herr Rosenbaum's recently proposed theory of sleep—namely, that the anæmic condition of the brain is due to an excess of water in the brain cells of that body. The supposition, as stated, is that sleep is essentially a matter of nervous action, and the direct cause is thought to be fatigue of the nerve cells which communicate with the heart and bring about some change in the circulation. The nerve cells are thus supposed to be full of water when sleep comes on, and this water during sleep passes into the venous blood as waste, and the nerve cells then receive nourishment from fresh arterial blood. Then when the process is entirely over the sleeper awakes.

According to this theory, sleep is not solely healthy because it rests the body and brain, but also because it invigorates them. It is also to be inferred from Rosenbaum's theory that the nerve cells and brains of infants who sleep so much must contain more water than is to be found in those of adults, and that the effectiveness of brain cells is in inverse ratio to the water contents.—New York Tribune.

How to Live if You Wish to Live Long.

Aside from the very important and controlling influence of inheritance, of diet and of temperate habits, the points to be learned from the few statistical data attainable are that longevity is promoted by a quiet, peaceful life in a retired and rural community, where there is freedom from nervous strain and worrying and excessively laborious toil. The business man, with increasing cares and responsibilities, the mill operative toiling hard to keep together the souls and bodies of himself and his family, the politicians, the hardworking professional men, are not the chief contributors to the centenarian ranks. Dr. Holyoke indeed became a centenarian, but his example has rarely been followed by his professional brethren.—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

OUR BOYS' "KNOCKABOUT" School and Play SUITS. $5.

Is a true exponent of what the term "KNOCKABOUT" means, viz:—Tensile strength, stability, firmness and tenaciousness of material, combined with colors that do not show dirt and allow the suit to be handled with impunity during school or play, as it takes care of itself and does not require constant patching, cleaning and mending.

Our "KNOCKABOUT" suit is gotten up to resist hard and unremitting usage, and the cloth used in the manufacture of the suits is subjected to the most rigorous examination and test for purity of fibre, strength of weave, and careful blending of its non-soiling and non-fading colors before we allow a yard of it to be cut.

The suit is substantially trimmed with tough and durable linings, threads, &c.

The seams are double stitched and stayed with tape, rendering them impossible to rip.

The trousers are fitted with our patent "Cavalry" or double knee, and extra pieces accompany each suit.

$5.

THE NAME "KNOCKABOUT" WAS ORIGINATED AND IS COPYRIGHTED BY US, AND THEREBY IS EXCLUSIVELY OUR OWN.

A. SHUMAN & CO.

Manufacturing Clothiers.

Shuman Corner BOSTON.

Special this Week.

During this week only we shall sell our Best Quality 4 B. Suits for $5.49. These gloves are hand-sewed, Trefosse Velt, with large white and Suede colored buttons, and have the newest embroidery. Every pair fitted and guaranteed satisfactory. We never before sold a pair for less than $1.75, and next week we shall sell them at this price. This opportunity to get the highest grade gloves at such a discount will not occur again.

REED, GOWELL & CO.,

52 Temple Place, Boston.

New England.

FIRST N. E. CONFERENCE

—OF—

CHARITIES AND CORRECTION

CHANNING CHURCH, NEWTON, MASS.

October 24, 25, 26.

TUESDAY, October 24. 3 to 5 P. M. Address of Welcome by His Honor the Mayor of Newton. General Reports from the Six States 7.30 to 9.30 P. M. The Work of the Associated Charities. Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant of London, Eng., will speak on Friendly Visiting.

WEDNESDAY, October 25. 9.30 A. M. to 12 M. The Feeble-Minded. 2 to 4.30 P. M. Probation System of Massachusetts. 4.30 to 6.30 P. M. Social Reception. 7.30 to 9.30 P. M. Words Among the Children.

THURSDAY, October 26. 9.30 A. M. to 12 M. Public Relief and Alms-houses.

The Citizens of Newton, Watertown and Waltham are cordially invited to all the meetings.

3308.

REPORT of the Condition of the First National Bank of West Newton, at Newton, in the State of Massachusetts, at the close of business, Oct. 30, 1893.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts, $214,738 41

Overdrafts, secured and unsecured, 4,380 08

U. S. Bonds to secure circulation, 40,000 00

Stocks, securities, etc., 4,251 33

Due from approved reserve agents, 22,258 93

Banking house, furniture, and fixtures, 800 00

Current expenses and taxes paid, 49 33

Premiums on U. S. Bonds, 3,825 25

Checks and other cash items, 1,036 46

Bills of other banks, 2,000 00

Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents, 182 97

Specie, 5,253 27

Legal tender notes, 8,000 00

Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation), 1,800 00

Total, $304,337 63

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, $100,000 00

Surplus fund, 7,500 00

Undivided profits, 2,064 02

National Bank notes outstanding, 26,000 00

Dividends unpaid, 1,130 00

Individual deposits subject to check, 149,284 21

Demand certificates of deposit, 1,750 00

Time certificates of deposit, 129 40

Bills payable, 5,000 00

Provided towards Taxes, 1,480 00

Total, $304,337 63

STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS, COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX, ss:

I, Edward P. Hatch, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

EDWARD P. HATCH, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 9th day of Oct., 1893.

ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, Notary Public.

CORROBORATE—Attest:

JAMES H. NICKERSON, ALFRED R. MURPHY, FRED E. CROCKETT, } Directors.

MINER ROBINSON, ELECTRICAL ENGINEER.

12 Pearl St., Room 27, Boston. Residence, Chestnut St., W. Newton.

The fitting of private residences for the Electric Light a specialty.

High grade electrical work of every description.

Boston. 3311. TELEPHONES—W. Newton, 234.

Concrete Walks and Driveways.

The season for this work is now open, and we should be glad to receive orders or make estimates for parties wishing work in private grounds.

Having laid the Newton public sidewalks for the past sixteen years, the quality of our work is well known. Communication by mail will receive prompt attention.

SIMPSON BROTHERS, Newton.

Boston Office, 166 Devonshire St., Room 5B

NEW.

Fall Millinery!

Grand Display of the Latest Designs in French Millinery, and Very Much Lower Than Boston Prices. We Invite the Ladies of the Newtons to Inspect Our Assortment.

J. W. MACURDY,

Waltham,

133 MOODY ST., South Side.

To find Our Store please leave the Electric Cars at Hall's Corner.

Ladies' Misses' WINTER CARMENTS

In Latest Designs At

FRANK MAYNARD'S

69

ALAS!

A little thought of doubtful kin Came hounded himself my heart within,
And spied around, and furled his wings,
And tried my heart's long silent strings,
And to the sound he wakened there
I sang a song upon the air—
A song, and songs, and ever more
I never sang so sweet before
Until a whisper came and staid
The sweetest songs I ever made,
And told me 'twas a very sin
Had made himself so snug within
And so I took that busy sprite,
That was my helper and delight,
And drove him far before my fears
And cleansed his dwelling with my tears.
But since I turned him out of door
I sing my happy songs no more.
—Maud Egerton King.

THAT UMBRELLA.

Patter! patter! The rain was pouring down on the glass portico. A sudden storm had swept up out of a clear sky. Every one was caught unawares. The stray cabs were seized in a moment, the omnibuses crowded before you could look around. There was actually only one umbrella in the stand by the door of the Cafe de Luxe. I stood, in a new hat and a light gray frock coat, and eyed the umbrella speculatively. I knew the owner. He had just gone to lunch. He was a large and long lumberer. I was in a hurry. Perhaps the storm would pass. I could send it back by a commissionaire. I was very apt to take cold, and my appointment was really very important.

This prompted of Satan, I put forth my hand toward the umbrella. At the moment I perceived, like a stage villain, that I was observed. In fact, I was not alone. A young lady of most attractive appearance stood a few feet from me, also under the portico, gazing wistfully out into the wet. She wore a summer costume. She looked at her watch, then again at the storm, and murmured disconsolately, "Oh, I shall be late." An instinct of generosity overcame me. Without another thought for my sensitive chest or my light gray suit, with a firm proprietary air, I laid hold of Dawson's umbrella.

"Allow me," said I, "as cabs seem unobtainable, to offer you an umbrella." A glad light leaped into her eyes. "Oh, I couldn't," she said. "What would you do?"

"I don't mind a wetting," I answered heroically. "Pray take it. You can send it back here at your leisure" (Dawson could not have much more than finished his soup).

"I couldn't think of it," she repeated. "You will get soaked through."

A sudden thought struck me. After all, I had no business to lose sight of Dawson's umbrella.

"Perhaps," I ventured to suggest, "our roads lie the same way. It's a large umbrella." And I opened it. It was not a very large umbrella, but how could I know that?

"I go this way," said she, with a motion of her head westward.

"My way," I cried. "Come, this is providential."

We started. "If you wouldn't mind taking my arm," said I, "we should be better sheltered."

"Oh, perhaps we should. Thank you!" And she nestled quite close to me. We walked along, talking. My left shoulder got all the drippings, but somehow I was indifferent to that.

"Are you sure you are thoroughly sheltered?" I asked.

"Perfectly," she answered. "But you're not, I'm afraid. You're too kind. Mamma will be so grateful."

I liked this simple friendliness. "I thought there was no chance of rain today. You are more careful, Mr. Dawson."

I could not repress a little start. "You know my name?"

She laughed merrily. "It's on the umbrella—half an inch long," she said. "I couldn't help reading it."

There it was—"Joshua Dawson, 4 Calceolaria Villas, West Kensington, W." Somehow the address annoyed me—I myself live in St. James street.

"A strange way to make acquaintance, isn't it?" she asked, with a coquettish glance.

"Delightful. But you haven't allowed me to make acquaintance with you yet. Haven't you your name anywhere about you?"

"My name is Lydia Lovelock," she said. "Don't you like it? It's prettier than yours."

"Certainly prettier than Joshua Dawson," said I, wishing Dawson had chanced to be a duke.

"Joshua Dawson isn't pretty," she observed, with candid eyes; "now, is it?"

"Then you wouldn't take my name instead of yours?" I asked, to keep up the conversation.

"Your umbrella's enough to take for one day," she said, with a blush. As she spoke she slipped and all but fell on the shining pavement. She gave a little cry, "Oh, my ankle!" and leaned heavily upon me. I held her up.

"I believe I've wrenched it badly," she added. "Oh, what a lot of trouble I'm giving you Mr. Dawson!"

She looked lovely—I give you my word, positively lovely—in her pain and distress. I don't think I said so, but I said something, for she blushed again as she answered:

"That's very nice of you, but how am I to get home?"

"I must come with you," I said. She shook her head.

"I can manage now."

"But you'll never be able to get out."

"Oh, yes. But—perhaps—the rain's almost stopped—may I keep the umbrella? There are some steps to mount to our door, and—"

Now, could I do anything else than press Dawson's umbrella upon her? She took it, and with a last bewitching smile vanished from my sight. I turned and almost ran back to the Cafe de Luxe, determined to make a clean breast of it to Dawson. When I was 50 yards off, I saw him under the portico. The manager and four waiters stood round him in disconsolate attitudes. One or two of his remarks—he was talking very loud—reached my ears. I changed my mind. I would wait till he was calmer. I turned away, but at that instant Dawson caught sight of me. A second later he was pouring the story of his wrongs into my ear.

Here came my fatal weakness. I let him go on. He took me by the arm and walked me off. I could not escape him, and all the way he thundered against the thief.

"If it costs me £30, I'll bring him to justice!" he declared. Really I dared not break it to him just yet.

Suddenly from round a sharp corner there came upon us—almost running in to us—Lydia Lovelock herself, with Dawson's umbrella in her hand. He had been narrowly scanning every umbrella we passed. He scanned this one and cried, darting forward:

"My umbrella!"

With a little scream Lydia turned and fled. Dawson was after her like an arrow. I pursued Dawson. Why, oh, why, did she run away? Surely she must have recognized me.

It was a very quiet street we were running up, and our strange procession attracted little notice. The chase was soon over. I caught Dawson just as he caught Lydia. For a moment we all stood panting. Then Dawson gasped again: "My umbrella! Thief!"

Lydia seemed very agitated. Of course I came to her rescue. Avoiding Dawson's eye, I hastily told my shameful tale. Lydia's face brightened, but still there was apprehension in her looks.

"This lady, believe me," I said, "is entirely blameless. Of course she thought the umbrella was my own. My sole consolation, Dawson, is to think that had you been in my place you would have done the same."

"I don't see," remarked Dawson rudely, "why it consoles you to think me a thief."

I preserved a dignified silence.

"However," he continued, "if this young lady has quite finished with my property, perhaps she will be good enough to give it me back."

Lydia did not take the hint. She clung to the umbrella.

"If—if you would be so kind," she stammered, "as to lend it to me for today—the weather is still threatening—I would return it tomorrow."

"Your request, madam, is a modest one," answered Dawson sarcastically, "but, as you observe, the weather is threatening, and I want my umbrella. Kindly give it me."

"Really, Dawson, to oblige a lady"—I began.

"Why don't you buy her an umbrella?" sneered Dawson.

"If she would accept it, I should be"—I stopped. To my surprise, Lydia laid her hand on my arm and said: "Oh, do, please! And may I keep this till we get to the shop?"

I did not understand her, but we turned round and began to walk, looking for a shop. She was a very strange girl. She lagged behind. I had to wait twice for her. Once she took a turning as though to leave us, and when I called her back she pouted.

Suddenly Dawson looked up. "It rains," he said.

It did rain.

"Put up the umbrella," said Dawson roughly.

"Let the lady have it," said I indignantly.

"We'll share it," grinned Dawson.

"You can get wet."

But Lydia did not put it up. "The rain's not much," she faltered. It was now pouring. With a muttered oath, Dawson snatched the umbrella from her. Lydia shrieked and ran away like a frightened rabbit—ran at the top of her speed up the street again.

"Stop, stop!" I cried. "Stop, my dear Miss Lovelock."

"Holy powers!" exclaimed Dawson.

He had opened the umbrella. As he did so there was a thud on the pavement—two, three thuds. In amazement I looked down. There lay a silver cigarette case, two purses and a gold watch. Dawson burst into maniacal laughter as he pointed at Lydia's retreating figure. That girl could run.

For a moment I stood dumfounded. What a revelation! Dawson chuckled in satanic glee. Sadly I stooped down and picked up the purses, the cigarette case and the watch.

"Great Scott!" I cried, and my hand flew to my waistcoat pocket.

It was my watch!

I did not prosecute Lydia because I could not have overtaken her, and for other reasons. It was altogether too sad, too disheartening, too disappointing a discovery. Dawson, however, observed that it seemed to him an excellent example of poetic justice in real life.—St. James Gazette.

Treatment For a "Wild Hair."

A "wild hair" is the most annoying freak of nature a man can be afflicted with. It grows in from the eyelid, instead of out, and constantly brushing against the eyeball sometimes causes an irritation that results in the loss of sight. To pull it out gives only temporary relief, since in a few weeks it comes back as well grown and strong as ever. The only way to kill it is to destroy the sac from which it springs. This is done by means of the electric needle, which is pressed into the sac and a current turned on. A sharp prick is felt, and the hair is forever dead.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Odd Ways of Shaking Hands.

The black kings of the African coast press your middle finger three times as a sign of salutation, the Japanese takes off his slipper, while the Laplander pushes his nose vigorously against you. In Hindostan they salute a man by taking him by the beard, while the people of the Philippine islands take your hand and rub their face with it. The king of Ternate rises to receive his subjects, and they sit down to salute him.—F. H. Stauffer in Kate Field's Washington.

AMERICAN CHILDREN.

WHEREIN THEIR EDUCATIONAL TRAINING IS DEFECTIVE.

The Subtle Distinction Between "Instruction" and "Education" Made by the Clever and Far-seeing French—The Need of American Youth.

A subtle distinction between "instruction" and "education" is admirably drawn by that people most highly endowed with a strong analytical faculty. The French, with the habit of keen scrutiny, thorough investigation and just deduction usual with them. The difference existing between acquired knowledge on the one hand and inculcated virtues on the other has been embodied in these separate appellations, which carry with them two distinct meanings. Both may be largely possessed apart from the other.

But when both are combined in one individuality the highest degree of excellence has been obtained of which the human race is capable.

With us in America it is fair to state that instruction from books, in school and college, where the aim must of necessity be only the development of the mind and intellect, in conjunction with religious teachings from the pulpit and at the fireside, sums up the education generally given to the youth of the country, even among the prosperous and the wealthy. But between these two lines of education, both admirable and necessary, stands a more subtle and intangible form of mental and moral training which embraces the development of the finer chords of both the intellect and the sentiments having for effect not only to instill a desire for knowledge and virtue and a repudiation of vice, but to educate as to the desirability of that superior excellence which enables the possessor to strive for the ideal graces and beauties, which, when understood and practiced, produce a perfect civilization.

That religion alone cannot give this result is shown by the fact that the extreme and beautiful polish to character and the broad aesthetics it evolves have been possessed by men and women who have acknowledged no attachment to religious creeds and again by members of Christianity and paganism alike, while the bookworm and the savant, whose mind is the crowded receptacle of a marvelous agglomeration of knowledge, may be absolutely lacking in this particular phase of culture.

It is this education, which does not apply exclusively to the intellectuality nor to the moral sense, but envelops the whole being through a cultivation of the receptive faculties and finer instincts, which is denominated "education" by the French, and which should be applied with greater care in America to the training of youth, for as a factor in enlightenment and progress its value is enormous. With the many splendid qualifications given by nature to the American citizen, and which the political institutions under which he lives has fostered, his sturdy self dependence, spirit of inquiry, his energy and natural intelligence, if aided by a strong development in this direction, would produce remarkable results both in the individual and for the masses.

For it is evident that from a cultivation of this phase of the human mind springs the conception and execution of all that pertains to the arts, fine and industrial, they being the tangible expressions of the aspirations and genius of those from whom they have emanated. Unless the trend of a people be toward an ideal existence, stretching beyond the absorption of effort merely to supply the wants of man's physical life, neither poet, sculptor nor painter nor the artistic and accomplished artisan will emerge to adorn and testify to their civilization and their superiority. Indeed expansion in this direction proves the condition of national life with a sure and true precision.

The time has come when an education tending toward similar results should occupy public thought in this country. heretofore too exclusively engrossed in solving the problem of national existence. It is just to say, however, that there has been an advance, noticeable in large centers, which has been brought about by friction and competition and the contact with our nationalities, varying opinions and antagonistic creeds. But the general improvement has not been in accord with the capabilities in that direction of the American people, nor proportionate with the increased wealth, for outside of our large cities, in the interior portions of the country, life is still unjustifiably primitive, and those living on plain and frontier, in mountain and forest, are uncultured beyond what their isolation would justify. Again it is noticeable that the education of the children of those classes possessed of ample means is in these United States generally superficial. The American early youth among the educated classes, which are those exerting the most influence on the destinies of a people, is not subjected to that sober discipline deemed necessary by the older nations of Europe as being a protection to them, against their own irrelative impulses, through mental habits thus enforced, and as constituting a desirable tutelage in preparation for the later severe struggles of life. The overindulgence generally accorded the American child and youth is the cause of a general disregard of authority and careless attitude toward obligations, a distinctive feature of the American youth. On the part of those in authority the effort would seem to be to gloss over the unground basis of a scanty learning by some few gaudy accomplishments, equally superficially possessed.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Wise Lad.

"If fishes knew enough to live in the ground instead of water," remarked Frank, "they could get all the worms they wanted without hooks in them."—Harper's Young People.

STEAMBOATING ON THE OHIO.

It Was at the Height of Its Prosperity Half a Century Ago.

It was from 1840 to 1853 that steamboating was at its height. Fortune was made in those years by men who owned and ran boats. There were lots of steamers on the river then. The embryo industries of that period depended on the river entirely, for railroads had only been proposed—not built. About 100 steamboats were built at Pittsburgh annually to run on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. This city was noted for the trim crafts it placed on the water, as some of the biggest and best running steamers were built at the headwaters of the Ohio.

The boats of the early steamboating days were all side wheelers. It was not until late that the advent of the stern wheel boats occurred, and when it did they were not looked upon with favor by the denizens of the side wheel crafts. The rivermen regarded them as an inferior kind of boat, on whose decks it was beneath the dignity of a first class steamboatman to tread.

The packets were of good size and stoutly built. They were not supplied with swinging stages and steam capstans, and their engines were of sure but not so graceful movement as engines now, and electric lights for steamboats were not even dreamed of. But they served their purpose in making big money for their owners.

There was but one organized packet company running boats down the river from Pittsburgh. It was the old Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet line, and it owned about 25 steamboats, some of which left the Pittsburgh wharf daily. Among them were the Buckeye State, the Hibernia, Pittsburgh, Crystal Palace and Pennsylvania. These boats were all stoutly built and especially adapted for fast running. The laws relating to racing were not so stringent then as now, and exciting contests of speed on the river occurred daily.

One of the swiftest of the packets was the Pennsylvania. She was the largest of the Cincinnati boats and made some splendid records on the Ohio. She was 210 feet long and 31 feet beam. Another fast steamer was the Alleghany. She was not so large as the Pennsylvania, but was almost as speedy. Some of these old Cincinnati Packet line boats were sunk, a few burned, and the others wore out in the river service.

Besides the Cincinnati company's packets there were several steamers, most of them owned by Pittsburghers, which ran down the river and which had no regular trades, but made trips whenever and wherever there was occasion for their services. They were chiefly to St. Louis and New Orleans, the trip to the last named point being completed in about 20 days. There were a few boats running up the Monongahela and Alleghany rivers. Brownsville was as far up as the slackwater improvements extended on the Monongahela, and Franklin was the head of navigation on the Alleghany.—Pittsburg Post.

A Dardistan Legend of a Bear.

Two women, a mother and her little daughter, were one night watching their field of Indian corn—"makai"—against the inroads of the bears. The mother had to go to her house to prepare the food and ordered her daughter to light a fire outside. While she was doing this a bear came and took her away. He carried her to his den and daily brought her to eat and drink. He rolled a big stone in front of the den whenever he went away on his tours, which the girl was not strong enough to move.

When she became old enough to do this, he used daily to lick her feet, by which they became swollen and gradually dwindled down to mere misshapen stumps. The girl eventually died, and the poor bear, after vain efforts to restore her to life, roamed disconsolately about the fields.—Dr. Leitner in Asiatic Quarterly.

A Book Brought Down From Heaven.

According to Mohammedan belief, the first copy of the Koran, or Alkoran, their sacred book, was brought down from the highest to the lowest heaven by Gabriel on the mysterious night of Al Khade in the month of Ramadan. This wonderful book, written in heaven and bound in satin, jewels and gold, was communicated to Mohammed at different times during a period of 23 years. This was done, according to Mohammedan belief, either by Gabriel in human shape or by God himself. When Gabriel acted as translator and communicator, he did so "with a great sound of music and bells." God appeared either "veiled or unveiled during Mohammed's waking hours or during dreams at night."—St. Louis Republic.

Why Not?

Appropos of Marion Crawford's remark about our mustached butlers, that they amused him after the shorn ones of England, why won't somebody say that our butlers—our American butlers—wear mustaches, and we, when abroad, find it amusing to see the English butlers smugly shaven, and wonder why their masters do not insist that their mouths be covered. Will the time ever come when we will dare to be Americans? There are great lessons to be learned from the older nations of the world, great models to be studied and wisdom to be gotten from the experience which is the accretion of centuries, concerning which the taste of one cultivated community is as good as that of any other.—New York Times.

The Cat Was Hungry.

A young lady bookkeeper employed in an office at South Manchester, Conn., has been in the habit for some time past of giving the office cat a piece of meat for its lunch every day. Precaution is taken to lay a piece of paper under the meat to avoid greasing the floor. The other day at lunch hour, when there was no meat, pussy begged for some in her most intelligent fashion, and at last going to the wastebasket dragged forth her regular paper table cloth and laid it properly for the meat.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith

Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

For the cure of all diseases originating in impure blood, the best remedy is

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Cures others, will cure you

Real Estate and Insurance.

BUY, SELL, RENT, MORTGAGE

—YOUR—

REAL ESTATE

THROUGH

Henry W. Savage

Office for ALL NEWTON.

1261 Washington St. WEST NEWTON.

TELEPHONE 73 2.

MY LIST COMPRISES

The finest building sites in West Newton, Newtonville and Newton Centre where there is the most activity. Also tracts in all this territory, very desirable for development. A large number of very attractive new houses. Fine old estates and comfortable homes at moderate prices. Both for sale and to let. Constant demand necessitates my having a complete list.

Mortgages and Insurance cared for promptly.

BOSTON OFFICE:

Opp. Old Court House, 37 Court Street.

TELEPHONE 2050.

ABAN, TROWBRIDGE & CO.,

725 Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.

Have For Sale in all parts of Newton,

Elegant Estates in Choice Locations.

Houses at All Prices.

Building Lots and Large Tracts of Land for Development, Investment.

Call and see Plans and Prices. We insure houses, furniture, stables, stocks of goods, etc.

T. W. TROWBRIDGE, Notary Public. Justice of the Peace.

FOR SALE!

JOB

This well-front, new, colonial house at Newton Centre, near of Parker Street and Glenwood Avenue, 9 finished rooms, large hall and bath room, cemented and plastered cellar, Kohler furnace, Yale hardware, halls and mantels in oak, all modern improvements. Built by one of the best builders in New-on. Large sloping lawn, shaded by beautiful oak and chestnut trees, and facing 125 feet on one of the principal driving thoroughfares. Lot contains about 8600 feet, 8 minutes from depot and electric cars. Very desirable neighborhood; high land, sun, air, and perfect drainage. Price, $7500. Apply to

ALVORD BROS. & CO., Agts.,

113 Devonshire St., Boston.

CHARLES F. ROGERS,

Real Estate, Mortgage, and

Insurance Agency.

For selling and leasing Real Estate, and Negotiating Mortgages, Care of Real Estate, and Collection of Rents. Fire Insurance placed in Best Companies at Lowest Rates.

New and desirable Building Sites eight minutes' walk from the R. R. Station, at low price and on favorable terms. Lists of estates for sale and for rent, and all facilities of the office for the prompt and satisfactory transaction of business in any of its branches are extended to all.

John Hancock Building, Room 220,

178 Devonshire Street, BOSTON.

Brickett's New Block. - NEWTON.

FRANCIS MURDOCK,

INSURANCE AGENT,

Gas Office, Brickett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT

placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies.

Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

REAL ESTATE

To Sell or Rent.

INSURANCE, MONEY TO LOAN.

Carriages ready to take customers to see property.

Newton Centre Office: Union Street, opposite Railroad Station.

Boston Office: 113 Devonshire St., Room 24.

SIDNEY P. CLARK,

Newton Centre

Established 1857.

F. G. BARNES & SON,

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance

BROKERS.

Auctioneers for Real and Personal Property.

FOR SALE AND FOR RENT

A large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: 27 State St., Boston; Brickett's Bk., NEWTON.

Undertakers.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Funeral and Furnishing

UNDERTAKER,

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Coffins, Caskets, Robes,

And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand, orders by telephone promptly attended to.

JOHN PHILLIPS

would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton, that he can be found at the above address and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over ten years experience in the business

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

- Benedict, Emma Lee. Pieces to speak. 38,466
- Ellis, Edward S. The Indian Wars of the United States, from the First Settlement at Jamestown in 1607, to the Close of the Great Uprising of 1890; with Numerous Illustrative Incidents. Contains an appendix giving the population, civilization, and religious, vital and criminal statistics, the Indian reservations, areas and how established, from the Indian Commissioner's Report for 1891. 77,217
- Enault, Louis. Nadeve (in French). 43,119
- Gilman, Bradley. The Musical Journey of Dvořák and Debussy. Aims at telling an interesting story, and at illustrating and "lighting up" the rudiments of music. 61,868
- Guiney, Louise Imogen. A Roadside Harp: a Book of Verses, Hardwick, Charles. Christ and Masters: an Historical Inquiry into some of the Old Testament and Contrasts between Christianity and the Religious Systems of the Ancient World; with Special Reference to Prevaling Difficulties and Objections. 92,688
- Hibbard, George A. Nowadays, and other Stories. 61,865
- Horsford, Eben Norton. Lelf's House, a Vineland. Graves of the Northmen by Cornelia Horsford. 77,119
- Miss Horsford publishes her father's paper with an account of her own investigations, thinking the latter may show the probable movements of the Northmen in this country from the time Lelf Erikson discovered Vineland, to the arrival of the Europeans at the end of the 16th century.
- Hudson, William H. Sea-Sickness: its Cause, Nature and Prevention, without Medicine or Change of Diet; a Scientific and Practical Solution of the Problem. 101,681
- Hughes, Robert M. General Johnston. Joseph E. Johnston has been selected as one of the heroes of the Great Commander series, a general to whom has been accorded one of the highest places among the military commanders of the Confederate armies. 93,583
- Kaler, James O. A Coup in New York; or a Coup in the Fresh Air Fund. 64,1359
- Kingsley, J. S. The Naturalist's Assistant; a Hand Book for the Collector and Student, with a Bibliography of 1500 Works for the Systematic Zoologist. 104,486
- Lecky, Wm. Edw. Harpale. A History of Ireland in the Eighteenth Century. 71,402
- Lewis, George H. National Consolidation of the Railways of the United States. 81,251
- The writer favors the control of railroads by the government.
- Lynam, Robert. History of the Roman Emperors from Augustus to the Death of Marcus Antoninus; edited by John T. White. 75,272
- Musick John R. Independence; a Story of the Revolution, (Columbian Historical Novels.) 64,1355
- Parker, Gilbert. The Translation of a Slave. 61,871
- Walstein, Charles. The Work of John Ruskin; its Influence upon Modern Thought and Life. 51,580
- Mr. Walstein considers Ruskin as a writer on art; as the founder of phrenology of nature; as a writer and prose-poet; as a writer on social, political and economic questions; and Mr. Ruskin and the sports and pastimes of England.
- Whittier, J. G. A Memorial of John Greenleaf Whittier, from his Native City, Haverhill, Mass. 96,387
- Winthrop, John and Margaret. Some Old Puritan Love-Letters, 1618-38; ed by J. H. Twitcheell. 55,487
- This correspondence is chiefly a memorial of the life of the writers in England, before their emigration.
- E. P. THURSTON, Librarian, Oct. 11, 1893.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

GLLOBE THEATRE.—Beginning Monday evening next, at the Globe Theatre, we are to have DeWolf Hopper and the entire membership of his globally company, including dainty Della Fox, Miss Grace Golden, the new soprano, Marion Singer, Samuel Reed, Edmund Stanley, Alfred Klein, and others equally as prominent and well known, in a brand new comic opera, entitled, "Panjandrum," which recently terminated a long and brilliant run of 156 nights at the Broadway Theatre, New York City. It will be produced in this city with all the original scenery, costumes and novel effects. DeWolf Hopper is a marked exception to the general rule that "the best goods come in small packages." He has never been condensed. In little Della Fox, Mr. Hopper has a contrasting artist, peculiarly gifted in her own special line, and admirably adapted to heighten his own success in the scenes in which the two appear. "Panjandrum" is in two acts, and its scenes are located in Luzon, one of the Philippine Islands, and in the Island of Borneo. The remarkable introduction, among which is a pair of milk-white Andalusian mules, imported especially from Spain for the production.

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE.—Manager Atkinson has secured a powerful attraction for the Bowdoin Square Theatre next week in the great realistic melodrama of "The Span of Life," which created such a sensation during its long run in this city last season. The remarkable feat of daring, by which the heroine of the play is rescued by means of a bridge made across the chasm of the bodies of her rescuers is by far the most thrilling scene of modern stage realism, and makes a profound sensation at every performance of the play. The scenes in and outside the high-house also afford fine opportunities for strong pictures of sea-faring life and altogether the play is one of rare attractiveness.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.—The first production of Reginald DeKoven's and Glen McDougall's collaborative work "The Algerians," will take place Monday evening at the Hollis Street Theatre. The music of "The Algerians" opens with an Algerian boat scene, followed by a duet, while the stage gradually fills up as the mullein from the neighboring mosque calls the faithful to prayers, and closes with a military solo and chorus upon the entrance of Colonel Lagrange. This is followed by a quartette for four girls and Prince Gregory; then the fire-eating lion-hunter, the Tartarin of Tarascon, precedes the entrance of Celeste, Miss Tempest, who comes ashore in a boat from her yacht singing an old-fashioned sailor song; then a French chansonnette, "The Weather Vane"; then an Algerian tambourine song, followed closely by the finale. The second act opens with a characteristic Eastern serenade for Colonel Lagrange; then follows a duet for him and Celeste, a descriptive song and chorus for Prince Gregory; then comes an Eastern song and dance for Celeste, Suzette and the Tartarin, emblematic of life in a harem. A chansonnette for Suzette and a quaint dance for Tartarin's patimonic attendant and S M lead up to the second finale. The third act is shorter, and contains a soldier chorus and various duets and couplets. Besides Miss Tempest, the cast includes Julius Steger, A. H. Wagner, Adele Ritchie, Max Fignman, Joseph Herbert, Ben Lodge, James S. M. Pitt, Frederick Kelley.

COLUMBIA THEATRE.—The prodigious success of the new and realistic Irish drama, "Glen-da-Lough," was fully anticipated after its many attractive features had once been seen. Miss Clara Lane makes a most bewitching Kathleen. Her singing of "Dermot Astore" has been demanded again and again this week, as it was during the first week. Mr. J. K. Murray has made a study of the old familiar song, "Kathleen Moynihan," and as he sings it (with its composer, Professor F. Nicholls Crouch, in the conductor's chair) he arouses the audience to an enthusiasm which culminates in applause and cheers of the most emphatic description. Next week is the fourth and last of this highly successful play.

Hyde Park's 22; Newton, A. A., O.

Owing to the absence of several of their best players, the N. A. A. eleven was badly beaten by Hyde Park last Saturday.

Hyde Park's interference and team work was far ahead of any seen thus far in Newton this season, and the Newton players should greatly improve in this respect, if they hope to make any showing in the games to be played later.

This cannot be done unless the same players are willing to be on hand at every game and get accustomed to each other's playing.

For Newton the plying of Bond, Rogers and Rising in the line, and the backs, Knight, Tarbell and Wales was excellent.

Knight's good punting saved Newton from much worse defeat.

Next Saturday the first game in the Suburban League will be played with the Needham eleven. The teams lined up as follows:

HYDE PARK	POSITIONS.	NEWTON A. A.
Dewick.....	left end.....	Gardner
Burd.....	left tackle.....	Crane
York.....	left guard.....	Rogers
Lefate.....	center.....	Bond
Hayes.....	right guard.....	Cutler
Freeman.....	right tackle.....	Rising
Howard.....	right end.....	Taylor
Tower.....	quarter back.....	Fitz
Brown.....	half backs.....	Wal s
House.....	(Tarbell
Howard.....	full back.....	Knight
Score, Hyde Park, 25; Newton, 0; touchdowns, Brown, 2, House, 1. Goals from touchdowns, Freeman, 3. Safety touchdowns, Newton, 1. Umpire, L. G. Paul. Referee, T. G. Holmes. Time, 55 m.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

The Seed of La Grippe Had Taken Root.—The Symptoms of That Heretofore Incurable Disease, Consumption, Were as Plain as the Handwriting on the Wall.

—She Expected Death. But Rodolf's New Medical Discovery and Rodolf's Cream Emulsion Banished It From Her System. Her Nerves are Amazed and Astonished.

RODOLF MEDICINE CO. BROOKS, ME.

GENTS.—For the past year I have been in very poor health, owing to a severe attack of la grippe, which left me with a numb feeling in the head, pain in the side and chest, and a very bad cough. I had no appetite, could not sleep, had night sweats, was unable to do any work, in fact I was as sick and miserable as any one could be and live. I had spent quite a sum of money for doctors' bills and had tried a number of medicines that are advertised and guaranteed to cure, but without receiving the least benefit from any of them. I was completely discouraged and had given up hope of ever being able to be about again, when your agent called and encouraged me to give Rodolf's New Medical Discovery and Cream Emulsion a fair trial. I assure you that I had very little faith in it, but as a drowning person grasps at a straw, so I concluded to try your medicines. I commenced to take them according to directions; in about one week I felt better and now after taking about two bottles my cough has entirely disappeared and I am rapidly gaining in health and strength every day. My friends are surprised to see what your medicine has done for me as they never expected to see me so well again. I cannot say too much in praise of Rodolf's New Medical Discovery and Rodolf's Cream Emulsion as they have saved my life. You are at liberty to make use of this letter as you see fit.

Yours Respectfully,

ANN C. SPRAGUE, Prospect, Me. Rodolf's Remedies are for sale by Geo. Ingraham, West Newton; John F. Payne, Newtonville, Mass.

Newton Cottage Hospital.

As there have been indications that the nurses in this institution may at times be overworked, the training school committee carefully considered the subject and made a report to the executive committee at its last meeting, recommending some reduction in the number of lectures per week, systematic outdoor exercise, and the retention of sufficient nurses in the hospital to do its nursing without undue strain. The executive committee voted also, that no nurse be allowed to attend a case outside duty for a period longer than four weeks unless specially authorized by the superintendent.

The new building, provided by the liberality of Mr. Pratt and Mr. Converse, is approaching completion, and has been formally named "The Training School for Nurses." This splendid contribution to the work of the institution will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies sometime in the winter, arrangements for which will be made by a committee headed by Dr. Shinn.

It is the unanimous opinion of the surgical staff, that a new operating room is a pressing necessity. The old operating room is small, inconvenient, and a difficult field for aseptic precautions. Any friend of suffering humanity need look for no better object of benevolence than to provide for this hospital an operating room worthy of the professional skill which is there given to those who need it.

A Tight Market.

(From Judge.)

His Honor—Ten dollars. Hungry Harry—in the present strained condition of the money market, yer honor I shall be obliged to tender you my demand certificate of indebtedness, payable in 60 days.

THE VOTING LISTS.

AS POSTED THEY SHOW A NET LOSS OF 442.

The following statement shows the number of voters by precincts, as posted Oct. 7.

Wards	1		2		3		4		5		6		7
Precincts	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2	Totals
On Lists City Election, 1892	267	310	429	454	355	369	491	128	318	332	369	3-5	519	4706
Loss by deaths, transfers and removal	49	50	58	45	44	54	57	12	35	46	54	55	64	623
Gain by transfer	218	260	371	490	311	315	434	116	283	286	315	310	455	4083
	7	20	16	21	23	19	5	1	7	14	19	13	16	181
Total on Lists Posted Oct. 7, 1893	225	280	387	430	334	334	430	117	290	300	334	3-3	471	4264
															A Net Loss of 442

A Net loss of 442

Stories of Great Luck.

Captain Ben Ferguson, collector on the ferryboat Elite, is always reminiscent. The other day the captain said to me "You seldom hear of a man making $90,000 in one night in these days, but I know of such an instance. Mr. Coleman, who ran a foundry on Washington street, near Brook, did it. In relating it to me he exhibited no delight whatever. His words were: 'Captain, I made $90,000 last night; went to bed early and slept soundly. You know the price of iron went up, and fortunately I had enough on hand, which I had purchased at a low figure, to net me a fortune.' At Captain Ferguson's conclusion the story he told another of how Dennis Long made $200,000 because the price of iron dropped out of sight. It was just at a time when Mr. Long had failed in business and told Captain Ferguson that he was $400,000 in debt.

"Well," said the captain, "Dennis Long went up to Indianapolis to bid on the construction of the city waterworks. There was but one other bidder, and Mr. Long was awarded the contract. Not long after iron began fluctuating and Long's estimate having been made on the basis that iron would advance still more in price, it already being high at the time, he of course found that as it decreased he was reaping a golden harvest. Well, iron went down and down. When it stopped, it was worth hardly anything. Mr. Long, as I said, made $200,000 by this, and he's been making money ever since."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Rats Are Great Travelers.

Rats do not, as one would suppose, remain on the ship, but get off at various ports, and after remaining a while ship on some other vessel for another voyage. The water rats or wharf rats are great travelers and make frequent voyages around the lakes and even around the world—the latter as I discovered while engaged in West India service. There are here now rats from almost every part of the globe. Why, I saw four colossal Jamaica rats, with their white bellies, skipping about in the moonlight a few weeks ago, and only yesterday I killed two Indian male rats not 200 feet from where we were standing.

Rats are great climbers when they find it necessary to be so. Upon one of my voyages not long ago we had a long spell of warm weather, and there was no water in the hold which the small army of rats on board could get at. One night we put some water up at the cross trees and waited for the result. Well, the rats just swarmed up the ratlines and went for the water. We killed as many of them as we could as they came down, and some of them jumped overboard and were drowned. But we could not kill them all, and a few made the entire voyage with us.—Interview in Chicago Tribune.

An Old Fashioned Sleigh.

The sleigh which the Canadians presented to the Duchess of York as a wedding present is a large, old fashioned, three seated affair, which was more fashionable 20 years ago than now. But it is the pattern that she expressed a wish for. It is made of second growth ash, overlaid with curved panels of mahogany. It has high single steel runners, painted scarlet, and has a dark blue body striped with red. It is trimmed with dark blue cloth and has solid silver mounts.

Honor to Newton's School.

The Hugh Chamberlain prize annually awarded to the best member of the freshman class at Yale college who passes the best examination in Greek, was Saturday announced as awarded to Edward Hicks of Bombay, India, who fitted for Yale at the Newton high school. Honorable mention was made of students who fitted at the Hartford high school, Hartford, Ct., and at Phillips Academy, Andover. The unprecedented size of this year's class makes the dispensation of the prize significant of extraordinary high scholarship.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

When the hair begins to come out in combing, it shows a weakness of the scalp that calls for immediate attention. The best preparation to arrest further loss of hair and restore the scalp to a healthy condition is Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Lawyers.
WILLIAM F. BACON,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law
113 Devonshire St., Room 42.
BOSTON.

SPRAGUE & WASHBURN,
Counsellors - at - Law
51 SUMMER STREET, Rooms 13 and 14,
OSTON.
Chas. H. Sprague, Residence, Auburndale.
C. Everett Washburn, Residence, Wellesley Hill

JESSE C. IVY,
COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
113 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.
Residence, Newton. 38-ly

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law
Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washinton Street, Boston.
WILLIAM F. SLOCUM. WINFIELD S. SLOCUM.
Residences, Newtonville.
Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

WALTER H. THORPE,
Counsellor at Law,
28 State Street, Room 55,
BOSTON, MASS.
Residence, Pelham St., Newton Centre
Carpenters and Builders.

G. W. RIGBY,
Carpenter and Builder.
ALL JOBBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Shop: WASHINGTON ST., opp. WABAN
NEWTON MASS.

S. K. MacLEOD
Carpenter and Builder.
Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly
executed.
Bathrooms and Fittings for Plumber's Work
a Specialty.
Shop, Centre Place, op. Public Library
Residence, Boyd street, near sweet.
P. O. Box, 650, NEWTON, MASS.

Veterinary Surgeon
MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S.
Veterinary Surgeon.
BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST.,
NEWTON, MASS.
Telephonic connection.

THEODORE L. MASON,
Agent for the celebrated
Rockford Watch
ELGIN, WALTHAM, and other American
Watches always in stock.
Repairing of Fine Watches, French, Grandfather
and American Clocks a specialty.
All work warranted to give satisfaction.
Eliot Block, Centre Street, Newton, Mass

West Newton Savings Bank

Incorporated 1887.
West Newton, Mass.
AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President.
JAMES H. NICKERSON, Treasurer.
ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk
Trustees—Austin R. Mitchell, Benj. F. Houghton, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Fred-
cott C. Bridgman, Charles A. Potter, Fred E.
Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Cate,
Adams K. Tolman, C. F. Edley, F. E. Hunt.
Committee of Investment—Austin R. Mitchell,
Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Charles
A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett.
Open for business daily, 8.30 to 11 a.m.
Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July and October.

Fitchburg Railroad.

Reduced Rates of Fare
For Round Trip Tickets
On Account of Summer VACATION
EXCURSIONS.

Tickets on Sale June 1 to Sept. 30.
And good until Oct. 31, 1893.
SUMMER EXCURSION BOOK FREE
On receipt of 2c. stamp for postage. Gives information in regard to routes, rates of fare and
list of hotels and boarding houses. Can be obtained at 259 Washington street, Boston, or on application to
J. R. WATSON, Gen. Pass. Agent,

SCALDS
and Burns are soothed at once with Perry Davis'
PAIN KILLER.
It takes out the fire, reduces the inflammation, and prevents blistering. It is the quickest and most effectual remedy for pain that is known. Keep it by you.

Fish and Provisions.

Newton City Market

ALL KINDS OF

Fresh and Salt Meats,
POULTRY AND GAME.

Fish and Oysters

Butter Cheese Eggs
Canned Goods Fruit,
and Vegetables.
413 Centre St., Opposite Public Library.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

FISH OYSTERS,

Vegetables & Fruit of all Kinds

—AT—Bunting's Fish Market,

COLE'S BLOCK.
Established 1877. Connected by Telephone.

Livery Stables.

Daniels' Nonantum Stables

HENRY C. DANIELS, PROPRIETOR.

Livery and Hacking.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landau and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING.

Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention.
Telephone 13-3.

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable

(Established 1861.)
Barge, "City of Newton."
Boat Sleigh, "Snow Bird."

S. F. CATE, West Newton

CEO. W. BUSH.

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

Hacks at depot for conveyance of passengers in any part of the city. Horses and carriages
let for business or pleasure

ELMWOOD STREET.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION

ADVERTISE

IN THE

Watertown Enterprise.

City of Newton.

REGISTRARS OF VOTERS.

1893.

STATE ELECTION, NOV. 7th.

Notice is hereby given that the Registrars of Voters commencing Monday, October 2, 1893, to and including Friday, Oct. 27, 1893, will hold sessions for the registration of male voters and
to correct and revise the Ward Lists at the City Clerk's Office, City Hall, daily during office hours, viz: 8.15 A. M. to 12.30 o'clock P. M.; 2 o'clock to 5 P. M.; except Saturdays,
when the hours are from 8.15 o'clock A. M. to 1 o'clock P. M.; also from 7.30 to 9 o'clock in the evening upon the following dates and at the
places herein named:
Newton Lower Falls—Boyd Hall, Saturday,
October 7.
Nonantum—Athenum, Tuesday, October 10.
Newton Upper Falls—Old Prospect Schoolhouse, Wednesday, October 11.
Newton—Arno's Hall, Saturday, October 14.
At the City Hall on Monday, October 16
Auburndale—Auburn Hall, Wednesday, October 18.
Newtonville—Room 8, Central Block, Saturday,
October 21.
Newton Highlands—Stevens Hall, Monday,
Oct. 23.
Newton Centre—Associates' Hall, Pleasant street, Wednesday, October 25, from 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock.
Also at City Hall on Saturday, October 28, from 12 o'clock M. to 10 o'clock P. M., which is the last session preceding the Election, and
thereafter the Registrars will not, before the Election, add any names to the Registers, except
the names of voters examined as to their qualifications, since the preceding thirtieth day of April.

All persons whose names are not on the Voting
List must appear personally before the Registrars of Voters on either of the days above
mentioned presenting a tax bill of 1893 or other evidence satisfactory to the Registrars.

All naturalized citizens must present their
final papers when they register.

If the father of an applicant was naturalized
before he (the son) became 21 years of age, the
son is naturalized thereby, and must present the father's naturalization papers.

The names of all registered voters of 1892 who are not assessed in 1893 are taken from the voting
list, but such names can be restored by application of such voter in person to the Registrars at any session held for registering voters, and presenting satisfactory evidence therefor.

Every male citizen of 21 years of age and upwards, who has resided in the State one year,
and in the city of Newton since May 1st, 1892,
and who shall be able to read and write, shall have the right to vote at a State election to be held November seventh, eighteen hundred and ninety-
three.

GEORGE E. BRIDGES, Registrars

GEORGE H. BOURNE, of Voters

AMOS L. HALE,

ISAAC F. KINGSBURY,

City Hall, Newton, September 11, 1893. 52-54

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre,

Agent of the GRAPHIC and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. Also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Albert Reid has taken his former position in Richardson's market.

—Mr. E. O. Silver and family of Crystal street have returned from Derby, Vt.

—Miss Alice McLane has returned from her vacation.

—Mrs. F. L. Baldes returned this week from visiting in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Shannon of Lake avenue are visiting the World's Fair at Chicago.

—Mrs. J. H. Humphrey of Rochester, N. H., who has been visiting Mrs. F. E. Banfield, Station street, returned home this week.

—Mr. T. C. Armstrong removed Wednesday from Centre street to Maple park.

—There are letters at the postoffice for Mac Flower, Miss Harriet Kingsbury, Miss Margaret Lyons, Chas. W. Stickney.

—Robert Miller has returned this week from Idaho.

—A newly painted carriage is driven by C. E. Dudley.

—Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. Alva J. Roach on the birth of a son.

—Mr. Harvey G. Ruhe and family have returned from the World's Fair.

—Dr. J. H. Dodge remains about the same at the Boston City Hospital. The turning point of the fever was on Wednesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. G. Frost have returned to their home on Pleasant street, after nearly a year's absence, occupied in travel.

—Mr. C. L. Huckle and family have removed from Pleasant street to Dorchester.

—Mrs. A. B. Rice has returned from South Framingham.

—Mr. J. M. Beck and family of Clark street, have removed to Newton Highlands.

—The First Congregational church pulpit was occupied on Sunday by Rev. Mr. Barnes Worcester, formerly of Haverhill.

—Mr. and Mrs. William E. Armstrong have gone to the World's fair at Chicago.

—Miss Mabel Hawes of Elgin street, who has been travelling through the western states and visiting friends at Pittsford, N. Y., has returned home.

—The new portion of Beacon street, near the Wardwell estate, is a handsome piece of road.

—The hall committee are arranging for a social and dance in the Associates' small hall, next Wednesday evening.

—Rev. Wm. Butler, D. D., made an address Wednesday before the New England branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society who are holding their annual meeting at Lynn, this week.

—Dr. A. S. Sylvester attended the annual convention of the Massachusetts Homoeopathic society in Boston. He was chairman of one of the bureaus.

—Postmaster Ellis attended the meeting and dinner of the Post-master's association held at the United States Hotel, Boston, this week.

—The Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church held a social Tuesday evening in the vestry to which friends were invited. The entertainment feature took the form of a "Senses party" which was greatly enjoyed.

—A young child of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wain fell Friday, cutting his head severely as he required several stitches in dressing it.

—Mrs. Graves, widow of Dr. T. Thatcher Graves, has sold her household effects in Providence and moved to Dorchester.

—The engagement is announced of Miss Minnie Gertrude Speare, daughter of Hon. Alden Speare and Rev. William Ingraham Haven, son of the late bishop, Gilbert Haven.

—At the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society held Saturday, Joseph H. Lee of Chestnut Hill and Wm. C. Strong of Weymouth were elected members of the executive committee.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. G. Frost have returned from a long tour through Southern California and the West. The World's fair was visited on the return trip.

—The Beverly Brothers will send their team to attend to all orders from Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands, delivered at their bakery, 334 Centre street, Newton.

—Mr. John R. Marston died at South Middleboro, Oct. 2nd, aged 78 years. He was for many years a resident of Brighton, and was the father of Mr. Albert C. Marston of this place. The interment was in the family lot in the Cambridge cemetery.

—Mrs. William Bliss is seriously ill with typhoid malaria and was on Monday taken to the Newton Cottage Hospital. There was no improvement in her condition Wednesday and it was feared typhoid fever might develop. She has the sympathy of many friends.

—At the Unitarian church, service Sunday morning at 10.30. Sunday school at 12. The pastor will begin a series of Sunday evening lectures in the parlors on vital and important subjects at 7 o'clock, to which all interested are cordially invited. Subject of morning sermon, "The Sympathy of Religion," subject of evening lecture, "The Congress of Religions at the World's Fair."

—The electric street railway company have consented to run a special through car mornings for the accommodation of the Newton Centre scholars attending the High school. The car leaves this village at eight minutes before eight, and commenced running yesterday morning. The car was put on at the request of the railroad committee of the Newton Centre Improvement Association. Messrs. A. H. Koffe, Frank Edmunds and A. L. Harwood.

—Mr. and Mrs. George F. Wood have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Julia Elizabeth, to Mr. Frank Edward Fennessy, which will take place at the second church, Conley square, Boston, on Thursday evening, Oct. 19, at 7.30 o'clock. A small reception will be given to the most intimate friends immediately after the ceremony, at the residence of the bride's parents. After an extended tour Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fennessy will be at home at their charming apartments, 222 Marlboro street, on Tuesdays of Jan. 2, 16 and 30.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gardiner of Willow street celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Tuesday evening quite unexpectedly to them. It was in the form of a surprise tendered them by about fifty friends who brought with them a handsome centre table as a present to the host and hostess. The presentation was made by Mr. Fred L. Wright of Brighton to which Mr. Gardiner responded. The evening was most pleasantly occupied. Mrs. Wright of Brighton, the well known singer sang several times. A brother of Mrs. Wright added much to the entertainment. The usual social features were followed by an excellent supper. Among those present were Mrs. Wheeler, Somerville, Mr. and Mrs. A. L.

Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Wright, of Brighton, Mr. Walter P. Gardiner, Miss Mary A. Gardiner of Milton, Mr. Dicky of Charlestown.

—Mrs. H. D. Degen is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Q. Adams, Jr., at Orange, N. J.

—Miss Ellen Blake of Worcester is visiting friend here.

—Walter Clifton will start tomorrow for the World's Fair.

—Mr. Swallow and Walter Noble have returned from the World's Fair.

—Rev. W. I. Haven, formerly of this place, offered the closing prayer at the Epworth League Convention in Plymouth, Wednesday.

—Mr. W. M. Flanders has been elected treasurer of the Epworth League, First General Conference District.

—Mr. Martin Weiss and Miss Lillie A. Crockett, both of Newton Centre, were married on Wednesday, Oct. 11, Rev. E. H. Hughes officiating.

—R. L. Rottler of the N. A. A. will represent the club in the B. A. A. twenty-five mile bicycle road race tomorrow.

—The installation of the Rev. Herman Edgar Brady, as pastor of the First Baptist church in Dalton, occurred on Tuesday evening, Oct. 3, The exercises were interesting and impressive.

—Next week's GRAPHIC will contain an excellent written ph raphase on a popular and familiar Scottish war song in verse. The scene is changed to apply to the yacht race between the Vigilant and Valkyrie.

—The stable on the estate of the late Mr. Joseph G. Gunderson on Centre street was burned about 2 o'clock Thursday morning. It was evidently set on fire as nothing was stored in it which could have caused combustion.

—Children jumping upon the electric cars just as they start and when in motion are a constant source of danger to themselves and a great annoyance to the conductor. Parents would do well to instruct their children not to do it if they don't want them hurt or killed.

—A course of four readings is in anticipation under the auspices of the Newtonville Woman's Guild to be given by Miss Fay Davis, who so charmingly entertained many of our ladies at the reception given by Mrs. Samuel J. Brown last April. Subjects, "Angels," "Scenes from Shakespeare," "Short Stories" by Ruth McEnery Stuart and Richard Harding Davis, "Extracts from Lucille." These readings will be held alternate Tuesdays, beginning Oct. 24th, at the Universalist vestry. People are cordially invited from all the Newtons. Tickets can be obtained at the door.

—At the regular meeting of Crystal Lake Division, No. 37, S. of T., Miss Catherine McKenzie, D. G. W. T., and Mrs. Olliott, G. C. installed these officers for the coming quarter: Tineman Withers, W. P.; Florence Stewart, W. A.; Andrew Freeman, R. S.; Josie Baker, A. R. S.; John McFarlin, F. S.; Emma Mossman, Treas.; Myra Goodnow, Chaplain; Hester Ray, Con.; Helen Forrestell, A. C.; Sarah Basto, L. S.; Charles Merriam, A. S.; Thomas Miller, P. W. P. The quarter just ended has been a very prosperous one for this division, twelve new names being added to the roll. Quite a number of propositions have been received and should this continue the present hall will soon prove inadequate. The division intend celebrating its third anniversary by holding an open meeting in the Associates Small Hall Thursday, Oct. 19, to which all are cordially invited.

—Mr. A. D. S. Bell has sold for the Newton boulevard syndicate a lot of 12,000 feet on the corner of Grant avenue and Montvale road, which is now being laid out by Frederick Law Olmstead, and on which which Irving Crowell, Irving street, will immediately erect a fine dwelling house.

A lot has also been sold for the syndicate containing 75,000 feet on Waban Hill road, adjoining the Newton reservoir site, on which Levi W. Scott will erect a handsome dwelling house for his own occupancy. The adjoining lot, containing about 40,000 feet, which was a part of the William Lawrence farm, has been purchased by Mr. A. Jones, who will immediately erect on it a villa in the classical style, costing $15,000 or more. A club stable will probably be erected in the immediate vicinity of Waban Hill road, which will save the necessity of the building of private stables, and the boulevard syndicate and other owners will immediately lay out several new roads on the eastern slope of Waban Hill.

—The adjourned annual meeting of the Baptist society was held Friday evening. Mr. Samuel M. Tourtellot was chosen deacon for seven years, to succeed Mr. C. S. Young. A call was extended to Rev. Howard Montague of Denver, Colo. A telegram announcing his probable acceptance has been received and was read at the Sunday morning service. The new pastor will be installed about Nov. 1. He succeeded Rev. Lemuel C. Barnes, who was called recently to the pulpit of the Baptist church, Pittsburg, Pa. and was at one time pastor of this church. The church is one of the largest of the Baptist denomination in the suburbs of Boston and the congregation of resident Baptists is augmented by the faculty and students of the Newton Baptist Theological Institute. The church is one of the most costly and beautiful in Newton in the Byzantine style of architecture. Rev. Mr. Montague has had a very successful tour at Denver, and is a very eloquent and forcible preacher.

—The Newton Associates have come to a decision regarding the erection of a brick building on their land between Pleasant and Pelham streets. The families occupying the dwelling house and the tenement over the postoffice are vacating the premises, which are to be empty the first of November. The dwelling house will then be removed, the building occupied by the postoffice temporarily moved on to the lot under vacated and a brick building erected on the corner of Centre and Pleasant streets. The block will consist of two or three stories, and will be built to accommodate the postoffice on the street floor, the postoffice authorities having consented to a lease of the building. Tenements will occupy the upper stories. The lines of the new structure will be carried farther front to the street. As soon as the present buildings are out of the way, work will be commenced on the new block, and it is expected that the postoffice will be in its new quarters early in the spring. The plans as originally considered, to erect a building, covering the entire square, are waived for the present but in all probability will be carried out eventually.

—Ida C. Townsend, 18 years old, a daughter in a family residing in the Chestnut Hill district, Newton, visited the Newton police court, Saturday, and swore out a complaint against John Woods and John Wilson, two Brookline young men. She said she was walking home Friday evening from Brookline to Chestnut Hill, and that, in a rather lonely spot, these young men suddenly jumped from behind a tree and one of them caught hold of her. She succeeded in getting away, and ran toward home, both men giving chase. They were unable to overtake her, and she finally reached the house completely exhausted. Wilson and Wood were arrested and arraigned in the police court Tuesday, for assault and battery on Miss Townsend, who told her story of the affair, stated that she was on her way home from Brookline when she was intercepted by Wilson and Wood who seized her and pushed her up against a fence. One of the men put his arm around her waist, but she got away, and ran toward home, both men chasing her. The defendants claimed that no attempt was made to assault the girl, but Judge Kennedy found both men guilty and fined them $10 each, requiring them also to furnish bonds in the sum of $100 to keep the peace for six months.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tarbell have a daughter.

—Next Thursday (St. Luke) there will be a service in St. Paul's church at 8 p. m.

—The Newton Highlands Dramatic Club will give an entertainment in Lincoln Hall during November.

—Miss Jennie Tyler has gone to the World's Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Small of Floral avenue have gone to the World's Fair.

—Mr. S. W. Jones has gone to Chicago on business to remain three weeks and will also take in the World's Fair.

—The next meeting of the Monday Club will be with Mrs. Barnes on Hyde street.

—Mr. A. L. Greenwood and family are at home again from their stay of several months at South Walpole.

—Mr. J. I. Brothers of Newhall building has moved to Cambridge and Mr. Thomas McKenzie and family now occupy the tenement vacated.

—The Chautauqua Circle will meet next Monday with Miss Barall.

—At the Boys' Club last week Harry Bale, Ellery Hathaway, Harold Kellogg and Harry Holbrook were elected members.

—The death of Mr. Ayer, the father of Mr. H. P. Ayer, of the Highlands, took place at Winchester on Thursday.

—Mr. C. M. Bonneau, the janitor at the Clubhouse, opened his Cafe on Thursday at the place formerly occupied by Mr. Plummer.

—Mr. H. A. Spinney, who has been a long time ill, died Wednesday night at Mrs. Snyder's, to which place he was taken on Monday.

—We understand that Miss Louise Pierce are a constant source of danger to themselves and a great annoyance to the conductor. Parents would do well to instruct their children not to do it if they don't want them hurt or killed.

—Mr. Charles French, the leader of French's Business College, a resident of Newtonville, will take charge of the Bible class in St. Paul's Sunday school.

—The Beverly Brothers will send their team to attend to all orders from Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands, delivered at their bakery, 334 Centre street, Newton.

—John W. White of the St. Paul's choir, was not the John White arrested last week, although he has suffered much annoyance from the similarity of names, the arrested man being another John White, who lives here but is employed at Upper Falls.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's parish held their first meeting of the season on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Lucius F. Leonard on Standish street.

—Sherman's market has been moved to one of the stores in Patterson's block which will give increased facility for his increasing business.

—Rev. F. E. Clark will have charge of the services at the Congregational church Sunday morning. He will be present and will give an account of his trip around the world.

—Mr. J. M. Beck of Clark street, who purchased the house which has been occupied by the Pike family for two or three years on Dunklee street, has with his family moved to same.

—The Boys' Club will meet next Tuesday at 7 p. m. After the exercises and business there will be a half hour of soap-bubbles.

—We hear that the postoffice will probably be moved to one of the fine stores in the Patterson block. A petition to have it remain at its present location is being circulated and being signed by a large number.

—Meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. at the Congregational chapel on Tuesday evening at 7.30. It is expected that the Rev. Benj. Dodge of Concord, Mass. will be present and give an account of his work among the Mountain Whites. All are welcomed.

—There are letters at the postoffice for Lieut. W. H. Brown, Mr. Bryne, Ellen Forrestell, Dr. J. A. Hawkes, (3) Rev. Mr. Safford, C. R. Vernon.

—Next Sunday services at St. Paul's will be as follows: Daily Communion at 9.45 a. m. Morning prayer and sermon 10.45 a. m. Sunday school 12.15 p. m. Children's service 12.45 p. m. Evening prayer and address 7 p. m.

—As Mr. O. J. Kimball was walking down Lincoln street, Boston, on Saturday, he picked up two bags containing between seventeen and eighteen hundred dollars which belonged to a gentleman in Brookline.

—Rev. Mr. Havens of West Labanon, N. H., has accepted the call of the Newton Highlands Congregational church to become its pastor at a salary of two thousand dollars, and will probably commence his labors about November 1st.

—The annual Harvest Supper of the M. E. society will be held in Stevens' Hall next Monday evening. Supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock when there will be an entertainment, followed by the sale at auction of fruit and vegetables. All members of the society and lovers of a good harvest supper are invited to attend.

—We hear of a Young Ladies' Cooking Club in Newton Highlands, the members of which belong to some of our best families, who meet once in two weeks at the houses of the members for practical work. We think they are doing a sensible thing, and if there are any young men seeking for a partner of their joys and sorrows, we would recommend that they make an effort to ascertain who the members are before looking elsewhere.

—"Where is Heaven?" Is the subject of an illustrated discourse to be given by N. S. Greet, the famous chalk talker, at Lincoln Hall Sunday evening, Oct. 15th, at 7 p. m. under the auspices of the M. E. Sunday school. This being upon the event of their annual Harvest concert the hall will be appropriately decorated with fruits and flowers. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this service which is expected to be a rare treat.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Miss Jennie Hill has returned from visiting friends in Needham.

—Wm. Kerrivan's car station is being thoroughly overhauled and improved inside in anticipation of the winter season.

—Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Edes. A boy.

—Mail carrier Chambers is wearing a uniform.

—Mrs. Charles Mills, Elliot street, is convalescing.

—Mrs. John McGee has been entertaining friends from Waltham.

—Mr. Henry Lees of Philadelphia has been visiting his brother, Mr. Edward Lees, Elliot street.

—Mr. Thomas Shooker left Monday for Dover where he will spend two weeks vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sherman have returned from Lake Wausau where they have spent the summer.

—The Needham and East Boston played an exciting football game at Needham, Saturday, neither side being able to score in either half.

—Mr. Bernard Billings and daughter, Mrs. O. G. Billings and Mrs. C. W. Johnson are visiting the Columbian Exposition at Chicago. They left Boston Saturday over the Hooseac Tunnel route.

—Mr. Jacob Procter returned this week from Dover where he has been visiting relatives.

—Miss Maggie Cahill of Providence has been visiting Mrs. James Meredith.

—A new express team has been put on in this village by the United States Express Co. who control express traffic on the N. Y. & N. E. railroad.

—Miss Betsey Sutcliffe arrived home last week on the Cephalonia from a summer in England.

—There are letters at the postoffice for Adolphus Gavanan, Malcolm McDonald, Chas. Shaw, Nelson Snow, S. Sullivan, Dan. Turnbull.

—Miss Mamie Leary is in Gloucester for two weeks.

—Mr. Daniel Sullivan, Elliot street, has been quite seriously ill, but is now recovering.

—Work on the new store for the post office is very nearly completed.

—Mr. Frank Fanning is at Chicago this week visiting the World's Fair.

—The Ways and Means Society of the Baptist church met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. J. G. Kempton.

—The belt driving the main power shaft at the Pettes Machine Works broke at about 9.30 o'clock Monday forenoon and stopped the works for the remainder of the day. Everything started up again Tuesday day.

—Patrick Burke has removed to R. Threlk's house on Cottage Hill and John Cusick of Newton Highlands has taken the tenement in Fannings block left vacated.

—This week those who have apple trees are busy picking the fruit. There is a good yield this year.

—Cooper & Dyson have dissolved partnership and Mr. Cooper will continue the grocery business of the late firm in his own name. Mr. Wm. Dyson retains his extensive meat business and has opened a market in Sherman's block which is a model for neatness and where he will make his headquarters when not in his butcher cart. His meat routes keep him busy the early part of each day in the week and the remainder of the time he is at his store.

The Corey Hill Toboggan Club.

Invitations have just been issued for the Corey Hill Toboggan club's first "Smoker" of the season, which takes place at the clubhouse in Brookline on Monday evening, October 16th.

The membership of the club will undoubtedly far exceed that of last year, and many of our Newton young men intend to participate in the sport. Last season proved to be most successful, and the members had the enjoyment of thirty four coasting nights. There were several "Smokers" besides the usual "Carbinals" and "Snow-shoe Parades," and the young people of Brookline, Alston and the Newtons are anticipating many good times during the coming season.

The annual meeting for the election of officers will take place at this "Smoker" and it is hoped that all last year's members will be present.

Over Fifty Teachers of Cookery

(and in their work they must have the best) are using

Cleveland's Baking Powder

"If you want the best, buy Cleveland's."

OFFICE OF THE ATCHISON, TOPEKA & SANTA FE RAILROAD COMPANY.

P. O. BOX 346. NO. 95 MILK ST.

CIRCULAR NO. 69.

BOSTON, OCT. 11, 1893.

TO THE HOLDERS OF THE

GUARANTEE FUND MORTGAGE

6 PER CENT. NOTES.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Company.

THE GUARANTEE FUND MORTGAGES SIX PER CENT. NOTES of the Atchison Company, issued November 1, 1888, and due November 1, 1893, for $9,000,000 (and of which the company acquired since their issue $2,000,000, leaving $7,000,000 outstanding and in the hands of your selves, are upon an underlying lien to the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as well, provision was made for the redemption by the company of the GUARANTEE FUND NOTES five years, or until November 1, 1893, the GENERAL MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. GOLD BOND INDENTURE of the company, dated October 15, 1889, which, originated with the Financial Reorganization of the company, under which, as

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXII.—NO. 3.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1893.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR.

CHANDLER & CO.

CLOAK DEPARTMENT.

FALL AND WINTER ANNOUNCEMENT.

Our exhibit of new ideas and designs in JACKETS, CAPES and WRAPS is now ready for inspection.

The many innovations in styles of OUTER GARMENTS for the coming season makes an early selection imperative for those wishing the choice of these attractive NOVELTIES.

CHANDLER & CO., WINTER ST., BOSTON.

503 Washington Street,
BOSTON.

FINE DRESS SUITS A SPECIALTY.

GARDEN CITY MARKET.

Fresh Fruits, Fish, Meats, Vegetables.

400 Centre Street.

ASHLEY & DOANE,

SUCCESSORS TO—

HOWARD & DOANE.

HAWLEY & MERRY, Ladies' Tailors,

AND—

Dressmakers, Outside Garments and Riding Habits.

SPECIALTY—

Street Dresses, Dinner Dresses, Party Dresses, Reception Dresses, Wedding Dresses, made where ladies furnish their own material, $12 upwards.

274 Boylston Street, Boston

C. LEWIS MARBLE,

Steam & Hot Water Heating.

—GAS PIPING—

Jobbing and Chandelier Work

PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

HIGGINS & NICKERSON'S BLDG,
NEWTONVILLE. 96

CREAM.

THE FAMOUS

Turner Centre Cream,

FOR SALE BY

C. P. ATKINS

Ten Cents for One-Half Pint.

Shirts Made to Order

By E. B. BLACKWELL,

43 THORNTON STREET, NEWTON.

A Perfect Fit Guaranteed.

Best Material. First-Class Work.
Superior Shirts, $1.50. Best Dress Shirts, $2 each.
We call on customers at such time and place
as will suit their convenience.
Repairing is Done Neatly and Promptly.
New Shirts, 50c.; Neckbands, 15c.; Wristbands,
15c.; Cuffs, 30c.; Collars, 25c.; Centre
Plaits, 25c.
Badly fitting shirts made to fit well

Tailors.

C. S. DECKER,

Custom Tailor

326 Centre Street,

NEWTON, MASS.

J. F. MALLIN,

Merchant Tailor.

Foreign and Domestic Goods a Specialty. Gentlemen's garments cut to order, and warranted to
fit. Ladies' Garments, cut, made and altered.
Cleaning, pressing and dyeing at shortest notice.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.

294 Centre Street, Cor. Jefferson, Newton.

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Farley, 433 Washington St.

—Get ready for the Dutch Kirmess.

—Mr. Robert Cody attended the Y. M. C.

A. Conference at Fitchburg, this week.

—S. A. White sells kindling wood at reduced prices.

—Read Savage's Real Estate advertisement.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke preached at Hingham, last Sunday evening.

—Came seat chairs re-seated, 364 Washington street.

—Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant will speak in Eliot church, Sunday evening.

—Mrs. G. O. Worth and party returned on Monday from their trip to the World's Fair.

—Mrs. J. Q. Henry and family returned last Saturday from a ten days' trip to the World's Fair.

—Mrs. George L. Pearson and Miss

Bertha Hamilton left Tuesday for the World's Fair with a large party.

—Mr. Edward L. Lemon and Miss Grace

Lemon were called to Mechanic's Falls,

Me., Tuesday, by a telegram announcing the serious illness of their father, Mr.

Henry Lemon, formerly of Newton.

—Miss Martha Hitchcock has sold the house on Hollis street, adjoining her own residence, to Mr. H. E. Maynard of North-boro, who will occupy it.

—The Ladies Matinee Whist club of twenty will meet with Mrs. E. H. Hames,

Walnut Park, Monday, and begin their fourth season.

—Owing to a union meeting at the Eliot church next Sunday evening, there will be no service in the Methodist church. Rev.

Mr. Bronson will preach in the morning as usual.

—The ladies of the Methodist society are hard at work making large preparation for a fair to be held Dec. 5, 6, and 7 in aid of the new church building fund.

—Mr. H. W. Parker, formerly of Newton, has achieved a brilliant success as a musician. Three of his pieces will be sung in Grace church on Sunday night.

—In the absence of Mr. H. B. Day last Sunday, his place as organist was filled by

Mr. Louis Chapman to the great satisfaction of the congregation of Grace church.

—Mrs. Chas. W. Loring entertained the members of the Social Science Club at her residence, Park street, Thursday, from 3 to 5.

—Meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in the chapel of the Methodist church

Monday at 3 o'clock.

—A lot of land on a prominent street in Newton, containing 23,000 feet, is sold at a sacrifice. Particulars of E. E. Howard, box 65, Newton.

—If you want a stylish and artistic hair-

cut go to Burns, Cole's block.

—An electric wire burned off in front of the public library, last Friday evening, and dropped into the street, just missing a lady who was passing, and occasioned a good deal of excitement.

—Mrs. F. B. Hornbrooke and Dudley

Hornbrooke attended the reunion of the descendants of Governor Thomas Dudley, at the Vendome, in Boston, Tuesday evening.

—Mr. Wellington Howes of the City

Market has purchased a farm in Sherborn, situated on the main road to Natick, consisting of 25 acres of land and good farm buildings, belonging to Hannah M.

Paul. Mr. Howes will occupy it for a summer residence.

—On Saturday last, James F. C. Hyde &

Son sold the B. C. Blodgett estate, No. 147

Newton avenue, consisting of a house of 9 rooms, stable and 18,000 feet of land to

L. E. Coffin and E. F. Barnes for $13,500, subject to taxes and sewer assessments.

—A cordial invitation is given to all who would like to meet the members of the Eliot church choir. Bass and tenor voices are especially needed. Mr. Dunham will receive applications in the choir room on Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock.

—The "Praying Band" of the Emerald street Advent church, Boston, have engaged Alliance Hall, for Thursday evening, and will commence meetings next

Thursday evening, when Eld. A. J.

Wheeler, editor of Christian Reporter, will speak.

—Arthur Porter came in 4th in the B. A.

A. 25 mile race last Saturday. He had changed the gear of his wheel from 64 to 68, or wheeled as he would have come in first. He will enter the 25 mile race this week, to try and break the record.

—Music for Grace church Sunday night:

Seats free to all.

Processional Hymn, "O' twas a joyful sound"

Magnificat

Nure Dimittis

Antiphon, "The Lord is in His Holy

Temple"

Antiphon, "Awake now on thy strength,"

Retreats

Antiphon, "Ten thousand times ten thousand,"

Dykes

—Mr. E. P. Burnham rode in the annual Century ride of the Press Cycle club, Wednesday, and came in with the first in spite of the fact that his bearing case broke and his ball bearings were lost, so that he rode the last 15 miles with this disadvantage.

It was his first century this year. He was the only representative of the Newton cycle club in the party.

—The marriage of T. F. Donovan of Boston and Miss Mary MacCarthy of Baldwin street, was celebrated Sunday evening.

Rev. J. F. Giffether, Church of Our Lady, performing the ceremony. James T.

Dempsey of Boston was best man and

Katherine MacCarthy, maid of honor, after which a reception was held at their future home, Cabot street, Boston, for the family and intimate friends.

—Mr. Oliver W. Turner, who has been a resident of Newton for over 50 years, died at his home, corner of Jewett and Pearl streets, on Monday, at the advanced age of 83 years. He was a gentleman of high character and liberal culture, but has of late years lived so quietly that he was known to but few. He lived with his son's widow, Mrs. Caroline V. Turner, and leaves one daughter, besides a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

The funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon, and consisted of prayers

at the house, and a service at the Newton cemetery chapel, Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke officiating.

—The Young Ladies society of Eliot church gave an enjoyable social Tuesday evening. The special feature of the entertainment was the "Illustrated Library,"

under the direction of Miss Miriam Trowbridge. Different books and poems were represented in a most unique and enigma-tical manner. The prize offered for the best list of correct titles was won by Miss Florence May. Among the most interesting of these book puzzles might be mentioned the following: "A Woman's Reason," (because "New England Nun," (A map of the United States, with New England cut out) "The Light that Failed," (A candle burned out) "One Summer," (Calendar leaves of June, July, and August) "Songs of Our Youth," (Mother Goose) "We

Two," (Small figure 2) "American Notes,"

(Three one dollar bills) "Rejected Ad-

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

NEWTONVILLE, MASS.

Harvard and Richardson Streets, at Corner St. Boston, Mass.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The above cut represents the new church edifice to be erected by the Central Congregational church, on Walnut street, Newtonville, a few rods north of Washington street. The stone will be grey New Hampshire granite, with roof covered with greenish grey slate. The building has a front of 120 feet and will occupy the centre of the lot. Full descriptions with illustrations showing the plan of the edifice, will be for sale at the Dutch Kirmess at Armory Hall, Oct. 31st, and Nov. 1 and 2, for the benefit of the church building fund.

dresses." (List of advertised letters) and "Hymns of Our Faith." (Photographs of four ministers of Newton.)

—Mr. E. S. Hamblen and Mr. H. B. Day returned home this morning from a trip to the World's Fair.

—Mr. George S. Bullens is in Chicago visiting the fair.

—Ladies night was observed at the Nonantum clubhouse Wednesday evening. The music for the occasion was furnished by the club orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Thomas Whitehead.

—The Nonantum Bicycle club will be re-organized in the Spring and will probably enter the L. A. W.

—The members of the new hose company located in the Nonantum district are congratulating themselves upon the good showing made in runs to recent fires.

—Mr. Albert Hanson of Dalby street was given a surprise party last Friday evening and made the recipient of a handsome silk umbrella.

—Mr. John Cutler of Washington street has returned from a two week's visit to Chicago.

—Mrs. William L. Lowell will take charge of the meeting of the Channing Guild at 6:45 p. m. Sunday in the church parlor. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

—The hair dressing rooms in Cole's block have been successfully conducted by John T. Burns, have been recently supplied with one of the best equipment of adjustable revolving and reclining chairs in the city. They were the celebrated "Crescent" pattern from a St. Louis manufacture, richly upholstered in old-gold plush. The frames are solid oak.

—There was a large attendance at the Harvest Festival at the Immanuel church Sunday evening. The address by Miss Lucy Wheeler was interesting and she held the rapid attention of her audience, the children being particularly interested. Miss Wheeler has rare talent in dealing with children.

—Nonantum Colony 77, U. O. P. F., at its next meeting, Oct. 23, will decide whether or not to surrender its charter. Every member has a pecuniary interest in the matter and should be present to look after their rights.

—The opening exhibition in Mrs. Baker's studio, opposite the Public Library, which was enjoyed by many yesterday, continues today, and by request through Monday. The invitation is cordially given to those interested and should be accepted and the exhibition enjoyed by all who can attend during those three days.

—Mr. Edward E. Howard has severed his connection with the Howard Ice Co. to accompany Mr. Frederick Williams of Jefferson street on an expedition through the west. A party of young men have been organized at Milton, Mass., for mine prospecting and the above names were suggested and accepted through the influence of Mr. Evan Davis, the leader of the party. The party will start about Nov. 15, and return in April.

—An alarm was rung in from box 115, shortly after 6 o'clock, last Friday evening, for a fire in a wooden two-story building on Centre place. The lower portion of the structure was a storage room for hay. The upper story was occupied by Charles A. Hill house and decorative painter, and S. K. McLeod, carpenter. The fire, which is thought to have been of incendiary origin, started on the ground floor in the southeast corner of the structure. The blaze was checked in time to save the building, and the chief damage was by smoke and water. The heaviest loss was sustained by Albert Brackett, the owner of the structure, who lost the hay stored there, about 20 tons. He was well insured. Mr. McLeod had an insurance of $500 on his stock and tools, and C. A. Hill's stock was insured for $300. The total damage to building and contents is estimated at about $600.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Snow celebrated their silver wedding anniversary, at their residence, 47 Washington street, last Friday evening, and a large number of guests were present. Mr. Snow has been connected with the Boylston bank of Boston for 20 years, and is now paying teller. He is evidently a favorite in the bank as the directors sent him a handsome check and his fellow employees gave him an elegant silver service. Mr. and Mrs. Snow and their daughter, Miss Alice Snow, received the guests, Mrs. Snow wearing her wedding dress, a pearl silk trimmed with duchess lace. Mr. Edward A. Church, cashier of the bank, read a poem on the silver question, especially as connected with the occasion. The ushers were Messrs. J. T. Bailey, A. B. Davenport and A. L. Cheney. The supper was furnished by Mr. Paxton and White's orchestra furnished music. The house was decorated with ferns and tropical plants. Among the guests were many prominent residents of Newton, and a large number of Boston business friends of Mr. Snow.

AUBURNDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Get ready for the Dutch Kirmess.

—Tooth brushes, 15 to 50 cts. at Thorn's.

—James Maguire has gone to Providence, Rhode Island.

—Contractor Bourne is grading about the residence of Rev. F. E. Clark on Central street.

—Read Savage's Real Estate advertisement.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Pemberton of Woodland avenue have arrived home from the World's Fair at Chicago.

—Mr. John N. Denison and family of Woodland avenue have closed their house for the season and are at their winter residence, 8 Newbury street, Boston.

—T. F. Melody has added three fine new horses to his stable on Auburn street.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

THE MAYOR'S VETO DISREGARDED—A NEW POLICE STATION IN PROSPECT—SEVERAL HEARINGS.

A meeting was held Monday evening by each branch of the city government. There was a vast amount of business done before the branches convened, to judge from the activity displayed by some and the committee meetings in session, which delayed the regular meetings several minutes.

IN SESSION.

The aldermen met at 7.45 with the mayor in the chair and all the members present. At 7.53 after the preliminary preparation had been finished the business of the session was commenced.

The reading of the records was "postponed" on motion of Alderman Roffe.

After making appointments to be confirmed at the next meeting of precinct officers, the mayor declared a hearing opened on laying main drain and common sewer in Webster street.

No remonstrants appeared and it was closed.

THE VETO.

The mayor's veto on the order authorizing the fire committee to purchase five fire alarm boxes and appropriating $750 therefor, came up from the lower branch where it had been overridden.

Alderman Bothfield believed it due to the mayor and to the board to explain the position he felt constrained to take in opposition to the opinion of the mayor, although with the greatest reluctance.

He should vote to sustain the veto if it were not for the long and thorough investigation made by the committee and which had been in every point verified by his own investigation. He felt at first that a change would be dangerous to the welfare of the city and all the pressure brought to bear seemed to him as conclusively against the introduction of a mixed system of fire alarms. The opinions expressed seemed so at variance that in order to form an unprejudiced opinion of his own, he had given many hours to the matter and had come to the decision that the change would not be attended with danger. On that day he had given the matter further attention as he wished if possible to sustain the veto. He saw the secretary of the insurance exchange and members of the committee who stated that the Municipal box was placed on their list after an unbiased examination by C. M. Goddard, expert, to whom all such matters were invariably referred. At the meeting in which a motion was taken forty-three members were present, twenty-two of whom were signers of the petition presented to this body, and there was but one dissenting vote.

The speaker had also seen Mr. John C. Paige who headed the petition referred to and others who signed and all accept the action of the exchange as final. One prominent gentleman had said 95 per cent of the signers of the petition would not today oppose a change. The unanimous opinion seems to be that no danger is to be apprehended and furthermore the underwriters of the International electrical commission recommended both systems.

He felt constrained therefore with great regret to over-ride the veto. He believed in conclusion that the recommendation of a committee, unless there was very good reason for disputing it, should be adopted, as the present instance has shown the first position of the committee as correct.

Alderman Plummer endorsed all that was said. This was the first instance in which a disagreement with the mayor had arisen, and he regretted it greatly. He wished to impress upon the board that the committee had made their recommendation, believing it to be the best interests of the city, and not with prejudiced minds. Though reluctant to over-ride the veto, he felt that he must adhere to his first vote.

The roll was then called and the veto was over-riden 6 to 1. Alderman Thompson only voting in favor of it.

FAVOR EXTENSION.

A petition was received from the Newton & Boston Street Railway Co. to extend their tracks from Beacon to Centre street opposite the school building.

Alderman Ruffe thought there would be no great objection to the petition as it was favorably considered by the Newton Centre Improvement Association.

GETTING ANXIOUS.

Alderman Rumery presented a petition signed by H. B. Parker, William Claffin and others, asking that Murray street be widened and improved.

The petition stated that numerous petitions had been presented, but no action had been taken.

A second petition from James Hayes and 17 others in reference to the above was received, and both were referred.

PETITIONS.

Petitions were received and referred, from L. N. Whitney to run a wire across Waban street; from Luther Adams for main drain and sewer in Lombard street; from Eliot W. Keyes for mortar and post for drugists' sign Auburn street; from B. F. Kendrick for two street lights on Hunnewell avenue; from F. A. Read et al for street lights on Rockland place.

BUILDING INTENTIONS.

Notification of intention to erect buildings, were received as follows: from E. C. Williston for stable on Prince street, size 30x38 feet; from C. W. Keefe for dwelling house, size 30x50 feet with 50 foot ell; from Mary A. Kimball for dwelling house on Brooks avenue, size 25x37 feet; from O. G. Billings for storage building off Oak street, size 22x32 feet, (granted.)

NEW CRUSHER.

Alderman Bothfield presented an order authorizing the expenditure of $6,000 for a new stone crusher to be situated on Appleton street.

He said in explanation that the crusher on Murray street was broken, and a new one was very necessary to furnish the stone required. Three concerns had given estimates. The order was passed. An order was passed transferring the sum of $1300 from the appropriation for widening reconstruction etc., to highways, general repairs.

The water board were authorized to lay 850 feet of water mains in Kirkfall road, Morton and River streets at an expense of $1034.

A NEW COURT HOUSE.

Alderman Bothfield presented an order which was passed instructing the public property committee to examine the present police station and court offices and report at an early date on the advisability of erecting a new police court house and station.

The city treasurer was authorized to receive from Timothy Mead the sum of $100 in consideration of which the highway department would repair a certain street.

DAMAGES.

Alderman Plummer presented a communication from Alice Sauer through her attorney claiming damages for injuries received through the dangerous condition of Lexington street.

LIQUOR LICENSE?

An application was received from Arthur Hudson for a sixth class liquor license. This was supported by a petition favoring the granting of the same from J. W. French, et al. Referred.

On motion of Alderman Bothfield the application for license was ordered published.

Harriet F. Bartlett remonstrated against the sewer going through her land. Referred.

TO RELOCATE.

Alderman Bothfield reported for the highway committee recommending granting the request of Benjamin Dickerman for the relocation of the tracks of the Newton and Boston street railway on Woodward street which now encroach on his land. Received.

Alderman Rumery presented an order to lay out Walnut park as a public park and notifying those interested of this decision. Passed.

The report of the printing committee on the disposal of the printing of the city documents divided the work between Geo. H. Pratt and E. D. Baldwin.

An order was adopted transferring $2000; $800 to the appropriation for assessors and $1200 to the appropriation for poor out of almshouse.

ORDERS.

Orders were passed, authorizing the construction of concrete crossings on Webster and Alpine streets and Warren avenue and concrete sidewalks on Cedar street, authorizing the laying out of Claffin place, Lake terrace, and Exeter streets, granting the N. E. Telephone and Telegraph Co. locations on Walnut, Turner, Centre, Chestnut, Washington streets, and Vista avenue, authorizing laying of sewer in Walnut place and Dalby, Adams, Mills, Cross, Washington and Lombard streets.

An order was adopted instructing the city marshal and the chief of the fire department to notify the Boston fire and police notification company of all fires and robberies within the limits of the city and granting the employees of the company the privileges of the members of the fire departments at fires.

HEARINGS APPOINTED.

Hearings were appointed before the board of aldermen at 8.30 and 9 o'clock, p. m., Tuesday, Nov. 7, and before the common council at 7.45 o'clock p. m., Monday, Nov. 13, as follows: on petition of N. and Boston street railway for extension of tracks at Newton Centre; on petition of Benjamin Dickerman for relocation of street railway tracks on Woodward street; on taking land for public park on Walnut park; on laying out Claffin place, Lake terrace and Exeter street; for sewers in Walnut place, Dalby street, Lombard street and Rockland street.

From the common council came the ordinance on street lighting which was referred to the committee on enrolled ordinances. The board then went into executive session.

COMMON COUNCIL.

President Weed presided at the meeting of the common council.

Papers from the board of aldermen were passed in concurrence and the order to construct a highway stable on Auburndale avenue came down for reconsideration. It was only a clerical error and did not affect the order.

The committee on ordinances presented the ordinance relating to street lights and providing for a superintendent of the same and it was passed to be enrolled.

Adjourned.

KING'S NEW YORK.

A REMARKABLE WORK THAT HAS MET WITH RARE SUCCESS.

Last year Mr. Moses King of this city, the publisher of the well known series of "King's Handbooks," published "King's Handbook of New York City." He made ten thousand copies, on the supposition that so large an edition would last for ten or twelve months anyway. As a matter of fact, in four weeks' time the whole ten thousand copies were sold. The second edition is now announced. It comprises twenty thousand copies, half of which are needed to fill advance orders. The new edition is not a reprint of the old book, but is, in fact, a new book, showing New York in 1893. Eighty pages have been added, three hundred new engravings have been made, nearly all the pages have been reset, the index is wholly remade, and the whole text has been revised, extended and improved. Everybody admits that this is the most thorough presentation of the greatness of New York City that has ever been made. The book has been sent the world over, to give to other nations an idea of the magnitude and grandeur of the American metropolis. It contains one thousand and eight hundred pages, more than one thousand new photographic illustrations. It is an exceptionally fine specimen of the book-maker's art, and is worthy of a conspicuous place in every library and drawing-room. It is a book so good that every New Yorker, and any one who has any interest in New York, will be pleased to own a copy. It is so cheap that every one can easily afford to obtain it. Besides being practically exhaustive, decidedly pictorial, exceptionally handsome, remarkably cheap, it is also virtually authentic; for more than three thousand New Yorkers have revised such parts of it as they were directly interested in. The book, at its close, bears evidence of its painstaking making; for it winds up with a most elaborate index of twenty-four pages of small, solidly packed, yet very clear type. By the aid of "King's Handbook of New York City" any one can easily know everything that is generally worth knowing about the foremost city of the Western Hemisphere. Its price is merely two dollars a copy.

I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to King's Cream Balm, and I do so entirely without solicitation. I have used it more or less half a year, and have found it to be most admirable. I have suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since I was a little boy and I never hoped for cure, but Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many of my acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Struett, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

COURT AND POLICE STATION.

URGENT NECESSITY FOR A NEW BUILDING IN NEWTON.

A new court house and police station is one of the imperative needs in Newton and there is a strong probability that it will be a reality of the near future.

Judge Kennedy of the Newton police court has brought the attention of the Newton city council to the necessity of providing a suitable building, and will appear before the public property committee in the interests of a plan which contemplates the immediate erection of a substantial structure with the necessary conveniences.

He gave his ideas on the subject to a reporter. "The present central police station and court quarters," he said, "are the poorest in the list of suburban cities of the commonwealth. The police station affords accommodations of the most unsatisfactory character. If a person is arrested, no matter for what offense, he is liable to be locked up in a cell where a vagrant or common drunkard has been previously confined. It is the same in the case of a woman who is arrested.

Besides the inadequate accommodations the question of health enters into the matter. The ventilation is very bad and owing to the character of the building, it has been impossible to remedy that defect, although a large sum was expended about two years ago for an improved ventilating system. The benefit which resulted from introduction was confined to the upper stories of the City Hall building, and made no change for the better in the basement, where the police station and court quarters are located.

In the court room it is necessary in the morning to open the windows for an hour to let out the vitiated air. The court room is only separated from the cell room by a thin partition and through it there is a doorway through which the prisoners are brought to the dock. When this door is opened the odor from the cell-room is unbearable.

"Alterations were made in the City Hall building during 1874-75, and it was then the opinion of the city council that the court and central station quarters were susceptible of necessary improvement, but that it was possible to get along under the conditions then existing for, perhaps, ten years. Since then all the departments have grown so, that the City Hall building today is entirely inadequate. The court accommodations are insufficient and are crowded into a space of about one-third of that really required to transact the business.

"I have called the attention of the Newton city council to the necessity of at once providing suitable quarters, and have also directed the attention of the country commissioners to the matter. The latter body examined the premises, and agreed with me that a new building should be provided at the earliest possible moment.

"On account of the poor accommodations which the central police station affords, the city has been several times threatened with suits, and I think, in some cases would have got damages had it not been for the efforts of the city marshal and others in inducing the parties to refrain from bringing suits against the city. Only last week a young girl who was arrested on the charge of being a stubborn child was kept in the cell-room corridor a part of the night, and finally put in a padded cell used for insane persons.

"It is necessary to classify the cells providing suitable and separate quarters for prisoners, tramps and women. The police station and court quarters should be separated from the City Hall building. Other cities have recognized the necessity of the step and suitable buildings for court and central police quarters have been erected in Waltham, Malden, Marlboro and other places. It ought to be done in Newton at once.

"Under the laws of 1890 all fines imposed by the city are to be paid to the city of Newton, and if a sinking fund were created the amount of the fines in ten years would pay for the building. The rent, too, which the county pays for the court apartments would pay the interest on the money necessary for putting up the structure."

HEAVY LIQUOR SEIZURE.

CATERERS TO ITALIANS' TASTES CAUGHT IN ACT OF DISPENSING.

The Newton police made a large liquor seizure in Nonantum district Saturday evening. A wagon in charge of Michael Hart and Joseph Collins was captured and five gallons of whiskey and 264 bottles of lager beer taken to the central police station.

Collins was arrested and locked up, but Hart succeeded in making his escape. A warrant for the arrest of the latter was issued by the clerk of the local court.

On the capture of the beer wagon hangs a tale. It seems that a large traffic has been conducted recently with Italian laborers, camped off California street. A wagon has made regular trips there for several weeks, and Saturday evening has generally been selected for consuming the sales. The police have been watching the camp for some time. Last night Patrolmen J. J. Mullen and Tapley kept in the vicinity of the place. They were dressed in citizens' clothes. Shortly after 7 o'clock the team was driven up, and it is alleged that an actual sale was made, both officers claiming to have witnessed the transaction and received the money. Before the sale the officers state that several Italians came down the road leading to the camp carrying cases of lager on their shoulders. It is supposed that it was supplied by the parties in charge of the wagon which was seized.

After the police had the wagon in charge they were stopped a short distance from the camp by a group of Italians. Officer Mullen jumped from the cart and asked them what they wanted. "Beer" was the reply. "Where's your money?" interrogated the officer. The latter inquiry brought one fellow forward with a $2 bill which he proffered to Mullen.

Collins, the arrested man, claims that he does not own the "stuff" seized. The wagon was one of the Concord variety, covered, and has this inscription on the side panels, "John McDonald, grocer, 189 Cambridge street."

As the name indicates, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is a renewer of the hair, including its growth, health, youthfulness and beauty. It will please you.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARNOLD, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS MARTIN, D. D., New York City.

Late Pastor Bloomingdale Reformed Church.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eruption, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., "The Withrop," 123th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK.

Ely's Cream Balm For CATARRH THE POSITIVE CURE.

Genuine Bargains

Always to be obtained by examination of the

varied assortment of

IMPERFECT GOODS AND REMNANTS

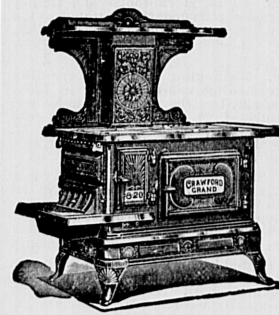

STRICTLY ALL WOOL.

Made at the Assabet Mills which are exclusively sold and at the lowest prices by

THE PEOPLE'S DRY GOODS COMPANY

MAYNARD MASS.

The Salesroom is open until 6 p. m. except Saturday. Closes Saturday at 12 o'clock. Positively open as above until further notice in this paper.

Columbia and Crawford Grand Ranges.

Furnaces, Water Heaters, Steam Boilers.

AT FACTORY STORE OF

WALKER & PRATT MFG. CO.

GALEN STREET, - WATERTOWN MASS.

TELEPHONE No. 30, NEWTON.

—ALL KINDS—

Copper, Sheet Iron and Tin Work.

FURNACES AND RANGES CLEANED AND REPAIRED.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY THE

WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING CO.'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminster 8 cents per square yard for Turkey Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. Sole Manufacturer of the Best New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE.

Newtonville. Telephone 7.

Factory and Residence, Clinton Street.

Concrete Walks and Driveways.

The season for this work is now open, and we should be glad to receive orders or make estimates for parties wishing work in private grounds.

Having laid the Newton public sidewalks for the past sixteen years, the quality of our work is well known. Communication by mail will receive prompt attention.

SIMPSON BROTHERS, Newton.

Boston Office, 166 Devonshire St., Room 58

Bicycle Repairing of Every Description.

Brazing, Enameling, Nickel-Plating, Etc.

WHEELS CHANGED FROM SOLID TO CUSHION OR PNEUMATIC.

Best cycle oil 25 cents per pint. Lawn Mowers cleaned and sharpened for $1.00. Called for and delivered for 25 cents extra.

HADDOW & BATCHELOR,

40 Galen Street, - Watertown, Mass.

Connected by Telephone.

Millinery

E. JUVINE ROBBINS,

Fall Millinery

Just Received at

THE JUVENE

Eliot Block, Newton.

Plumbers.

HEWITT & THOMAS, Practical Plumbers.

And Sanitary Engineers.
247 WASHINGTON ST.,
Nonantum Block, Newton

M. C. HIGGINS PRACTICAL PLUMBER

AND—

Sanitary Engineer.

(Formerly with S. F. Carrier.)

Summer's Block, Newton.

PLUMBING WORK IN ALL ITS BRANCHES
Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city; perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

ESTABLISHED IN 1896

T. J. HARTNETT,

PLUMBER & SANITARY ENGINEER.

Iron Drainage and Ventilation a Specialty.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

375 CENTRE STREET, NEWTON.

HOWARD B. COFFIN

DEALER IN

FINE TEAS and BEST COFFEES

AND NEWTON AGENT FOR

DEERFOOT - FARM - PRODUCTS.

363, 361 Centre and 4, 6 Hall Sts.

COLE'S BLOCK, NEWTON.

A. H. ROFFE, HAY and GRAIN

LIME, CEMENT AND DRAIN PIPE.

Cypress, near Centre Street, Newton Centre.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

Ripans Tabules prolong life.

Newton National Bank,

NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:

From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.

On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President

R. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier

Ripans Tabules banish pain.

J. HENRY BACON.

Successor to Francis Murdoch & Co.

Dry Goods & Notions

Ladies' and Gents'

Furnishing Goods

OIL and STRAW CARPET,

Trunks, Bags, &c.

BACON'S BLOCK,

Nos. 279 to 281 Washington St.

NEWTON.

Ripans Tabules relieve nausea.

PURE - MILK

supplied daily from

PROSPECT VALLEY FARM

One Cow's Milk supplied when desired.

H. COLDWELL & SON,

WALTHAM, MASS.

Lock Box, 192.

Don't Drink impure water longer

when for 50c. you can buy a good filter. They will fit a faucet whet or it has a thread or. Call and see at Barber Bros.

SPRINGFIELD LINE

—BETWEEN—

Boston and New York.

Trains leave either city at 9.00 A. M., except Sunday; 11.00 A. M., except Sunday; 12.00 noon, except Sunday; 4.00 P. M., daily; 11.00 P. M., daily.

The 12.00 noon train is the famous "Mid Day Limited," composed entirely of drawing room cars, and special ticket, including seat coupon, is required. Drawing room cars on all day trains, and sleeping cars on night trains.

A. S. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.
Boston, Mass.

A Maine Island.

(CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK.)

But all roads have an end, and all roads on Deer Isle have usually the same end, they lead to the water. Finding herself on the borders of one of the numerous inlets already mentioned, with picturesque cottages in process of rapid erection, she well-nigh forgot her distance from home in admiration of her surroundings. Inquiry elicited the fact that she had yet two miles to traverse ere the circuit would be complete. But it was completed, and neither a cold dinner nor the reproaches of anxious friends could lessen her triumph in the achievement.

Under ordinary circumstances, such a solitary walk would have been fraught with danger. But these simple, kindly islanders never think of molesting anyone. They have a cheery greeting for every stranger and vacant seats in wagon or carriage are offered with thorough good-will.

To people botanically inclined, these long walks are a great temptation, for the floral treasures of the island are most interesting.

According to the latest list, published in 1892, the State of Maine contains about fifteen hundred varieties of wild-flowers, and they are well represented on Deer Isle.

One lady, during a two-months stay on the island, made a collection of ninety-seven varieties. The handsome jewelweed, (Impatiens fulva), graceful meadow-sweet, (Spiraea alceifolia), purple-tinged orchis, (Habenaria pycnostachya), and brilliant loosestrife, (Lysinechia striata), spring up in one's very path. During the tea-embargo at the time of the Revolution, the leaves of the loosestrife, it is said, were used in place of tea-leaves.

Beside these larger plants, smaller varieties like the corn speedwell, (Veronica arvensis), chickweed, (Cerastium arvense), golden ragwort, (Senecio aureus), skullop, (Scutellaria galericulata), and low hop clover, (Trifolium prumbeus), are easily discovered by search. Among these peculiar plants, the seaside is the little sand-spurrey, which sows itself, in utmost profusion, under the very feet of horses and pedestrians. Deer Isle is ten miles long and about six broad. It is situated near the eastern edge of Penobscot Bay, with the smaller Isle au Haut lying directly south. This latter, being the northernmost island of any considerable size in the vicinity, is visible thirty-five miles out at sea. There is, therefore, nothing strange in the tradition that this prominent landmark was noticed by Martin Pring and by Champlain, the former of whom was the first Englishman to visit Deer Isle, while the latter arrived in 1604.

No permanent settlement, however, was effected until 1700, and when the settlers first came, the real ownership of the island was uncertain.

The first grant, made by James I to the Plymouth Colony in 1620, was succeeded by one to the Earl of Sterling. The territory was not finally secured to Massachusetts until 1783. Six years later, the Governor of that State, John Hancock, in whose honor the county of which this island forms so important a section was probably named, gave his approval to the Act of Incorporation, making Deer Isle a town.

The change and tumult brought to the mainland by the Revolution were naturally felt in the island also. In 1775 there were sixty-nine settlers. Some of these served in the army, for which they obtained a pension under the first act providing one for Revolutionary soldiers, apparently escaping the trials of present pension solicitors.

In 1770, the British took possession of the peninsula on which the village of Castine now stands, and began to erect a fort, all the inhabitants being required to labor upon it a certain number of days. A lady of Deer Isle, the wife of Mr. Joseph Colby, carried the news of the surrender of Cornwallis to Castine, going the entire twenty-five miles in a row-boat, and travelling a large part of the distance by night.

At the close of the war, the settlement was somewhat reduced, through the departure of the loyalists, who left behind the fruits of twenty years toil, which to them was labor lost. But nineteenth century liberality was not known then, and the great disproportion between the Tories and their opponents made it uncomfortable for the former to remain. Had there been as in a Deer Isle church on a recent Sunday a clergyman to preach "harmony in diversity"—toleration between creeds and parties because of the fundamental principles at the bottom of all—the result might have been different.

Coming of sturdy Puritan stock, the early settlers founded their town on strong Puritan principles. Side by side rose the twin bulwarks of the church and the school, side by side they still stand. The original grant provided that four hundred acres of land be set apart for each. No wonder, then, that generation after generation has handed down, not merely the names—but the integrity, temperance, morality and God-fearing instincts of those hardy pioneers. It would seem that the promise, "With long life will I satisfy him," had been fulfilled in their descendants, for the Isle is famous for old people. Eleven years ago, a list of persons who had, since 1833, attained the age of ninety years and upward, was published, and the number reached thirty six.

The intelligence of the inhabitants, cut off as they are from the advantages of the mainland, is something phenomenal. Homesteads five miles from a postoffice will have the latest New England Magazine, Harper's and Atlantic on their centre-tables, and be able to boast a cabinet-organ, and many other evidences of refinement.

Specially attractive to literary people is the Deer Isle Circulating Library, located in the central village, which, for the nominal sum of ten cents a month, furnishes both residents and sojourners with an excellent assortment of standard fiction and a sprinkling of more solid works.

In material things, as well as spiritual and educational, the pioneers built solidly. The first framed dwelling-house, erected more than a century ago, was standing until within a few years, and the third, built by a Mr. Haskell in 1693 or 94, still remains in a good state of preservation, owned and occupied by the grand-daughter of the builder, and filled, every year, with happy summer sojourners.

We were privileged to go over this house; to examine the solid beams and rafters and immense fastenings, which look as though they would hold their place for another century; to note the enormous chimneys, four times the ordinary size; to walk through the ample halls and great square rooms, changed as to paper and paint but unchanged in dimensions or construction. Involuntarily we thought of Miss Mulock's description: "This is what I call an honest house; where everything feels real, substantial, sound; well-built, well-ventilated; with abundant breathing-room and walking room; with plenty of windows, warm, solid walls and wide hospitable fire-places; in short, a house containing every requisite for thorough comfort."

Among its occupants the present season have been the Misses Bridge, relatives of Horati Bridge, whose entertaining "Reminiscences of Nathaniel Hawthorne" has just appeared in a handsome edition; and Miss Emma E. Brown, of Newton Highlands, whose admirably written lives of Washington, Holmes, and others, as well as her lovely little brochure, "One Hundred Years Ago," proclaim her a true daughter of New England, while her stories of Azorean life show that the cosmopolitan element is not lacking.

Another of the early pioneers, Benjamin Lufkin, came from Gloucester, Mass., and his son Henry, held for many years the post of master of a vessel in the coasting business. To this post, as well as to the farm of seventy acres, purchased by him in Sunset, the son of Henry Lufkin succeeded, and now, under the care of his daughter, the pretty, comfortable homestead opens its doors to sojourners from all quarters.

This season's guests, with but one exception, have been New Englanders, hailing from different points in Maine, Connecticut, and Massachusetts. Three among them have filled the pulpit of the little chapel nearby; Rev. L. W. Siskin, pastor of Christ church, Hartford; Rev. L. P. Adams of Olive church, Boston; and Rev. E. F. Blanchard, a recent graduate of Yale Divinity school, whose brother, Prof. E. N. Blanchard of Dexter, Maine, has also been at Deer Isle.

Diverse as were the pursuits of this party, with photography, botany, language and literature, all coming in for a share; they were all one in their enjoyment of the breezy freshness of the sun and the golden splendor of the sunset; in their fondness for perching on rocks and lying under trees; in their mania for ranging the whole island north, south, east, and west; for taking long fishing excursions and riding from morning till night.

Doubtless these rambles derived increased zest from the certainty of finding, on their return, a plentiful and attractive table, where they could enjoy the choicest of fish, the most luscious of strawberries and raspberries, with countless other good things interspersed, and the sparkle of keen intellects giving intellectual piquancy to the feast.

To all who desire to gain something of Nature's vastness and serenity; to take broader, calmer views of people and things; to discover fresh proofs of New England's natural beauties and vigorous characters; to win new strength and courage for the active duties of life; to all such we can safely recommend Deer Isle.

ALICE C. JENNINGS.

CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES.

THREE DAYS' SESSION IN NEWTON, BEGINNING OCT. 25.

The second circular from the New England conference of charities and correction was issued a few days ago and contains additional and detailed information of the program of the sessions to be held in Channing church, Newton, on Tuesday to Thursday, inclusive, Oct. 24, 25 and 26. The GRAPHIC has noted the preliminary announcements. The outline of the deliberations is scheduled below:

Tuesday, Oct. 24—2 to 3 p. m. Registration of delegates and distribution of badges.

3 to 5 p. m. Opening of the conference by the president, Rev. William A. Lamb; address of welcome by John A. Fenn, mayor of Newton; subject of the session: General reports from the six states—Maine, Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens; New Hampshire, Mrs. Lillian C. Streeter; Vermont, Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr; Massachusetts, Miss Frances R. Morse; Rhode Island, Rev. James H. Nutting; Connecticut, Prof. John J. McCook.

7.30 to 9.45 p. m. Subject, "Charity Organization," chairman, Rev. J. M. Pullman, D. D., chairman of the Associated Charities, Lynn; exhibition of a charity map of a New England city; the development of charity organization, by the chairman; emergency loans; friendly visiting by Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chase of London, Eng.

Wednesday, Oct. 25—9.30 a. m. to 12 m. Subject, "The Feeble Minded," chairman, George H. Knight, M. D., superintendent of the Connecticut school for the feeble minded, Lakeville, Ct.; address by the chairman; discussion by Dr. W. E. Fernald, superintendent of the Massachusetts school for the feeble minded, Waltham, and other representative men of New England.

2 to 4.30 p. m. Subject, "Probation, Its Relation to the Punishment of Crime," Chairman, Joseph G. Thorp, Jr., president of the Massachusetts Prison Association, Cambridge. Fred C. Pettigrew, secretary of the commissioners of prisons for Massachusetts, will describe what has already been accomplished in Massachusetts, and will be followed by judges from different parts of the state, and by probation officers, including Miss Hannah M. Todd of Boston and William A. Ordway of Haverhill.

7.30 to 9.45 p. m. Subject, "Destitute, Neglected and Morally Exposed Children," Chairman, Charles W. Birtwell, general secretary of the Boston Children's Aid Society; "The Law and Children," by Hon. George S. Hale of the Suffolk county bar; "Charity Organization and Children," by a speaker to be announced; "Institutions or Families?" by Charles P. Worcester, M. D., of the board of trustees of the Massachusetts state primary and reform schools; "Personal Work Among Wayward Boys," by John B. Emery, special agent for the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Boston; "Special Public School Training for Partially Defective Children," by Mrs. Anna Garlin Spencer of the board of control of the State Home and School for Children, Providence, R. I. Address by the chairman.

Thursday, Oct. 26—9.30 to 12 m. Subject, "Public Relief and Almshouses," Chairman James H. Lewis, agent of the overseers of the poor, Springfield, Mass.; "Outdoor Relief," by Freeman Brown, clerk of the overseers of the poor, Worcester; "The Public Relief System of Maine," by Charles H. Baker, secretary of the Society of the Poor, Portland, Me.; "The Almshouses of Massachusetts," by Charles E. Woodbury, M. D., inspector of institutions, state board of lunacy and charity.

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease. The sensible thing for you to do is to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why then—keep on trying, and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. "Try, try, try again."

LOVERS ON BICYCLES.

STABLEKEEPERS MOURN THE LOSS OF PATHOSAGE—HAPPY INSKREPKERS.

The bicycle has made many revolutions, not alone along the country road that it traverses, but in social customs and conditions. Short journeys that were once made on foot or in electric or steam cars are now done by the aid of the wheel.

The young man who nearly every Sunday paid to the local stablekeeper a portion of his salary for a carriage drive now mounts his bicycle, and the young lady who occupied the seat by his side in the phaeton or buggy does likewise, and the lively man is the sufferer.

"I guess I'll put in a stock of the blamed things and let them out by the hour," was what one stablekeeper said to a Herald reporter the other day.

"Why, this bicycle craze has ruined our business. Where I used to let every carriage in the place on a Sunday, I'm lucky if I let two now."

"We never realized how many of these young fellows and girls used to go out driving. Now I see these same fellows riding along on their bicycles, and their girls ride along with them. I don't know what the world is coming to, I'm sure. These girls wear men's caps and shirts, and ride just as boldly as the men themselves. They laugh and chat as they roll along, and they look perfectly at home on the things. We used to think this craze would die out, just like roller skating and lots of other things, but I guess we are the fellows who are going to do the dying out."

An inquiry among the stablekeepers brought some rather interesting facts to light in connection with this matter. Although the stable business of the city proper has not been materially affected, it is true that in the suburbs and the country districts the business of the stablekeeper is not what it used to be for some reason or other, and many of them are inclined to attribute it to the advent of the bicycle.

The recent financial depression has had something to do with the dulness of the lively man's business, but many of the young men who have been in the habit of investing in a carriage drive evenings and Sundays have taken to the wheel, and the young ladies found that this said wheel was absorbing so much of the young men's time and attention that they have decided to have the conventionalities and tackle the problem of gravitation on two wheels themselves. The result is two-fold—the stablekeeper has suffered materially from the experiment of the fine de siècle young lady, and the whole female sex are enjoying the luxury of further freedom from the shackles of social traditions by the successful experiment of this young lady with the laws of gravitation. The fine de siècle young lady has proved to the world her ability to support herself—in an upright position on two wheels.

But here the law of compensation enters in on one point, for there is another business which has received such a boost during the past five years that the men who are engaged in it, and who, up to the present time, have been enjoying a prolonged Rip Van Winkle nap, have awakened, and in the bustle and excitement of the present they have scarcely time to ask themselves the famous question: "Where are we at?"

The suburban hotels, the road houses, the wayside taverns or whatever you may choose to call them, have received such an impetus in their business as was never known before. Instead of the stablekeeper going to the hotel now and jockeying about business and good times, the hotel keeper saunters down to the stable and guys the proprietor, who for so many years was "high mucky-muck" of the town—the shoe is on the other foot and it seems fit.

"If this thing keeps on," said another stablekeeper, "horses will be a thing of the past. Therolley and the bicycle are making horses a drug in the market, and I'm expecting some new invention, every day, that will make them positively useless."—From "The Stablekeepers' Wall," Boston Sunday Herald, Oct. 22, 1893.

NEWTON CONGREGATIONAL CLUB.

AN INTERESTING ADDRESS BY REV. GEO. T. DOWLING D.D. OF NEWTON CENTRE.

The Newton Congregational club held its first meeting this fall on Monday evening in the parlors of the Second church, West Newton.

The latter part of the afternoon was very pleasantly spent, the usual social feature obtaining and at six o'clock supper was served by Caterer Paxton in the upper hall.

At seven o'clock President Langdon S. Ward called the meeting to order. The choir of the Newton Centre Baptist church rendered a selection in the opening of the meeting and President Ward then introduced Rev. George Thomas Dowling, D.D., of Newton Centre, who delivered the address of the evening taking for his subject, "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

He said too much importance was laid on things of the past by many people and that they failed to realize the constant evolution of humanity. Owing to the great uplifting of the common people stronger characters will be developed because of a stronger individuality. Looking back over the past century we discern, through a mist the illusion of historic perspective. Our children and our children's children when looking back upon what is our present will be far enough away to single out the great characters and to admire the noble deeds in the present age.

The march of progress is visible in every department not only in the professional, mechanical and agricultural, but as well in virtue and brotherhood. Nothing is ever destroyed by progress but what should be destroyed.

Voltaire said he was living in the twilight of Christianity but it was more, it was the twilight before the rising sun. A vote of thanks was extended the speaker at the conclusion of his remarks and also to the choir.

Labor is capital, of course, and yet the laboring man does not always think of it as being a capital thing.—Somerville Journal.

You can't always tell what a young man thoroughly in love will do, but you can be sure, pretty often, that it will be something foolish.—Somerville Journal.

Will Clean Cleaner Than any other cleaner. It works quicker with half the quantity.

Ivoryine

WASHING POWDER is pure and harmless, and being white, washes white. Remember a 1½ pound package costs no more than a pound of other kinds.

From April 1891, every package will contain a free 50 cents worth of Ivoryine Soap.

Lumber.

C. A. HARRINGTON LUMBER,

Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c. Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass. Telephone, 248 5 Newton.

LUMBER.

GILKEY & STONE,

ARSENAL ST., WATERTOWN.

Railroads.

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

WEEK DAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 5.50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 7.00 A. M. then every thirty minutes until 11.00 P. M.

SUNDAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 7.50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 8.30 A. M. and every thirty minutes until 11.00 P. M.

First car for Boston leaves Watertown at 7.5 A. M.

5 P. M. J. S. SERGEANT, General Manager.

Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn R. R.

Fall and Winter Time-Table, Sept. 11, '93.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN at 6.50, 7.50, 8.30, 9.10, 11 A. M., 12 M., 1, 2, 3, 3.30, 4 (Express), 4.30, 5 (Express), 5.20, 6 (Express), 6.30, 7.30, 8.30, 10.30 and 11.25 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON at 6.10, 6.50, 7 (Express), 7.30 (Express), 8 (Exp.), 8.30 (Exp.), 9.30 (Exp.), 10.11 A. M., 12 M., 1, 2, 2.45, 3.15, 3.45, 4.15, 4.50, 5.15, 5.50, 6.45, 7.15, 8.30, 9.15 and 10.15 P. M.

SUNDAY TRAINS.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN hourly from 6.30 A. M. to 9.30 P. M., inclusive, and at 10.15 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON at 8.45 A. M., then hourly from 9.30 A. M. to 9.30 P. M., inclusive.

All trains stop at West Lynn.

JOHN A. FENNO, C. A. HAMMOND, Supt.

Boston, Sept. 11, 1893.

B. KETZ,

The Only Hardware and Cutlery

STORE NEAR THE DEPOTS.

99 Kneeland St., Boston.

Kitchen Furnishing Goods and Toys a Specialty.

Open Evenings. Goods Delivered Free. 48 Cts.

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT,

Successors to

P. A. MURRAY,

Washington Street,

NEXT TO

Murray's Carriage Manufactory.

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

15

Water Bugs and Roaches

CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR EXTERMINATOR

No dust. No trouble to use.

Price, 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If ye druggist or grocer, does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price.

BARNARD & CO.,

7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON.

FOR SALE BY BARNARD BROS., NEWTON.

COLIC,

Cramps and Cholera

Morbus, Diarrhoea, Dysentery and Summer Complaints, Cuts, Burns, and Bruises, Bites, Stings, and Sunburn can all be promptly relieved by

PERRY DAVIS' Pain Killer.

Dose—One teaspoonful in a half glass of water or milk (or even if convenient).

ONE THING IS CERTAIN, PAIN KILLER KILLS PAIN.

Expressmen.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room from 6.30 A. M. to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. P. Atkins Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Procter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving, also Crockery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence: 152 Adams Street, West Newton, Mass.

PEARSON'S NEWTON AND BOSTON EXPRESS.

BOSTON OFFICE: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. 38 Court St. Order Box, 21 Franklin St. Market

NEWTON OFFICE at H. B. Coffin's, Order Box: at Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins.

Leave Newton at 9.30 a. m. Leave Boston at 3 p. m.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER, NEWTON & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Leave Newton, 7.30 and 9.30 a. m.; leave Boston, 12 m. and 3 p. m.

NEWTON OFFICE: 334 Centre Street, Order Box: Newton City Market. BOSTON OFFICES: 15 Devonshire St., 174 Washington St., 34 Court Square, 25 Merchants Row, 57 Franklin St., 11 Harrison Ave. Extension. Post Office address Box 420, Newton.

Personal Attention Given all Orders. Telephone No. 279-2.

Ripans Tabules relieve headache

T. F. GLENNAN.

Carriage Trimming & Harness MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c.

Washington Street, Newton.

J. J. JOHNSON, FLORIST.

CONSERVATORIES, School Street, Newton.

Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, etc., etc.

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

Ripans Tabules: best liver tonic.

L. H. CRANITCH, House, Sign, and Ornamental PAINTER.

GRAINING and PAPER HANGING a Specialty 2d door from Central Block, Newtonville.

Slate, Copper, Tin and Gravel ROOFING.

Special attention given to repairing.

John Farquhar's Sons, Nos. 20 and 22 East St., Boston. Established 1838. Telephone No. 162. 45

JAMES PAXTON, Manufacturing Confectioner.

Cakes in Variety, Ices and Creams, Fancy Ices, Froz n Pudding.

Pure Candies of our own Make.

CHOICE WEDDING CAKE.

Real Estate and Insurance.

BUY, SELL, RENT, MORTGAGE—YOUR—

REAL ESTATE

THROUGH

Henry W. Savage

Office for ALL NEWTON.

1261 Washington St. WEST NEWTON.

TELEPHONE 73 2.

MY LIST COMPRISES

The finest building lots in West Newton, Newtonville and Newton Centre where there is the most activity. Also tracts in all this territory, very desirable for development.

A large number of very attractive new homes. Fine old estates and comfortable houses at moderate prices. Both for sale and to let. Constant demand necessitates my having a complete list.

Mortgages and Insurance cared for promptly.

BOSTON OFFICE:

Opp. Old Court House, 37 Court Street.

TELEPHONE 2050.

ABAN, TROWBRIDGE & CO.,

725 Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.

Elliot Block, Newton.

Have For Sale in all parts of Newton,

Elegant Estates in Choice Locations.

Houses at All Prices.

Building Lots and Large Tracts of Land for Development, Investment.

Call and see Plans and Prices.

Money to Loan on Mortgage. We insure houses, furniture, stocks, bonds, etc.

T. W. TROWBRIDGE, Notary Public, Justice of the Peace.

FOR SALE!

This well-front, new, colonial house, at Newton Centre, corner of Parker Street and Glenwood Avenue, 3 finished rooms, large hall and bath room, cemented and plastered cellar, Kohler furnace, Yale hardware, halls and mantels in oak, all modern improvements. Built by one of the best builders in Newton. Large lot, 100 ft. wide, shaded by beautiful oak and chestnut trees, and facing 125 feet on one of the principal driving thoroughfares. Lot contains about 800 feet, 8 minutes from depot and electric cars. Very desirable neighborhood; high land, sun, air, and perfect drainage. Price, $7500

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

85 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should
be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN,

Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-2.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.All communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and
unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

GRADE CROSSINGS.

There is great inquiry as to what the present city council proposes to do about abolishing grade crossings, or whether they propose to do anything. Citizens can not understand this long delay over the matter, and the report that the Boston & Albany has come to an agreement with Natick has stirred up great dissatisfaction, as it is evident that if work is begun at Natick, Newton will have to wait several years, as of course traffic could not be interrupted at two points at once.

The citizens feel so dissatisfied over the delay, that we have taken pains to look up the exact condition of affairs.
The sub-committee appointed by the mayor has not seen the road officials, but one of the members has visited them informally, and found that they were ready to go ahead with the plans as arranged last year, and elevate the tracks, which all who have looked into the question carefully consider the only practical method. The railroad officials also have stated, we understand, that if Newton makes an application before Nov. 1st, they will begin the work here at once and let Natick wait, otherwise Newton will have to wait two or three years and perhaps longer, as other towns are making arrangements to act, and may yet get in ahead.

The aldermen have considered the matter within a few days, we are informed, and in spite of the fact that the whole question was gone over exhaustively last year, or perhaps because of it, the majority want to get up a plan of their own and favor sinking the tracks and building overhead bridges, and have set the men in the city engineer's office at work upon the details of this plan.

The members of last year's city council, who went over the whole ground so thoroughly, regard this as simple boys' play, as the arguments against such a scheme was found to be unanswerable, and the railroad company will not consent to it, but if it amuses the aldermen and they can get their plan ready by Nov. 1st, no harm will be done, as such a plan is sure to be rejected by any commission that will be appointed, and the elevated plan approved by the commission of engineers and favored by the railroad approved.

The city has expended a large sum of money already for the thorough examination of the question, and has had a voluntarily report prepared by three competent engineers, but this seems to have been money thrown away, as their report is disregarded by the present board.

Judging from the record of the present city council, the outlook for any immediate action is not a hopeful one, but the citizens are so much interested in this question, and the abolition of grade crossings is of such vital importance to the safety of citizens, that any unnecessary delay will be made an issue in the next city election. The whole question should have been settled months ago, and if the present city council do not take prompt action, the members might as well publish their refusal to be candidates for re-election.

THE TEAMSTERS' TROUBLE.

There have been a number of reports in the Boston Herald about some trouble between the Highway Committee and the Newton Teamsters' Association, especially with reference to the Cheese-cake Brook Boulevard, and the award that had been made for teaming. The committee advertised for bids and after the time had been extended, one bid was received, and that was accepted, the committee voting to authorize Alderman
Bothfeld to take such action.

The Teamsters' Association say that they have been to the other members of the highway committee, and they all deny that Alderman Bothfeld was given power to award the contract, and profess to be very much surprised that he had not consulted them. The records of Mr.
Otis, clerk of the committee, shows that a vote authorizing Mr. Bothfeld to make the contract was passed at a regular meeting of the committee. This is a surprising state of things and either one of two things is evident, that the members of the committee pay no attention to what is done at committee meetings; or else that they lack the courage to stand by their own action, and try to put the responsibility upon some one else.
The chairman of the highway committee is not a man to exceed the powers given him, or to take any action which he is not authorized to take. Those who know Mr. Bothfeld know also that he is disposed to treat all citizens fairly, and that he will not shirk his oath of office by failing in any way to look after the interests of the city.

In justice to the other members of the committee, however, it might be said that their plea of ignorance of what was done at a committee meeting may not be as weak as it looks, as they may have been so engaged in discussing other department matters that they really did not know for what they were voting. It is well to give them the benefit of the doubt, but we would suggest that hereafter, before the meeting closes, they have the clerk furnish them a printed slip of the proceedings, so that they can use it for reference.

AN EXCELLENT SHOWING.

The effect of the recent business panic on the saving banks furnishes an interesting subject for study. When people are in financial trouble the saving banks are the first to feel the effects of it, as those who save have made this provision for just such times.

The Newton Bank did not follow the example of most Savings banks, which required a 30 or 90 days notice before deposits could be withdrawn, but from the first paid out to all who applied, and the result was that the bank stands stronger than ever in the confidence of the people.
The money that was withdrawn was not all due to the hard times, however, as many of the applicants stated that they wished the money to use for a trip to the World's Fair, and if they could not have obtained it, they would have had to stay at home. How much of the talk about hard times is due to this very cause, it would be interesting to discover. There is just so much money in a community, and when such a large amount is taken away for such an extra expense, the effect would naturally be perceptible, and perhaps this is one reason for the many complaints about the difficulty of collecting bills. The fair must be visited now or not at all, and it requires cash, while ordinary bills can wait, in the estimation of many debtors.

But the gross assets of the Newton
Savings bank, between Oct. 8, and July 8, shows a loss of only $50,000, in a total of $2,386,489.63. Of course the bank paid out more than this, the total being about $100,000, but it has received sufficient from new and old depositors to reduce the decrease to the small sum. It is also rather remarkable that since Oct.
10, when the new quarter began, the deposits have been unusually large. From this showing it would appear that the alleged hard times have not been felt very severely in Newton, even among the less wealthy, who are the principal patrons of Savings banks.

There are probably few savings banks in the country which have felt the financial depression so lightly, and there are certainly few that have been so ready to meet all demands of depositors. Such a record cannot fail to increase the confidence in which the Newton bank has always been held.

AN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE.

The friends of Mr. E. J. H. Estabrook have finally persuaded him to run as an Independent Citizens' Candidate, for the office of representative, and nomination papers will be filed to-day. On these papers are such names as ex-Senator Gorham D. Gilman, E. W. Converse, Jr.,
H. W. D. W. E. P. Tuttle, Andrew B.
Cobb, C. W. Sheppard, Henry Kendall,
G. D. T. Ordway, and others of equal prominence from all parts of the city.
Mr. Estabrook at first refused to run in opposition to his party, but he was besieged by prominent business men from all parts of Newton, who believe that it is high time to make a stand against corporation influence, and he was finally induced to consent.

This fact will be welcome news to the people of Newton, who believe that Mr.
Estabrook looked out sharply for the interests of the people in the last legislature, and that the people should have such men to represent them in these days, when corporations are demanding so many favors from state legislatures, and demanding them too as rights, and using threats that if they are not granted, the legislator will lose his office.

Mr. Estabrook heard a good deal of this kind of talk when he was pushing his amendments to a dozen or more street railway bills, providing that all rights granted should be null and void if the said roads were sold or leased to any foreign corporation, and opposing the overissue of capital stock and bonds, and other plans for stock watering. At the last legislature, street railway companies from all parts of the state were asking for everything, and the rights of the people would have been seriously compromised but for Mr. Estabrook's opposition which called for unusual courage and independence.

Now that he is to be nominated it is for people to go ahead and elect him. It is one thing to defeat a man in the caucuses, and a very different thing to defeat him at the polls. The people will now have the case in their own hands.

The first New England Conference of Charities and Correction, to be held at Channing church, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, is not a denominational affair, as it embraces all New England, and all denominations. All the churches of Newton are interested in the conference and will do their part in entertaining the visitors who are expected. The sessions will all of them be open to the public, and as many of the speakers are of especial prominence in the world and well fitted by years of work in the branches of philanthropic and other work they are to discuss, the sessions will be of great interest to the general public. It is an honor to Newton to have such a conference held here and the people of the city will have a rare opportunity to become acquainted with the work that is done under the name of the Associated Charities. The program of exercises and the list of speakers will be found on another page.

The City Council are considering an order to take Walnut Park as a public park, and the order will probably be adopted, as all the property owners interested favor such action. It is one of the prettiest parks in the city, and has heretofore been cared for by the residents, but as it was laid out by Mr.
Jackson over fifty years ago, and has been continuously kept open ever since, there might be some legal question as to the ownership, although it is to all interests and purposes city property, as much as any of the other public parks.
The present order is for the purpose, mainly, of placing it in the care of the city, to have it cared for in connection with the other city parks, and the city can do the work more cheaply than private citizens.

Rev. Mr. HORN BROOK'S refusal to accept another term on the School Board has caused a good deal of regret, as people had confidence in his wisdom and practical way of looking at school questions. But he considers that in his service of six years in the position he has fulfilled his duty as a citizen and that perhaps a new man may be able to accomplish more. His constituents have a different opinion, as Mr. Hornbrooke has been a representative of the people in his six years' term, and has taken their side of the questions that have come up, and for this reason has been one of the most popular members of the board with the citizens. Among those who have been suggested for his successor are Mr.
F. H. Howes and Mr. Geo. C. Travis.
The former is a gentleman of liberal education and progressive ideas, and would be an excellent choice, while Mr.
Travis has served previously on the board, and the old members would like to have him returned.

The other members of the School Board whose terms expire the present year are Mrs. Abby E. Davis, Messrs.
Lawrence Bond, H. Usher Munro and Colon S. Ober.

Republican Club Dinner.

The third annual dinner of the Republican Club of Massachusetts will be held at Music Hall, Boston, Wednesday evening, October 25, at six o'clock. The price of tickets is two dollars. They may be secured up to the day of the dinner, either at the rooms of the club, 223 Washington Street, Boston, or by mail upon receipt of the price. Applications should be directed to Henry Parkman, chairman dinner committee, 223 Washington street, Boston. The sale of tickets is not restricted to members of the club, but all are cordially invited. Baldwin's Cadet Band will furnish the music; excellent speakers have been secured, and every arrangement has been made to make the dinner the most successful ever held.

As the large majority of the voters of the United States are workmen, it seems only justice that the present administration should strive to benefit the condition of these people and not injure their prospects. The members of the House of the county are unanimous in their desire that the tariff be left alone. In one of the tariff hearings, the workmen of the country made a strong plea against any reduction of the present tariff duties.
William M. Garland, president of the Amalgamated Iron and Steel Workers' Association, asked in behalf of the workmen the retention of the present tariff on steel and iron products. It gave the men better wages and steady work, was his plea. He also stated that it has been said if the price of labor was reduced the price of commodities would be reduced accordingly, but the workmen do not believe this and prefer to work on the higher plane. Several tin workers, members of the Amalgamated Association, urged against any reduction in the tariff on tin, saying that the workmen would have to bear it; that tin made in America is as good as that of foreign make if not better; that a reduction would drive manufacturers out of the business and the business out of the country and deprive thousands of work.
One of these members said that he had worked abroad and did not wish to work for the wages he got there. The workmen must continue to oppose all tariff reductions and, inasmuch as protection is what they want, they ought to vote for the Republican party, which is synonymous with protective tariff, regardless of small party spite. Vote for the Republican nominees and thus restore old-time prosperity. — (Martha's Vineyard Herald.)

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Real Estate.

Mortgages.

Insurance

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.

SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATE
in the above villages.

Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

TO LET! Furnished.

Two minutes from Newton station. Comfortable house, 5 rooms, all improvements.
About 10,000 feet of land, fruit and shade trees and piazza.

ONLY $480.

ROYAL B. LEIGHTON & CAMP,

376 Centre St., Newton; 27 Kilby St., Boston
Insurance. REAL ESTATE. Mortgages.

Panic Prices

for cash, for men's and Youth's garments, is the announcement made by C.
A. Somers, the well known tailor of 149
A Tremont street, Boston. His clothes are always well made and stylish, and a perfect fit is guaranteed. See adv.

MARRIED.

GRACE-PERKINS—At Newton, Oct. 11, by Rev. Geo. E. Merrill, Millard Fillmore Grace and Jennie Elizabeth Perkins.

PENDERGAST-RUDDEN—At Newton, Oct.
10, by Rev. F. B. Hornbrooke, John Bernard Pendergast and Mary Ann Rudden.

DONAVAN-MCCARTHY—At Newton, Oct. 15,
by Rev. J. F. Gillette, Timothy Florence Donavan and Mary McCarthy.

FARNHAM-LEAVITT—At Swampscott, Oct.
11, by Rev. Anthony Birkosky, David Francis Farnham and Marie Elizabeth Leavitt.

WISLOW-FOLSOM—At Boston, Oct. 17, by Rev. S. A. Shearman, Kenneth Winslow and Mary Olivia Folsom.

HYDE-HENTON—At Newton Centre, Oct. 18,
by Rev. D. W. Pounce, John Clester Hyde and Jessie Alice Henton.

WORTENDIKE-COOLEY—At Newton, Oct. 11,
by Rev. M. Burdham, Myrner J. Wortendike and Carolyn Marie Cooley.

COOK-MCDOWGALL—At Newton, Oct. 18, by Rev. Dillon Bronson, Frank A. Cook and Janie McDowgall.

DIED.

McMULLEN—At Newton, Oct. 11, Mrs. Ann
McMullen, 64 years.

SPINNEY—At Newton, Oct. 12, Hiram Arthur
Spinney, 64 years.

TURNER—At Newton, Oct. 16, Oliver Work
Turner, 82 years, 11 months, 2 days.

McRATH—At Newton, Oct. 17, Mrs. Mary E.
McRath, 24 years, 1 month, 2 days.

HAMMOND—At Po's Hill, Dorchester, Oct.
14, Daniel M. Hammond, formerly of Newton, aged 51 years, 10 months, 3 days.

Teachers.

Miss G. H. BLANCHARD
—TEACHER OF—

THE Pianoforte.
SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO BEGINNERS.

—ADDRESS—
P. O. Box 221, W. Newton.

MISS ALICE F. PEIRCE,
Piano-Forte.

687 BOYLSTON ST., BOSTON.

Newton, Elliot Block, Room 6,
TUESDAYS, WEDNESDAYS, FRIDAYS, 2 TO 3.

Refers to Mr. Arthur Peate. 1-41

Miss Grace F. Williams,
Teacher of PIANO-FORTE.

Residence: War en St., Newton Centre.

MR. WM. I. HOWELL
Pianoforte, Organ and Theory.

Also, SIGHT SINGING.

149 A TREMONT ST., BOSTON, MASS.

Residence, 91 Newtonville Avenue. 59-81

Private Lessons.

Efficient private instruction by an expert-teacher in English and Grammar School Studies
may be secured by addressing

M., Care of E. H. CUTLER, Washington St., Newton.

L. EDWIN CHASE,
VIOLIN.

Fall Term Begins October 2d.

—ADDRESS—
43 CARLETON ST., NEWTON.

L. H. PARRISH,
Teacher of

Guitar and Cornet.

25 Pearl St., Newton.

HARRY BROOKS DAY,
TEACHER OF

PIANO-FORTE

Organ, Harmony,
COUNTERPOINT and COMPOSITION

Elliot Block, or Hotel Hunnewell, NEWTON.

WEST NEWTON
English and Classical School.

Family and Day School, both sexes, 41st year.
College, Scientific and Business Preparation.
Send for Catalogue. At Home Tuesdays.

ALLEN BROS., West Newton.

NONANTUM
The MEN'S class at the Nonantum Gymnasium opens on Wednesday, October 25th.

A full attendance desired. Mr. BOWLER, one of the instructors at the Hemenway Gymnasium, Cambridge, has charge of the class; he is one of the most popular of instructors.

GYMNASIUM

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 7 lines, and 25 cents each time
thereafter, in advance.

Wants.

TO LET—To a couple without children, furnished cottage in Auburndale for 5 or 6 months, from November 1st. Rent very low.
Box 101, Auburndale. 3-11

WANTED—A good family cow. Address
Box 85, Newtonville. 3-11

WANTED—By a first class dressmaker with experience, work to go out by the day.
Address, Miss M. T. Roney, 75 Prospect street,
Waltham, Mass. 21

WANTED—A gentleman would like board and three unfurnished rooms for his wife, two children and nurse, in Newton Centre for the winter. Two rooms must be large and sunny and connected. Address Box 21, Wellesley,
Mass. 3-11

WANTED—Dressmaking by the day by Miss F. H. Kierser, Parker street, Newton Centre. 3-11

DRESSMAKING—A competent dress maker with a few more, free from trials, 7 years old. Also jump seat mountain wagon, upholstered in russet leather. Will be sold at a great bargain. Can be seen at Cate's boarding stable, Chestnut street, West Newton. 47-11

For Sale.

FOR SALE—A horse, suitable for carriage or light harness, work to go out by the day.
Newton Centre. 48

FOR SALE—Desirable house in Newton Centre. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 48

FOR SALE—Sorrel horse, kind and sound, good family horse, free from trials, 7 years
old. Also jump seat mountain wagon, upholstered in russet leather. Will be sold at a great bargain. Can be seen at Cate's boarding stable,
Chestnut street, West Newton. 47-11

FOR SALE—A black walnut secretary bookcase, 5 feet 10 inches long by 8 feet high, at a bargain. Apply to B. F. Doherty, 27 Clinton Street, Newton. 47-11

To Let.

TO LET—Rooms and board in Newtonville, one or two very desirable rooms, three minutes walk from depot. Address P. O. Box
479, Newton. 3-11

FURNISHED ROOM TO LET—A pleasant front room, three minutes from Newton depot, furnace heat, bath, and gas if desired.
Inquire at this office. 3-11

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Estate known as the Brown estate, Auburn street, Auburndale, containing 12 rooms and bath, recently put in thorough repair, with stable and about 2 acres of land, to a responsible tenant, very reasonable terms will be made. Apply to T. C. Donovan, 104 Kingston street, Boston. 3-11

TO RENT—Three pleasant sunny rooms, with bath room, for light house keeping, within five minutes walk of station; terms $10 per month. For further particulars, address B. F.
Doherty, 27 Clinton Street, Newton. 47-11

TO LET—Two or three rooms to a lady.
References required. Apply to G. S. Coffin,
127 Boyd street, Newton. 3-11

TO RENT—Furnished room near depot.
Address T. Graphic Office. 3-11

TO LET—Three minutes from station, two bath of six rooms, with every convenience.
Apply at 18 Nonantum place. 51-11

TO LET—Furnished house in Ward One. The house now occupied by H. F. Bent, 379 Washington street, containing 9 rooms, bath room and furnace. Further information at the house. 51-11

TO LET—In Newton, large connecting partially unfurnished. Also two nicely furnished chambers, about 10 minutes walk from station.
All conveniences in house. First class location on south side, near station. References required. Dr. Utley house, 20 Richardson St. 50

TO LET—House of 8 rooms and bathroom, in Newton. Inquire 16 Avon place, Newton. 50-11

TO LET—A sunny furnished room, on the same floor with bath room. Inquire of Miss Loring, 16 Avon place, Newton. 50-11

TO LET—Sunny front room, furnished, on same floor with bath. Location very central, near Newton station. Breakfast and supper furnished if desired. Address "L. N." Graphic Office. 48

HOUSE TO LET—A convenient and pleasant house of nine rooms, on Alston street, in good order with furnace and water free. Situation healthy and pleasant. Rent $18 a month.
Apply to Henry H. Carter, Highland avenue. 48-11

TO RENT—Furnished and unfurnished houses in Newton Centre and Newton Highlands.
W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 48

TENEMENTS TO LET—In Newtonville. D.
P. O'Sullivan, Cabot Street. 43-11

TO LET—On Grassmere street, Newton, 2 new houses. These houses have each 11 rooms, are finished in hard wood, wired for electric lighting, open plumbing, steam heat, and all modern conveniences. Apply to Henry W.
Savage, 37 Court street, Boston or Newton Office, 1261 Washington street, West Newton. 41-11

Lost & Found.

LOST—A lady's small silver watch, on eve of October 13th. Probably on Washington street near Hotel Hunnewell. Finder of M.
C. M. Finder will be rewarded by returning the same to 177 Washington street, Newton. 3-11

LOST—A shawl, square light color, from carriage between Newton and Newton Centre. Finder will be rewarded by returning it to John Ellis, Summer street, Newton Centre. 4-11

Readings.

A COURSE OF READINGS—By Miss Fay
Davis. Subjects: Angelo, Scenes from Shakespeare, short stories, etc. Monday at M.
Stuart and Richard Harding Davis, Extracts from Lucille. Dates: Oct. 24, Nov. 7, Nov. 21, Dec. 5, at the University Library, Newtonville.
Tickets for the course $1.50. Single Tickets .25.

By James F. C. Hyde and Son. Auction-
eers, 31 Milk Street, Boston.

Members of the Real Estate Exchange and Auction Board.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Martha B. White to Lucy H. Valentine, dated July 20th, 1884, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Middlesex, Book 207, folio 421, will be sold at public auction for breach of the conditions in said mortgage on the premises, on Monday the 24th day of November 1893

THE CHILDREN'S ROOM.

How peaceful at night
The sleeping children lie,
Each gentle breath a sigh
Escaping like a sigh
How tranquil seems the room, how fair,
To one who softly enters there!

Whose hands are those unseen
That smooth each little head?
Whose locks are those that lean
Over each pillowed head?
Whose lips are those that smile
Whose fingers stroke the golden curls?

Whose are the yearning eyes,
And whose the trembling tear?
Whose heart is this that cries,
Rescuing God to hear?

Whose but the mother's, in whose face
Love shows its sweetest dwelling place?

Her hopes in beauty bloom,
And heaven sends down its light,
Which lingers in the room
Where mother says, "Good night."
Soft reading by the sleepers there,
Her very presence seems a prayer.
—Buffalo Commercial.

WILL AND I.

I had been sitting at my desk for a full hour, engaged in the laudable occupation of doing nothing. In spite of my trouble, what wonder then that I drifted off into reverie, and my thoughts reverted to sadly pleasant retrospects?

Once more it was winter—the sunny New Orleans winter—and Will and I were together. I recalled the hours passed in reading and writing and music; the drives and walks and theaters. The most minute and trivial incidents recurred to my mind, and I found myself smiling at the recollection of a certain long, narrow, phenomenally dark passage or alleyway on Royal street, up which we glided one night, and which Will, with his bright and quick sense of humor, immediately christened "Jack the Ripper's court."

This is not a sensational story that I am about to tell. I warn my readers in advance that there is nothing startling or wildly romantic in it. From start to finish it is a simple "o'ertrue tale." And yet it was romantic too. There was a tinge of romance, after all, when Will asked me to become his wife, to marry him in secret. We had been betrothed for a year, and he was far from strong. His health was undermined, and a horrible fear oppressed him that he would be taken away. In the prime of his manhood, with life and hope and happiness all his, it was an awful thought.

"Constance," he said one night as we stood on the moonlit gallery, with its luxuriant rose vines and the great yellow roses clambering up to shake down their showers of fragrance in our faces, "my darling, be my wife now! Why should we wait, dear one? There is nothing between our lives and happiness but the bugbear of poverty, and I shall have a fortune when I am 30. I shall be 30 next September, Constance, if—if I live."

Something in the sweet, tender voice made me glance up swiftly into the brave, dark eyes. Beautiful, tender eyes, where are you now? Where are you today, O Will? Hidden away forever from the sight of my eyes, from beyond the clasp of my arms—gone, gone—I feel it, believe it—to that Beautiful, veiled, bright world,

Where the glad ghosts meet.

Something in his voice made my heart ache.

"Why do you speak so sadly?" I asked him. "Never mind the fortune, Will. I care nothing for that, if you are only spared to me."

"I know it, dear, tender little heart," he answered softly. "You are the only true woman in the world, Constance. But I wanted to tell you (I am superstitious, I admit it) that I was prophesied that I shall die before I am 30."

"Nonsense!" I cried sturdily, "that is sheer superstition, and it is very wrong to believe in it, dear. No one knows the future. I would never think of that again if I were you."

I tried to smile as I spoke—to shake off the strange feeling that would oppress me, try as I might—but all in vain. Die before 30! My true hearted, noble Will, with his sunny smile and tender dark eyes! I would not believe it. It was absurd. So I laughed at his fears as foolishness and tried to make him forget. But he was far from strong, and that one glimpse of what might be in store for us—the awful parting that might come—made me decide. So I promised that night to become his wife at once and "in secret and silence," as the old song says.

Everything was made ready, and on the following night—the night before his departure—we were quietly married in a quaint little old church in one of the retired streets of New Orleans. And Will and I belonged to each other for time and eternity.

The sad parting came next day—and he went back to his northern home, while I returned to my work, brightened only by the hope of meeting in the summer at quiet Long Beach.

I am not a superstitious woman. I had laughed at Will for his own dread of the supernatural and his belief in a prophecy, but we had not been parted a whole month when something very curious happened. Will had written to me every day, such dear, sweet letters that they did my heart good—kept it alive, in fact.

But for those letters I would have given up my hold upon hope and would have succumbed to despair.

But one day no letter came. I felt a strange sinking at the heart—an awful sense of depression; darkness gathered over my life. Suspense—hope deferred; these are the two emotions which serve to kill the human heart, to darken and blight existence. That night I went out on the little gallery where we had passed so many happy hours. The moon was bright, and one star shone in the blue vault above my head—one that Will had long ago designated "our star." My heart was crushed and heavy.

I stood leaning against one of the columns which supported the gallery, the scent of the roses that he loved floating all around me. And as I stood there, something—a light touch—fell upon my shoulder. A cold breeze crept over my cheek, like a breath from the grave. I turned my eyes, and there before me in the cold moonlight stood Will—my husband.

With a wild incredulous cry of delight and rapture, I flung my arms about him—only to grasp empty air! No one was there! Will was gone!

I fell to the gallery floor and lay there like a dead woman.

When I opened my eyes, the moon was shining down upon me, just as calm and cold and imperial as ever. I struggled to a sitting posture and gazed wildly about me. What did it mean? I was not at all superstitious, yet I felt that I had seen my husband that night, just as truly as I had ever beheld his face in my life.

The next day—no letter, and the next, still no letter. Oh, the anguish of hope deferred!

The time had come now for me to go to Long Beach, as I had promised him. I would keep my word—no matter how hard it might be, I would go there. If he—if that hideous prophecy had really come true—at all events, I would keep my promise—my last promise to him. So I went. Oh, the long, dreary, interminable days, with only the monotonous waters before me, the blue, blue sky and golden sunshine always the same. It made my heart faint and sick. I had written and written letter after letter. Still no response. I felt that he was dead. And no one could tell me, because how could his friends in the far distant north know aught of the southern woman whom he had secretly wedded? And so the dreary, endless days dragged by, and I still lived, heartbroken and helpless. I will never more laugh at superstition, never.

Last night I saw him again. I had gone down to the beach in the moonlight and walked slowly and sadly up and down the white stretch of sand at the water's edge. All at once I saw another shadow mingle with my own upon the moonlit beach. I came to a halt and saw at my side—Will.

With a wild cry I attempted to grasp his arm, but there was no one there. I went back to the house and passed the night in pacing up and down the floor like a mad woman.

Today is his thirtieth birthday, or would have been, but I feel that my darling is no more; that the visions I have seen were warnings sent me of his fate. Would Will have ceased to write me—his beloved one—if he were alive? I believe that I shall see the phantom once again, and then—then—I shall go, too, for I feel that it is his spirit that has come back for me.

So I have been sitting here in the morning sunlight thinking of the past. Can one wonder greatly that my pen lies idle and utterly refuses to produce the love tales of others? Is not my own love story as sad a one as I can ever write?

I hear the sound of wheels and glance listlessly from the open window at my side. A carriage has stopped before the gate. Two men are assisting a third to alight. They are bringing him slowly up the walk to the house. He is evidently very ill. Why does my heart throb so weakly? I am too weak to stand—to take a step forward. Oh, I will not allow myself to be deceived by mad, vain hopes!

They reach the house at last and assist the feeble form up the steps of the broad gallery into my presence. Oh, pitying heaven! It is Will—Will, pale and spectral, a weak, frail invalid, but Will all the same. It is some time before I fully recover from this trance of happiness, and then the truth is made known. He had been very ill with brain fever. No one could write to me because they knew nothing of me or my address, and he was raving in delirium. As soon as he was able to attempt the journey he had set out to return to me.

It was all ended now—that dreary separation. Upon his thirtieth birthday, oh, so happy and hopeful, my Will had come back to me, never to leave me again!

"I shall never more laugh at any one for being superstitious," I said the next day gazing into the deep, dark eyes of the loved one so happily restored to me. "Thank heaven that my superstitious fears were not realized."

I have never been able to account for that strange illusion. To this day I cannot make up my mind what it was that I had seen.

But it was not Will's ghost, and that is all I care to know, after all.—Toronto Mail.

The Beef Tea Fallacy.

One of the hardest notions for the untrained nurse to give up is that beef tea is a valuable nutriment. The recent assertion of a writer in The American Lancet that thousands of sick persons have been starved to death on beef tea is only a summing up of what physicians and expert nurses have been trying to impress upon the minds of the laity for some time.

Beef tea is a stimulant, slight and evanescent, but to "live on beef tea," which has been the shibboleth of many a sickroom, is impossible. And The Lancet further counsels that if it must still be made and used to perform its very limited service, to remember that, like plain tea, it should never be boiled. That method of making contributes a positive vice—that of indigestibility.

Viscount Sherbrooke's Humor.

Robert Lowe became the recognized mouthpiece of sardonic humor, and thereby obtained more than his share of questionable notoriety. Many of his imputed stories are obviously adaptations.

A former friend who met him in London is said to have accosted him with the remark: "Don't you remember me? I used to know you in Australia," and to have met with the rebuff, "Yes, and when I met you again in Australia I shall be happy to know you." But this is a mere echo of George Selwyn's remark under like circumstances, "I shall be pleased to renew our acquaintance when we meet again in Bath."—Quarterly Review.

FIGHTING A ROBBER.

WAS IT BRAVERY OR WAS IT A CASE OF FOOLHARDINESS?

A Struggle with the Famous Ed Dalton For the Possession of a $5,000 Money Package—A Telegrapher's Story of One Winter Night's Experience.

When I read of adventures, there comes to my mind my encounter with a notorious outlaw of the name of Ed Dalton. For years he had robbed mail coaches and waylaid and murdered travelers who were belated and so unfortunate as to meet him.

I was employed by the Northern Pacific railway as telegraph operator. It was in the latter part of the winter that the most terrible storm broke upon that section of the country that was ever known. The wind blew a strong gale from the northwest, and the air was full of snow.

All trains were late, and I had found no time to leave my office and take an express package of $5,000 to the bank for safe keeping. The station was crowded and our safe small, so that I usually deposited the company's money in the bank—not liking to risk it in the office. I had an order from the dispatcher not to go to bed till after No. 4 had passed. This was the western bound limited, due at Cameron at 10 minutes of 11.

It was a lonely night. The wires hummed and sobbed in the wind as though they could not withstand the fury of the storm. I had finished my work and was sitting half asleep near the stove, which was filled with coal and red as a cherry, when a sensation of some impending danger took possession of me. Trying to shake it off, I walked to my desk, threw open the key and asked the operator on the "night trick" at Hudson how No. 4 was.

"On time," clicked the instrument in reply, and I stirred the fire, turned the blaze of my lamp higher and sat down again. For 15 or 20 minutes I sat listening to the monotonous click so musical to the operator's ear, when I became conscious some one was looking through the window, and a thought of the express package flashed through my mind. At the same instant a crashing of glass was followed by a gruff voice saying:

"Move and you are a dead man!" I did not stir, but I realized that I was looking straight into a six shooter. While I was wondering how I could save the money the robber broke out the rest of the window pane and crawled in over my desk.

Oh, for some way to reach my trusty "bulldog," which was lying in full sight under the ticket window. Useless wish! Ordering me to rise, the ruffian calmly took my chair and proceeded to warm his chilled members before "cleaning out" the office, all the while keeping the revolver pointed at my head. Glancing around, he spied my pistol and coolly put it in his pocket. As he rose he said:

"Well, now I am ready for business. I will just trouble you for that little package with the red seals that is in your safe."

I was desperate enough to say anything and broke into a loud, harsh laugh as he finished.

"Was ever anything more lucky?" I cried, and my voice sounded like a croak. "Why, my friend, I have been waiting for a chance to rob the express company for a month, and if you are bound to take the package we will divide the contents and skip together."

He looked at me a moment with a skeptical sneer.

"Bosh! Don't talk stuff! Whatever you do be quick about it and look a little out that you play me no trick, or I'll finish you."

I turned the combination and drew the safe door open, making up my mind to throw myself upon him if he moved his revolver away for an instant. It did not seem likely that opportunity would favor me, but as I took the money from the safe and handed it to him he lowered his weapon.

The critical time had come! If I should fail to overpower the fellow, it meant death for me.

I sprang upon him with the strength of a madman, and so unexpected was the movement that we both went sprawling on the floor, the revolver discharging itself harmlessly as we fell. The robber soon struggled to his feet, and lifting me completely from the floor forced me through the ticket window.

But I had wrestled often while at college, and as I crashed through the glass I whirled him around, throwing my left foot back of him in such a way that the next instant found him on his head in a corner. Wild with excitement, I pinned him to the floor, pulling my old "bulldog" from his pocket and changing the situation by placing the muzzle against his temple.

"Lie still, my friend," I panted, "or it will be worse for you!"

At that very moment I heard the familiar whistle of No. 4, which was approaching the station; but would not stop unless signaled. I was master of the situation now. I could stretch out my left hand and touch the signal board, and with a loud cry of triumph that sounded strange and savage in my own ears I turned it. I heard the airbrakes and escaping steam, and then the train came to a full stop. Directly afterward the office door opened, and the conductor came swinging his lantern and expecting his train orders.

I suppose he understood the tableau before him, but that was all I knew for some time.

When I became conscious of what was going on around me, they had my robber bound hand and foot, and an eager crowd stood round my chair, praising my bravery and congratulating me on saving the large sum of money and capturing the boldest robber west of Cameron, the famous Ed Dalton.

Was it bravery? Sometimes I think it was foolhardiness, but it paid me well, for both railway and express companies rewarded me generously in money and advance of position.—Archie Eggleston.

SELF SACRIFICE.

Without a Justifiable Motive It Becomes a Sentimental Vagary.

Young Lanyon, the midshipman, who went down with Admiral Tryon on the Victoria, was a sentimental lad. "You had better jump," cried the admiral to the boy.

"I'd rather stay with you," was the midshipman's reply.

The boy's loyalty to the admiral was pathetic, but it was a barren display of affection. The admiral was right. The lad ought to have jumped and made a resolute effort to save his life. The admiral had weighty reasons for preferring to stay at his post. The midshipman's life was flung away from sheer excess of sentiment.

Equally wasteful and unjustifiable was the zeal of a New Jersey workman, who listened to a lady's frantic appeal for the rescue of her dog, which was floundering in a pond. She fancied that her pet was in extreme danger. The workman plunged into the water and swam out to the dog. There he was suddenly attacked with cramp and was drowned before the lady's eyes. The dog swam ashore and barked from the bank at the rescuer, whose intentions had been misunderstood. It was more than foolish for a man to risk his life for a hysterical lady's pet dog.

Another workman in Brooklyn played a better part. A cry of "Horse run away!" was raised while he was chatting with a friend. A frightened horse was tearing up the street with a wagon behind him, but no driver. Directly in his track was a baby carriage with a sleeping child. The nurse, who had been wheeling the carriage across the street, had been frightened by the outcries of bystanders, and deserting her charge had fled to the sidewalk.

The workman did not hesitate. Springing forward, he caught the animal by the bridle and stopped the horse barely in time to save the child's life. The horse, revolting against capture, reared and made a plunge for liberty. The bridle broke in the workman's hands, and he fell under the horse's feet. In a moment he was trampled to death.

This workman had a wife and children dependent upon him. He undertook a most hazardous feat in attempting to stop the horse by the bridle ends in front of the baby carriage. But although he lost his life and brought calamity upon his household he exhibited singular unselfishness and fortitude. The sight of the sleeping child exposed to a horrible death set his warm heart beating, and generously and impulsively he did the only thing that could have been done for the child's rescue.

That was better than a useless sacrifice of life for a puppy. It was nobler than voluntary suicide with the admiral, who feared a court marshal's probable brand of murderer more than he feared death. Unless self sacrifice have adequate motive and justification for the risks, it becomes a sentimental vagary involving senseless waste of life.—Youth's Companion.

A Model Salesman.

There was an etching hanging in the window of a Broadway store, and in front there was a young woman looking at it admiringly. By and by she went in and asked the clerk who seemed to be in charge of the picture department to show it to her.

"Do you want to buy it?" inquired that gentleman, sharpening a pencil as he spoke.

"I want to see it," replied the young woman with surprise, but commendable firmness.

"Well," drawled the clerk, shutting his pocketknife and favoring the customer with his undivided and somewhat insolent attention. "If you want to buy it, I'm willing to take it out of the window. As for seeing it, you can see it perfectly well from the street. I haven't it in stock, and it's a great deal too much trouble to get it out if you ain't going to buy it. If you are, I'm willing to take it down. It's $2."

The young woman was dumb with surprise. Then she said in soft and polite tones:

"You are too kind. I will not trouble you."

And in the mind of the witnesses there arose a question as to just what the province of an attendant in a store was.—New York World.

A College Joke.

As good an example as can be given of the jokes played on new students is the ancient "Pempe" of Winchester college. On the first appearance of a boy in the school a companion will ask him with a kindly air if he has a book called "Pempe Moron Proteron" (Greek for "Send the fool farther"), without which it will be impossible to properly get through his work. Of course he will say "No," and then he will be sent on a wild goose chase from one boy to another in the hopes of obtaining a copy. The game is kept up with great spirit until the older boys are tired of the fun, and then the green lad is referred to one of the masters, who, instead of giving him a volume, as he expects, ends his trouble by explaining to him the joke of "Pempe."—London Tit-Bits.

Wonders in Penmanship.

The renowned Dr. Heylin in his "Life of King Charles" relates the following extraordinary story of the artistic ability of an old time knight of the pen: "In the time of the reign of Queen Elizabeth one Rorer wrote the Ten Commandments, the Creed, the Pater Noster, the queen's name and the year of our Lord within a space that could be covered with a penny. He gave her majesty a pair of spectacles of his own artificial making, that by the help thereof she did plainly and distinctly discern every letter."—St. Louis Republic.

The Solution.

"Bridget, what was that loud noise I heard in your room last night? Did something fall?"

"Not that I know of, ma'am. Maybe it's meself ye heard fall asleep. Ye knows I'm a heavy sleeper."—Truth.

INFLUENZA.

Or La Grippe, though occasionally epidemic, is always more or less prevalent. The best remedy for this complaint is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Last Spring, I was taken down with La Grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete. It is truly a wonderful medicine."—W. H. WILLIAMS, Crook City, S. D.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral
Prompt to act, sure to cure

DO YOU COUGH
DON'T DELAY TAKE KEMP'S
BALSAM
THE BEST COUGH CURE

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

DEXTER SHOE CO., Inc. Capital, $1,000,000.
BEST $1.50 SHOE IN THE WORLD.
"A dollar saved is a dollar earned."
The Ladies' Solid French Dongola Kid Button Boot delivered free anywhere in the U.S., on receipt of Cash, Money Order, or Postal Note for $1.50. Equals every way the boots sold in all retail stores for $2.50. We make this boot ourselves, therefore we guarantee the fit, style and wear, and if any one is not satisfied we will refund the money or send another pair. Opera Toes or Common Sense, widths C, D, E, & EE, sizes 1 to 8 and half sizes. Send your size, we will fit you. Illustrated Catalogue FREE.

DEXTER SHOE CO., 143 FEDERAL ST., BOSTON, MASS.
Special terms to Dealers.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.
INCORPORATED 1831.

Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Banking Rooms in Newton National Bank Building.

JAMES F. C. HYDE, President.
JOHN WARD, Vice President.
ADOLPHUS J. BLANCHARD, Treas.

TRUSTEES: Joseph N. Bacon, Jas. F. C. Hyde, Charles L. Lundy, Francis M. Mudgett, Samuel M. Jackson, William D. W. Ives, C. Strong, Charles A. Miner, Eliot J. Hyde, John Ward, Chas. T. Paulster, Warren C. Tyler and Harry W. Mason.

COMMITTEE OF INVESTMENT.
James F. C. Hyde, Samuel M. Jackson, Francis Mudgett, Charles A. Miner, Clerk and Auditor, H. W. Mason, Attorney.

Quarter days, TENTH day January, April, July and October. Dividends declared the Tuesday following January 10th and July 10th, are payable the next day.

Newton and Watertown Gas Light Company.

All orders for Gas or Electric Lighting left at their office 421 Centre St., will receive prompt attention.

TELEPHONE 28-4

Ripans Tabules relieve scrofula
COMMISSIONERS NOTICE.

Estate of Emer on B. Pettit, late of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, deceased, represented insolvent.

The subscribers, having been appointed by the Probate Court for said County Commissioners to receive and examine all claims of creditors against the estate of said Emer on B. Pettit, hereby give notice that six months from the twenty-fifth day of July, A. D. 1893, are allowed to creditors to present and prove their claims against said estate; and that they will meet to examine claims of creditors, at 23 Court Street, Boston, Room 363, on the second day of November, 1893, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon and on the fourth day of January, 1894, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

F. ALAN PELTON,
FRANK N. NAY.

August 21, 1893. 13t

J. H. LOOKER,
French Cleansing and Dyeing
Dry Cleansing and Repairing a Specialty.

Particular attention paid to Blankets, Lace Curtains, Fine Linens and Hand Laundry
Work of all kinds.

No. 21 Carlton Street, NEWTON, MASS.

MISS M. M. MADDEN,
(Successor to Mrs. A. Powers.)
Ladies' Hair Coods
Cutting, Curling and Shampooing.
43 Winter Street, Boston.
UP ONE FLIGHT, ROOM 1.
Headquarters for the Spanish Hair Restorer

Undertakers.

GEO. W. BUSH,
Funeral and Furnishing
UNDERTAKER,
ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.
Coffins, Caskets, Robes.
And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand, orders by telephone promptly attended to.

JOHN PHILLIPS
would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton, that he can be found at the above address and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over ten years experience in the business, under the instruction and in co-operation with the late Mr. Wm. H. Phillips, I trust I can attend to all calls that may come under my direction, to the satisfaction of all parties who may require the services of an undertaker.

S. F. CATE,
FURNISHING UNDERTAKER,
WASHINGTON STREET,
WEST NEWTON, MASS. Telephone 8110

HOWARD ICE CO.,
SUCCESSORS TO
HOWARD BROS.
Orders can be left at 342 Centre Street, - Newton.
Office Hours: 7.45 to 11 A.M.; 3 to 5.45 P.M.

ABRAHAM L. HOWARD, Proprietor
OFFICE, 46 GALEN ST., WATERTOWN.

NEWTON COAL CO.
—SUCCESSORS TO—HILLS, BULLENS & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—
COAL & WOOD
Family Orders a Specialty.
OFFICE, ELIOT BLOCK.
BRANCH OFFICE:
JOHN F. PAYNE'S DRUG STORE,
NEWTONVILLE.

JOB

PRINTING

—OF—

All Kinds and Styles

Can be obtained at the

Graphic Office

GOOD WORK

AND

Reasonable Prices

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

- Curtis, Ernest. The History of Greece: translated by Adolphus Ward. 5 vols. 73.25
- Covers the period from the earliest times to B. C. 838, the time of the Macedonian Dominion over Greece.
- Hale, Edward Everett. For Fifty Years: Verses written on Occasion, in the Course of the Nineteenth Century. 63.472
- Henty, George Alfred. St. Bartholomew's Eve; or a Tale of the Huguenot Wars. 64.1360
- Hilton, John Camden. A Hand-Book to the Topography and Family History of England and Wales. A descriptive account of 20,000 curious old books, manuscripts, papers, etc. 212.33
- Maps:—Berkshire County, Mass.: Boston and vicinity; Connecticut; Maine Coast; New Hampshire; Plymouth Town. These are folding maps, mounted on cloth for reference use at the library, drawn on scales of one, two and three miles to the inch, except the map of Boston which is on a larger scale. D. 24
- Marshall, Emma. Pat's Inheritance. 61.866
- Michel, Jules. Jeanne d'Arc (in French). 43.148
- The chapters on Jeanne d'Arc drawn from Michel's Histoire de France.
- Muller, F. Max. Theosophy or Psychological Religion: the Gifford Lectures delivered before the University of Glasgow in 1892. 92.689
- Penniman, James H., ed. Prose Dictation Exercises from the English Classics; with Hints on Punctuation and Parsing. 52.541
- A serious of selections from our classic prose writers to be studied in order that ease and accuracy of expression may be more readily attained by the student.
- Phillips, Melville, ed. The making of a Newspaper: Experiences of certain Representative American Journalists, related by themselves. 53.474
- Papers which first appeared in Lippincott's Magazine, constituting there the Journalist series.
- Repplier, Agnes. Essays in Idleness. 53.471
- Contents: Agrippina, The Children's Poets, The Prayers of War, Leisure, Words, Ennui, Wit and Humor, Letters.
- Richardson, Laura E. Melody. 64.1357
- Shaw, Henry. Examples of Ornamental Metal Work: drawn and engraved by Henry Shaw. R3.48
- Smith, Francis Hopkinson, and others. Stories of Italy. (Stories from Scribner series.) 61.862
- Smith, Goldwin. The United States: an Outline of Political History, 1492-1871. 73.266
- It is divided under five headings: The Colonies; Revolution; Independence and Union; Republic; Democracy and Slavery; Rupture and Reconstruction. It will probably be followed by a companion volume treating the recent history of parties and the questions of the present day.
- Stoddard, William Osborn. On the Old Frontier, or the Last Raid of the Troquois. 65.769
- Mr. Stoddard describes the life of the settlers in western New York.
- Wheeler, Candace, ed. Household Art. 101.679
- Sets forth the work of women in house decoration, and furnishes an exposition of that renaissance in domestic decoration which is a feature of our day.
- Wiley, William H. and Sarah K. The Yosemite, Alaska, and the Yellowstone. 37.275
- Williams, Alfred M. Sam Houston and the War of Independence in Texas. 94.548
- A valuable contribution to both history and biography, giving a view of the early history of Texas and the several phases of its development.
- E. P. THURSTON, Librarian. Oct. 18, 1893.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—The comedians, Hallen & Hart, have earned a reputation in Boston second to none in the musical comedy line. Next week they pay their annual visit to the Grand Opera House and will present their new bright, sparkling musical and witty comedy entitled, "The Idea." Of late seasons Hallen & Hart have been identified with "Later On," a stage creation which obtained prominence for its originality and success for its two promoters. Hallen & Hart have gathered about them a company of versatile people in their line. Musically the idea will be tuneful and several prominent artists will be heard in new and popular songs. The company includes, besides the stars, J. Aldrich Libbey, Al Wilson, Larry Boyle, C. B. Lawler, W. S. Francis, Albert Hawthorne, Richard Read, Marguerite LeMar, Mollie Fuller, Fannie Bloodgood, Carrie DeMar, Loretta Morgan, Edith Murray, Gennie Givini. Note, J. Aldrich Libbey, the well known tenor, is a Somerville boy. Mr. Libbey has been seen in nearly all of the comic operas which have visited Boston the past few seasons. His last appearance was with Francis Wilson's "The Lion Tamer."

GLOBE THEATRE—Jolly DeWolf Hopper is at present enjoying a remarkably prosperous reign of merriment at the Globe Theatre, but he is surely not deriving as much enjoyment from it as the public, for at every performance the big theatre is packed with delighted audiences. Sprightly Della Fox is as charming as ever, the parts she assumes in "Panjandrum" enabling her to display new varieties of talent. She enacts four different parts, namely—a Spanish damsel, who subsequently masquerades as a sailor boy, an Indian fakir and a Borneo queen. DeWolf Hopper, himself, assumes no less than five impersonations—a young sailor, a bull-fighter, a weather-beaten mariner, a fakir and a king of Borneo. Full of comical situations, sparkling wit, catching music and exuberant merriment generally, the popularity that "Panjandrum" has won seems entirely deserved. It will hold the boards of the Globe during the coming week, after which Mlle. Marie Tavy, with her magnificent company, will, on October 30th, begin a season of Grand English Opera.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—Instead of "The Algerian" continuing its engagement at the Hollis, arrangements have been made by Manager Isaac B. Rich which will result in that excellent organization known as Charles Frohman's Comedians being seen at that theatre beginning next Monday in the successful military comedy, "The Other Man." This company has just concluded an extended and prosperous run at the Garden Theatre, New York, which extended over one hundred nights, and where it was pronounced to be one of the cleverest comedies of the season. Mr. Frohman's organization is one of the best known companies now extant and include such artistic people as Joseph Holm, Thomas Burns, Herbert Standing, Harry Brown, Charles S. Abbe, William Lewers, T. U. Valentine, Joseph Adleman, R. G. Thomas, Joseph Humphreys, Toney Eddinger, Gay Nichols, Thomas Fitz Clark, Raymond Hamilton, Leo Dietrichstein, Benjamin Butler Davenport, Charles Dayton, Henrietta Crossman, Margaret Robinson, Beverly Stiggraves, Margaret Craven. "The Other Man" can hardly fail to duplicate its New York success. The cast and the mounting will be the same as was seen during the New York run. Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

TREMONT THEATRE—On Monday night next, Mr. Stuart Robinson will give his annual engagement at the Tremont Theatre. Mr. Robinson has made a very scholarly and careful production of this most merry comedy, attending to all details of costume, accessories, and keeping these and the scenery historically correct. There is no more earnest student of the classic drama than Mr. Robinson, and the beauty, appropriateness and care of his production of "The Comedy of Errors," will again demonstrate the attention given to the most minute details. He has prepared beautiful scenery, and has been most lavish in the number of scenes. Mr. Robinson brings with him a strong company, carefully selected, for this special production. Mr. Giles Shine, an actor of well known ability, will play the twin to Mr. Robinson's Dromio of Syracuse. The quips and pranks of this jolly fellow will find a most humorous interpretation at the hands of Mr. Stuart Robinson. Matinees will be given both Wednesday and Saturday of the engagement, and seats can now be procured for the first week.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—Miss Pauline Hall and her opera company will appear at the Columbia, October 23, in the opera "The Honey-mooners." This beautiful songstress presents to the public this season, her manager announces the most worthy production to which she has ever given her talents. "The Honey-mooners" is the latest production of the fun-making gifts of C. M. S. McLeelan, editor of Town Topics, and the musical gems of William Furst, composer of the "Isle of Champagne." The scenery and costumes are brand new, depicting the rich architecture and gorgeous fashions of the enchanted kingdom of Rostyootoot. Accompanying the prima donna is Richard Golden, the finest comedian of the American stage; Miss Caroline Hamilton, the prima donna of the Bostonians; Alf C. Wheeler, Tom Ricketts, Eva Davenport and Helen Dunbar, with a large chorus of pretty girls. Miss Hall plays a wanderer in Swiss pedal-lad, a dainty role, with opportunities better than she has ever had before. Secure seats well in advance.

Newton defeats Needham.

The first game in the Suburban League was played at Newton Centre last Saturday between Newton A. A. and Needham resulting in a decisive victory for the former.

Newton's team work had greatly improved since the previous game but there is still much chance for further improvement, especially in the interference. The game began with the ball in Newton's possession and after a gain of 5 yards by the V it was advanced on good rushes by the backs and tackles to Needham's 25 yard line where Williams took it and aided by splendid interference scored the first touchdown. Knight kicked the goal. Score 6-0.

Needham was unable to make any gain owing to the tackling of Page and the ball went to Newton on downs but was soon regained by Needham on a fumble who in turn fumbled and Tarbell getting the ball made the second touchdown goal. Score 12-0.

Williams scored once more for Newton in the first half by a run of 50 yds. Goal kicked. Score 18-0.

Needham started with the ball in the second half but soon lost it and it was quickly advanced toward the Needham goal by Cushing, Rogers, and Blake and finally carried across the line by Knight who as usual kicked the goal. Score 24-0.

Needham with the ball in their possession took a decided brace and by mass plays succeeded in pushing Grover over the line. No goal. Score 24-4.

Newton tried a V and Fitz broke through and aided by the interference of Paul and Dana scored the fifth and last touchdown. Knight kicked his fifth goal making the score 30-4.

Time was soon called with the ball near the centre of the field. For Needham, Grover, Hazelton and Bowers did good work.

Next Saturday the eleven play their second league game at Lynn, leaving Boston on the 215 electric car from Scollay square. It is hoped that as many as possible will accompany them and cheer them on to victory.

The teams lined up as follows:

NEWTON A. A. POSITIONS. NEEDHAM.

Tarbell (Linder), L. e. F. E. D. Richards
Cushing, L. e. F. E. D. Richards
Carter, L. e. F. E. D. Richards
Carter, L. e. F. E. D. Richards
Carter, L. e. F. E. D. Richards
Carter, L. e. F. E. D. Richards
Carter, L. e. F. E. D. Richards
Carter, L. e. F. E. D. Richards
Carter, L. e. F. E. D. Richards
Carter, L. e. F. E. D. Richards

Score, Newton A. A. 30; Needham 4; touchdowns, Williams (2), Tarbell, Grover, Dana; goals from touchdowns, Knight (5); umpire Reed; referee Paul, time 1 hour; attendance 800.

The First Boulevard.

The Boston Herald gave this editorial notice of our new boulevard:

Newton has nearly completed the first boulevard of its new system; that along the line of Cheesecake brook. Newton has set an example in this scheme of boulevards that should be generally followed by cities and towns similarly situated. It not only provides the cheapest and most practical way of solving the question of surface drainage, but it supplies a very beautiful and easy system of pleasure drives and residence roads by utilizing the lines of the water-courses for water purposes. By keeping the waterway open in the midst of a central space of turf, shrubbery and trees, all necessity for costly culverting—the usual manner of treating watercourses in cities—is avoided. The line of a watercourse, also, as a rule, follows the easiest grades, so that the cost of road construction is low and the route followed is a natural one.

If you wish to secure a certain and speedy result, when using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, be careful in observing the rules of health, or the benefit will be retarded. A fair and persistent trial of this medicine never fails, when the directions are followed.

LOW KEEL'S WARNING.

BY TOM ONEBELL.

Low Keel—Cutters. High Keel—Centreboards.

See—
Low Keel, Low Keel, beware of the day,
When the High Keel shall meet thee in sailing array.

For the conflict is plainly depicted to me,
And I see the Low Keel astern and alee.
Crowding on canvas, slow and aloft,
She is doing her best to take the cup off.

Yet the swift High Keel sails by her cleaving
The waves, and the Low Keel is left, like her battle field slain.

Low Keel—
Tell that to the marines when they tell thee,
Or if you will, for the High Keel to thee doth appear.

And thou old eyes this bidding draw taft,
To shut thy eyes to the sight of the High Keel yacht.

See—
Hail! longest thou, Low Keel, my vision to scorn!
I tell thee, proud Low Keel, thy plume shall be torn.

Why flames the far summit, why shoots to the binet
Those embers like stars from the firmament cast?

'Tis the fire shower of victory exultantly given From the heights that beset the darkness of heaven.

O, haughty Low Keel, peerless in night,
Whose base arises on many battlements' height,
Thine fires are around thee to chagrin and to shame.

Return to the country from whence thou camest,
For the prize which thou seekest shall stay where it has stood

And the lion shall roar loudly in terrible mood.

Low Keel—
False wizard, avaunt! I have marshalled my crew.

Large is her club topeal and right is her draught:
She is for leave to and as well as can be,
and she will sail sure and swift to great victory.

Then welcome be the High Keel yacht to the test,
Ha, soon will you see that the Low Keel is best!

See—
Low Keel, Low Keel, beware of the day,
For though dark and despairing, my sight I may see.

But man cannot cover what the stars do reveal.
'Tis the dawn of a new day, and the mystic haze,
Coming events oft to me cast their shadows before.

I tell thee, Columbia's loud echoes shall ring
From the throats of brave freemen that know not a king.

For, anointed with wisdom, they know how to make Ships that sail swiftly, all prizes to take.

Now in mist and billows she sweeps from my sight.
Now, kindly tempest, to help her in might,
Hail! 'Tis finished; the thunders break forth from the shores.

The Low Keel has lost, and her country deplores.
But where is the haughty swift Low Keel, oh where?

For the contest, to her now is closed in despair.
She rides the ocean wave far away alone,
Doing the best she can—but oh, so late!

Low Keel—
Down, Southless insulter! I trust not the tale,
For the Low Keel shall not a destiny meet of humbly fall, so full of defeat.

But she will sail on to victory, and leave not the cup.
In the land where it now is, High Keel, you must give it up!

BY A CITIZEN OF NEWTON CENTRE.

Burglars in Wellesley Hills.

Burglars blew open the safe in W. W. McLeod's grocery store in Wellesley Hills early Tuesday morning. They evidently expected a good haul, and if they had done it one night sooner would not have been disappointed. But Mr. McLeod, on his way in to the meeting of the Wellesley club at the Copley square hotel, Monday evening, took his money along and deposited in the West Newton bank. By this chance the burglars got only three dollars in change.

This store is in the middle of Putney's block in the village square. There are families living upstairs and in the rear, and the neighboring houses are very near.

After coming out the burglars fired two pistol shots, either as a signal, or to warn off any would-be capturers, and were seen to drive off toward Newton Lower Falls.

There have been a great many burglaries in Wellesley the past year. This is the fifth break within a few weeks. The town has for some time offered a reward of $250 for evidence that will lead to the conviction of either the burglars or incendiaries, of which there have also been a great many. The citizens of the town feel that something more active should be done by the authorities.

SAVED HER LIFE.

Sarsaparilla, Spring Bitters, Nervine and Doctors Failed, But Rodolf's Did the Business.

RODOLF MEDICINE CO.

GENTS:—Twenty years ago I had an eruption or humor break out under my left knee, which the doctor told me was Eczema or Salt Rheum. It began as a small point, but rapidly spread until I had a raw sore as large as the palm of my hand. At first, except itching severely, I did not suffer much from it; but, as it grew larger, it began to pain me so severely at times that I could not sleep and was so stiff and sore that it made me very lame. Two years ago my right ankle began to break out and an ulcer formed nearly as large as the one under my knee. This was the straw that broke the camel's back and I became thoroughly discouraged. I had tried all the doctors in my vicinity, during all these years, and all the various blood purifiers without receiving any benefit. Last spring I had the Grippe; and, as I was familiar with the tonic powers of Rodolf's Medical Discovery, I began taking it for that purpose. The first bottle greatly improved my general health, and, much to my surprise, the old ulcers which had made my life miserable so long began to heal. I obtained another bottle, and the improvement was still more marked; and after taking four bottles the ulcers are entirely healed and I consider myself completely cured.

Very Truly Yours,

MRS. SYLVIA J. LANG.

Rodolf's New Medical Discovery and Rodolf's Cream Emulsion are for sale by Geo. Ingraham, West Newton; John F. Payne, Newtonville.

You wouldn't think that a woman who had over seen the spectacle when another woman got off a slowly-moving horse car with her back toward the horses' head would ever do the same thing herself—but she will.—Somerville Journal.

"That beats me," the drum said confidentially, referring to the rosewood stick.—Somerville Journal.

Coughing Leads to Consumption, Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

WINSLOW-FOLSOM.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING AT WEST BURY TUESDAY NOON.

Miss Mary Olivia Folsom of Jamaica Plain and Dr. Kenelm Winslow of Vernon St., were married on Tuesday last at noon, at St. John's church, Jamaica Plain.

A more beautiful day for the happy event could not possibly have been desired by anyone, and the church was completely filled by a fashionable assemblage.

The full Episcopal service was read most impressively by the rector, Rev. Mr. Sherman.

Miss Eva L. Folsom, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and a brother of Dr. Winslow's, Mr. Willard Winslow of New York, served as best man.

The ushers were the following Boston gentlemen: Mr. Arthur Danton Foss, Mr. Gannett Wells, Mr. Paul Foster Folsom, Jr., Mr. Barclay Tilton and Mr. Harry Winslow, with Mr. Asa Eldridge of Newton, Mr. John Clarke Lee of Brookline and Mr. Grosvenor Folsom of Fall River, Mass.

Miss Folsom is the daughter of Mr. P. F. Folsom, well known in the business world as a member of the Boston firm of Hawley, Folsom & Ransom. No more popular young lady grooms Jamaica Plain society, whose loss now becomes Newton's gain.

Dr. Winslow is a representative of one of New England's oldest families. Students of the early history of the Plymouth colony will remember that among the passengers on the Mayflower were brothers, John, Edward and Kenelm Winslow. Dr. Winslow is directly descended from the first named, who was the commander of the expedition against the Acadians, which resulted so disastrously, and which is familiar to readers of "Evangeline." Edward was the first governor of Massachusetts, and the third, Kenelm, returned to England and again took up his residence on the family estate.

Dr. Winslow has graduated from several departments of Harvard, and is now an assistant professor there, giving several courses of lectures, in addition to the constantly increasing practice which he has in our city.

Allen, 8; Newton High, '94, 4.

The eleven of the Allen classical school and the class of '94, Newton high school, played at Newtonville, Tuesday, Allen school winning, 8 to 4.

NEWTON HIGH, '94. ALLEN SCHOOL.
Hodge, L. e. F. e. Wilson
Crowley, L. e. F. e. Fitch
Hart, L. e. F. e. Blair
Ayers, L. e. F. e. Blair
Whitney, L. e. F. e. Knight
Smith, L. e. F. e. Beach
Jones, L. e. F. e. Bemis
Barum, L. e. F. e. Bend
Brown, L. e. F. e. Whitney
Waters, L. e. F. e. Barrett
Touchdowns—Whitney, Bemis, Hatch, Umpire—Elliott, '77. Referee—G. H. Strout Swarthmore, '93.

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm. WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. WALKING, KINMAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Health! Can you buy it? Yes, when it is possible with a single box of

Beecham's

Pills

(Tasteless) to cure Indigestion Biliousness and Sick-headache.

55 cents
a box.

S. L. PRATT, FUNERAL AND FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass.

First-class Appointments and Competent A assistants. To accommodate the people of Upper Falls and vicinity orders may be left at the office of Fanning Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone.

Also shall continue in the Back, Livery and Boarding Stable. Business at my old stand corner of Beacon and Station Streets. 13

—JOB PRINTING—

AT THIS OFFICE.

Lawyers.

WILLIAM F. RACON,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law
113 Devonshire St., Room 42,
BOSTON.

SPRAGUE & WASHBURN,
Counsellors - at - Law
51 SUMMER STREET, Rooms 13 and 14,
BOSTON.

Chas. H. Sprague, Residence, Auburndale.
C. Everett Washburn, Residence, Wellesley Hill.

JESSE C. IVY,
COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
113 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.
Residence, Newton. 38-1y

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law
Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.

WILLIAM F. SLOCUM. WINFIELD S. SLOCUM,
Residences, Newtonville.
Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

WALTER H. THORPE,
Counsellor at Law,
28 State Street, Room 55,
BOSTON, MASS.

Residence, Pelham St., Newton Centre

Carpenters and Builders.

G. W. RIGBY,
Carpenter and Builder.
ALL JOBBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Shop: WASHINGTON ST., opp. WABAN
NEWTON MASS.

S. K. MacLEOD
Carpenter and Builder.
Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly
executed.
Bathrooms and Fittings for Plumber's Work
a Specialty.
Shop, Centre Place, op. Public Library
Residence, Boyd street, near corner
P. O. Box, 650, NEWTON, MASS.

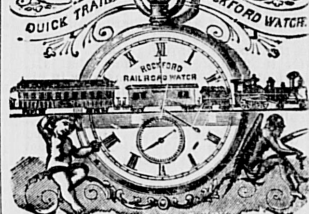

Veterinary Surgeon

MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S.

Veterinary Surgeon.

BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST.,
NEWTON, MASS.

Telephonic connection.

THEODORE L. MASON,
Agent for the celebrated

Rockford Watch

ELGIN, WALTHAM, and other Americ watches always in stock.
Repairing of Fine Watches, French, Grandfather and American Clocks a specialty.
All work warranted to give satisfaction.

Elliott Block, Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

—THE—
West Newton Savings Bank

Incorporated 1887.
West Newton, Mass.

AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President.
JAMES H. NICKERSON, Treasurer.

Trustees—Austin R. Mitchell, Benj. F. Hough-
ton, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Pres-
cott C. Bridgman, Charles A. Potter, Fred E.
Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Cate,
Adams K. Tolman, C. F. Eddy, F. E. Hunter.

Committee of Investment—Austin R. Mitchell,
Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Charles
A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett.

Open for business daily, 9.30 to 11 a.m., 1.30 to 4 p.m.

Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July and October.

Fitchburg Railroad.

Reduced Rates of Fare
For Round Trip Tickets
On Account of Summer

VACATION
EXCURSIONS.

Tickets on Sale June 1 to Sept. 30.
And good until Oct. 31, 1893.

SUMMER EXCURSION BOOK FREE

On receipt of 2c. stamp for postage. Gives information in regard to routes, rates of fare and
list of hotels and boarding houses. Can be obtained at 250 Washington street, Boston, or on application to

J. R. WATSON, Gen. Pass. Agent,
40

MYLES J. JOYCE, Ornamental and Landscape GARDENER.

Grading, Sodding, Pruning and Gardening of Every Description.

Taking Care of Private Lawns and Gardens
A Specialty.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned, and Put Down in the Best Manner.

ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
P. O. Box 42, Newton, Mass.

Fish and Provisions.

Newton City Market
ALL KINDS OF

Fresh and Salt Meats,
POULTRY AND GAME.

Fish and Oysters

Butter Cheese Eggs
Canned Goods Fruit,
and Vegetables.

413 Centre St., Opposite Public Library.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

FISH OYSTERS,
Vegetables & Fruit of all Kinds

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXII.—NO. 4.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1893.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR.

CHANDLER & CO.

CLOAK DEPARTMENT.

FALL AND WINTER ANNOUNCEMENT.

Our exhibit of new ideas and designs in JACKETS, CAPES and WRAPS is now ready for inspection.

The many innovations in styles of OUTER GARMENTS for the coming season makes an early selection imperative for those wishing the choice of these attractive NOVELTIES.

CHANDLER & CO., WINTER ST., BOSTON.

FINE DRESS SUITS A SPECIALTY.

GARDEN CITY MARKET. Fresh Fruits, Fish, Meats, Vegetables.

400 Centre Street.

ASHLEY & DOANE,

SUCCESSORS TO

HOWARD & DOANE.

HAWLEY & MERRY, Ladies' Tailors,

AND—

Dressmakers, Outside Garments, Reception Dresses, Wedding Dresses, made where ladies furnish their own material.

Street Dresses, Dinner Dresses, Party Dresses, Reception Dresses, Wedding Dresses, made where ladies furnish their own material.

274 Boylston Street, Boston

C. LEWIS MARBLE,

Steam & Hot Water Heating.

GAS PIPING

Jobbing and Chandler Work

PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

HIGGINS & NICKERSON'S BLDG., NEWTONVILLE.

CREAM.

THE FAMOUS

Turner Centre Cream,

FOR SALE BY

C. P. ATKINS

Ten Cents for One-Half Pint.

Shirts Made to Order

By E. B. BLACKWELL,

43 THORNTON STREET, NEWTON.

A Perfect Fit Guaranteed.

Best Material. First-Class Work.

Superior Shirts, $1.50. Best Dress Shirts, $2 each.

Will call on customers at such time and place as will suit their convenience.

Repairing is Done Neatly and Promptly.

New Shirts, 50c.; Neckbands, 15c.; Wristbands, 15c.; Collars, 25c.; Centre Plates, 25c.

Badly fitting shirts made to fit well

TO LET! Lincoln and Stevens Halls.

Newly fitted with every modern improvement for Musical and Dramatic Entertainments, lectures and dancing. Lincoln Hall has the best floor for dancing of any hall in the Newton.

Terms reasonable. Apply to H. W. TAYLOR, Floral Avenue, Newton Highlands.

MISS L. P. ELLIOTT,

Ladies' Hair Dresser.

Manufacturer of FINE HUMAN HAIR GOODS

Every description of Hair work furnished at short notice. Ladies' and Children's Shampooing, Hair Cutting, Curling and Singeing. Open daily from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m.; Saturdays until 10 p. m.

Warner's Bldg., Centre St., opp. Depot, Newton.

Misses BLOOD & YORKE

Ladies' Hair Dressing, Chiropodist and Manicure Parlor. Will call at residence if desired.

166 BOYLSTON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Farley, 433 Washington St.

—Get ready for the Dutch Kirmess.

—Apply early for Oratorio tickets. See adv.

—S. A. White sells kindling wood at reduced prices.

—Don't forget the Market and the Inn at the Dutch Kirmess.

—Horace G. Crocker will soon establish a lively stable on his Fayette street place.

—Miss Louise V. Sharp has returned to her home in Canada.

—A musicale was given at the residence of Mr. A. J. Shipton, Boyd street, last evening. The program comprised vocal and instrumental numbers. About thirty friends were present.

—Ten thieves are prowling about and several losses of valuable fowl have been reported.

—Mrs. F. W. Bentley and her daughter, Miss Bertha M. Bentley, have returned from the World's Fair after a five weeks stay in Chicago.

—Mrs. Baker is now receiving applications and conducting her classes in her studio for the winter.

—Mrs. J. Edwin Warner left on Tuesday for Pasadena, California, to spend the winter.

—People from all the Newtons and from adjacent towns are seen in Grace church on Sunday nights.

—A new club, known as the Hunnewell Hill Reading club has begun its work for the year. It has twelve members.

—The new Guild Hall of Grace church will be ready for dedication on the evening of Nov. 30th.

—Rev. Geo. E. Merrill has been elected one of the vice-presidents of the Northern Baptist Educational society.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke, president of the Browning society, presided at the first fall meeting held at the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, Monday afternoon.

—Mr. John T. Burns received a telegram, Wednesday, announcing the death of his mother, at her home in St. John's, N. B.

—A tea will be given next Thursday from 3 to 5 by Mrs. Whiting and the Misses Whiting, at their residence on Hunnewell Hill.

—Among recent arrivals at Hotel Hunnewell are Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Ellenwood and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bachelder of New York.

—The Unitarian Club held its first meeting of the season at Channing church last evening. Mr. S. B. Capen of Jamaica Plain read a paper on "Municipal Reform."

—On account of the storm last Monday evening, Nonantum Colony, No. 77, U. O. P. F. did not hold its regular meeting. The special business assigned for that evening will come up at the next meeting, Nov. 13.

—Music for Grace church, Sunday night: Procession, "All hail the power of Jesus Name."

Magnificat, King Hall; Nunc Dimittis, King Hall; Anthem, "How goodly are thy tents," King Hall; Anthem, "Lovely appear over the mountains," Gunned.

Recessional, "Hark! hark! my Soul."

—Mr. Thomas Weston will read a paper next Wednesday at 3 p. m. at the hall of the Boston University, 12 Somerset street, on "Governor Bradford and his influence on Plymouth Colony," before the N. E. Historical and Genealogical Society. The meeting will be open to the public.

A cordial invitation is given to all who would like to connect themselves with the Eliot church choir. Bass and tenor voices are especially needed. Mr. Dunham will receive applications in the choir room on Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock.

—Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Grace Jones and Mr. Eben H. Ellison. It will take place at Grace church, Nov. 30th, and be followed by a reception at the Newton clubhouse at Newtonville.

—The advanced class of Prof. H. E. Monroe's dancing school will open Tuesday at Armory Hall upon which improvements have been made. The other class will open Monday, Oct. 30.

—Music for Eliot church Sunday evening: Org. Prelude, Rheinberger; Anthem, "Let thy merciful ears," Gau; Te Deum, Kottschmar; Quartet, "O God, the Protector," Buck; Contralto solo, "O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, from the Messiah," Handel; Organ Postlude, Salome.

—William H. Luce, collector of customs for the district of Wadsworth, Me., is paying a visit to Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gallagher. Tuesday Collector Luce was the guest of Collector Beard on a trip down the harbor, and also in a visit to the public institutions at Deer Island and elsewhere.

—A musicale was held at the residence of Mr. Henry E. Cobb, Monday evening, for the benefit of the children's Hospital, Boston. Some two hundred were present and listened to an enjoyable program rendered by Mr. Carl Faellon, pianist, Mr. Leo Seitz, solo, and Mrs. E. E. Nourse, contralto. Mr. W. H. Dunham sang several solos.

—All who are at all interested in portraits or pictures of any kind should call at Mrs. Baker's studio and see the studies of the sea, of landscapes and of children, also portraits of children, especially the portraits of two interesting young ladies who are types of different styles of beauty, but both are striking portraits in watercolor, a charming medium for portraits.

—The ladies of the Methodist church held a social at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Barber, Wednesday evening, at which Miss Fox sang some pleasing solos, and a good deal of amusement was had from an illustrated library, each character illustrating the name of some book which the audience were requested to guess. A large number were present.

—There will be a special Veterans' Service for aged people at the Methodist church next Sunday morning with appropriate music and church decorations and a short sermon by Rev. Mr. Bronson. The Epworth League provides carriages for all who can come and would be glad to have addresses of any aged, shut-in or infirm, left with Mr. Howes at the City Market. Usual evening service with sermon by the pastor.

—The work of the gymnasium in Nonantum Hall for women and children has entered upon its second season. The Sargent anthropometric charts used this year are plotted from the new tables from which were moulded the typical man and woman exhibited at Chicago this summer. The main object of this work is to increase the powers of the individual and make the development equal and more complete. Boys' classes Tu. days and Fridays, ladies and misses Mondays and Thursdays.

—The annual meeting of the Newton Epworth League of the Centre street Methodist church has been held and the officers for the ensuing year are as follows: President, D. F. Barber; 1st vice-president, Mrs. H. S. Leonard; 2nd, Miss Helen Blackwell; 3rd, Annie Brannen; 4th, Charles Burgher; 5th, Wellington Howes; 6th, Miss Mary McLavon. These are heads of the following departments: 1st, "Spiritual Work," 2nd, "Mercy and Help," 3rd, "Literary Work," 4th, "Social Work," 5th, "Correspondence," 6th, "Finance." Under each head is the routine work of the association, the lines of which are suggested from headquarters which direct the vast army of the league as represented in the Methodist church of the country. A good practical Christian work was done during the past year and much more is anticipated during the coming months as the members are loyal and enthusiastic. Some of the work done, has been the sending of fruit and flowers to the Italian Mission or Epworth Settlement at the North End in Boston, and many poor people have been assisted by the efficient 2nd vice-president in our own city. Any charitable or helpful work which our young people can do, assisted by our able and active pastor, will be gladly taken up, and any suggestions or information given by any one of the members will be gratefully received.

AUBURDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton

—We have got the set o'brushes; Thorne

—Don't forget the Market and the Inn at the Dutch Kirmess.

—Mr. Wm. L. Phillips visited his home in Old Orchard, Me., this week.

—Mrs. F. A. Sawyer of Maple street has removed to the new house on Woodland avenue, erected by Prof. Braden.

—Mr. Joseph Lee, proprietor of the Woodland Park hotel, has returned from a trip to the World's Fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Woods of Nashua, N. H., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Thorne of Auburndale avenue.

—Rev. T. W. Bishop is to preach on "Old Age" next Sunday morning and a number of aged people are expected to be present.

—The next meeting of the Revival club will be held at the residence of Mrs. Coolidge Roberts, on Vista avenue, Tuesday, Oct. 31, 1893.

—Henry W. Savage has sold for B. F. Harris the pretty Queen Anne house and lot of land containing 8,000 square feet, on Erie street. The purchaser, Mrs. E. S. Dwight of Framingham. The terms were private.

—There are letters at the post office for Miss Ruth Atwood, Mr. W. Frederick Duff, Mrs. W. Gaffey, Mr. E. M. Hinkley, Miss Katie McDonnell, Miss Katie McKee, Miss E. Singleton, Mr. Michael Scullane, Mrs. Edward Walker, Miss Carrie Warren.

—The members of Riverdale Lodge, N. E. O. P. and their friends had a very enjoyable time Monday evening when a pleasant social gathering inaugurated the winter season always carried out during the winter season. The regular lodge meeting was held early in the evening and the hall was then cleared for dancing to furnish music for which Knottville and Allen's popular orchestra from Natick had been engaged. About 35 couples participated in the dancing which was continued until 1 o'clock when refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

—Rev. Samuel W. Dike, LL. D. gave the first of a series of lectures upon Sociology, in the chapel of Lasell Seminary upon the evening of Oct. 25. This subject with its systems of interdependence, and varying industrial problems is one upon which many of us have wrestled, and have been well-nigh vanquished in the contest. Under the hand of so able an expositor as Mr. Dike, all intricacies and mists become cleared up. The attention of the large audience never flagged for a moment while following the outlines of a well-defined system of thought, presented with peculiar incisiveness, and scholarly attractiveness of style. We promise ourselves great pleasure and profit from this course of lectures.

—The Waltham Rovers and the Newton Upper Falls teams played a game of association football Saturday. The score was 2 to 1 in favor of Newton. The Waltham players had the ball about Newton's goal during the last 15 minutes of play, but owing to hard luck were unable to score. There was an attendance of 800. Played are the teams: Waltham Rovers; Ratcliffe, goal; Murray, Welch, back; Dickinson, Johnson, Burrell, half-back; Smith, Norwood, left wing; Dugan, Hennessey, right wing; Howard, centre. Newton Upper Falls: Young, goal; Cornthwaite, Heald, back; Hudgins, Rea, Acord, half-back; Godfrey, Brown, right wing; Smith, Stivatt, left wing; Godfrey, centre; Referee, J. Edmundson.

—The announcement that the Pettee Machine Works will make a very material change in wages paid to employees and a reduction in working hours is discouraging news to our citizen. With the exception of the regular vacation the Works have run steadily until now, on full time, and with the regular gangs in every department and a change here was one of the last things expected. On Saturday from five to eight men in each department will be dropped, making the total number of men thrown out of work about 150. A 10 per cent reduction in wages is to be made, commencing Nov. 1, and the running time will be reduced from ten hours per day to seven and a half hours. This makes a difference of 60 cents per day to a man earning $2 and a half a day, and the running time will be reduced from ten hours per day to seven and a half hours. The company has been running, up to now, on orders received in the spring.

—A very pretty home wedding occurred last Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. George Lovell on Chapel street, the contracting parties being Miss Mary Shaw and Mr. Francis C. Ward, Rev. Daniel Green, officiating and Mr. May Stearns acting as best man. After the ceremony the wedding party, which consisted of a small number of intimate friends, enjoyed a wedding supper provided for the occasion in a social evening was spent. There were many handsome and valuable presents, among them being a dinner set of one hundred and two pieces, from the Nonantum club of which Mr. Ward is one of the original members.

—The autumn meeting of the Newton Christian Endeavor Union will be held in the Baptist church, Needham, Monday evening, Oct. 30th. The meeting has been carefully arranged with a view to combine profit and entertainment. A report of the Montreal convention will be given during the evening and musical features and refreshments will add to attractiveness to the occasion. It is hoped that large delegations from all the societies of Newton will be present. All young people are invited to attend. Train leaves Newton Highlands for Needham at 7.40 p. m.

—The Newton Athletic Association will have a handicap cross country run for prizes Thanksgiving Day morning over a course of about seven miles. If there are enough entries the committee will offer quite a number of prizes for the men finishing first and for the best time made. Members will do well to get in trim for this run, and the committee hope that a large number of members will start.

—The work of the Union Institute of Arts, 162 Boylston street, Boston, is worthy the thoughtful attention of all interested in a plan of good and thorough education based upon the peculiar educational needs of the present day. It is under the management of trained and experienced educators. It proposes a breadth of work not before undertaken in this state, similar to the Pratt Institute of Brooklyn and the Drexell, in Philadelphia. We invite the attention of our readers to its methods and objects. Further explanation will be found in the advertisement in another column.

—Mrs. Antonia Mansfield, of Waltham, the teacher of singing by the old Italian method, is an artist of acknowledged ability and a teacher of high order.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Wm. Dyson has purchased a new road wagon.

—Contractor Hurley is using a newly painted wagon.

—The new incandescent lights, corner of Hale and Elliot street is very convenient.

—Mr. Burnett of Wellesley, who has been seriously ill, is able to be about.

—Miss Mary Procter is visiting friends in Dover.

—H. M. Beal's new house near Elliot street is framed and being shingled.

—The house occupied by Edward Wildman, Elliot street, is undergoing repairs.

—The small house on the Dudley ball field, used as a dressing room, was found down the bank in the river the other day.

—Mr. O. G. Billings and Mrs. Charles Johnson have returned from the World's Fair.

—Mr. Alfred Kenpton has returned from Fall River, where he has been at work setting up machinery the past six months for the Pettee Machine Works.

—Mr. Frank J. Hale, Superintendent of the Pettee Machine Works, has returned from a trip to the World's Fair.

—Mr. Walter Chesley is visiting the World's Fair at Chicago.

—Mr. Bernard Billings and daughter, Miss Florence Billings, have returned from an extended trip to Chicago and the World's Fair.

—Mrs. Herriek of Williamstown returned home this week after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank J. Hale. The latter has many sympathizing friends in her illness.

—Wm. Hurd, first baseman for the Pettees, split a finger badly in Saturday's game.

—The Pettee's defeated the Emmets of Waltham Saturday at Newton Highlands by a score of 5 to 2.

—Perseverance Lodge, I. O. G. F., will hold a public temperance meeting next Thursday evening, Nov. 2. Good music and speakers. Everybody welcome.

—There are letters at the postoffice for Edmund Barker, Samuel J. Barrett, C. M. Bissell, John W. Bradshaw, Timothy Carey, Frank Gale, James Lexton, Fred C. Parker, Maggie Canoe, Ethel Standish.

—A horse belonging to a Jew peddler fell down three times Wednesday while standing on Elliot street waiting for the man to visit the houses. At last another peddler's team was pressed into service and the wagon and horse of the Jew were hitched on behind.

—The Waltham Rovers and the Newton Upper Falls teams played a game of association football Saturday. The score was 2 to 1 in favor of Newton. The Waltham players had the ball about Newton's goal during the last 15 minutes of play, but owing to hard luck were unable to score. There was an attendance of 800. Played are the teams: Waltham Rovers; Ratcliffe, goal; Murray, Welch, back; Dickinson, Johnson, Burrell, half-back; Smith, Norwood, left wing; Dugan, Hennessey, right wing; Howard, centre. Newton Upper Falls: Young, goal; Cornthwaite, Heald, back; Hudgins, Rea, Acord, half-back; Godfrey, Brown, right wing; Smith, Stivatt, left wing; Godfrey, centre; Referee, J. Edmundson.

—The announcement that the Pettee Machine Works will make a very material change in wages paid to employees and a reduction in working hours is discouraging news to our citizen. With the exception of the regular vacation the Works have run steadily until now, on full time, and with the regular gangs in every department and a change here was one of the last things expected. On Saturday from five to eight men in each department will be dropped, making the total number of men thrown out of work about 150. A 10 per cent reduction in wages is to be made, commencing Nov. 1, and the running time will be reduced from ten hours per day to seven and a half hours. This makes a difference of 60 cents per day to a man earning $2 and a half a day, and the running time will be reduced from ten hours per day to seven and a half hours. The company has been running, up to now, on orders received in the spring.

—A very pretty home wedding occurred last Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. George Lovell on Chapel street, the contracting parties being Miss Mary Shaw and Mr. Francis C. Ward, Rev. Daniel Green, officiating and Mr. May Stearns acting as best man. After the ceremony the wedding party, which consisted of a small number of intimate friends, enjoyed a wedding supper provided for the occasion in a social evening was spent. There were many handsome and valuable presents, among them being a dinner set of one hundred and two pieces, from the Nonantum club of which Mr. Ward is one of the original members.

—The autumn meeting of the Newton Christian Endeavor Union will be held in the Baptist church, Needham, Monday evening, Oct. 30th. The meeting has been carefully arranged with a view to combine profit and entertainment. A report of the Montreal convention will be given during the evening and musical features and refreshments will add to attractiveness to the occasion. It is hoped that large delegations from all the societies of Newton will be present. All young people are invited to attend. Train leaves Newton Highlands for Needham at 7.40 p. m.

—The Newton Athletic Association will have a handicap cross country run for prizes Thanksgiving Day morning over a course of about seven miles. If there are enough entries the committee will offer quite a number of prizes for the men finishing first and for the best time made. Members will do well to get in trim for this run, and the committee hope that a large number of members will start.

—The work of the Union Institute of Arts, 162 Boylston street, Boston, is worthy the thoughtful attention of all interested in a plan of good and thorough education based upon the peculiar educational needs of the present day. It is under the management of trained and experienced educators. It proposes a breadth of work not before undertaken in this state, similar to the Pratt Institute of Brooklyn and the Drexell, in Philadelphia. We invite the attention of our readers to its methods and objects. Further explanation will be found in the advertisement in another column.

—Mrs. Antonia Mansfield, of Waltham, the teacher of singing by the old Italian method, is an artist of acknowledged ability and a teacher of high order.

HELD ITS FINAL SESSION.

CLOSE OF CONFERENCE OF NEW ENGLAND CHARITIES.

The final session of the New England conference of charities and correction was held Thursday morning. The exercises were opened at 9.30 o'clock by the president, Rev. William A. Lamb.

After singing one verse of "My Country, 'tis of Thee," the opening prayer was delivered by Rev. J. M. Dutton of the Central Congregational church, Newtonville.

The first business introduced was the report of the committee on nominations, by Rev. James McCook of Hartford, Ct. The next session will be held at Newport, R. I.

The officers decided upon were: President, Col. John Hare Powell of Newport, R. I.; secretary, Miss Zilpha D. Smith of Boston; treasurer, James H. Lewis of Springfield; executive committee, James G. Thorp, Jr., of Cambridge, Miss Anna Hunter of Newport, R. I., Charles W. Brewell of Boston, Dr. George H. Knight of Lakeville, Ct. A motion to adopt the report of the committee as presented was unanimously carried.

On recommendation from the committee, Rev. J. M. Pullman, D.D., of Lynn was admitted as a member of the council, ex-officio, a privilege accorded to presidents of the conference.

The secretary's report was presented by Miss Smith, who said that the expenses of the conference had been defrayed by contributions from the different societies, the local society and some from individual subscriptions.

The subject of the session was next opened by the chairman, James H. Lewis, agent of the overseers of the poor of Springfield. The topic was "Public Relief and Almshouses." It was one of the most important subjects, he said, that had been presented for consideration.

"The Public Relief System of Maine," a paper presented by Charles H. Baker, secretary of the overseers of the poor in Portland, that state, was very ably treated.

A paper by Freeman Brown, clerk of the overseers of the poor of Worcester, was read by Mrs. William A. Lamb. The importance of thorough personal investigation of each case was advised.

Mrs. James Codman of Brookline spoke in an interesting manner of the pauper element in that town and its care.

Dr. Charles E. Woodbury, inspector of institutions, state board of lunacy and charity, spoke upon "The Almshouses of Massachusetts" and a general discussion followed.

Members of the convention, in a body, in the afternoon, visited the reformatory prison for women in Sherburn, spending several hours in examination of the institution.

"BAZAR BULLETIN"

OF REV. FR. CALLANAN, NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

The attention of the public is directed to the enterprise set on foot by Rev. Fr. Callanan of Newton Lower Falls, in the shape of an elegant advertising and reading journal entitled, "The Bazar Bulletin." This paper will be issued on Nov. 13th, in connection with a grand bazar to open on the above date for the benefit of the church fund. The Bazar Bulletin will undoubtedly be a success. It will be a large eight page paper printed on pink satin paper and artistically set up, both in regard to reading matter and advertisements. Physicians, lawyers, dentists, architects, real estate men, dressmakers and others have already sent in cards to be inserted in the advertising columns. Already, too, over one hundred business places, of all kinds, from all the Newtons, Natick, Wellesley, Watertown and Waltham have engaged spaces for their advertisements. Fr. Callanan hopes to have the entire business community represented in the Bazar Bulletin, and to this end the advertising rates have been placed at a very low figure from $2.50 upwards, according to space occupied. The Bulletin will positively go into the hands of all who have hands and Fr. Callanan guarantees to place a free copy in every house in Newton, Newtonville, Nonantum, West Newton, Auburndale, Riverdale, Newton Lower Falls, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre, Natick, South Natick, Dover, Needham, Wellesley Hills, Wellesley and many thousands in Waltham, Watertown, Framingham, Boston and other places. Advertisers may have an unlimited number of copies free after the entire district mentioned has been supplied. The reading matter of the paper will be such as to interest all, worthy made up of wit, humor and local news and many electro-plate cuts will adorn the pages. No better opportunity was ever offered to the entire business community to invest in a paying advertisement, considering the immense circulation and the small rates. Large display advertisements, with or without electro, will be received on special terms. Although the expense and labor of this enterprise is enormous, as all cannot fail to see, yet success is already assured. All matter for advertisements should be sent in by Saturday, Nov. 11th, and addressed to Rev. Fr. Callanan, Newton Lower Falls. Advertisements should be sent at once, if possible, to avoid crowding the work on the final days.

A New Photographic Studio.

Mr. A. N. Hardy, the well known Boston photographer, has recently remodelled the upper part of the building at 523 Washington street, converting it into an ideal studio, commodious, well lighted and fitted with all the modern appliances. The new studio is in the business centre, being opposite R. H. White & Co. The elevator service from the street door will be especially appreciated by patrons.

An Unpardonable Sin.

[From the Fitchburg Chronicle.]

"Did you hear that Col. Gore shot a man last night, colonel?" said one Kentuckian to another.

"No, colonel, I didn't," was the reply.

"What had the fellow done?"

"He had addressed the colonel as 'captain.'"

"Served him right."

The Boston Young Men's Christian association with its twenty lines of study, its course of twelve first class entertainments and its Gymnasium one of the best in the country, is well worth the attention of young men. If you have not visited their beautiful rooms, corner of Boylston and Berkeley streets, we advise you to do so. Young men who are employed as electricians will find the lectures on Electricity, illustrated by experiments, very practical and helpful.

Lincoln and Stevens Halls are the best halls in the city for dancing parties or entertainments, and can be had on reasonable terms.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF ALDERMEN—NEW APPARATUS FOR HEATING CITY HALL—ELECTRIC LIGHTING AUTHORITY.

The mayor and aldermen met in special session last Monday evening, the object of the meeting being to give City Solicitor Slocum an opportunity to have the members sign a return he had prepared in answer to the writ of certiorari served by Eben D. Jordan et al to restrain construction on the new boulevard.

Alderman Hunt was absent.

PETITIONS.

A petition was received for sidewalk on Fairmont avenue. R. ferred.

Chas. Locke et al petitioned for two street lights on Hammond street. Referred.

Chas. S. Eaton petitioned for sewer in Russell court. Referred.

John H. Robinson and 18 others petitioned for five street lights on Waban road, Ward Five. Referred.

A petition to change the name of the north portion of Hammond street to be known as Montford road was referred.

ORDERS, ETC.

Alderman Emerson presented an order which was passed, appropriating the sum of $117,300 for department expenses in November.

An order authorizing the mayor to accept the proposition of J. S. Patterman et al to give land on Walnut park for the construction of sidewalks, was passed.

Alderman Roffe presented an order which was passed directing the city clerk to post notices of the state election Nov. 7, polls to be opened at 7:30 a. m. and close at 4:30 p. m.

Alderman Roffe presented an order which was adopted, establishing the compensation of election officers.

Alderman Plummer for the committee on ordinances presented the ordinance relating to street lights, and establishing a superintendent for the same, which was passed to be enrolled.

NECESSARY DELAYS.

The committee on fuel and street lights favorably reported and an order was thereupon presented to locate electric arc lights on Centre, Beacon, Sewall and Sterling streets.

Alderman Plummer asked why the 50 lights ordered some time since were not put in yet.

Alderman Roffe said he had talked with the electrical superintendent Newton and Watertown Gas Light Co., seeking an explanation of the delay. Mr. Holmes said that forty lights were all that could be placed on one circuit, and when an order from the city council was received for another light on a full circuit it was necessary to change some to connect with another circuit not then full and one change might affect several circuits. This necessitated what would seem a long delay. He said it was very difficult to conduct the system when subject to a call at any time to place lights anywhere.

Mr. M. G. Crane, who was present, was called upon to verify the above, but declined as unqualified.

THAT WRIT OF CERTIORARI.

The mayor called the attention of the board to the purpose for which the meeting called, stating that the city solicitor desired their signatures to his return of the writ of certiorari restraining the city from building the boulevard. He suggested that the lower branch be invited to joint session and Alderman Bothfield was appointed messenger of the common council, who accepted the invitation.

W. S. Slocum, city solicitor, said the matter now remaining for the city to do was to prepare a return or answer to the writ of certiorari served against the city. The petition is different from anything that has come before them before and was in substance a petition to require the records to be brought into court and examined and determine whether there are any errors therein. If there are errors the records will be quashed. Otherwise they will stand as recorded. These papers would have to be signed by the mayor and members of the city council and not as usual by the city solicitor.

The papers were then submitted.

They embodied each and every step taken by the city council from the origin of the central boulevard scheme and were accompanied by petitions and papers relating to the same. It set forth the fact that two hearings were held in order to give every available opportunity for those interested to oppose or favor the boulevard as laid out; that due notice was given to every person concerned and that R. M. Salmon, one of the petitioners on the writ, was present at a hearing. That no objection to the laying out of the boulevard was interposed, but that questions were raised relating to the location of the same.

The paper shows the general desire for the boulevard by those not concerned in the writ by the land freely deeded to the city for its construction.

Orders authorizing the construction were passed and authority to borrow money for the work has been given.

Alderman Plummer asked if the petitioners were not willing to have the boulevard, providing the lines were changed.

Mr. Slocum said it was the present location that brought this matter up, but they let the thing go through without objecting. A different location was what they desired.

The papers were signed by the mayor and then respectively by the aldermen and common councilmen.

WILL COST NEARLY $1000.

Alderman Plummer presented an order, granting to those officers and employees of the city, who are registered voters, leave of absence for one half day with-out loss of pay on Nov. 1, and Nov. 5, respectively, the dates of the state and city elections.

Alderman Bothfield wished to amend the order to include only the time necessary to vote. He saw no reason for giving all city employees a half holiday at the city's expense.

Alderman Plummer refused to entertain the amendment.

The vote on the amendment was declared lost by the chair.

Alderman Bothfield asked that it be verified.

The mayor again put the motion and Alderman Bothfield, Rumery and Emerson voted in favor of Plummer, Thompson, Roffe and the chair against.

The amendment was lost and the original order was then adopted.

HEATING CITY HALL.

After a recess papers from the lower branch were passed in concurrence until the order came up, appropriating $2901 for a new heating and ventilating apparatus for city hall.

Alderman Roffe wanted to know if anyone could explain why the vote, as previously expressed, should be changed.

Alderman Plummer renewed his former query, as to whether the company whose estimate it is proposed to accept, would furnish a guarantee a saving of 30 per cent in fuel as they claimed.

Alderman Thompson could not say positively, but believed so. He said they would guarantee a saving of 50 per cent if they furnished their own engineer to run it.

Alderman Roffe wanted to see the guarantee in writing. Until this was done he did not think the order was in shape to vote upon.

Alderman Bothfield believed this guarantee should be required. The experience in the city engineer's department last winter, where the time was very much broken up by the insufficient heating of the upper hall, emphasized the need of a change. The present building would not be vacated for at least five years.

Alderman Plummer suggested and moved that a clause be added to the order guaranteeing a saving of 30 per cent in fuel and it then be passed. This would give the company the contract, providing they guarantee a saving of 30 per cent.

Alderman Thompson said the public property committee had listened to a good deal of complaint recently about the poor heating and ventilation. Judge Kennedy had been before them about the police station, cells and court offices, requesting immediate attention and this apparatus would obviate these complaints. He believed with the alderman from Ward Seven that the present building would not be given up for ten years.

(Alderman Bothfield, aside) "I was willing to put it five years." A smile.

Alderman Thompson read letters from the Kerr Thread Co. and Ludlow Manufacturing Co. of Lowell, expressing their satisfaction with the apparatus furnished by the Boston Blower Co.

Alderman Roffe did not know who would see that this agreement was carried out. The advent of a new city council in a few months, knowing nothing of this requirement, raised some doubt as to whether the saving proposed would be verified or no. He moved to table.

The mayor asked how much coal was used at city hall.

Alderman Thompson, "110 tons."

The mayor thought it would be best to get the guarantee before taking action.

The motion to table was put and lost.

The question was then on Alderman Plummer's amendment.

Alderman Bothfield suggested that it be worded that the company furnish a guarantee to save the city 30 per cent of fuel, satisfactory to the mayor and city solicitor.

Alderman Thompson thought the matter could be left with the committee to do as the board desired.

Alderman Roffe, "Do you mean as chairman of the committee you will not let the work go on until a guarantee is furnished or will you influence?"

Alderman Thompson—"I will not let the work go on."

The question was called and the order adopted by six yeas, one absent.

Alderman Roffe presented an order, authorizing the mayor to petition the General Court to grant the city of Newton authority to establish, maintain and operate an electric light plant for street lighting purposes.

The aldermen then adjourned.

Common Council.

The common council met Monday evening in regular session.

President Weed opened the meeting, and then resigned his gavel to Councilman Hatch. Councilmen Snaps, Bennett, Degen and Turner were absent.

Papers from the board of aldermen were passed in concurrence and at 7:45 o'clock, hearings were opened upon taking land for sewer purposes in private way off Centre street and Webster court. No remonstrants appeared and the hearings were closed.

The following was received:

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.

My Dear Sir:

If I am correctly informed, the matter of the Boulevard west from Centre street now lays upon the table before the common council. I trust the same will not be approved until the matter is more thoroughly understood, and we whose estates are to be affected thereby shall be shown a definite plan of what is proposed, our way to be clear with, and for me, I should like much to know why it is that the line is deflected from the general course of Grafton and Homer streets, with a long swing to the right for which I can see no other reason than to benefit certain speculators instead of following Homer street in a direct line to Valentine street.

I shall be absent for the next two weeks but shall be pleased to receive notice, when I with others can be heard in this matter, if it be the pleasure of the council to hear us.

Very sincerely yours,

ALDEN SPEARE.

IN TERRIBLE CONDITION.

Councilman Green presented a communication directed to the city council relative to the need of better sanitary provisions at the Adams school house and enclosing this resolution:

Resolved—That in the opinion of the North Side Improvement Society, public safety requires that the Adams school house be connected with the sewer immediately, and that every day's delay means that the health of those, who frequent said building, is placed in peril.

J. WILLIAM BALLANTYNE, Sec'y.

The Councilman from Ward Two continuing said the house was in terrible condition. The facilities were those of a common country schoolhouse and the ventilation was so poor as to necessitate having the windows open most of the time. The sewer was very near there now and connection can easily be made.

The matter should have immediate attention. He referred to an order requiring all schoolhouses to be connected with the sewer.

Councilman Tolman said an order had been passed, but there were not funds enough to do the work and a special appropriation would have to be made.

Councilman Parker presented the ordinance relating to street lighting, finding it well and truly enrolled and moving its passage to be ordained. Adopted.

IT GOES THROUGH.

Councilman Briston moved that the order appropriating $2901 for a ventilating and heating apparatus for city hall be taken from the table.

The motion prevailed and the Councilman continued in support of the passage of the order. He brought in the importance of a saving of 1-3 in the consumption of coal, and the needs of a new method shown by the poor satisfaction derived from the present system last winter.

Councilman Tolman said the Boston Blower Co. gave bonds to heat every room in the building to 70 degrees in the coldest weather and to save 1-3 in the fuel. The system proved very satisfactory in Lowell, and letters were read from the Kerr Thread Co. and Ludlow Manufacturing Co.

Councilman Ross believed an expenditure of $2900 for heating the city hall, for what few years remained was rather extravagant. He thought a less expenditure of money would answer the purpose as well until a new city hall was built.

Councilman Tolman said it would be at least six years before the building would be vacated.

Councilman Briston said the apparatus proposed with additions, would be all right for a new building.

A vote was then taken and the order passed.

Councilman Green presented a resolution requesting the public property committee to consider the expense and necessity for connecting the Adams school house with the sewer, and report at the next meeting. Adopted.

Councilman Tolman presented an order appropriating $1016 for furnishing the upper room in the Thompsonville school house. Passed.

The council adjourned to Monday, Nov. 13.

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTER.

BUSINESS LOOKING UP IN AND AROUND NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

The residents of Newton Lower Falls feel quite encouraged as to the business outlook for the coming winter. The several mills, with but one exception, have resumed operations, but with reduced help, and in one instance with reduced wages.

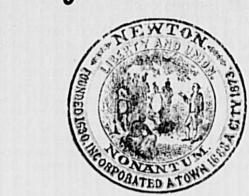

The Cording mills have started, but with one-half the usual force of hands. The Findlay mill is running on half-time. The Dingley hosiery mill has resumed business in nearly every department, but the help have been subjected to a reduction in wages of 15 per cent. The Sullivan shoddy mills are in operation, but at present employ only a few hands. The Crehore cardboard factory, which has been shut down for 10 weeks, will remain closed for an indefinite period, it being the hardest time they have experienced for 37 years. The Bishop paper mill is running, but with much uncertainty as to the future.

The rubber factory at Newton Upper Falls, near the Wellesley line, has shut down for a few weeks, while the paper mill on the same place began business last week.

Taking it as a whole, the prospects are far brighter than they were two months ago.

STATE ELECTION.
Nov. 7, 1893.

City of Newton.

ORDERED,

That the City Clerk be directed to cause due notice to be given that meetings of the citizens of this City, qualified to vote for State officers, will be held in the several Polling Places designated by this Board, on Tuesday, the seventh day of November, A. D. 1893, for the election of a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, a Councilor for the 3rd District, a Secretary, Treasurer and Receiver General, Auditor, Attorney General, a Senator for the Second Middlesex Senatorial District, two Representatives to the General Court for the 17th Middlesex District, a Register of Probate and Insolvency for County of Middlesex, and one County Commissioner for County of Middlesex, also to vote on the following Article of Amendment to the Constitution Relative to the Payment of Mileage to Members of the General Court.

So much of article two of section three of chapter one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth as is contained in the following words: "The expenses of travelling to the general assembly, and returning home, once in every session, and no more, shall be paid by the government, out of the public treasury, to every member who shall attend as seasonably as he can, in the judgment of the house, and does not depart without leave," is hereby annulled.

All the foregoing officers and amendment to the Constitution to be voted for on one ballot.

The polls will be opened at seven o'clock in the forenoon and closed at half past four o'clock the afternoon.

In the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Oct. 23rd, 1893.

Read and adopted.

ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, Clerk, Approved, Oct. 23rd, 1893.

JOHN A. FENNO, Mayor.

A true copy.

Attest: ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk.

In accordance with the Acts of the General Court of 1893, Chap. 417, Title V., and the foregoing order.

Notice is hereby given of the meetings to be held for the purposes aforesaid, on the said 7th day of November, 1893, in the several Polling Places, as follows:—

Precinct 1, Ward 1, Voting Booth, Waban Park.

Precinct 2, Ward 1, Armory Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 3, Ward 2, Rooms 6 and 8 Central Block, Washington Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 2, Tremont Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 3, City Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 3, City Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 4, Auburn Hall, Ash Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 4, Freeman Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 5, Old Prospect School house, Pattee Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 5, Stevens Hall, Lincoln Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 6, Associates' Hall, Centre Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 6, Associates' Hall, Centre Street.

Precinct 2, Ward 7, Eliot Lower Hall, Centre Street.

ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kila Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach."

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

CARLOS MARTIN, D. D., New York City.

EDWIN F. PARKER, M. D., "The Winthrop," 135th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

Late Pastor Bloomingdale Reformed Church.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK.

ELYS Cream Balm For CATARRH THE POSITIVE CURE. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York. Price 50 cts.

Genuine Bargains

Always to be obtained by examination of the

varied assortment of

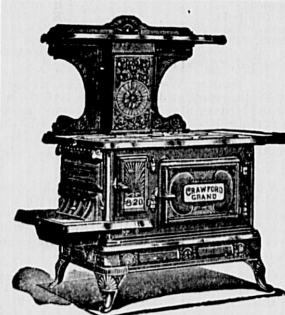

IMPERFECT GOODS AND REMNANTS

STRICTLY ALL WOOL.

Made at the Assabet Mills which are exclusively sold and at the lowest prices by

THE PEOPLE'S DRY GOODS COMPANY
MAYNARD MASS.

The Salesroom is open until 6 p. m. except Saturday. Closes Saturday at 12 o'clock. Positively open as above until further notice in this paper.

Columbia and Crawford Grand Ranges. Furnaces, Water Heaters, Steam Boilers.

AT FACTORY STORE OF

WALKER & PRATT MFG. CO.,

GALEN STREET, - WATERTOWN MASS.

TELEPHONE No. 30, NEWTON.

—ALL KINDS—

Copper, Sheet Iron and Tin Work.

FURNACES AND RANGES CLEANED AND REPAIRED.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY THE

WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters 5 cents per square yard for Turkey Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. Sole Manufacturer of the

New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE.

Newtonville, Telephone 7 Factory and Residence, Clinton Street

Concrete Walks and Driveways.

The season for this work is now open, and we should be glad to receive orders or make estimates for parties wishing work in private grounds.

Having laid the Newton public sidewalks for the past sixteen years, the quality of our work is well known. Communication by mail will receive prompt attention.

SIMPSON BROTHERS, Newton.

Boston Office, 166 Devonshire St., Room 58

Bicycle Repairing of Every Description.

Brazing, Enameling, Nickel-Plating, Etc.

WHEELS CHANGED FROM SOLID TO CUSHION OR PNEUMATIC.

Best cycle oil 25 cents per pint. Lawn Mowers cleaned and sharpened for $1.00. Called for and delivered for 25 cents extra.

HADDOW & BATCHELOR,

49 Galen Street, - - - Watertown, Mass.

Connected by Telephone.

Millinery

E. JUVINE ROBBINS,
Fall Millinery
Just Received at
THE JUVENE
Eliot Block, Newton.

Plumbers.

HEWITT & THOMAS,
Practical Plumbers.
And Sanitary Engineers.
247 WASHINGTON ST.,
Nonantum Block, Newton

M. C. HIGGINS
PRACTICAL PLUMBER

Sanitary Engineer.
(Formerly with S. F. Carrier.)

Sumner's Block, Newton.

PLUMBING WORK IN ALL ITS BRANCHES
Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city; perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

ESTABLISHED IN 1896

T. J. HARTNETT,
PLUMBER & SANITARY
ENGINEER.

Iron Drainage and Ventilation
a Specialty.

Jobbing promptly attended to.
375 CENTRE STREET, NEWTON.

HOWARD B. COFFIN

DEALER IN

FINE TEAS and BEST COFFEES

AND NEWTON AGENT FOR

DEERFOOT - FARM - PRODUCTS.

363, 361 Centre and 4, 6 Hall Sts.

COLE'S BLOCK, NEWTON.

A. H. ROFFE,
HAY and GRAIN

LIME, CEMENT AND DRAIN PIPE.

Cypress, near Centre Street, Newton Centre.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

Ripans Tabules prolong life.

Newton National Bank,

NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:

From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.
On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

JOSEPH V. BACON, President

B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cash.

Ripans Tabules banish pain.

CHARITIES AND CORRECTION.

NEW ENGLAND CONFERENCE IN SESSION IN NEWTON.

The New England Conference of Charities and Correction was established in 1892, growing out of the conference of Associated Charities and kindred societies held in Lynn in October of that year. The object of the larger organization is to gather into co-operative work all the people of New England interested in those subjects relating to charity and reform, to meet annually, to learn from and teach each other about new and improved methods, to exchange opinions and to give to each other the ripened fruits of their experience.

The first conference of this organization of practical workers was begun Tuesday afternoon in the Channing church, Newton.

Besides delegates from numerous Massachusetts cities and towns, there was an excellent representation from the other New England states. The larger communities sending delegates were Providence, Valley Falls, Newport and Central Falls, R. I.; Bridgeport, Hartford and New Haven, Ct.; Burlington, Vt.; Concord, N. H.; Bangor and Portland, Me. The hour between 2 and 3 o'clock was utilized for the registration of delegates and distribution of badges.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Rev. W. A. Lamb of Newton, president of the conference, formally opened its first session. He made a few remarks first referring to some of the vital objects, and then introduced Hon. John A. Fenn, Mayor of Newton, who delivered the address of welcome.

Most of the time of the afternoon session was given up to the reading of reports from the six New England states. Prof. John J. McCook of Trinity College, Hartford, Ct., presided.

The report of Maine, prepared by Mrs. L. M. Stevens, was read by Miss Leavitt. Reference was made in it to the more recent state institutions, including the industrial school and temporary home for women and children, a school for deaf mutes located at Portland, and homes for the aged. The latter, the report said, had multiplied very fast. The point was made that there were not so many almshouses as 20 years ago, for the reason that the poor and dependent classes had been taught to help themselves. There were twenty-nine less in Maine's proportion of criminals, it was stated, was small in comparison with other states.

For New Hampshire, Mrs. Lillian C. Strecker presented some interesting statistics, and talked quite earnestly relative to the necessity of changes in the method of management of some of the insane and correctional institutions.

Vermont, Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr says, has more need of penal institutions and charity forces than her sister states. Her foreign population is increasing, and is less provident and self-supporting than the sturdy founders of the state. The state institutions are well managed, and much good is being accomplished by the work of Associated Charities and similar societies.

Miss Frances R. Morse presented the report for Massachusetts. She alluded to the growing custom of boarding children outside of institutions where they derive some of the benefits of home life under careful discipline and management. The state now cares for two-thirds of its children outside of institutions. The same principle is adopted in many of the private institutions for the care of dependent and neglected children. In the state reformatory schools the former rigid prison discipline has given way to improved methods, offering less restraint and more encouragement to do the right thing by kindly counsel and convincing argument. Pauperism in Massachusetts is diminishing. Twenty years ago the figures were 10 to 1000 of population; today only 7 to each 1000.

The speaker touched in a general way upon the penal institutions and methods of conducting them. She said, in conclusion, that co-operation and organization in charitable and correctional work in Massachusetts had been one of the beneficent features of the past twenty years.

Rev. James N. Nutting presented the report for Rhode Island, and read a pamphlet giving a comprehensive picture of nearly all the charity and correctional institutions of the state. Reference was made to the unique method of governing the state institutions. The claim was made that Rhode Island was in advance of the other New England states in having a board of commission of charity and correction, invested with the care of all the penal institutions of the state with but one exception. They are governed on business principles. Great care is taken in providing suitable buildings and good officers. It is particularly noticeable in the care of insane patients. The buildings for their occupancy are one-story stone cottages on the family plan. All inmates eat and sleep on one floor. There is no danger to be feared from holocausts there. The house of correction, although having kind officers comprising men whose personnel could hardly be improved upon, as a reformatory institution has proved a complete failure.

The evening session began promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The subject of the session was "Charity Organization." Rev. J. M. Pullman, D. D., chairman of the Associated Charities of Lynn, presided and also delivered the opening address on "The Development of Charity Organization." He commenced by giving an account of organized charity work in Lynn. The method is co-operation of all the charitable societies upon the same principle which is recognized in attaining the best results in religion, education and business. This organization and co-operation, the speaker said, was necessary in charitable work. It helped in the labor of judicious almsgiving, it moved toward the decrease of pauperism. What we want is a federation of agencies so strong that the most troublesome obstacles can be removed and the bitter cry of distress heard no more.

The concluding address of the evening session was delivered by Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant of London on the topic "Friendly Visiting."

Mrs. Chant said, among other things, that praying and preaching to people was not the way to teach them to be thrifty. Love never fails, and is the great conqueror of the world. What charity organizations are doing today is inculcating the principles of love, teaching those who minister to the poor and degraded that they must win them by loving kindness. We require in all our organizations this love and deep interest in humanity. The time for twaddle is past. No prayer meeting can save the man who derives an income from exorbitant rentals and unjust business methods. Let us help no such man to whitewash his soul.

Mrs. Chant spoke at some length of the work of the Sisters of the People in London. Their labor is to smooth the way of the woman whose husband is ill and who is deprived temporarily of means of support, to care for the sick, nurse them to health, and to provide recreation places for convalescents. She gave some personal experiences in her work as a friendly visitor in London, and spoke of the flint hearts of some employers, callous to every sign of suffering and distress. "Talk about heathen needing religion! These men!" said Mrs. Chant, "are the heathen, where the mission work ought to begin."

Second Day of the Charities Convention

The exercises of the second day's session of the New England Conference of Charities and Correction opened Thursday with the report of the state of Connecticut, picturing the conditions and progress of the past twenty years, especially in methods of management of charitable and correctional institutions.

The report was presented by Prof. John J. McCook of Trinity, Hartford. The topic of the morning exercises was "The Feeble Minded." The opening address was delivered by Dr. George H. Knight, superintendent of the Connecticut school for the feeble minded at Lakeville, that state.

A general discussion followed Dr. Knight's address. Prof. McCook asked the question, what the term "moral imbecile" implies, and how it was possible to diagnose such cases?

Dr. Knight, in reply, said that the condition termed moral imbecile was discovered by certain unmistakable manifestations. The distinguishing feature was a lack of the sense of right and wrong. He said that the criminal class was augmented from the type known as the moral imbecile, and that marriage of moral imbeciles should be prohibited by law.

Dr. Fiske of East Boston gave an interesting account of the Institution for Feeble Minded Women in Newark. The plan was in vogue there, he said, and the inmates could be securely housed and cared for under the most approved methods of treatment and management. Dr. Blake gave an account of a moral imbecile who escaped from an institution. There was nothing in the way of mischief, he said, that the fellow would not enter into. He thought it was sad, and was never sorry for his acts. When he first ran away he went to Lawrence and joined the Salvation Army, cutting up all sorts of capers. He was next heard of in Saco, Me., where he got a sixty days' sentence for stealing a coat.

Determining the type known as the moral imbecile, Dr. Blake thought the physician was best qualified to pick out the cases. It is an unpleasant duty and is likely to affect his practice, still it is a public trust.

The Punishment of Crime.

The afternoon session was called to order at 2 o'clock, and Mr. Joseph G. Thorp, Jr., president of the Massachusetts Prison Association of Cambridge, was introduced as president of the afternoon.

In his remarks Mr. Thorp contrasted the old and new methods of dealing with crime. Today, he said, the prevailing idea is how best can punishment be administered in order to insure future reform and the welfare of the public.

In all cases he thought it was better to keep the criminal under the penalty of the law until he has shown signs of reformation.

The subject of the afternoon was "Probation—Its Relation to the Punishment of Crime," and in the discussion the general verdict was given that probation in many cases was better than putting a man under lock and key, and consequently lessening his self-respect.

Mr. Frederick C. Pettigrove, secretary of the commissioners of prisons for Massachusetts, described what had already been done for this state.

Chief Probation Officer Richard Keefe of Boston then explained the work of his position, with the manner of investigating each case.

Judge Kennedy of Newton next spoke upon the subject, after which Miss Todd told of her methods of procedure in carrying out the law.

Until men, who have much less excuse for sin, are punished with women, she said, we can hope for little improvement. Punishment is too one-sided in our present system of dealing with criminality.

Judge Charles Almy of Cambridge said: The main object of all the machinery which we set up is not to punish the person but to prevent others from doing what he has been guilty of.

Secretary Spaulding of the Massachusetts Prison Association said that all people who commit crimes are not criminals. There are persons who commit crime through accident and others through specific environment. Until probation began all offenders were treated as criminals.

At this point adjournment was taken, and a reception and tea followed.

The evening session was held in the church proper, and Mr. Charles W. Birtwell of the Children's Aid Society presided. "The Law and Children" was discussed by Hon. George S. Hale, who related the history of modern legislation for the protection of children. The best manner of expending $1,000,000, he thought, would be in providing natural homes for the children of the destitute and abandoned.

"Charity Organization and Children" was the subject taken by Miss Alice E. Weiberbee of Fall River, and she made a pathetic appeal for parental influence.

Dr. Charles P. Worcester of the board of trustees of the Massachusetts state primary and reform schools outlined his work, and advocated the placing of children in country homes instead of institutions.

St. Vincent de Paul's Society was represented by Mr. John B. F. Emery, its special agent for children. The cornerstone of dealing with wayward boys, he said, was kindness, sympathy and a tender discipline.

Last to be called upon was Mrs. Anna

G. Spencer of Providence, whose theme was "Special Public School Training for Partially Defective Children."

In summing up the remarks of the various speakers of the evening, Mr. Birtwell suggested that each community forthwith should study the child problem in its midst in order to find out what waywardness, destitution and criminality therein exists. Exposed children in cities need friendly visitors. Compulsory education should be enforced as a preventative to boys and girls growing up as paupers. Each city and town should have a society for the prevention of cruelty to children.

GREENHALGE'S TARIFF VIEWS.

A COUNTRY READER THINKS EQUALIZATION MEANS PAYING TAXES TWICE.

To the Editor of the Boston Herald:

We have had a good many campaigns of education on the tariff, but I have learned something in the present campaign that had never before been shown to me so plainly. It was that illustration which Mr. Greenhalge gave at Taunton. As I understand it, there might be a case of goods made in Taunton that has a market value of $1,000, and another case of similar goods might be brought from Europe and landed at Taunton for $700, and because the Taunton made goods had paid taxes for schools, streets, police, etc., Mr. Greenhalge would tax the foreign goods $300, thus making the market value of them $1,000.

I had a suspicion previous to this year that, if the tariff was a tax, the foreigner paid it, but I can see just as plain as day that the ones who buy the goods in the foreign case must pay the $300 tax that Mr. Greenhalge proposes, and it kind of seems to me the ones who buy the Taunton made goods have got to pay $300 to equalize taxation, as he calls it.

We here in Boxford have to pay taxes for our school, streets, etc., and it don't seem square to make us pay $30, 40 or 50 per cent, more for goods just because the Taunton people are taxed for support of their schools.

I should think some of you Boston folks, the clerks, teamsters, traders, masons and carpenters, and a man told me there and four times as many carpenters in the United States as there are hands in the woolen mills, would kick at equalizing taxation when it means you must pay not only your own taxes but also the Taunton taxes.

I followed up reading Mr. Greenhalge's speeches in Westboro and Lawrence, where he said he would tax a suit of foreign clothes, just to equalize. There again it is just as plain as day to me now that the fellow who wears that suit must pay that tax, and the fellow who wears some other suit must pay an equal tax, not into the United States treasury, but into the hands of the manufacturer. The way it was before now, and I have never seen it before Mr. Greenhalge gave this illustration is this: If we in Boxford have got to pay $300 toward pensions, interest, army, navy and other expenses of our government, if we buy the foreign case for $1000, we get the goods and at the same time settle the tax that we owe the government, but if we buy the goods made in Taunton we pay out just the same sum, $1000, and are still owing the government the $300.

Honest Indian, I begin to believe that the tariff is a tax and it is just the same if we add the words "for equalization." Still Mr. Greenhalge says he is a believer in making the foreigner pay our taxes, and I am going to keep on reading his speeches to see if he will show in the case of the suit of foreign clothes, just what particular foreigner paid the tax and to whom he paid it. If we could execute a law compelling foreigners to buy the Taunton goods, of course I could see they would have to pay the tax, but as the law compels Americans to purchase them, I think Mr. Greenhalge is mistaken.

Boxford, Oct. 19, 1893.

OLD NORTH END PUPILS.

A PLEASANT REUNION AT THE "ALLEN PLACE" IN MEDFIELD.

It was a happy thought of Prof. Joseph Allen of Medfield in bringing together at his home, the "Allen place," on Castle hill, Monday those who are left of that happy band of North end scholars who attended school together at the old brick schoolhouse, then situated at the corner of North and Railroad streets.

It was 2:30 o'clock when Mr. Allen called the "school" to order and read the roll call. These answered to their names: Lucy M. Allen, Abbie E. Allen, Sarah Allen, Olive Bullard, Lucy M. Cutler, Sarah Harding, Cynthia Harding, Phoebe Mason, Joanna Plimpton, Emily Thayer, Clarissa Wright, Noah Allen, William C. Allen, Joseph Allen, Nathaniel T. Allen, Alfred Cutler, Samuel Ellis, Nathan Harding, John Hutson, Amos E. Mason, John Mason, Charles Turner, Mary Harding and Hamlet Wright.

Mr. Allen then recited an original poem which called to mind the school days and pranks of those present, and which was received with great appreciation. Then came the distribution of books, neat four page souvenirs, tied with ribbon and containing the printed name of every pupil now living who attended the North school, more than 60 years ago.

Anecdotes of school life were related by Nathan Allen, John Hutson and others, and then the company were photographed in a group. A collation was served, and with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and renewed expressions of good health and happiness "school" was dismissed.

The old brick schoolhouse was destroyed long since, and the only picture of it which remains is a pencil drawing in possession of Mrs. Ellen T. Curtis, and which was exhibited Monday.

The old "Allen place" dates back to the days of King Philip's war, and is situated in the north part of Medfield. One room in the homestead remains as of yore, with its old open fireplace, crane, kettle and iron.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

Coughing Leads to Consumption, Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

Coughing Leads to Consumption, Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

Giant Among Dwarfs.

Head and shoulders above all other Washing Powders.

Ivoryine

WASHING POWDER

is better in quality. Does better work in half the time.

1½ lb. packages costs no more than pounds of other kinds.

From April, 1893, every package will contain a Ivoryine Soap.

The L. Z. Wm. Co., Cincinnati, O., are the makers of Ivoryine Soap.

Lumber.

C. A. HARRINGTON LUMBER,

Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c.

Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.

Telephone, 249-5 Newton.

LUMBER.

GILKEY & STONE,

ARSENAL ST., WATERTOWN.

Railroads.

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

WEEK DAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 5:50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9:50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 7:00 A. M. then every thirty minutes until 11:00 P. M.

SUNDAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 7:50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9:50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 8:30 A. M. and every thirty minutes until 11:00 P. M.

First car for Boston leaves Watertown at 7:2 A. M. C. S. SERGEANT, General Manager.

5 ly

Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn R. R.

Fall and Winter Time-Table, Sept. 11, '93.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN at 5:50, 7:50, 8:30, 9:30, 10:11 A. M., 1:2, 2, 3:30, 4 (Express), 4:30, 5 (Ex. res.), 5:50, 6 (Express), 6:30, 7:30, 8, 9:30, 10:20 and 11:25 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON at 6:10, 6:50, 7 (Express), 7:30 (Express), 8 (Exp.), 8:30 (Exp.), 9:30 (Exp.), 10:11 A. M., 12 M., 1, 2, 2:45, 3:15, 3:45, 4:15, 4:50, 5:15, 5:50, 6:45, 7:15, 8:20, 9:15 and 10:15 P. M.

SUNDAY TRAINS.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN hourly from 9:30 A. M. to 9:30 P. M., inclusive, and at 10:15 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON at 8:45 A. M., then hourly from 9:30 A. M. to 9:30 P. M., inclusive.

All trains stop at West Lynn.

JOHN A. FENNO, C. A. HAMMOND, G. T. A. Sept.

Boston, Sept. 11, 1893

B. KETZ,

The Only Hardware and Cutlery STORE NEAR THE DEPOTS.

99 Kneeland St., Boston.

Kitchen Furnishing Goods and Toys a Specialty.

Open Evenings. Goods Delivered Free. 48 Cts

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, DELAND & HEWITT.

Successors to

P. A. MURRAY,

Washington Street

NEXT TO

Murray's Carriage Manufactory,

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

15

Water Bugs and Roaches EXTERMINATOR!

CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR

No dust. No trouble to use.

Price, 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If you druggist or grocer, does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price.

BARNARD & CO., 7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON. FOR SALE BY BARNER BROS. NEWTON.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room from 6:30 A. M. to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. P. Atkins Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Procter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving, also Crockery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence: 152 Adams Street, Newton, Mass.

PEARSON'S NEWTON AND BOSTON EXPRESS

BOSTON OFFICE: 51 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. 33 Court St. Order Box, 9 Faneuil Hall Market.

NEWTON OFFICE at H. B. Coffin's, Order Boxes at Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins.

Leave Newton at 9:30 a. m.

Leave Boston at 3 p. m.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER, NEWTON & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Leave Newton, 7:30 and 9:30 a. m.; leave Boston, 12 m. and 3 p. m.

NEWTON OFFICE: 334 Centre Street. Order Box: Newton City Market. BOSTON OFFICES: 15 Devonshire St., 174 Washington St., 34 Court Square, 25 Merchants Row, 57 Franklin St., 11 Harrison Ave., Extension. Post Office address Box 420, Newton.

Personal Attention Given all Orders. Telephone No. 279-2.

Ripans Tabules relieve headache

T. F. CLENNAN,

Carriage Trimming & Harness MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c. Washington Street, Newton.

J. J. JOHNSON, FLORIST.

CONSERVATORIES, School Street, Newton.

Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, etc., etc.

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

Ripans Tabules: best liver tonic.

L. H. CRANITCH,

House, Sign, and Ornamental PAINTER.

GRAINING and PAPER HANGING a Specialty

2d door from Central Block, Newtonville.

Slate, Copper, Tin and Gravel ROOFING.

Special attention given to repairing.

John Farquhar's Sons,

Nos. 20 and 22 East St., Boston.

Established 1838. Telephone No. 162.

JAMES PAXTON,

Manufacturing Confectioner.

Cakes in Variety, Ices and Creams,

Fancy Ices, Frozen Pudding.

Pure Candies of our own Make.

CHOICE WEDDING CAKE.

Real Estate and Insurance.

BUY, SELL, RENT, MORTGAGE—YOUR—

REAL ESTATE

THROUGH

Henry W. Savage

Office for ALL NEWTON, 1261 Washington St. WEST NEWTON.

TELEPHONE 732.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

- Dobson, Henry Austin. Horace Walpole; a Memoir; with an Appendix of Books printed at the Strawberry Hill Press. 12. 60.
- The fourteen illustrations are portraits in photogravure.
- Leighton, Robert. Wreck of the Golden Fleece; the Story of a North Sea Fishes' Boy. 64. 1377
- Lyte, Henry Churchill Maxwell. A History of the University of Oxford: from the Earliest Times to the Year 1830. 77. 216
- Traces the origin and development of the University and its relations towards the authorities claiming civil or ecclesiastical jurisdiction in Oxford in the middle ages.
- Martin, Edward Sandford. Windfalls of Observation; gathered for the Edification of the Young and the Solace of others. 53. 476
- Short papers on a variety of subjects, as the horse, climate, courtship, marriage and divorce, college, etc.
- Matthews, James Brander, and others. Stories of the Army. (Stories from Scribner.) 61. 853
- Outing. Vols. 3, 4. 1.91
- Page, Thomas Nelson. Meh Lady; a Story of the War; illustrated by C. L. Reinart. 65. 728
- Rhys, John. Lectures on the Origin and Growth of Religion as illustrated by Celtic Heathendom. (Robert Lecture.) 1886. 96. 386
- Ruskin, John. Selections from Ruskin, on Reading and other Subjects; by Edwin Guin; with Notes and a Sketch of Ruskin's Life by D. H. M. 53. 453
- Russell, Alexander. Sub-Columbus; a Sky Built Human World. 53. 475
- A picture of an ideal society, become such by the gradual development of intellect and heart, guided and promoted by the controlling influence of the community.
- Salvini, Tommaso. Leaves from the Autobiography of Tommaso Salvini. 93. 630
- This book contains the author's views upon the acting of some of his most famous contemporaries.
- Sangster, Margaret E. On the Road Home; Poems. 52. 343
- Schleiermacher, Friedrich. On Religion, Speeches to its Cultured Desecrators; trans. with Introduction by John Oman. 95. 490
- Written in 1799, but translated into English for the first time now.
- Sheridan, Richard Brinsley. The Rivals; a Comedy; illus. by Frank M. Gregory. 56. 351
- Sprague, Henry H. Brief History of the Massachusetts Charitable Fire Society. 77. 219
- Mr. Sprague has given attention to the early history of the society, the circumstances attending its organization, and has added sketches of its early members.
- Stables, William Gordon. Westward with Columbus. 64. 1373
- A story for boys which embraces the well-known events in Columbus' life.
- Stoker, John. Ballads and Songs of Northern England, harmonized and arranged for piano-forte by Samuel Reay. 107. 620
- Tuckerman, Bayard. William Jay, and the Constitution. Movement for the Abolition of Slavery; with a Preface by John Jay. 97. 342
- A memoir devoted chiefly to the part borne by John Jay in the antislavery cause.
- Weber, Alice. Some Other People. 67. 409
- Webster, Sidney. Misuse of Legal Tender. 85. 190
- Wilson, Woodrow. An Old Master, and other Political Essays. 81. 254
- Contents. An Old Master (Adam Smith). The Study of Politics. Political Sovereignty. Character of Democracy in the United States. Government under the Constitution.
- E. P. THURSTON, Librarian. Oct. 25, 1893.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA LOUPE.—Clara Morris, who is unquestionably America's leading emotional actress, will bring her company to this theatre and present four of the most popular plays of her repertoire. Miss Morris has always drawn the very best of amusement patrons and the audiences to greet her are sure to contain a large element of Boston's representative society people. The artist will be given excellent support in every play to be given during the week. Her leading man is John Glendinning, an actor of reputation and ability. Among the other conspicuous members of the organization are F. C. Harlow, Walter Kelley, Harriet Ford, Clara Baker Rust and Grace Gayler. Miss Morris is in excellent health this season and her work upon the stage is said to be even stronger than that which has heretofore graced her many successes. "Camille" will be given on Monday and Wednesday evenings; Rene DeMora, Tuesday and Friday evenings; Claire, Thursday matinee and Thursday night; and Article 47, Saturday night. The only matinee for the week is that on Thursday. Each play will be superbly staged and handsomely mounted, and the costumes will be elaborated.

GRAND OPERA AT THE GLOBE.—Marie Tavy, a soprano who has heretofore appeared in Boston in grand opera, and also in connection with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and who left a most favorable impression, is coming again, this time with a grand English opera company of eighty-four people. Among the principal artists are some whose fame covers the old and new worlds. Marie Tavy herself, will produce here, for the first time in this city, a new opera, "I Pagliacci," by Leoncavallo, which was brought out in Europe last spring, and made a decided sensation. The engagement is for next week in grand English opera at the Globe Theatre, six nights and two matinees. The repertoire for the week is:

Monday.... "I Pagliacci"..... Leoncavallo
Tuesday.... "Cavalleria Rusticana"..... Mascagni
Wednesday.... "Faust"..... Gounod
Thursday.... "The Bohemians"..... Bizet
Friday.... "The Bohemians"..... Bizet
Saturday.... "The Bohemians"..... Bizet
Sunday.... "The Bohemians"..... Bizet

Bowdoin Square. A play that has stood the test of 200 nights in Boston and 150 nights in New York city, must contain more than the ordinary amount of merit and flatter great favor in the eyes of the public. "Hands Across the Sea," Henry Pettit's masterpiece, has done this and received nothing but the most flattering notices since its first production in this country four years ago. It is a melodrama that stands without a rival. As a dramatic success it is a wonder and is the most popular drama on the road today. It will be presented at the Bowdoin Square Theatre next week, with the only and original company and scenic and mechanical effects. The story of the play is intensely interesting and the climaxes very thrilling; it is one of the most exciting dramas ever produced, appealing strongly to the emotions. The scenic effects are grand and realistic and the revolving transformations are quickly and skillfully made.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.—There will be more work in which to see the excellent French comedy, "The Other Man," as presented at the Hollis Street Theatre by that artistic company of players known as Charles Frohman's Comedians. "The Other Man" is an adaptation, but so cleverly done that no thought is given to its origin, and being an especially bright and humorous piece, the audience is kept in an almost continual state of laughter, from the beginning of the performance until the curtain falls on the last act. The company have congenial roles, of which they make the most, and the entire company fully lives up to its excellent reputation. On the following week Mr. and Mrs. Kendal will present "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," Pinero's much-talked-of play.

COLUMBIA THEATRE.—Miss Pauline Hall, in that delightful comic opera, "The Honey-mooners," will appear for another week at the Columbia. During the past week Miss Hall and her company have thoroughly entertained and amused the large number of theatre-goers who have thronged the house at each performance. Miss Hall has always met with the most decided success in this city, and "The Honey-mooners" is no exception to the rule. Richard Golden displays his originality, Miss Caroline Hamilton was never in better voice, and Mr. Tom Ricketts and Mr. Alf C. Wheelan have both been received with much favor and deserved approval. The advance sale for the coming performances is very large and must be most gratifying to all concerned. During the engagement of "The Honey-mooners" at the Columbia, the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

THEIR RECORD.

A CORRESPONDENT ASKS SOME IMPERTINENT QUESTIONS.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC: I see in last week's paper you made some reference to the doings of our city council, but I would like to ask you what they have done in the ten months since they took office.

Their delay in the matter of grade crossings you referred to. Last year's board made a thorough investigation of the whole subject, drew up plans, and a commission of three engineers endorsed those plans at an expense to the city of some six thousand dollars. Yet ten months have elapsed, election is only a month off, and the board of aldermen have just decided to go into the whole question anew, at the eleventh hour. Is not this a farce, acted out just because an election is near? Natick and other towns have meanwhile done something and Newton will have to wait.

There were a large number of other plans all ready for the board to act upon at the beginning of the year. The Newton Boulevard has made some progress, it is true, but has a day's work been done upon it? It is reported that the city has had offers for the bonds, so that can not be the excuse.

The Cuessebrook Brook Boulevard has been left severely alone until within a month, but is there any hope of its being finished this year, at the present rate of progress?

The Boyd pond nuisance is being abated, which is one thing to the credit of the city council, but the plans for that were all made last year.

Another fact to their credit is that after a fight lasting the whole year, they have finally succeeded in passing an order for the purchase of four or five fire alarm boxes, and perhaps it is because the members were so exhausted by this struggle that they had no time or energy left for anything else.

Last year we had a very exciting election and the voters decided by a great majority to have a new deal and put in new members all round, with a very few exceptions. The people wished for a change in the sewer assessments, and they got it, but did they get much of anything else?

Of course the regular routine business has been transacted, but as the election is only a few weeks away, and the most of the members will probably be candidates for reelection, the voters would like some information about their record. Newton is now a large city and its future depends on the carrying out of the many great enterprises and improvements that have been matured in former years. If the present city council is fitted to carry these out, if they have shown the required push and energy, the voters would like to know it?

At a social gathering of gentlemen in a popular resort for Newton men, the question was being discussed the other night, and one gentleman raised a laugh by saying that the people would like to have a city council composed of King Storks again.

I do not wish to be unfair, but the question is such an important one, that I feel bound to hear from the friends of the present city council. Perhaps they have done all that could have been expected of any body of men, and the popular opinion is incorrect. If so, won't some one give us the proofs of their efficiency.

The Newton Boulevard.

Already there is considerable uneasiness among the laboring men at the unexpected hitch in the carrying out of the plan of the city of Newton for the grand boulevard mapped out for that charming suburb. We have no doubt as to the final result of this temporary delay, but the work is needed today by many hands now idle. The interests of Newton are also suffering, for the early completion of the boulevard means much for the city, and the private interests of many who have taken time by the forelock and made extensive plans for beautifying and improving their property to correspond with the radical change to be made by the intersection of this broad—and not too broad—avenue, through one of the most delightful sections of the garden city—Boston Real Estate Record.

There is no better medicine for family use than Ayer's Cathartic Pills. Their sugar-coating makes them easy and agreeable to take, and as they contain no cathartic or other injurious drug, they are perfectly safe for patients of any age.

STUDIOUS FOREIGNERS.

HARVARD COLLEGE HAS ENOUGH TO MAKE A MIDWAY PLAISANCE.

If all Harvard's foreigners made a practice of walking the college yard clad in the gorgeous costumes of their native climes, the great Cambridge University would have a Midway Plaisance of its own, says a special writer in the Boston Sunday Herald.

But the aliens are very quiet at Harvard, and it is really quite a task to hunt them up, though it is a decided pleasure when one finds them.

Were the native garb the rule there would be more K-K-ks and Nanki-Pooos than anything else. The Japs are always to be seen walking back and forth in the college yard or reading bulletins in the corridors, till it seems as though there must be at least two dozen of them.

There are actually only nine. They are a remarkably quick, bright and level-headed class of men.

The story is told of one of these young men that he was converted to orthodox Christianity by an American missionary in Japan, and became so enthusiastic that he prepared to visit this Christian country. The missionary tried hard to dissuade the Jap from his purpose, and finally confessed that he feared his convert would become "too liberal" over here. The Japs in Harvard have no definite organization, but the Oriental nine meet frequently and turn their faces toward the east.

Representing quite a different quarter of the globe are the Russian trio. The oldest of them, David Blaustein, looks, with his portly carriage, very black hair and short black beard spread all over the lower part of his face, not unlike one of our national visitors of the summer—the handsome Indian maharajah, Jit Singh. Mr. Blaustein is about 32 years old. He has spent four years at Cambridge now, and is a year senior for a doctor's degree. His specialty is Semitic. Beside private tutoring, Mr. Blaustein's work has been clerical. He is rabbi of the congregation of the Sons of Israel and David, Providence. Friday night he goes to Providence, officiates on Saturday, does all the pastoral work of the week on Sunday, and returns to Boston on Monday morning. He is not in the least Nihilist, though he is alive to the abuses of Russian officials.

"Some time since," said he the other day, "I had occasion to send money home to my brother. Knowing the liking the Russian postal authorities have for treating foreign correspondents with indignity, I registered my letter in Boston. Not long afterward my brother wrote me, begging leave to acknowledge the receipt of an empty envelope, and commending my forethought in registering it. I appealed to the Boston office, where I was told that a former correspondent was responsible for that mail only so far as the steamer. It then fell under German control, and later passed into the hands of the Russians. 'By the way,' the clerk told me, 'if you want to get your brother into trouble over there, just make inquiries.'"

The Bulgarian Delegate to the "foreigners' club" is Stoyan Krstov Vratarsky of Yakare. He has been a special, and now ranks junior. He is well known in Cambridge and thereabouts as a lecturer on Bulgarian customs. He appears on the platform in his native dress and gives a very entertaining talk.

There are a number of Scandinavians. Frederick Hermann Johan Gade sounds like a pretty thoroughbred Norwegian to have a brother named plain John Allyne Gade, and, indeed, Frederick was named for his father's Christiania relatives, while John was called after members of the family of his mother, a former Christian bridge lady now residing in Christiania with her husband. Frederick was graduated with '93, and is this year in the law school. He will practise law in this country. John is in the Lawrence scientific school, and will make architecture his life work.

Last year Harvard boasted a Hawaiian whose American name was James Austin Wilder. He was a Honolulu man. In '94 is Eric Alfred Knudsen of Kanai, Hawaiian Islands, and his brother, Arthur Sinclair Knudsen, is a sophomore.

Plinio da Silva Prado of Sao Paulo, Brazil, returns this year as a sophomore in the college. He lives in Huntington avenue, Boston.

One of the most interesting young men of the alien students is a first-year man. He is L. B. Jureidini of Shweitat, Lebanon, Syria. He was prepared to the Protestant college of Beirut, Syria, from which he was graduated last year. His father, now dead, was what is called in Syrian, the "bashkatib," or chief writer of the court. The court means the court of law, and beside his function of chief secretary or clerk, Mr. Jureidini was also public prosecutor. The young man came to America early in the spring to see the World's fair, where relatives of his were in charge of an exhibit. He had then no special plan, but was induced to come to Cambridge, and is studying civil engineering in the scientific school.—From "A Lot of Ambitious Aliens," Boston Sunday Herald, Oct. 29, 1893.

LEAGUE BOWLING CIRCUIT.

HOW THE THREE DIVISIONS WILL BE MADE UP.

A meeting of the board of managers of the Massachusetts Amateur Bowling League was held in the Parker House last Friday evening.

Secretary Aubin stated that the total number of clubs in the league to date was 30, and that 24 would enter teams in the league tournament. The three divisions of the league would, therefore, be made of eight clubs each. The division plan provides for a classification of the teams according to the general average of pins knocked down in the match games of the preceding league season. The new teams enter the competition for the first time this year are assigned under the method of grading to the third division. The first division will comprise these clubs:

Casino, Vesper of Lowell, Salem, Newton, Melrose Highlands, Revere of Chelsea, Waverly of Arlington and B. A. A.; second, Arlington B. C., Jamaica, Lowell Highlands, Jeffries of East Boston, Melrose A. A., Allston, Oxford of Lynn, Old Dorchester; third, Charlestown, 99th Artillery Association, Roxbury, Central Athletic of Dorchester, Glendon of Everett, Los Miserables of Lowell, Codman of Dorchester, Melrose. The latter division is made up entirely of new teams. Separate schedules will be arranged for a series of matches for the clubs in each division, and the winners in each class will come together in a final tournament for the championship. The league season will begin Nov. 13.

"A PERFECT MIRACLE."

Dyspepsia and Heart Disease Banished—Gained Twenty-Five Pounds While Taking Three Bottles of Rodolf's New Medical Discovery and is Perfectly Cured.

RODOLF MEDICINE CO.

DEAR SIR:—I have been troubled with a severe case of dyspepsia and heart trouble for a number of years. My stomach would not retain any nourishment in the morning and as the disease progressed, nothing but light food during the day and very little of that. I was so reduced in strength that I was obliged to take my bed. No remedies seemed to reach my case until my physician advised the use of Rodolf's New Medical Discovery. I commenced to improve while using the first bottle; and after taking three bottles, I can eat three good square meals a day and have increased in weight about twenty-five pounds. While this remedy has performed wonderful cures in cases of Consumption, Cancerous and Scrofulous Humors, in this section, I think my case is a perfect miracle.

F. W. BROWN, JR., Brooks, Me. Chairman Board of Selectmen. Rodolf's Remedies are for sale by Geo. Ingraham, West Newton; John F. Payne, Newtonville, Mass.

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by him. WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. WALKING, KINKEAD & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Presence of Mind.

[From the New York Press.]

Chappie—Why are you shouting "Vigilant!" all the time? I thought you wanted the other boat to win. Second chappie—No, I don't dare to shout "Vigilant!" because I am not certain how I pronounce the name, and I could not make a mistake for anything.

I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to Ely's Cream Balm, and I do so entirely without solicitation. I have used it more or less half a year, and have found it to be most admirable. I have suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since I was a little boy and I never hoped for cure, but Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many of my acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Believers All.

[From the Pittsburgh Chronicle.]

Bloomfield—There are very few infidels in Arizona, New Mexico and the other territories. Bellefield—Is that so? Bloomfield—Yes; every man out there believes in a future state.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

Children Cry for

Pitcher's Castoria.

A world of misery is implied in the words "Sick Headache."

A world of relief is wrapped up in a twenty-five cent box of

Beecham's

Pills

(Tasteless)

S. L. PRATT, FUNERAL AND FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass. First-class Appointments and Competent Assistants. To accommodate the people of Upper Falls and vicinity orders may be left at the office of Fanning Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone.

Also shall continue in the Black, Livery and Boarding Stable. Business at my old stand corner of Beacon and Station Streets. 13

JOE PRINTING AT THIS OFFICE.

Lawyers.

WILLIAM F. BACON, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law
113 Devonshire St., Room 42, BOSTON.

SPRAGUE & WASHBURN, Counsellors - at - Law
51 SUMMER STREET, Rooms 13 and 14, BOSTON.

Chas. H. Sprague, Residence, Auburndale, Mass.
G. Everett Washburn, Residence, Wellesley Hill.

JESSE C. IVY, COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
113 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.
Residence, Newton. 35-ly

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.
WILLIAM F. SLOCUM. WINFIELD S. SLOCUM, Residences, Newtonville.
Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

WALTER H. THORPE, Counsellor at Law,
28 State Street, Room 55, BOSTON, MASS.
Residence, Pelham St., Newton Centre

Carpenters and Builders.

G. W. RIGBY, Carpenter and Builder.
ALL JOBBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Shop: WASHINGTON ST., opp. WABAN NEWTON MASS.

S. K. MacLEOD, Carpenter and Builder.
Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed.
Bathrooms and Fittings for Plumber's Work a Specialty.
Shop, Centre Place, opp. Public Library Residence, Boyd street, near Everett.
P. O. Box, 650, NEWTON, MASS.

Veterinary Surgeon

MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S., Veterinary Surgeon.
BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST., NEWTON, MASS.
Telephonic connection.

THEODORE L. MASON, Agent for the celebrated
Rockford Watch
ELGIN, WALTHAM, and other American Watches always in stock.
Repairs of Fine Watches, French, Grandfather and American Clocks a specialty.
All work warranted to give satisfaction.
Eliot Block, Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

West Newton Savings Bank

Incorporated 1887.
West Newton, Mass.
AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President.
JAMES H. NICKERSON, Treasurer.
ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.
Trustees—Austin R. Mitchell, Benj. F. Hough, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Pres. C. C. Bridgman, Charles A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Oate, Adams K. Tolman, C. F. Eddy, F. E. Hunter.
Committee of Investment—Austin R. Mitchell, Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Charles A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett.
Open for business daily, 8.30 to 11 a.m., 1.30 to 4 p.m.
Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July and October.

Fitchburg Railroad.

Reduced Rates of Fare For Round Trip Tickets On Account of Summer

VACATION EXCURSIONS.

Tickets on Sale June 1 to Sept. 30, And good until Oct. 31, 1893.
SUMMER EXCURSION BOOK FREE
On receipt of 2c. stamp for postage. Gives information in regard to routes, rates of fare and list of hotels and boarding houses. Can be obtained at 250 Washington street, Boston, or on application to

J. R. WATSON, Gen. Pass. Agent.

MYLES J. JOYCE, Ornamental and Landscape GARDENER.

Grading, Sodding, Pruning and Gardening of Every Description.
Taking Care of Private Lawns and Gardens A Specialty.
Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned, and Put Down in the Best Manner.

ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
P. O. Box 42, Newton, Mass.

Fish and Provisions.

Newton City Market

ALL KINDS OF Fresh and Salt Meats, POULTRY AND GAME. Fish and Oysters

Butler Chase & Sons
Canned Goods, Fruit, and Vegetables.

413 Centre St., Opposite Public Library.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

FISH OYSTERS, Vegetables & Fruit of all Kinds

—AT— Bunting's Fish Market, COLE'S BLOCK.
Established 1877. Connected by Telephone.

Livery Stables.

Daniels' Nonantum Stables

HENRY C. DANIELS, PROPRIETOR.

Livery and Hacking.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landaus and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING.

Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention. Telephone 13.3.

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable

(Established 1861.)

Barge, "City of Newton."

Bent Sleigh, "Snow Bird."

S. F. CATE, West Newton

CEO. W. BUSH.

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

Hacks at depot for conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages at for business or pleasure

ELMWOOD STREET.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION

ADVERTISE

IN THE

Watertown Enterprise.

City of Newton.

REGISTRARS OF VOTERS.

1893.

STATE ELECTION, NOV. 7th.

Notice is hereby given that the Registrars of Voters commencing Monday, October 2, 1893, to and including Friday, October 27, 1893, will hold sessions for the registration of male voters and to correct and revise the Ward Lists at the City Clerk's office, City Hall, daily during office hours, viz: 8.15 A. M. to 12.30 o'clock P. M.; 2 o'clock to 5 P. M.; except Saturdays, when the hours run from 8.15 o'clock A. M. to 1 o'clock P. M.; also from 7.30 to 9 o'clock in the evening upon the following dates and at the places hereinafter named:

Newton Lower Falls—Boyd Hall, Saturday, October 7.

Nonantum—Athens Hall, Tuesday, October 10.

Newton Upper Falls—Old Prospect School-house, Wednesday, October 11.

Newton—Arno's Hall, Saturday, October 14.

At the City Hall on Monday, October 16.

Auburndale—Auburn Hall, Wednesday, October 18.

Newtonville—Room 8, Central Block, Saturday, October 21.

Newton Highlands—Stevens Hall, Monday, October 23.

Newton Centre—Associates' Hall, Pleasant street, Wednesday, October 25, from 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock.

Also at City Hall on Saturday, October 28, from 12 o'clock M. to 10 o'clock P. M., which is the last session preceding the Election, and thereafter the Registrars will not, before the Election, and any names to the Registrars, except the names of voters as named as to their qualifications, since the preceding thirty-day day of April.

All persons whose names are not on the Voting List must appear personally before the Registrars of Voters on either of the days above mentioned, presenting a tax bill of 1893 or other evidence satisfactory to the Registrars.

All naturalized citizens must present their final papers when they register.

If the father of an applicant was naturalized before he (the son) became 21 years of age, the son is naturalized thereby, and

CHARITIES AND CORRECTION.

NEW ENGLAND CONFERENCE IN SESSION IN NEWTON.

The New England Conference of Charities and Correction was established in 1892, growing out of the conference of Associated Charities and kindred societies held in Lynn in October of that year. The object of the larger organization is to gather into co-operative work all the people of New England interested in those subjects relating to charity and reform, to meet annually, to learn from and teach each other about new and improved methods, to exchange opinions and to give to each other the ripened fruits of their experience.

The first conference of this organization of practical workers was begun Tuesday afternoon in the Channing church, Newton.

Besides delegates from numerous Massachusetts cities and towns, there was an excellent representation from the other New England states. The larger communities sending delegates were Providence, Valley Falls, Newport and Central Falls, R. I.; Bridgeport, Hartford and New Haven, Ct.; Burlington, Vt.; Concord, N. H.; Bangor and Portland, Me. The hour between 2 and 3 o'clock was utilized for the registration of delegates and distribution of badges.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Rev. W. A. Lamb of Newton, president of the conference, formally opened its first session. He made a few remarks referring to some of the vital objects, and then introduced Hon. John A. Fenn, Mayor of Newton, who delivered the address of welcome.

Most of the time of the afternoon session was given up to the reading of reports from the six New England states. Prof. John J. McCook of Trinity College, Hartford, Ct., presided.

The report of Maine, prepared by Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, was read by Mrs. Leavitt. Reference was made in it to the more recent state institutions, including the industrial school and temporary home for women and children, and for deaf mutes located at Portland, and homes for the aged. The latter, the report said, had multiplied very fast. The point was made that there were not so many almshouses as 20 years ago, for the reason that the poor and dependent classes had been taught to help themselves. There were twenty-nine less inmates in the state prisons than 20 years ago. Maine's proportion of criminals, it was stated, was small in comparison with other states.

For New Hampshire, Mrs. Lillian C. Streeter presented some interesting statistics, and talked quite gamely relative to the necessity of changes in the method of management of some of the insane and correctional institutions.

Vermont, Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr says, has more need of penal institutions and charity for women and children states. Her foreign population is increasing, and is less provident and self-supporting than the sturdy founders of the state. The state institutions are well managed, and much good is being accomplished by the work of Associated Charities and similar societies.

Miss Frances R. Morse presented the report for Massachusetts. She alluded to the growing custom of boarding children outside of institutions where they derive some of the benefits of home life under careful discipline and management. The state now cares for two-thirds of its children outside of institutions. The same principle is adopted in many of the private institutions for the care of dependent and neglected children. In the state reformatory schools the former rigid prison discipline has given way to improved methods, offering less restraint and more opportunity to do the right thing by kindly counsel and convincing argument. Pauperism in Massachusetts is diminishing. Twenty years ago the figures were 10 to 1000 of population; today only 7 to each 1000.

The speaker touched in a general way upon the penal institutions and methods of conducting them. She said, in conclusion, that co-operation and organization in charitable and correctional work in Massachusetts had been one of the beneficent features of the past twenty years.

Rev. James N. Nutting presented the report for Rhode Island, and read a pamphlet giving a comprehensive picture of nearly all the charity and correctional institutions of the state. Reference was made to the unique method of governing the state institutions. The claim was made that Rhode Island was in advance of the other New England states in having a board or commission of charity and correction invested with the care of all the penal institutions of the state with but one exception. They are governed on business principles. Great care is taken in providing suitable buildings and good officers. It is particularly noticeable in the care of insane patients. The buildings for their occupancy are one-story stone cottages on the family plan. All the inmates eat and sleep on one floor. There is no danger to be feared from holocausts there. The house of correction, although having kind officers comprising men whose personnel could hardly be improved upon, as a reformatory institution has proved a complete failure.

The evening session began promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The subject of the session was "Charity Organization." Rev. J. M. Pullman, D. D., chairman of the Associated Charities of Lynn, presided and also delivered the opening address on "The Development of Charity Organization." He commenced by giving an account of organized charity work in Lynn. The method is co-operation of all the charitable societies upon the same principle which is recognized in attaining the best results in religion, education and business. This organization and co-operation, the speaker said, was necessary in charitable work. It helped in the labor of judicious almsgiving, it moved toward the decrease of pauperism. What we want is a federation of agencies so strong that the most troublesome obstacles can be removed and the bitter cry of distress heard no more.

Hon. Robert Treat Paine of Boston, the next speaker, gave a short address on "Emergency Loans." He gave an account of the organization in Boston which was formed in order to break down the business of extortionists deriving large rates of interest on small loans made to poor people. The rate charged by the Boston association for emergency loans is 1 per cent, per month. It is conducted as a business, and not a charity, but has proved a boon to poor people who have been at the mercy of the sharks.

The concluding address of the evening session was delivered by Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant of London on the topic "Friendly Visiting." Mrs. Chant said, among other things, that praying and preaching to people was not the way to teach them to be thrifty. Love never fails, and is the great conqueror of the world. What charity organizations are doing today is inculcating the principles of love, teaching those who minister to the poor and degraded that they must win them by loving kindness. We require in all our organizations this love and deep interest in humanity. The time for twaddle is past. No prayer meeting can save the man who knows that the deacon of the church derives income from exorbitant rentals and unjust business methods. Let us help no such man to whitewash his sepulchre.

Mrs. Chant spoke at some length of the work of the Sisters of the People in London. Their labor is to smooth the way of the Roman whose husband is ill and who is deprived temporarily of means of support, to care for the sick, nurse them to health, and to provide recreation places for convalescents. She gave some personal experiences in her work as a friendly visitor in London, and spoke of the flint hearts of some employers, callous to every sign of suffering and distress. "Talk about heathen needing religion! These men," said Mrs. Chant, "are the heathen where the mission work ought to begin."

Second Day of the Charities Convention

The exercises of the second day's session of the New England Conference of Charities and Correction opened Thursday with the report of the state of Connecticut, picturing the conditions and progress of the past twenty years, especially in methods of management of charitable and correctional institutions.

The report was presented by Prof. John J. McCook of Trinity, Hartford. The topic of the morning exercises was "The Feeble Minded." The opening address was delivered by Dr. George H. Knight, superintendent of the Connecticut school for the feeble minded at Lakeville, that state.

A general discussion followed Dr. Knight's address. Prof. McCook asked Dr. Knight what the term "moral imbecile" implies, and how it was possible to recognize such cases? Dr. Knight, in reply, said that the condition termed moral imbecile was discovered by certain unmistakable manifestations. The distinguishing feature was a lack of the sense of right and wrong. He said that the criminal class was descending from the type known as the moral imbecile, and that marriage of moral imbeciles should be prohibited by law.

Dr. Fiske of East Boston gave an interesting account of the Institution for Feeble Minded Women in Newark. The colony plan was in vogue there, he said, and inmates could be securely housed and cared for under the most approved methods of treatment and management. Dr. Blake gave an account of a moral imbecile who escaped from an institution. There was nothing in the way of mischief, he said, that the fellow would enter into. He thought it was a pity, and was never sorry for his acts. When he first ran away he went to Lawrence and joined the Salvation Army, cutting up all sorts of capers. He was next heard of in Saco, Me., where he got a sixty days' sentence for stealing a coat. In all cases he thought it was better to keep the criminal under the penalty of the law until he has shown signs of reform.

The discussion was continued by Rev. James H. Nutting of Providence and others.

The Punishment of Crime.

The afternoon session was called to order at 2 o'clock, and Mr. Joseph G. Thorp, Jr., president of the Massachusetts Prison Association of Cambridge, was introduced as president of the afternoon.

In his remarks Mr. Thorp contrasted the old and new methods of dealing with crime. Today, he said, the prevailing idea is how best can punishment be administered in order to insure future reform and the welfare of the public.

In all cases he thought it was better to keep the criminal under the penalty of the law until he has shown signs of reform.

The subject of the afternoon was "Probation—Its Relation to the Punishment of Crime," and in the discussion the general verdict was given that probation in many cases was better than putting a man under lock and key, and consequently lessening his self-respect.

Mr. Frederick G. Pettigrove, secretary of the commissioners of prisons for Massachusetts, described what had already been done for this state.

Chief Probation Officer Richard Keefe of Boston then explained the work of his position, with the manner of investigating each case.

Judge Keneady of Newton next spoke upon the subject, after which Miss Todd told of her methods of procedure in carrying out the law.

Until men, who have much less excuse for sin, are punished with women, she said, we can hope for little improvement. Punishment is too one-sided in our present system of dealing with crime.

Judge Charles Almy of Cambridge said: The main object of all the machinery which we set up is not to punish the person but to prevent others from doing what he has been guilty of.

Secretary Spaulding of the Massachusetts Prison Association said that all people who commit crimes are not criminals. There are persons who commit crime through accident and others through specific environment. Until probation began all offenders were treated as criminals.

An adjournment was taken, and a reception and tea followed. The evening session was held in the church proper, and Mr. Charles W. Birtwell of the Children's Aid Society presided. "The Law and Children" was discussed by Hon. George S. Hale, who related the charity of modern legislation for the protection of children. The best manner of expending $1,000,000, he thought, would be in providing natural homes for the children of the destitute and abandoned.

"Charity Organization and Children" was the subject taken by Miss Alice E. Wetherbee of Fall River, and she made a pathetic appeal for parental influence.

Dr. Charles P. Worcester of the board of trustees of the Massachusetts state primary and reform schools outlined his work, and advocated the placing of children in country homes instead of institutions.

St. Vincent de Paul's Society was represented by Mr. John B. F. Emery, its special agent for children. The cornerstone of dealing with wayward boys, he said, was kindness, sympathy and a tender discipline.

Last to be called upon was Mrs. Anna

G. Spencer of Providence, whose theme was "Special Public School Training for Partially Defective Children."

In summing up the remarks of the various speakers of the evening, Mr. Birtwell suggested that each community forthwith should study the child problem in its midst in order to find out what waywardness, destitution and criminality therein exists. Exposed children in cities need friendly visitors. Compulsory education should be enforced as a preventative to boys and girls growing up as paupers. Each city and town should have a society for the prevention of cruelty to children.

GREENHALGE'S TARIFF VIEWS.

A COUNTRY READER THINKS EQUALIZATION MEANS PAYING TAXES TWICE.

To the Editor of the Boston Herald:

We have had a good many campaigns of education on the tariff, but I have learned something in the present campaign that had never before been shown to me so plainly. It was that illustration which Mr. Greenhalge gave at Taunton. As I understand it, there might be a case of goods made in Taunton that has a market value of $1,000, and another case of similar goods might be brought from Europe and landed at Taunton for $700, and because the Taunton made goods had paid taxes for schools, streets, police, etc., Mr. Greenhalge would tax the foreign goods $300, thus making the market value of them $1,000.

I had a suspicion previous to this year that, if the tariff was a tax, the foreigner paid it, but I can see just as plain as day that the ones who buy the goods in the foreign case must pay the $300 tax that Mr. Greenhalge proposes, and it kind of seems to me the ones who buy the Taunton made goods have got to pay $300 to equalize taxation, as he calls it. We here in Buxford have to pay taxes for our schools, streets, etc., and it don't seem square to make us pay "30, 40 or 60 per cent" more for goods just because the Taunton people are taxed for support of their schools.

I should think some of you Boston folks, the clerks, teamsters, traders, masons and carpenters, and a man told me there are four times as many carpenters in the United States as there are hands in the woolen mills, would kick at equalizing taxation when it means you must pay not only your own taxes but also the Taunton taxes.

I followed up reading Mr. Greenhalge's speeches in Westboro and Lawrence, where he said he would tax a suit of foreign clothes, just to equalize. There again it is just as plain as day to me now that the fellow who wears that suit must pay that tax, and the fellow who wears some other suit must pay an equal tax, not into the United States treasury, but into the hands of the manufacturer. The way it seems to me, now, and I have never seen it before Mr. Greenhalge gave this illustration is this: If we in Buxford have got to pay $300 toward pensions, interest, army, navy and other expenses of our government, if we buy the foreign case for $1000, we get the goods at the same time settle the tax that we owe the government, but if we buy the goods made in Taunton we pay out just the same sum, $1000, and are still owing the government the $300.

Honest Indian, I begin to believe that the tariff is a tax, and it is just the same if we add the words "for equalization." Still Mr. Greenhalge says he is a believer in making the foreigner pay our taxes, and I am going to keep on reading his speeches to see if he will show in the case of the suit of foreign clothes, just what particular foreigner paid the tax and to whom he paid it. If we could execute a law compelling foreigners to buy the Taunton goods, of course I could see they would have to pay the tax, but as the law compels Americans to purchase them, I think Mr. Greenhalge is mistaken.

ADAM TOWNE.

Buxford, Oct. 19, 1893.

OLD NORTH END PUPILS.

A PLEASANT REUNION AT THE "ALLEN PLACE" IN MEDFIELD.

It was a happy thought of Prof. Joseph Allen of Medfield in bringing together at his home, the "Allen place," on Castle hill, Monday those who are left of that happy band of North end scholars who attended school together at the old brick schoolhouse, then situated at the corner of North and Railroad streets.

It was 2:30 o'clock when Mr. Allen called the "school" to order and read the roll call. These answered to their names: Lucy M. Allen, Abbie E. Allen, Sarah Allen, Olive Bullard, Lucy M. Cutler, Sarah Harding, Cynthia Harding, Phoebe Mason, Joanna Plimpton, Emily Thayer, Clarissa Wight, Noah Allen, William C. Allen, Joseph Allen, Nathaniel T. Allen, Alfred Cutler, Samuel Ellis, Nathan Harding, John Hutson, Amos E. Mason, John Mason, Charles Turner, Mary Harding and Hamlet Wight.

Mr. Allen then recited an original poem which served to remind the school days and pranks of the present, and which was exhibited Monday. The school was received with due appreciation. Then came the distribution of books, neat four page souvenirs, tied with ribbon and containing the printed name of every pupil now living who attended the North school, more than 60 years ago.

Anecdotes of school life were related by Nathan Allen, John Hutson and others, and then the company were photographed in a group. A collation was served, and with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and renewed expressions of good health and happiness "school" was dismissed.

The old brick schoolhouse was destroyed long since, and the only picture of it which remains is a pencil drawing in possession of Mrs. Ellen T. Curtis, and which was exhibited Monday. The old "Allen place" dates back to the days of King Philip's war, and is situated in the north part of Medfield. One room in the homestead remains as of yore, with its old open fireplace, crane, kettle and andirons.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

Coughing Leads to Consumption, Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

Giant Among Dwarfs.
Head and shoulders above all other Washing Powders.

Ivoryine
WASHING POWDER
is better in quality. Does better work in half the time.
1½ lb. packages costs no more than pounds of other kinds.

From April, 1893, every package of Ivoryine will contain a package of Pure Glycerine Soap.

The J. B. Williams Co., Cincinnati, O., The 20 years the makers of Yankee Shaving Soap.

Lumber.

C. A. HARRINGTON LUMBER,
Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c.
Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.
Telephone, 249-5 Newton.

LUMBER.

GILKEY & STONE,
ARSENAL ST., WATERTOWN.

Railroads.

WEST END STREET

RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

WEEK DAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 5:50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9:30 P. M.
Returning leave Bowdoin square 7:00 A. M. then every thirty minutes until 11:00 P. M.

SUNDAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 7:00 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9:50 P. M.
Returning leave Bowdoin square 8:30 A. M. and every thirty minutes until 11:00 P. M.

First car for Boston leaves Watertown at 7:2 A. M.
C. S. SERGEANT,
5 ly General Manager

Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn R. R.

Fall and Winter Time-Table, Sept. 11, '93.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN at 6:50, 7:20, 8:30, 9:10, 11 A. M., 12 M., 1, 2, 3, 3:30, 4 (Express), 4:30, 5 (Express), 5:30, 6 (Express), 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 10:20 and 11:25 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON at 6:10, 6:50, 7 (Express), 7:30 (Express), 8 (Exp.), 8:30 (Exp.), 9:30 (Exp.), 10:11 A. M., 12 M., 1, 2, 2:45, 3:15, 3:45, 4:15, 4:50, 5:15, 5:50, 6:45, 7:15, 8:20, 9:15 and 10:15 P. M.

SUNDAY TRAINS.

LEAVE BOSTON FOR LYNN hourly from 9:30 A. M. to 9:30 P. M., inclusive, and at 10:15 P. M.

LEAVE LYNN FOR BOSTON at 8:45 A. M., then hourly from 9:30 A. M. to 9:30 P. M., inclusive.

All trains stop at West Lynn.

JOHN A. FENNO, C. A. HAMMOND,
G. T. A. Supt.

Boston, Sept. 11, 1893

B. KETZ,

The Only Hardware and Cutlery

STORE NEAR THE DEPOTS.

99 Kneeland St., Boston.

Kitchen Furnishing Goods and Toys a Specialty.

Open Evenings. Goods Delivered Free. 45 Cts

OLD NORTH END PUPILS.

A PLEASANT REUNION AT THE "ALLEN PLACE" IN MEDFIELD.

It was a happy thought of Prof. Joseph Allen of Medfield in bringing together at his home, the "Allen place," on Castle hill, Monday those who are left of that happy band of North end scholars who attended school together at the old brick schoolhouse, then situated at the corner of North and Railroad streets.

It was 2:30 o'clock when Mr. Allen called the "school" to order and read the roll call. These answered to their names: Lucy M. Allen, Abbie E. Allen, Sarah Allen, Olive Bullard, Lucy M. Cutler, Sarah Harding, Cynthia Harding, Phoebe Mason, Joanna Plimpton, Emily Thayer, Clarissa Wight, Noah Allen, William C. Allen, Joseph Allen, Nathaniel T. Allen, Alfred Cutler, Samuel Ellis, Nathan Harding, John Hutson, Amos E. Mason, John Mason, Charles Turner, Mary Harding and Hamlet Wight.

Mr. Allen then recited an original poem which served to remind the school days and pranks of the present, and which was exhibited Monday. The school was received with due appreciation. Then came the distribution of books, neat four page souvenirs, tied with ribbon and containing the printed name of every pupil now living who attended the North school, more than 60 years ago.

Anecdotes of school life were related by Nathan Allen, John Hutson and others, and then the company were photographed in a group. A collation was served, and with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and renewed expressions of good health and happiness "school" was dismissed.

The old brick schoolhouse was destroyed long since, and the only picture of it which remains is a pencil drawing in possession of Mrs. Ellen T. Curtis, and which was exhibited Monday. The old "Allen place" dates back to the days of King Philip's war, and is situated in the north part of Medfield. One room in the homestead remains as of yore, with its old open fireplace, crane, kettle and andirons.

When a doctor considers it necessary to prescribe sarsaparilla, he simply orders a bottle of Ayer's, knowing full well that he will obtain thereby a surer and purer preparation than any other which the druggists can furnish. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

Coughing Leads to Consumption, Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

Water Bugs and Roaches

EXTERMINATOR

CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR

No dust. No trouble to use.

Price, 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If you druggist or grocer does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price.

BARNARD & CO.,

7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON.

FOR SALE BY BARNER BROS. NEWTON.

As many good things are likely to. But you are safe in running the risk if you keep a bottle of at hand. It's a never-failing antidote for pains of all sorts.

Perry Davis' PAIN KILLER

Sold by all Druggists.

Does—One teaspoonful in a half glass of water or milk (warm if convenient).

Expressmen.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room from 6:30 A. M., to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. P. Atkins Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Procter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving, also Crochery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence: 152 Adams Street, Newton, Mass.

PEARSON'S NEWTON AND BOSTON EXPRESS

BOSTON OFFICE: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St., 33 Court sq. Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market. NEWTON OFFICE at H. B. Coffin's. Order Boxes at Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins.

Leave Newton at 9:30 A. M.

Leave Boston at 3 P. M.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER, NEWTON & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Leave Newton, 7:30 and 9:30 A. M.; leave Boston, 12 M. and 3 P. M.

NEWTON OFFICE: 334 Centre Street, Order Box, Newton City Market. BOSTON OFFICE: 15 Devonshire St., 174 Washington St., 34 Court Square, 25 Merchants Row, 67 Franklin St., 11 Harrison Ave. Extension. Post Office address Box 420, Newton.

Personal Attention Given all Orders.

Telephone No. 279-2.

Ripans Tablets relieve headache

T. F. CLENNAN,

Carriage Trimming & Harness MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c.

Washington Street, Newton.

J. J. JOHNSON, FLORIST.

CONSERVATORIES.

School Street, Newton.

Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, etc., etc.

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

Ripans Tablets: best liver tonic.

L. H. CRANITCH,

House, Sign, and Ornamental PAINTER.

GRAINING and PAPER HANGING a Specialty

2d door from Central Block, Newtonville.

Slate, Copper, Tin and Gravel

ROOFING.

Special attention given to repairing.

John Farquhar's Sons,

Nos. 20 and 22 East St., Boston.

Established 1836. Telephone No. 162.

JAMES PAXTON,

Manufacturing Confectioner.

Cakes in Variety, Ices and Creams,

Fancy Ices, Frozen Pudding.

Pure Candies of our own Make.

CHOICE WEDDING CAKE.

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT.

Successors to

P. A. MURRAY,

Washington Street

NEXT TO

Murray's Carriage Manufactory.

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

15

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

85 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should
be made payable to
EDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 238-2.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday
afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE CORPORATION ISSUE.

The appearance of Mr. Estabrook as an independent citizen's candidate has raised the corporation issue right here in Newton, and the people will have a chance to decide on the question whether they wish to have the legislature controlled by corporations, or they wish it understood that any representative from Newton may feel free to oppose stock-watering or other corporation schemes, and have the assurance that he will be backed up by his constituents.

There was an epidemic of street railway legislation before the last legislature. Companies asked for everything, and among other grants, the right to buy any road now built or hereafter to be built, and also that any road now built or to be built should have the right to buy the petitioning road. It was at a time when foreign corporations were reaching out in every direction, and there were many plans for foreign syndicates to get possession of the whole street railway system of a city. A company would secure certain rights in the streets from the local government because they were citizens, and having secured these rights without any payment therefor, they could make a handsome thing by selling out to a corporation which wanted the road for a connecting link in its line. The thing has been done, and the foreign corporations would then feel no obligation to the local government.

Mr. Estabrook saw this danger, and he secured an amendment to an act granting additional powers to the Newton and Boston street railway, a proviso that all rights granted under the act be null and void in case said road should be sold or leased to any foreign corporation. He also was instrumental in having the same condition attached to acts relating to twelve other roads.

Another reason is that various plans for watering stock, in regard to issuing stock and bonds, were much modified and cut down by Mr. Estabrook's influence, although the corporation influence was so strong that in many cases his amendments were defeated.

GRADE CROSSINGS.

The prospects of the abolition of grade crossings in Newton in the near future look a little brighter than they did. The plan for a depression of the tracks has been drawn up and is now in the hands of the City Solicitor, who is preparing a petition for the appointment of a commission, which is the first step to be taken.

If this is acted on at the next meeting of the aldermen, we shall be just in time to have the road commence work here first instead of at Natick.

There are many people who favor a depression of the tracks, especially among those who have not looked into the difficulties in the way, and so if the plan is got ready in time it will do no particular harm, as then those who favor the plan will have a chance to be convinced of its impracticability. There is hardly any chance that any commission that the court could appoint would favor such a scheme, when they come to look into all the plans.

The grade crossings are such a constant source of danger, and cause so many delays to city traffic, that any means of doing away with the nuisance would be acceptable to most people, and the sooner it is done the better it will be for all concerned. The aldermen cannot push matters too rapidly, and they should not spare any efforts to get the petition ready in time for the railroad to begin operations in Newton as soon as possible.

THE TEAMING CONTRACT.

The members of the highway committee take exception to one criticism of their position on the matter of the vote, authorizing the award of the teaming contract. They say the cause of the misunderstanding of the vote has been explained in committee, where such matters belong; that only the best of feeling exists between the chairman and the other members; and that all efforts of outsiders to cause a rupture in the committee will be without avail.

We are very glad to know this, and desiring to see fair play, we would suggest, that if a similar case arises again, the members of a committee would be wise not to express themselves too freely in public, unless they are sure that they are right. That was what caused the trouble in the case under discussion.

THE WALTHAM NEWS berates the voters of that city for voting no license, and thus interfering with the stream of travel that came from the Newtons and other places to patronize its saloons, and it estimates that Waltham has lost $25,000 by the vote, besides the great loss to the street railway company and the local stores, as it calls the saloons. Nevertheless most people will think the voters of Waltham did just right, and certainly that city is a more orderly place, and now people can ride on the Newton street cars in the evening without danger of being insulted by drunken men and boys, who have been "having a time" in Waltham. Judging from the talk of the regular merchants of Waltham they find Newton patronage fully as profitable as a year ago, and they say their customers from this vicinity are increasing instead of diminishing. Men who go to a city to buy rum have not the habit of buying dry goods or other necessities, and if they do not buy the rum, their families have more money with which to buy comforts. If, as the News claims, liquor is still sold in Waltham, in kitchen bar rooms and like places, it should stir up the local police to look after such violation of the law.

A CORRESPONDENT, who wishes to know how to vote at the next city election, asks some rather searching questions as to the record made by this year's city council. He wants to know how to vote intelligently when election day comes and although he seems to be somewhat prejudiced against the present board, he is evidently in earnest in asking for information. The columns of the GRAPHIC are open to any who wish to discuss the question, and there seems to be such a strong popular impression that nothing of any importance has been done this year, that it is high time that the mistake was corrected. We hope some one who is thoroughly posted will feel called upon to send a prompt answer to "Justice."

THE present campaign is remarkable in many ways and the Boston Herald touches it up as follows:

The distinguished humorist, Marshall Wilder, tells of a frog which, with a brother frog, found himself in a pail of milk. The brother frog lost his nerve and cried: "I sink." The companion replied in a disgusted tone of voice: "Hush, you dunder!" Who knows what may turn up? And he hustled, and jumped up and down all night long. Dawn came, and his continual agitation and unflagging zeal had meanwhile churned the milk into butter, and the two walked out on dry land. This fable is respectfully recommended to the attention of the campaign managers of all the political parties in Massachusetts at this time, to the end that they may succeed in making the voters persevere until the polls are closed on the 7th of November next.

THE Massachusetts Civil Service Reform League do not agree with Josiah Quincy, as will be seen by the following resolution passed at its last meeting:

Resolved, "That the Massachusetts Civil Service Reform League does not agree with the position recently taken by Hon. Josiah Quincy, to the effect that it is impracticable, under existing political conditions, to apply the spirit and purpose of the civil service law to appointments outside the law; and the league emphatically reaffirms its belief that the merit principle should be observed in all executive appointments."

At the same meeting a committee of three was appointed to consider and report measures for the application by law of rules of the merit system to the civil service.

The daily papers find it hardly safe in these days to comment on the situation of affairs in Washington more than an hour in advance, as the late dispatches contradict utterly the early ones. Several papers appeared with editorials condemning the President for yielding to the silver men by the reported compromise, when their special contained the news that he had absolutely refused to favor it in any way. It would have been a great victory for the silver men, but a disgraceful surrender on the part of the other senators.

THE highway committee has decided to hustle in the Cheesecake Brook Boulevard matter, and have added fifteen of the city teams to the force already employed there. They expect to have the work all completed within ten days, which will be gratifying news to the residents and property owners in the vicinity. Work on the parkway between Newtonville avenue and Cabot street will begin next week and will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible, in the hope that if the weather permits the parkway may be finished this year. The public will welcome these indications of a desire to complete some of the proposed city improvements.

THE city council do not seem to be at all alarmed by the suit brought by Mr. E. D. Jordan against the Newton boulevard. The weakness of his position was shown by the City Solicitor, who called attention to the fact that neither Mr. Jordan nor any one representing him objected to the boulevard in itself. The delay in beginning work on the boulevard is commented on by the Boston Real Estate Record and Building News, in an article quoted in another column.

THERE is some curiosity as to what has become of the plans for the widening of Washington street, which was so carefully drawn up last year. They are probably in the same dust-covered pigeonhole with the plans for abolishing the grade crossings.

MR. ESTABROOK's friends wish it stated that they are not in any way opposed to Mr. Howard, who is just as little of a corporation man as Mr. Estabrook, and they have the friendliest feelings toward him.

Sunday School Meeting Ended.

The concluding session of the Unitarian Sunday School Society was held in the First Unitarian Church, West Newton, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Edward A. Horton of Boston presided. Addresses were made by Miss Helen A. Whittier of Lowell on Sunday school Teaching as Affected by Modern Thought; Rev. Frank L. Phalen of Concord, N. H., on How to Interest the Church in the Sunday School; Rev. Merle St. Croix Wright of Harlem, N. Y., on How to Interest Young Men in Sunday School Work.

The latter paper was one of the most interesting and valuable contributions from the standpoint of suggestions relative to methods to be employed to raise the Sunday school toward the ideal condition.

The Republican party should be successful this fall because, under its rule, the State has always been prosperous, and because its platform is a broad and firm one. In seeking to find the true best way to look back on its past history. The past record of the Republican party, which its advocates may well take pride in, has been a brilliant and successful one. Under Republican administration, the public offices of the State have been filled with men who have been true to the interests of their party and who have introduced measures tending to the progress and welfare of the State. If this party is triumphant this fall, (and the signs of the times most surely point in this direction,) the people will rest contented in the belief that the reins of the government are held by firm and steady hands. Foxboro Times.

162 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass. Classes in the Fine and Industrial Arts Day and Evening. Life Class Courses include Geometric, Decorative and Designing, Painting, Modeling, Carving and Sculpture, China Decorating, Illustrating by Pen or Brush Work, Language, Music, Vocal and Instrumental, Special Saturday sessions for Teachers, Etching on Copper, Architecture, Photography, Study with electric colors in all branches of general education. Various courses of instruction by Mail. Open through year. Summer classes, H. F. Blaney, M. S. Devereux, Directors.

Frederick C. Williams, Art Critic, 14 years resident in Paris; Helen M. Knowlton, Portrait and Life Class, Etc.; C. H. Blackwell, F. B. S. A., Architecture; Henry R. Blaney, Book Illustration, Etching on Copper, Photography; Alfred C. Eastman, Pupil Royal Academy of Fine Arts, Munich, Painter and Designer of Art Glass; Charles Arthur E. Pope, from South Kensington Art School, Art Instruction; Jas. G. Jones, Jr., Instructor in Boston University, Languages; Jas. A. Prissell, Freehand and Instrumental Drawing and Modeling, Etc.; Margaret A. Carlson, Art Needle Work, including Tapestry Embroidery; Claude Fisher, Violin and Ensemble Playing; Piano and Violin; Charles Phillips Scott, Harmony and Theory of Music; Annie Frank Libby, Instrum. or on Harp; Geo. G. Allen, C. C. Manning, Pianist; Miss Belle Temple, Reader.

J. W. MITCHELL,

-DEALER IN-

All Rail Coal

Direct from the mines. Will deliver in any part of Newton.

Telephone Connection.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS, MASS.

JOHN J. HORGAN, MONUMENTS

Headstones, Tablets, Posts, Markers and Statues. Plans and Estimates. Manufacturer's Prices.

45-53 MAIN STREET, CAMBRIDGEPORT.

Newton and Watertown horsecars stop at the door.

MARRIED.

SMITH-DAUGHTY.-At Newton (Waban), Oct. 25, by Rev. N. Fellows, William C. Smith and Cora S. Daughty, both of Southbridge.

ELLIS-SPRINGER.-At Newton, Oct. 19, by Rev. M. Ellis of Newton and Edna M. Springer of Newton, R. I.

GARN-KEY-STAFFORD.-At Boston, Oct. 21, Daniel B. Garnsey of Newton and Evelyn Stafford of Boston.

DEARMON-MCKENNA.-At Boston, Oct. 22, Henry P. Dearmon of Newtonville and Margaret McKenna of Newton.

REAGAN-SWIFT.-At Newton, Oct. 25, John Reagan and Bridget Swift, both of Newton.

CONCANNON-KELLY.-At West Newton, Oct. 25, Patrick H. Concannon of Waltham and Margaret Kelly of Newton.

HARRIS-SULLIVAN.-At Newton, Oct. 25, John Harrish of Boston and Julia Sullivan of Newton.

DIED.

FOLEY.-In Newton, Oct. 25, Michael Foley 38 years.

BIDGE.-At Newton Centre, Oct. 19, Dr. James H. Bidge, aged 53 years, 3 months.

BUTLER.-At West Newton, Oct. 23, Mary A. Butler of the Wm. C. Fuller, 78 years and the 55th year of their married life.

NOBLE.-At Newton Centre, Sunday, Oct. 22, suddenly of Bright's disease, Jennie A. only daughter of W. F. and E. W. Noble.

WOODWARD.-At Newton Highlands, Oct. 20, Emily Woodward, aged 79 years, 6 months, 21 days.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

Real Estate.

Mortgages.

Insurance

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.
SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATE in the above villages.
Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES
OFFICES
J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

TO LET! Furnished.

Two minutes from Newton station. Comfortable house, 9 rooms; all improvements. About 10,000 feet of land, fruit and shade trees and piazza.

ONLY $480.

ROYAL B. LEIGHTON & CAMP,
376 Centre St., Newton; 27 Kilby St., Boston
Insurance. REAL ESTATE. Mortgages.

BOSTON
YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.
Corner of Boylston and Berkeley Sts.

ENTERTAINMENT COURSE,

Thursday Evenings at 8 o'clock.
Oct. 12. Mendelssohn Quintet Club Concert Company.

THOMAS RYAN, Director.
Mr. Andre Verder, Concert Master and Violinist; Mr. Arthur L. Poole, Second Violin; Mr. Thomas Ryan, Viola and Solo Clarinet; Mr. J. Roodenburg, Viola and Solo Flute; Mr. Charles Krill, Solo Violoncellist, and Miss Lila Juel, Prima Donna Soprano.

Oct. 20. Lecture—By H. H. Ragan.
Subject: "Paris the Magnificent." Superbly Illustrated.

Nov. 9. Folk Jubilee Singers.
Original Company from Folk University, Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. J. J. De Hart (Jennie Jackson), Soprano, and Musical Directress; Miss Laura A. Wells, Soprano; Miss Marie D. Bell, Alto; Mr. George E. Barrett, First Tenor; Mr. Charles W. Payne, Second Tenor; Mr. Charles S. Johnston, First Bass; Mr. J. N. Caldwell, Second Bass; Mr. H. P. Guy, Accompanist.

Nov. 23. Torbett Concert Company.
Original Company from Stockholm, Sweden.

Miss Ollie Torbett, Violinist; Mr. Isidore Monist, Pianist; Mr. P. Erikson, First Tenor; Mr. C. Froholm, First Tenor; Mr. C. Smith, Second Tenor; Mr. E. Schill, First Bass; Mr. N. Lowenmark, Second Bass; Mr. G. Kindlundh, Vocal Music.

Dec. 7. Professor R. L. Cunneen.
Humorous, Dramatic and Heroic Readings.

Dec. 21. Rev. F. H. Packard.
The Ariel Ladies' Quartet. A lecture on Ben Hur, superbly illustrated by Steepletop and Vocal Music.

Jan. 11. The Boston Rivals.
Miss Elizabeth Hamilton Prima Donna Soprano; Mr. Felix Winterstein, Violin Virtuoso; Mr. Charles Phillips Scott, Pianist; Miss Daisy Carroll Hoyt, Dramatic Reader.

Jan. 25. The Brown University Glee, Banjo and Mandolin Club.
Assisted by Mr. Mart Dow, Reader.

Feb. 8. 4 o'clock George W. Bain.
The Kentucky Orator. Subjects: "Roberts and Girls, Nice and Naughty; or, The Pendulum of Life."

Feb. 22. Temple Quartet.
E. M. Spence, Tenor; E. F. Webber, Second Tenor; Robert Bruce, Baritone; L. B. Merrill, Bass. Assisted by Miss Ellen M. Kissam, Soprano; Mr. Forster Landman, Cellist; Mr. John C. Manning, Pianist; Miss Belle Temple, Reader.

March 8. Edward P. Elliott Impersonator.
"Dollars and Sense; a Comedy of Today." Nine characters impersonated.

March 22. Grand Closing Concert.
JEAN VESQO, conductor. Assisted by Miss Vora Byrnes, Reader.

Evening Classes
Will open as follows at 7:30 P. M.
Monday, Oct. 2. Bookkeeping, Mechanical Drawing, Spanish, Vocal Music, Grammar and Spelling.

Tuesday, Oct. 3. Penmanship, Shortland, Physics, Moral Character and Debating Society.

Wednesday, Oct. 4. Penmanship, Shortland, French and Arithmetic.

Friday, Oct. 6. Bookkeeping, Electricity and German.

Saturday, Oct. 7. Penmanship, Banking, Election and Instrumental Music.

Members will be admitted to these classes by depositing one dollar as a guarantee for regular attendance. The same will be returned at the close of the season to those entitled to it.

Cymnasium.
PROF. ROBERT J. ROBERTS, PHYSICAL DIRECTOR.
Ten Daily Classes, conducted morning, afternoon and evening. Each member receives a medical examination and personal attention. Excellent ventilation, ample bathing facilities and complete equipment.

Association membership, $2 and $3 per year. Annual membership, including gymnasium privileges, $10. Visitors welcome. Send for prospectus.

GEORGE ALLEN, JR., Secretary Main Department.
JAMES LOGAN GORDON, General Secretary.

The first performance of this New, Highly Dramatic and Interesting Work will be given in CITY HALL,
West Newton.
Tickets with Reserved Seats, 50 and 75 Cents Each.

ORATORIO OF
"Paul the Apostle"

By a Chorus of 70 Voices, the following Boston Soloists: Mrs. E. Humphrey Allen, Mrs. Marie Kohlenstein, Mr. Geo. J. Parker, Mr. Arthur B. Hitchcock, and the Watertown Orchestral Club. Tickets for sale on and after Nov. 1 at a reduced price of 50c. Mr. Geo. H. Ingham, W. C. Gaudet, F. A. Hubbard.

REDUCED PRICES
To close out our stock of Baby Carriages & Refrigerators.
STRAW MATTING 16 18, 25, 30c.
Remember we keep a full assortment of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.
BENT'S
Furniture and Carpet Rooms,
69 MAIN ST., WATERTOWN.

Jardinieres, Plaques,
Ash or Pin Trays,
Plates, Pitches,
Tiles, Etc., Etc.

Ranging in price from 25 Cents to $1.50.

There are two styles, namely Steel Engraved Prints and Enamelled Colors traced in Gold. An immediate inspection is invited as the supply is limited and first comers will have the benefit of selection.

BARBER BROS.,

415 Centre Street, Newton Mass.

Tailors.

CARL D. BLOMBERG,

Fashionable Tailor

Invites the public to inspect his fine stock of foreign and domestic woolsens suitable for fall and winter wear. Perfect fit guaranteed.

28 Moody St., - Waltham.
Electric Cars pass the door.

C. S. DECKER,

Custom Tailor

326 Centre Street,
NEWTON. - MASS.

J. F. MALLIN,

Merchant Tailor.

Foreign and Domestic Goods a Specialty. Gentlemen's garments cut to order, and warranted to fit. Ladies' garments, cut, made and altered. Cleaning, pressing and dyeing at shortest notice. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

234 Centre Street, Cor. Jefferson, Newton, Dressmakers.

MRS. MCCARTHY'S

Rooms are now open for the Fall Season, and she is ready to take orders for Dresses, Capes and Jackets.

No hling but the very best work in making. For particulars address
MRS. M. MCCARTHY, 2 Oxford Terrace, Boston.

French Millinery and Dressmaking

Honnetes and Hats made for $2; trimmed for 75c; latest fashions and styles. Dressmaking very reasonable. Suits cut, made and stitched for $5. All the latest designs. 25 Winter Street, Boston.

-S. T. TAYLOR SYSTEM-Dresscutting.

Thorough instruction given; first class dressmaking; cutting and making a specialty.
The E. A. B. skirt-chart, $2.50.

MADAM IRVING,
74 Boylston St., Boston, Mass.

PENLY'S

Dress Cutting School.

48 Winter St., Boston.
Easiest, quickest and most accurate system of the day. No re-fitting. Fashionable Dressmaking. Terms reasonable.

MRS. E. W. BLACKBURN, Principal.

CHILDREN'S Dressmaking.

MISS ANNA M. CRANE, 398 CENTRE STREET.

DRESSES

Made from Six to Ten Dollars.
Basques cut for Seventy-Five Cents. Work Warranted. Apply at once. DRESSMAKER, 398 Centre Street.

HAYDEN, Modes,
ART GOWNS—
For Street and Evening Wear.
Tailor-made Gowns, Wraps, Cloaks,
Etc.
No Dresses Duplicated.
BRACKETT'S BLOCK, NEWTON.CORNS CURED
By Mrs. Drs. Craven and May CHIROPODISTS AND MANICURERS.
Corns, Bunions, and all ailments of the feet, skillfully treated at our office.
21 AVON ST., BOSTON.
Opposite Jordan & Marsh's. Night only Chiropodist and Manicure Taught.

FRED A. HUBBARD,
PHARMACIST
P. O. Block, - NEWTON.
SUNDAY CLOSING HOURS:
From 10.30 A. M. to 12 M.; 2 P. M. to 4 P. M.

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 5 lines, and 35 cents each time thereafter, in advance.

Wants.

WANTED—Place wanted by good cook, 10 years experience. I can cook all kinds of food, stands all kinds of cooking. Refer for one week in p. rson or by letter to 86 Waverly avenue, Newton.

WANTED—Chambermaid and Landress experienced in shirts and collar. Apply to Mrs. Bacon, Prospect street, West Newton.

SEAMSTRESS—Experienced seamstress, one who can finish after a dressmaker; can make child ens clothes. Good reference. Would like to engage money. Address Miss A. M., 29 School street, Newton, Mass.

WANTED—By a first class dressmaker with 10 years experience in shirts and collar. Refer for one week in p. rson or by letter to 86 Waverly avenue, Newton.

WANTED—Dressfinishing by the day by Miss F. H. Kiser, Parker street, Newton Centre.

For Sale.

FOR SALE—A small parlor stove in good condition. Apply at 8 Bacon St., Newton.

FOR SALE—A horse, suitable for carryall or light team, afraid of nothing. Bu. 212, Newton Centre.

FOR SALE—Desirable house in Newton Centre. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre.

FOR SALE—A black walnut secretary bookcase, 5 feet 10 inches long by 3 feet 6 inches deep. Inquire at B. F. Doherty, 27 Clinton Street, Newton.

To Let.

TO RENT—One half double house, everything modern, 9 rooms, bath room, 11 closets, under tubs, $20 a month. One single house, $10. Both in Newton Centre. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre.

TO LET—In Newtonville, five rooms for light housekeeping. Address Box 77, Newtonville.

TO LET—Rooms and board in Newtonville. Three minutes walk from depot. Address P. O. Box 470, Newtonville.

FURNISHED ROOM TO LET—A pleasant front room, three minutes from Newton depot, furnace heat, bath, and all conveniences. Inquire at this office.

FOR SALE OR TO LET—Estate known as the Brown estate, Auburn street, Auburndale, containing 12 rooms and bath, recently put in thorough repair, with stable and about 2 acres of land, to a responsible tenant, very reasonable terms will be made. Apply to T. C. Donovan, 104 Kingston street, Boston.

TO LET—Two or three rooms to a lady. References required. Apply to G. S. Coffin, 121 Boyd street, Newton.

TO RENT—Furnished room near depot. Address T. Graphic Office.

TO LET—Three minutes from station, two flats of six rooms each, every convenience. Apply at 13 Nottamton place.

TO LET—Furnished house in Ward One. The house now occupied by H. F. Bent, 379 Washington street, containing 9 rooms, bath room and furnace. Further information at the house, 511t

TO LET—In Newton, large convenient parlor unfurnished. Also two nicely furnished chambers, above with hot and cold water in them. All conveniences in house. Fine location on south side, near station. References required. Dr. Utley house, 20 Richardson St. 50

TO LET—House of 8 rooms and bathroom, in Newton. Inquire 16 Avon place, Newton. 50t

TO LET—A sunny furnished room, on the same floor with bath room. Inquire of Miss Lovering, 16 Avon place, Newton.

TO LET—Sunny front room, furnished, on same floor with bath. Location very central, near Newton station. Breakfast and supper furnished if desired. Address "L. N." Graphic Office.

HOUSE TO LET—A convenient and pleasant house of nine rooms, on Alston street, in good order with furnace and water free. Situation healthy and pleasant. Rent $18 a month. Apply to Henry H. Carter, Highland avenue, 48t

TO RENT—Furnished and unfurnished houses in Newton Centre and Newton Highlands. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre.

TENEMENTS TO LET—In Newtonville. D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot Street.

TO LET—On Grassmere street, Newton, 2 or 3 houses. These houses have each 11 rooms, are finished in hard wood, wired for electric bells and lighting, open plumbing, steam heat, and all modern conveniences. Apply to Henry W. Savage, 37 Court street, Boston, or Newton Office, 731 Washington street, West Newton.

TO RENT—Furnished and unfurnished houses in Newton Centre and Newton Highlands. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre.

CHRISTIANITY IS LIFE.

NOT A CREED OR A COLLECTION OF DOGMAS, SAYS MRS. LAURA CHANT.

Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant of London delivered an address on "Christian Philanthropic Work" in the Eliot Congregational church, Sunday evening.

Great interest in Mrs. Chant's views of practicable charity work is in evidence everywhere she has spoken during her visit to this country. Her address Sunday night practically initiates the first New England conference of charities and correction held in the Channing church, Newton, Oct. 24, 25 and 26.

She said among other things that Christianity was not an impracticable thing.

If you want to know about Christ you must be one of his followers; you must learn how to be more practical, how to become Christians in reality. There is not a man or woman anywhere who can say there is no work for me to do. It matters not where you are or who you are there is work for you to do in helping others to seek the level of good thoughts and good deeds. There is a missionary work for the fathers and mothers in the home work, that, if well done, will decrease the labors of those who are engaged in sowing the seeds, which it is hoped will lead to the reform of the immoral, criminal classes, deprived in many instances of that home influence which would have helped to make them good men and women.

We must improve upon our minds this truth—Christianity is not a creed, or a collection of dogmas; it is life.

It is the life one leads that results in good or evil. We should carefully scrutinize our own lives in order to determine our shortcomings and to correct our faults, that we may set a good example for others. It is the good tree which brings forth good fruit. Our lives must be pure—it is an absolute necessity in doing the work of Jesus Christ.

If we are selfish in doing Christ's work, we shall accomplish little in the way of elevating and improving the conditions of others.

The root of selfishness prevents many from doing Christ's work, and yet how much need of it in this 19th century with its conditions of evil and poverty.

Beside leading pure lives, we should be tender and brave. If you have the whole world against you, never waver if you are doing right.

Those who curse you to-day will bless you tomorrow. It is a natural law of spiritual gravitation. A sacrifice that is worth being made to-day is worth being made a thousand days. Don't depend upon other people for advice. Make the reformers of the future by faithful Christian work in the home, in the church, in the business and professional life, in every phase and walk of human life.

Poetry and Postoffices.

(Boston Post.)

The suggestion of the appointment of Miss Louise Imogen Guiney as postmistress at Abundale is not so incongruous as some would make it appear. Literature and letters are synonymous terms, and devotion to the art in its esthetic sense ought not to be other than a commendation of the literature as competent for its practice in the material and concrete form.

Moreover, it is peculiarly fitting that here in Massachusetts literature and the public service should find a close alliance. For have we not that memorable declaration in the constitution of the Commonwealth? "The encouragement of all good literature tends to the honor of God, the advantage of the Christian religion, and the great benefit of this and the other United States of America."

So spoke the wise men who set up the "frame of government" for Massachusetts. And their words are as true today as when they were uttered by the people of this Commonwealth. The encouragement of good literature has been recognized in other branches of the public service, with excellent result. How thence in the employ of the customs service, checking off bags of salt and tons of coal at the Salem wharves; how in making out consular certificates at Venice; and Underwood, presiding with country grace over the consulate at Glasgow—these are examples that rise to the mind of everyone, of the association of the profession of letters with the civil service.

There is no reason why there should not be a poet added to this distinguished line. Lowell we had, as minister to Spain and to England; and the fact that he was a poet did not detract from his efficiency. And the adaptability of the postal service to the encouragement of literature is undoubtedly as great as that of any other branch of the public work. It may easily be conceived to be even greater. There is an atmosphere of paper and ink, of swiftly passing intelligence from mind to mind, of romance, of tragedy, of imagination, all surrounding and pervading the official labors of this department.

And if Massachusetts is to furnish the first poet to the postal service, there could be none more favored than the singer of the "Wasside Harp."

(Boston Traveller.)

A Literary postmistress will be something of a novelty. But Abundale is to be congratulated upon securing one so competent as Miss Guiney, the daughter of a soldier, and herself the author of some excellent patriotic poems.

NEWTON SCHOOL BOARD.

ANNUAL REPORT SUBMITTED—EVENING SCHOOLS—CHANGES IN TEACHERS.

The school board met on Wednesday evening with chairman J. Edward Hollis in the chair and the mayor, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Davis, Messrs. Ward, Hale, Monro, and Boyden were absent.

A notification of the order which passed the city council was received, changing the name of the Prospect to the Wade school.

An appropriation of $180 was made for services of a janitor at Thompsonville. An order was adopted placing these books on the list for instruction in the high school. Higginson and Channing's English history for American readers, Plumptre's translation of Æschylus.

An order was passed to close the primary and grammar grades on Friday, Oct. 27, to allow the teachers to attend the annual meeting of the Middlesex county teacher's association.

Miss Martha E. Rose and Miss Annie J. Lamphier were appointed assistants at the Hyde school at a salary of $620 per annum, respectively.

The resignation of Miss Grace Gould as assistant teacher in the Hyde school was received and accepted.

Miss Clara M. Thurston was made an assistant in the Pierce school with salary from Oct. 30, at $620.

Chandler M. Bray was appointed assistant in the Nantum school with salary with compensation at $250 an evening, and Augustus L. Wakefield and Cora J. LeLund were appointed assistants with $150 per evening compensation.

Mr. Chas. A. Drew submitted the annual report of the board.

Supt. G. L. Aldrich in his regular report called particular attention to the successful opening of the evening schools at Newtonville and Watertown. The total enrollment of the public schools this year showed an actual decrease of 247 pupils accounted for by the parochial schools which opened this year. The new kindergarten schools bring in 212 new scholars which brings the net decrease to only 35.

The sum of $12,453.33 was appropriated for the expenses of October.

An order was passed transferring the sum of $700 from the general to the appropriation for incidentals.

An order that 3000 copies of the annual report of the school committee and the superintendent of school be printed, was passed.

Orders were adopted appointing Robert S. Shedd and Wilbur A. May assistants at the Clifton evening drawing school at a compensation of $3 per evening.

UNITARIAN SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

AMERICAN CHILDREN AS THEY APPEAR TO MRS. CHANT.

The opening exercises of the annual session of the Unitarian Sunday School Society of Massachusetts were held Wednesday evening in the First Unitarian church, West Newton. The president, Rev. E. A. Horton, occupied the chair.

The attendance was very large. After prayer and congregational singing Mrs. Laura Ormiston Chant of London was introduced. She spoke at some length upon the important topic, "The Religious and Moral Instruction of the Young."

Nothing is so dear to us, said the speaker, as that army of children we represent as mothers and fathers. When we have learned to love our own children we have learned how sacred are the children of people. And there is a want in it that all children should receive the highest and best moral and religious training.

In America, I think, there is too little self-government for the children. In their religious training, the element making reverence, in their moral training, self-control.

I must say that the conduct of Americans in the house of God is execrable. People should not enter a church in the same way they enter a theatre. I cannot bear to see people laughing and talking within the sacred walls of God's house.

One way of teaching reverence is through hymns. And there is a want in it that connection noticeable in American worship, the lack of congregational singing. There is a joy in learning the hymns and learning to sing them. They should be carefully selected; they should be the highest lyrical, rhythmic and musical. They should not be four and five syllable addresses to the Almighty.

In the Sunday school the creed taught to children should be a simple one, that of God and humanity. Children should be taught that they live every hour in the presence of God, and that it is necessary for them to love, to give, to live, they must give kindness and love, if they expect to receive it.

Children should have a near acquaintance with the Bible. It can be made a delightful piece of reading, giving children joy and a solemnized idea of duty done.

HIS SNAKE STORY.

A FISHERMAN TELLS OF A SINGULAR AND REMARKABLE ADVENTURE.

A Meadville man, who goes to church regularly, and who declares that he hasn't told a lie in 30 years, tells of the following remarkable fishing adventure to a Tribune reporter of that city:

He was out in the eastern part of the country gunning, and while eating his lunch he carelessly tossed a piece of bread into a small stream at his feet, when he was surprised to see a perfect swarm of trout begin fighting for the bread. Searching eagerly through all his pockets, he was greatly disappointed that he had no sign of fishing tackle, as the trout were evidently hungry, and if he only had a hook and line he could easily catch all he wanted.

While trying to evolve a plan for the capture of some of the trout the gentleman noticed an immense black snake lying on a stump, sunning itself, and immediately he recalled that his father had told him, a good many years ago, how expert black snakes were in catching trout. After a little thought, he decided the subject the gentleman determined to try it, and picking his way cautiously to the stump, he grabbed the snake by the tail.

The black snake evidently didn't understand at first just what was expected of him, and for some time after he had been soused into the water he continued to twist and squirm and tried to get away. But finally the snake spied a big trout peeking out from behind a stone, and like a flash, the reptile darted out and seized the fish in its mouth. The instant the snake grabbed the fish, the gentleman, who held the snake by the tail, pulled, and landed his trout, the snake letting go as soon as it was hauled out on the bank.

The next time he struck the snake into the water it seemed to understand better what was wanted, and very soon grabbed another trout. By the time a half-dozen trout had been taken, the snake had entered into the sport in real earnest, and in the course of an hour the gentleman had captured with his queer tackle over 40 fine trout, and not caring for more, he let the snake go, gathered up his fish and went home.

It was about a week later that the gentleman passed by the spot where he had captured the trout, and while he was standing on the bank looking at the speckled beauties as they darted through the clear water, he felt something rubbing his leg. Looking down, he was surprised to see his old friend, the black snake. The snake had seen and recognized him, and backing up to him had stuck about a foot of its tail up against the gentleman's leg as an invitation to go fishing again.

Mrs. D. C.—You can assure yourself my husband doesn't revile our sex with talking too much.

Mrs. N. G.—Why not?

Mrs. D. C.—He's a member of the Senate.—Chicago Record.

IT LOOKED SUSPICIOUS.

Why a Traveling Man Gave Up Playing Poker With Strangers.

"I don't play cards with strangers," said a quiet looking man on the Pullman in response to an invitation from the drummer to join them in a little game of poker. The drummer flushed up and was about to say something.

"Hold on," remarked the quiet man, "and I'll explain. Sit down here a minute or two and let me tell you."

The drummer being an obliging person sat down.

"About five years ago," began the quiet man, "I was out in the west country at a wild town, and one night, being fond of cards and a pretty fair player, I asked four or five cowboys at the tavern where I was stopping to play cards with me. I didn't know them, and they didn't know me, but they took it for granted I was all right, and they went to my room, where I had two or three decks of cards. We started the game at a quarter the ante with a $2 limit, and it wasn't long until I was winning nicely; for, as I said before, I was a good player. After some time we took another deck of cards, and as usual I had a good hand."

"My winnings had made my new found acquaintances rather suspicious, but as I was perfectly honest I didn't pay much attention to that. I remember very distinctly I had an ace of diamonds in my hand, and when it came around to show down I knew the pot was mine, but just as I laid down my hand the man opposite me whipped out his revolver and jabbed it into my face, and on the instant out came all the other men's guns, and I was scared almost to death. I couldn't say a word, for I thought my time had come, but nobody shot."

"Look here!" ejaculated the man who had first pulled his gun, applying several disagreeable epithets in addition, and he took an ace of diamonds out of his hand. This restored my consciousness somewhat, and after waiting until each man had expressed his opinion of me, and the final decision had been reached that I was to give up all I had won and probably be shot later, I got in a word."

"Gentlemen," I said, "appearances are against me, but I am honest. I don't know how that extra ace got in the pack, but if you will look in my valise there you will find a pack exactly like this one lying loose in it, and the cards must have got mixed in there. I'm sure I didn't do it." One of the men took the cards out of the valise and ran them over, and the ace was missing. That much was in my favor, but it did not restore confidence.

"Send down stairs," I said next, "to the clerk and have him come up. He was playing here this afternoon."

"Then they sent for the clerk, and he said that he and a party of friends had played with those cards during the afternoon, and farther, that they had used two packs to do some tricks with. He also stood bond for my honesty, and after an hour or so of terrific strain on me my friends concluded I was all right. Then, to establish good fellowship finally, I insisted on their taking their money back. They set up the drinks all around, and I left them at last with a solemn vow registered that when I played poker again I must know everybody in the game, and everybody must know me. Don't you think one experience like that is enough for an honest man of quiet temperament to go through?"—Detroit Free Press.

The Birth of the Opal.

There is a beautiful little story told about the opal, that delicate stone which you have no doubt seen in rings and bracelets. The story is that the opal was long ago promised to anybody who could discover it. It lay hidden away, so the old fortune tellers used to say, at the place "where the sunlight and the moonlight joined" each other, and whoever could find that spot would be rewarded by a quantity of large, beautiful opals. After a long search for the place "where the sunlight and moonlight joined" each other the place was found by a Spanish traveler, who followed up the rays of the setting sun, and when he had reached the end of the last ray he waited until the moonbeams shone upon the earth, and there he found the opals. They are said to be very lucky stones for those who are born in the fall of the year and very unlucky for those born in the spring. Of course it is only a saying that these are lucky or unlucky, but the rest of the story is true, as you will believe if you look in the heart of an opal and see the pink tints of the sun and the blue rays of the moon nestling in the middle of it.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Trees in Japan Sacred to the Gods.

Near every temple in Japan are certain trees which are supposed to be peculiarly loved by the gods and to be sacred to them. Any one injuring or causing to be injured one of them will bring down the wrath of the "kami" or god whose particular property it is. If the trees be injured in the name of any one, the kami avenges himself on that person instead. So when a girl finds that a swain's love has cooled, and she thinks revenge would be sweet, she makes a straw manikin and calls it by his name. If she is very revengeful, she may also make one of her hated rival. At 2 o'clock at night (called the hour of the bull) she rises, and clad in a white night-dress only, with high clogs on her feet, her hair hanging loose and crowned with an iron tripod, on which three lighted candles are stuck, she proceeds to the shrine of the patron god of the family.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Pretty Domestic Scene.

The night watchman in a Chestnut street bank isn't happy unless he handles his 3-months-old baby for awhile each evening. He cannot get out, nor can mamma get in, but every fair night she passes baby in between the big iron bars of the front window. Papa watchman receives the youngster, and passers-by witness the charming family picture of mamma's smiling face watching between the bars and papa romping with baby in the brightly lighted interior of the bank.—Philadelphia Record.

A MENAGERIE BREAKS LOOSE.

Wild Beasts Terrorize the Community Until Captured by the Circus Men.

A most exciting episode occurred near Dunlap, Mo., the other day and promised for a time to upset the country for miles around. The woods were full of lions, tigers, panthers and other wild beasts.

Sells Bros.' circus showed at Milan, Mo., Wednesday last and was on its way to Trenton. About 2 o'clock Thursday morning one section of the circus train turned a curve near Dunlap, a few miles on the other side of Milan, and three cages on the flat car broke the blocks which held them and toppled off the car. The fall burst the cages, and the animals in them bounded off to the woods. In one cage were two lions, in another three tigers and in the other two leopards.

As these animals bounded into the woods they uttered the most terrible screams and roars, which alarmed the entire countryside. Terror struck the people when day broke, when it was learned that the woods were filled with wild beasts. Women and children remained indoors, while the men went round carrying loaded guns. All through that day and the following night the howls and screams of the wild animals could be heard, and a cow was killed by them, torn to pieces and partially devoured.

While the population hereabouts were keeping pretty well indoors, the circus men were endeavoring to capture their valuable property. Although the animals were wild, yet they acted very much frightened at their unexpected freedom. Some of the beasts had never known freedom, while others had been in captivity so long that they forgot how to act in the woods except to howl more in fright than anything else. The circus boys corralled the brutes, however, in a cornfield way by taking the empty cages into the woods and baiting them with huge chunks of juicy meat. They would locate an animal, set a cage near him and then "shoot" him into it as an old lady would drive chickens. In this manner all the beasts were finally captured, and peace once more reigned in the country.—Cor. St. Louis Republic.

Tramps May Hide Free.

Vice President Crocker of the Southern Pacific has announced that his company does not propose to make any fight against the hordes of tramps who are beating their way westward on freight trains. He has arrived at the conclusion that it is useless to unload these ticketless tourists, because they get aboard again in sufficient numbers to overpower the trainmen. Therefore Mr. Crocker believes that time can be saved and bloodshed averted by allowing the tramps to ride so long as they are peaceable. No proclamation to that effect has been issued from the company headquarters, but it is to be mutually understood that the trainmen are not to molest the "hobos" except in self defense.

It is likely that the other lines extending from the Rockies to the Pacific will follow the Southern's example in this respect, if they have not already done so in a quiet way.—Portland Oregonian.

"For Years,"

SAYS CARRIE E. STOCKWELL, of Chester, N. H., "I was afflicted with a severely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make a sufficient effort even to whisper. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving as suddenly; but, for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced.

At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."

AYER'S PILLS
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Every Dose Effective

Mrs. E. A. SMITH,
Millinery.

202 Moody Street,
Opp. Walnut,
Waltham, Mass.

Upholsterers.

H. W. CALDER,
UPHOLSTERER
Cabinet Maker and House Furnisher.
ARTISTIC PICTURE FRAMING.
A complete stock always on hand.
NEWTONVILLE, MASS.

M. E. PAINE,
Successor to Thomas Sinclair.
Furniture Upholsterer,
Mattresses and Window Shades made to order.
Agent for White's Steam Carpet Cleaning. All Orders Promptly Attended to.
ELIOT BLOCK, NEWTON

AT BEDTIME
I TAKE A PLEASANT
HERB DRINK

THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND NEW AND MY COMPLEXION IS FREE AND CLEAR. My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys, and is a pleasant laxative. This drink is made from herbs, and is prepared for use as easily as tea. It is called

LANE'S MEDIGINE
All druggists sell it at 50c and 81c package. If you cannot get it, send for a free sample. LANE'S Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Address CHAS. F. WOODWARD, L. R. Box, N. Y.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

INCORPORATED 1831.

Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Banking Rooms in Newton National Bank Building.

JAMES F. C. HYDE, President.

JOHN WARD, Vice President.

ADOLPHUS J. BLANCHARD, Treas.

TRUSTEES: Joseph N. Bacon, Jas. F. C. Hyde, Dustin Lane, Francis Mudge, Samuel M. Jackson, William Dix, William C. Strong, Charles W. Mier, Eliot J. Hyde, John Ward, Chas. T. Puffer, Warren P. Tyler and Harry W. Mason.

COMMITTEE OF INVESTMENT: James F. C. Hyde, Samuel M. Jackson, Francis Mudge, Chas. A. Miner, Clerk and Auditor.

H. W. MASON, Attorney.

Quarter days, TENTH day January, April, July and October. Dividends declared the Tuesday following January 10th and July 10th, are payable the next day.

Newton and Watertown Gas Light Company.

All orders for Gas or Electric Lighting left at our office, 421 Centre St., will receive prompt attention.

TELEPHONE 28-4.

Ripans Tabules relieve scrofula

By James F. C. Hyde and Son, Auctioneers, 31 Milk Street, Boston.

Members of the Real Estate Exchange and Auction Board.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Maria B. White to Lucy H. Vale, the date of said mortgage being the 20th day of April, 1891, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Middlesex, lib. 267, folio 43, will be sold at public auction for the satisfaction of said mortgage on Monday, the 16th day of November, 1893, at Four o'clock, in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage, namely:—a certain piece of land, with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex, called West Newton, and bounded as described as follows, viz:—beginning at a point on the Southern side of Highland Street by land now or late of M. F. H. Woods, thence turning and running Southerly by said land of Woods, One Hundred and thirty and a half feet to the point of beginning, and thence running and running Southerly by Lot No. 51 on a plan hereinafter referred to, Eighty one and 7-10 feet, thence turning and running Southerly by Lot No. 12 on said plan, One Hundred and thirty feet, thence turning and running Easterly by said Highland Street, Eighty three feet to the point of beginning. Containing 10,766 feet of land, and being Lot No. 53 on a plan entitled "Land at West Newton, Mass." Ernest W. Roadrich, Engineer, dated 1888. Being the same premises conveyed to the said Maria B. White, by said Lucy H. Valentine, of even date herewith duly recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds.

$300 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

LUCY H. VALENTINE, Mortgagee.
Oct 27th 1893, 31st and 28th, 1893. 33c

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

MIDDLESEX, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the Heirs-at-Law, next of Kin, and all other persons interested in the Estate of Alpha R. Collins late of Danville in the County of Middlesex and State of New Hampshire deceased, GREETING:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Dwight C. Foster of Newton in the County of Middlesex with certain papers purporting to be copies of the last will and testament of said deceased and of the Probate thereof in said State of New Hampshire duly authenticated, representing that at the time of her death said deceased had estate in said County of Middlesex, on which said will may be filed and recorded in the Probate Office of said County of Middlesex pursuant to the statute in that case made and provided;

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the fourth Tuesday of November A. D. 1893 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, against the same.

And said petitioner is hereby cited to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Newton Graphic, printed at Newton the first publication to be thirty days, at least, before said Court.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the first Tuesday of November A. D. 1893 at nine o'clock before noon, to show cause, if any you have, against granting the same.

And the said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once a week, for three successive weeks, in the newspaper called the Newton Graphic, printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said Court.

Witness, Benjamin W. Harris, Esquire, Acting Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of October in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three.

S. H. FOLSOM, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

MIDDLESEX, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of William Kendall late of Newton in said County, deceased, in testate:

Whereas, application has been made to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Sarah J. Kendall of said Newton and Perry H. Kendall of Arlington both in the County of Middlesex, and to exempt them from giving surety or securities on their bond pursuant to statute.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the first Tuesday of November A. D. 1893 at nine o'clock before noon, to show cause, if any you have, against granting the same.

And the said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once a week, for three successive weeks, in the newspaper called the Newton Graphic, printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said Court.

Witness, Benjamin W. Harris, Esquire, Acting Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of October in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three.

S. H. FOLSOM, Register.

Undertakers.

GEO. W. BUSH,
Funeral and Furnishing
UNDERTAKER,
ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.
Coffins, Caskets, Robes.
And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand, orders by telephone promptly attended to.

JOHN PHILLIPS
would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton, that he can be found at the above address and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over ten years experience in the business, under the instruction and in co-operation with the late Mr. Wm. H. Phillips, I trust I can attend to all calls that may come under my direction, to the satisfaction of all parties who may require the services of an undertaker.

S. F. CATE,
FURNISHING UNDERTAKER,
WASHINGTON STREET,
WEST NEWTON, MASS. Telephone 8110

HOWARD ICE CO.,
SUCCESSORS TO
HOWARD BROS.

Orders can be left at

342 Centre Street, - Newton.

Office Hours: 7.45 to 11 A.M.; 3 to 5.45 P.M.

ABRAHAM L. HOWARD, Proprietor

OFFICE, 46 GALEN ST., WATERTOWN.

NEWTON COAL CO.
—SUCCESSORS TO—HILLS, BULLENS & CO.,
—DEALERS IN—COAL &

CITY GOVERNMENT.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF ALDERMEN—NEW APPARATUS FOR HEATING CITY HALL—ELECTRIC LIGHTING AUTHORITY.

The mayor and aldermen met in special session last Monday evening, the object of the meeting being to give City Solicitor Shocum an opportunity to have the members sign a return he had prepared in answer to the writ of certiorari served by Eben D. Jordan et al to restrain construction on the new boulevard.

Alderman Hunt was absent.

PETITIONS.

A petition was received for sidewalk on Fairmount avenue. R. ferred.

Chas. Locke et al petitioned for two street lights on Hammond street. Referred.

Chas. S. Eaton petitioned for sewer in Russell court. Referred.

John H. Robinson and 18 others petitioned for five street lights on Waban road, Ward Five. Referred.

A petition to change the name of the north portion of Hammond street to be known as Montford road was referred.

ORDERS, ETC.

Alderman Emerson presented an order which was passed, appropriating the sum of $17,300 for department expenses in November.

An order authorizing the mayor to accept the proposition of J. S. Potter and others to give land on Walnut park for the construction of sidewalks, was passed.

Alderman Roffe presented an order which was passed directing the city clerk to post notices of the state election Nov. 7, polls to be opened at 7.30 a. m. and close at 4.30 p. m.

Alderman Roffe presented an order which was adopted, establishing the compensation of election officers.

Alderman Plummer for the committee on ordinances presented the ordinance relating to street lights, and establishing a superintendent for the same, which was passed to be enrolled.

NECESSARY DELAYS.

The committee on fuel and street lights favorably reported and an order was therefore presented to locate electric lights on Centre, Beacon, Sewall and Sterling streets.

Alderman Plummer asked why the 50 lights ordered some time since were not put in yet.

Alderman Roffe said he had talked with the electrical superintendent Newton and Watertown Gas Light Co. seeking an explanation of the delay. Mr. Holmes said that forty lights were all that could be placed on one circuit, and when an order from the city council was received for another light on a full circuit it was necessary to change some to connect with another circuit not then full and one change might affect several circuits. This necessitated what would seem a long delay. He said it was very difficult to conduct the system when subject to a call at any time to place lights anywhere.

Mr. M. G. Crane, who was present, was called upon to verify the above, but declined as unqualified.

The board was then passed.

THAT WRIT OF CERTIORARI.

The mayor called the attention of the board to the purpose for which the meeting called, stating that the city solicitor desired their signatures to his return of the writ of certiorari restraining the city from building the boulevard. He suggested that the lower branch be invited to joint session and Alderman Bothfeld was appointed messenger of the common council, who accepted the invitation.

W. S. Shocum, city solicitor, said the matter now remaining for the city to do was to prepare a return or answer to the writ of certiorari served against the city. The petition is different from anything that has come before them before and was in substance a petition to require the records to be brought into court and examined and determine whether there are any errors therein. If there are errors the records will be quashed. Otherwise they will stand as recorded. These papers would have to be signed by the mayor and members of the city council and not as usual by the city solicitor.

The papers were then submitted. They embodied each and every step taken by the city council from the origin of the central boulevard scheme and were accompanied by petitions and papers relative thereto.

It set forth the fact that two hearings were held in order to give every available opportunity for those interested to oppose or favor the boulevard as laid out; that due notice was given to every person concerned and that R. M. Saltwell, one of the petitioners on the writ, was present at a hearing. That no objection to the laying out of the boulevard was interposed, but that questions were raised relating to the location of the same.

The paper shows the general desire for the boulevard by those not concerned in the writ by the land freely deeded to the city for its construction.

Orders authorizing the construction were passed and authority to borrow money for the work has been given.

Alderman Plummer asked if the petitioners were not willing to have the boulevard, providing the lines were changed.

Mr. Shocum said it was the present location that brought this matter up, but they let the thing go through without objecting. A different location was what they desired.

The papers were signed by the mayor and then respectively by the aldermen and common councilmen.

WILL COST NEARLY $1000.

Alderman Plummer presented an order, granting to those officers and employees of the city, who are registered voters, leave of absence for one half day without loss of pay on Nov. 7, and Dec. 5, respectively, the dates of the state and city elections.

Alderman Bothfeld wished to amend the order to include only the time necessary to vote. He saw no reason for giving all city employees a half holiday at the city's expense.

Alderman Plummer refused to entertain the amendment. The vote on the amendment was declared lost by the chair.

Alderman Bothfeld asked that it be verified.

The mayor again put the motion and Alderman Bothfeld, Rumery and Emerson voted in favor of Plummer, Thompson, Roffe and the chair against.

The amendment was lost and the original order was then adopted.

HEATING CITY HALL.

After a recess papers from the lower branch were passed in concurrence until the order came up, appropriating $2901 for a new heating and ventilating apparatus for city hall.

Alderman Roffe wanted to know if anyone could explain why the vote, as previously expressed, should be changed.

Alderman Plummer renewed his former query, as to whether the company whose estimate it is proposed to accept, would furnish a guarantee a saving of 30 per cent in fuel as they claimed.

Alderman Thompson could not say positively, but believed so. He said they would guarantee a saving of 50 per cent if they furnished their own engineer to run it.

Alderman Roffe wanted to see the guarantee in writing. Until this was done he did not think the order was in shape to vote upon.

Alderman Bothfeld believed this guarantee should be required. The experience in the city engineer's department last winter, where the time was very much broken up by the insufficient heating of the upper hall, emphasized the need of a change. The present building would not be vacated for at least five years.

Alderman Plummer suggested and moved that a clause be added to the order guaranteeing a saving of 30 per cent in fuel and it then be passed.

This would give the company the contract, providing they guarantee a saving of 30 per cent.

Alderman Thompson said the public property committee had listened to a good deal of complaint recently about the poor heating and ventilation. Judge Kennedy had been before them about the police station, cells and court offices, requesting immediate attention and this apparatus would obviate these complaints. He believed with the aldermen from Ward Seven that the present building would not be given up for ten years.

(Alderman Bothfeld, aside) "I was willing to put it five years." A smile.

Alderman Thompson read letters from the Kerr Thread Co. and Ludlow Manufacturing Co. of Lowell, expressing their satisfaction with the apparatus furnished by the Boston Blower Co.

Alderman Roffe did not know who would see that this agreement was carried out. The advent of a new city council in a few months, knowing nothing of this requirement, raised some doubt as to whether the saving proposed would be verified or no. He moved to table.

The mayor asked how much coal was used at city hall.

Alderman Thompson, "110 tons." The mayor thought it would be best to get the guarantee before taking action.

The motion to table was put and lost. The question was then on Alderman Plummer's amendment.

Alderman Bothfeld suggested that it be worded that the company furnish a guarantee to save the city 30 per cent of fuel, satisfactory to the mayor and city solicitor.

Alderman Thompson thought the matter could be left with the committee to do as the board desired.

Alderman Roffe, "Do you mean as chairman of the committee you will not let the work go on until a guarantee is furnished or will you influence?" Alderman Thompson—"I will not let the work go on."

The question was called and the order adopted by six yeas, one absent.

Alderman Roffe presented an order, authorizing the mayor to petition the General Court to grant the city of Newton authority to establish, maintain and operate an electric light plant for street lighting purposes.

The aldermen then adjourned.

Common Council.

The common council met Monday evening in regular session.

President Weed opened the meeting, and then resigned his gavel to Councilman Hatch. Councilmen Staples, Bennett, Degen and Turner were absent.

Papers from the board of aldermen were passed in concurrence and at 7.45 o'clock, hearings were opened upon taking land for sewer purposes in private way off Centre street and Webster court. No remonstrants appeared and the hearings were closed.

The following was received:

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.

My Dear Sir:—

I am correctly informed, the matter of the Boulevard west from Centre street now lies upon the table before the common council. I trust the same will not be approved until the matter is more thoroughly understood, and we whose estates are to be affected thereby shall be shown a definite plan of what is proposed, our way to be dealt with, and for one, I should like much to know why it is that the line is deflected from the general course of Grafton and Homer streets, with a long swing to the right for which I can see no other reason than to benefit certain speculators instead of following Homer street in a direct line to Valentine street.

I shall be absent for the next two weeks but shall be pleased to receive notice, when I with others can be heard in this matter, if it be the pleasure of the council to hear us.

Very sincerely yours,

ALDEN SPEARE.

IN TERRIBLE CONDITION.

Councilman Green presented a communication directed to the city council relative to the need of better sanitary provisions at the Adams school house and enclosing this resolution:

Resolved—That in the opinion of the North Side Improvement Society, public safety requires that the Adams school house be connected with the sewer immediately, and that every day's delay means that the health of those who frequent said building, is placed in peril.

J. WILLIAM BALLANTYNE, Sec'y.

The Councilman from Ward Two continuing said the house was in wretched condition. The facilities were those of a room in country schoolhouse and the ventilation was so poor as to necessitate having the windows open most of the time. The sewer was very near there now and connection can easily be made. The matter should have immediate attention. He referred to an order requiring all schoolhouses to be connected with the sewer.

Councilman Tolman said an order had been passed, but there were not funds enough to do the work and a special appropriation would have to be made.

Councilman Green presented the ordinance relating to street lighting, finding it well and truly controlled and moving its passage to be ordained. Adopted.

IT GOES THROUGH.

Councilman Briston moved that the order appropriating $2901 for a ventilating and heating apparatus for city hall be taken from the table.

The motion prevailed and the Councilman continued in support of the passage of the order. He brought in the importance of a saving of 1.3 in the consumption of coal, and the needs of a new method shown by the poor satisfaction derived from the present system last winter.

Councilman Tolman said the Boston Blower Co. gave bonds to heat every room in the building to 70 degrees in the coldest weather and to save 1.3 in the fuel. The system proved very satisfactory in Lowell, and letters were read from the Kerr Thread Co. and Ludlow Manufacturing Co.

Councilman Roffe believed an expenditure of $2900 for heating the city hall, for what few years remained was rather extravagant. He thought a less expenditure of money would answer the purpose as well until a new city hall was built.

Councilman Tolman said it would be at least six years before the building would be vacated.

Councilman Briston said the apparatus proposed with additions, would be all right for a new building.

A vote was then taken and the order passed.

Councilman Green presented a resolution requesting the public property committee to consider the expense and necessity for connecting the Adams school house with the sewer, and report at the next meeting. Adopted.

Councilman Tolman presented an order appropriating $1010 for furnishing the upper room in the Thompsonville school house. Passed.

The council adjourned to Monday, Nov. 13.

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTER.

BUSINESS LOOKING UP IN AND AROUND NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

The residents of Newton Lower Falls feel quite encouraged as to the business outlook for the coming winter. The several mills, with but one exception, have resumed operations, but with reduced help, and in one instance with reduced wages.

The Cordingley mills have started, but with one-half the usual force of hands. The Findlay mill is running on half-time. The Dudley broomery mill has resumed business in nearly every department, but the help have been subjected to a reduction in wages of 15 per cent. The Sullivan shoddy mills are in operation, but at present employ only a few hands. The Grechore cardboard factory, which has been shut down for 10 weeks, will remain closed for an indefinite period, it being the hardest time they have experienced for 37 years. The Bishop paper mill is running, but with much uncertainty as to the future.

The rubber factory at Newton Upper Falls, near the Wellesley line, has shut down for a few weeks, while the paper mill near the same place began business last week.

Taking it as a whole, the prospects are far brighter than they were two months ago.

STATE ELECTION.

Nov. 7, 1893.

City of Newton.

ORDERED,

That the City Clerk be directed to cause due notice to be given that meetings of the citizens of this City, qualified to vote for State officers, will be held in the several Polling Places designated by this Board, on Tuesday, the seventh day of November, A. D. 1893, for the election of a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, a Councilor for the 3rd District, a Secretary, Treasurer and Receiver-General, Auditor, Attorney-General, a Senator for the Second Middlesex Senatorial District, two Representatives to the General Court for the 17th Middlesex District, a Registrar of Probate and Insolvency for County of Middlesex, and one County Commissioner for County of Middlesex, also to vote on the following Article of Amendment to the Constitution Relative to the Payment of Mileage to Members of the General Court.

So much of article two of section three of chapter one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth as is contained in the following words: "The expenses of travelling to the general assembly, and returning home, once in every session, and no more, shall be paid by the government out of the public treasury, to every member who shall attend as reasonably as he can, in the judgment of the house, and does not depart without leave," is hereby annulled.

All the foregoing officers and amendment to the Constitution to be voted for on one ballot. The polls will be opened at seven o'clock in the forenoon and closed at half past four in o'clock the afternoon.

In the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Oct. 23rd, 1893.

Read and adopted.

ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, Clerk.

Approved, Oct. 23rd, 1893.

JOHN A. FENNO, Mayor.

A true copy.

Attest: ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk.

In accordance with the Acts of the General Court 1883, Chap. 417, Title V., and the foregoing order.

Notice is hereby given of the meetings to be held for the purposes aforesaid, on the said 7th day of November, 1893, in the several Polling Places, as follows:—

Precinct 1, Ward 1, Voting Booth, Waban Park.

Precinct 2, Ward 1, Armory Hall, Washington Street.

Precinct 1, Ward 2, Rooms 6 and 8 Central Block, Washington Street.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ANCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eruption, Itch, Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach."

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

CARLOS MARTIN, D. D., New York City.

EDWIN F. PARKER, M. D., New York City.

"The Winthrop," 125th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK.

Elys Cream Balm For CATARRH THE POSITIVE CURE. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York. Price 50 cts.

Genuine Bargains

Always to be obtained by examination of the

varied assortment of

IMPERFECT GOODS AND REMNANTS

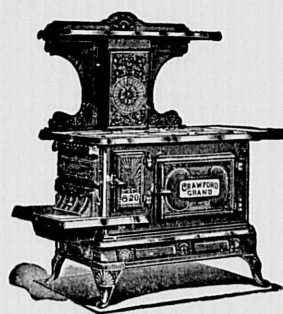

STRICTLY ALL WOOL.

Made at the Assabet Mills which are exclusively sold and at the lowest prices by

THE PEOPLE'S DRY GOODS COMPANY

MAYNARD MASS.

The Salesroom is open until 6 p. m. except Saturday. Closes Saturday at 12 o'clock. Positively open as above until further notice in this paper.

Columbia and Crawford Grand Ranges.

Furnaces, Water Heaters, Steam Boilers.

AT FACTORY STORE OF

WALKER & PRATT MFG. CO.,

GALEN STREET, - WATERTOWN MASS.

TELEPHONE No. 30, NEWTON.

—ALL KINDS—

Copper, Sheet Iron and Tin Work.

FURNACES AND RANGES CLEANED AND REPAIRED.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY THE

WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 8 cents per square yard for Turkey Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. Sole Manufacturer of the

New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE.

Newtonville, Telephone 7. Factory and Residence, Clinton Street.

Concrete Walks and Driveways.

The season for this work is now open, and we should be glad to receive orders or make estimates for parties wishing work in private grounds.

Having laid the Newton public sidewalks for the past sixteen years, the quality of our work is well known. Communication by mail will receive prompt attention.

SIMPSON BROTHERS, Newton.

Boston Office, 166 Devonshire St., Room 58

Bicycle Repairing of Every Description.

Brazing, Enameling, Nickel-Plating, Etc.

WHEELS CHANGED FROM SOLID TO CUSHION OR PNEUMATIC.

Best cycle oil 25 cents per pint. Lawn Mowers cleaned and sharpened for $1.00. Called for and delivered for 25 cents extra.

HADDOW & BATCHELOR,

40 Galen Street, - Watertown, Mass.

Connected by Telephone.

Millinery
E. JUVINE ROBBINS,
Fall Millinery
Just Received at
THE JUVENE
Eliot Block, Newton.

Plumbers.

HEWITT & THOMAS,
Practical Plumbers,
And Sanitary Engineers.
247 WASHINGTON ST.,
Nonantum Block, Newton

M. C. HIGGINS
PRACTICAL PLUMBER

Sanitary Engineer.

(Formerly with S. F. Carrier.)

Sumner's Block, Newton.

PLUMBING WORK IN ALL ITS BRANCHES
Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city; perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

ESTABLISHED IN 1896

T. J. HARTNETT,
PLUMBER & SANITARY
ENGINEER.

Iron Drainage and Ventilation
a Specialty.

Jobbing promptly attended to.
375 CENTRE STREET, NEWTON.

HOWARD B. COFFIN

DEALER IN

FINE TEAS and BEST COFFEES

AND NEWTON AGENT FOR

DEERFOOT - FARM - PRODUCTS.

363, 361 Centre and 4, 6 Hall Sts.

COLE'S BLOCK, NEWTON.

A. H. ROFFE,
HAY and GRAIN

LIME, CEMENT AND DRAIN PIPE.

Cypress, near Centre street, Newton Centre.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

Ripans Tabules prolong life.

Newton National Bank,
NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:
From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.
On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President

R. FRANKLIN BACON, Cash

Ripans Tabules banish pain.

J. HENRY BACON.

Successor to Francis Murdock & Co.

Dry Goods & Notions

Ladies' and Gents'

Furnishing Goods

OIL and STRAW CARPET,

Trunks, Bags, &c.

BACON'S BLOCK,

Nos. 279 to 281 Washington St.

NEWTON.

Ripans Tabules relieve nausea.

PURE - MILK

supplied daily from

